YOUNG SWITCHMAN CRUSHED TO DEATH

Jasper W. Leavitt Meets Instant Fate in Depot Yards Sunday Morning.

LEONARD WILLIAMS BURIED.

Impressive Obsequies in First Ward Meetinghouse—Eulogiums on a Well Spent Life.

Ogden, Nov. 11.—The Ogden Union Depot yards was the scene yesterday morning of the accidental killing of another young switchman, Jasper W. Leavitt, whose life was crushed out instantly between two box cars.

As near as can be learned, young Leavitt was engaged with the switching crew in putting a train of cars on different tracks. The coupling of one of the cars was out of order, and it was attached to another car by a heavy chain. Mr. Leavitt went between the cars to see if the chain was all right when in some manner the chain broke and struck him a heavy blow on the back of the neck, breaking his neck and killing him instantly.

The circumstances surrounding his demise are extremely sad. Less than two months ago he was called upon to part with his wife through death; a month ago his little infant babe passed from mortality, and now the father is called, making three deaths in the one family in less than two months. The deceased was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Leavitt. He was born in Ogden about 30 years ago, and has lived here all his life. He told his fellow workmen yesterday he dreaded to go to work yesterday morning, and had only been at work an hour when he was killed. He was a member of the Woodmen lodge, under whose auspices the funeral will likely be held Tuesday.

GRANITE.

DESPAIN FAMILY REUNION. Program, Banquet and Dance Enjoyed by Posterity of Pioneer.

Special Correspondence. Granite, Salt Lake Co., Nov. 8.—A reunion of the Despain family was held Nov. 5, 1907, at the Granite ward house. There were 19 members of the family present, besides relatives and friends. The festivities commenced with a short program, which included the reading of a historical sketch of Solomon J. Despain, the father of the family, by William Joseph Despain, the eldest son. Refreshments were next in order. Tables extending east and west of the north and south side of the room of the ward house were laden to their capacity with the good things of earth. Toasts were given, and all enjoyed the feast. Some time was then given to general conversation, and the program was continued at some length, the happy day closing with dancing.

Solomon J. Despain was born Dec. 21, 1825, at Loudonville, Ohio. He joined the Church in 1857, and came to Utah 10 years later. He located at the mouth of Little Cottonwood canyon and in 1857, when the Granite ward was organized, was appointed as settler apart as bishop. He acted in this capacity until 1886, when he moved to Thatcher, Ariz. where he died in February, 1889. His posterity numbers 26 children, 146 grandchildren, and 39 great-grandchildren, total 261.

A permanent organization of the family was effected, and it is understood the reunions are to be held annually.

LEHI.

SUGAR COMPANY PAY DAY. Over 2,000 Growers and Factory Employees to be Paid—Co. Teachers.

Special Correspondence. Lehi, Utah Co., Nov. 11.—The next to the largest beet pay day in the history of the Utah-Idaho Sugar company will occur Nov. 15, when over $300,000 will be paid to the beet growers for beets delivered during the month of October for the Lehi factory. Over 90 per cent of the beets are now harvested and the farmers are more than satisfied with the excellent weather they have had in getting in the beet crop; however, the slowness of the railroad companies in furnishing cars has caused quite a lot of delay and expense to the farmers. The tonnage of the beet crop is fully up to the expectations and the sugar contents are also much better than last year. Today between $25,000 and $30,000 will be paid to employees at Lehi and the cutting plants at Provo, Springville and Spanish Fork, besides a large amount to agents and farm employees. Over 2,000 beet growers and factory employees will receive money from the sugar company at these times today, which means much for the prosperity of NEPHL.

BUSY WEEK IN COURT. Many Cases Dismissed Through Deflection of Committing Magistrate.

Special Correspondence. Nephel, Utah Co., Nov. 9.—Judge Greenwood has been busy this week with a jury in trying to dispose of criminal cases, which as will be seen from the following, has resulted in a dismissal of the majority of the cases through the careful work of the justice of the peace in not properly binding them over to the district court or in failing to have a proper preliminary hearing. Judge Greenwood has repeatedly called attention to this careless work and reckless expenditure of the public's money, and has counseled the county attorney here as in other counties, to look after these matters more carefully, and to be present at all preliminary hearings and see that a proper proceeding is had in all cases brought before the committing magistrate for commitment to the district court.

In the case of the state against F. Nickelson, and John Anderson on a charge of burglary in the second degree the information was dismissed on account of the record from the justice's court not showing that a proper preliminary hearing was had.

In the case of the state vs Arthur Rowley, for grand larceny; the case was dismissed on the ground that no

State vs Stanley Tate; charged with involuntary manslaughter, dismissed on the ground that the defendant was under age, and a subject for consideration by the juvenile court. The dismissal of this case was after the jury had been partially impaneled.

In the case of the state vs Arthur Wilson, for burglary in the second degree, the defendant was found guilty and will be sent to the reform school.

Thus it will be seen that a large number of witnesses have been brought here at the expense of the state and nothing accomplished, all of which could have been avoided by a little care on the part of the prosecuting officers.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

OIL WELL ABANDONED. Too Much Water at 1,740 Feet to go Further—Moroni's Beet Harvest.

Special Correspondence. Mt. Pleasant, Sanpete Co., Nov. 8.—L. E. McCraley, who has been developing the original wells in the Pleasant oil district or six weeks past, has found it necessary to abandon further work at this point because of the excessive flow of water. The solution was reached during the week since then the time has been spent in taking up the casing and making further arrangements toward moving the machinery to a more favorable place, where another well will be sunk immediately.

The present operators continued drilling to the depth of 1,740 feet, although a flow of water had been reached before this, which had been cased off, but on encountering it again at the point mentioned, it was found to be impossible to continue operations with any success because of the large quantities of water to contend with. The pressure was so great that the water was forced almost to the surface. This was the principal reason for the optimistic feelings of the promoters, who are making preparations to drive a second well, but where it is not definitely decided. However it will be lower in the valley and perhaps on the river level. As soon as the outfit is removed to the new location, active operations will be resumed.

It is Mr. McCraley's idea that if a short tunnel were made, a good sized stream of water would be obtained, which could be taken to the river below or turned into the canal which follows around the hillside, and used for irrigation purposes.

CLOSE CALL.

A young son of Hyrum Bramstead, while riding horseback north of town, had an experience which he will not soon forget. In attempting to cross a cattle guard on the railroad, his horse caught one leg in the guard and could not get it out. The train was coming by, but luckily enough the engineer saw him in time to stop his engine. With the assistance of the train crew, the boy got his horse loose without the loss of a second.

A. E. McIntosh, who recently returned from a mission was surprised by some 50 of his friends who called at his home to welcome him home. A pleasant evening was spent in speech making, amusements and the serving of luncheon.

MORONI'S BEET HARVEST.

Moroni, which is making a good record in the beet industry, makes the following report: Thus far 38 carloads, averaging 25 tons to the car have been shipped to the factory. This means about 2,550 tons, in addition to this there are now piled in the railroad yards about 2,000 tons, which mostly 2,000 tons still remain in the field. The pile at the depot is something interesting to look at, being 180 feet in length, 10 feet wide and 12 feet high, and is rapidly growing. On Monday alone 10 loads were added to the pile by the farmers. At the price paid for beets this year, Moroni will get from its crop between $35.00 and $40.00.

WELLS CONVICTED.

The case against SETH M. Wells, who has been practicing in Salt Lake the past summer as the Boy Phenomenal and assisting the "Great Per Don," was concluded last night by the jury bringing in a verdict of guilty of committing a criminal operation upon Miss Christena Garrett of Hyrum in the fall of 1902. In October of 1902 Mr. Wells was given a preliminary hearing and bound over to the district court for furnishing satisfactory bail. Soon after he jumped his bonds and left the county, and was not detected until in August of the present year, when he was re-arrested and again released by furnishing a $1,000 cash bond. He was brought into court and it was shown by the evidence that he not only performed the criminal operation but that he was also the author of the girl's ruin and trouble. The sentence was not given and will probably be withheld until the defense has prepared papers asking for a new trial. This work will be completed about the 29th. If the defense is not granted its request for the new trial it will likely appeal to the supreme court. The state board of medical doctors will now take steps to revoke the license of Dr. Wells and he will be prohibited from practice in his profession until the case is finally settled. Pending as a phenomenon, Wells has been successful in getting from the people of Salt Lake thousands of dollars. People have flocked to him from all parts of the city thinking in him could be found relief for their different ailments. It was little known that he was guilty of such illicit conduct as has been shown before the court at this place during the past week.
