

Democratic One Differs from Republican in Distinctly Declaring What it Opposes.

CHICAGO ONE IS AMBIGUOUS

Nothing in the Denver Declaration That Need Alarm Any Legitimate Interest.

Baltimore Sept. 14 .- William J. Bryan, Democratic candidate for president, today for a second time claimed the attention of the voters of Maryland. He spoke twice, the first time at Annapolis, where he discussed the at Annapolis, where he discussed the issues of the campaign, and tonight in this city in the Fifth regiment ar-mory, before an audience which is con-servatively estimated as exceeding 25,-000 persons. Mr. Bryan received an ovation seldom equaled in this city. When he stepped to the front of the platform the crowd rose en masse, cheered and waved flags, the band the while playing "Dixie." Upon order be-ing restored, Mr. Bryan, giving every evidence of his pleasure at the demon-stration, began his remarks. He de-voted most of his time to a discus-sion of the same issues that he has presented elsewhere. He stated with emphasis that there was nothing in the Democratic platform that need alarm my legitimate interest. Among other things he said:

Democratic platform that need alarm ny legitimate interest. Among other things he said: "The Democratic platform differs from the Republican platform in that our party distinctly declares what it opposes and what it favors. When you read the Democratic platform you know exactly what to expect, for the two candidates are pledged to the platform. You not only know what the platform You not only know what the platform You not only know what the platform form is ambigious and un-certain. When you get through reading it you are in the dark as to what the president will do." Mr. Taft, he said, had already amended his platform in several par-ticulars, but none know what other amendments he might add before the election and what additions he might make to it after the election. When any one came to construe the Repub-lican platform, he said; a guessing con-test was entered into and none could tell whose guess was nearest the truth. President Republican could tell whose guess was nearest the truth.

test was entered into and none could tell whose guess was nearest the truth. President Roosevelt, he declared, was elected upon a similar platform. "And, as his platform promised noth-ing in particular, he felt at liberty to recommend a number of things which the Republican leaders objected to." The result was, he said, a constant conflict between the executive and con-gress.

Tress. "The Republicans do not present spe-cific propositions," he asserted. "A Re-publican victory could not be construed as a declaration in favor of any parti-cular reform or against any existing abuse."

cular reform or against any existing abuse." He said that Maryland by right was a Democratic state and that no Demo-cratic could find the Denver platform an excuse for voting the Republicans who recognize the abuses that have grown up under Republican rule can find a reason for joining with the Dem-ocratic sentiment in the country is far farger than any party, and the Demo-cratic sentiment demands that the laws shall be made in the interests of the whole people and that the government shall be administered in such a way that the rights of all shall be protect-ed and that special privileges shall be no longer granted to the few."

DOCTOR PRESCRIBED CUTICURA REMEDIES

"When my son was culy about a year old eczema began to break out on his face. It kept getting worse and we called in a doctor whose medicine only seemed to make it worse, until his head and face were a solid, raw sore. It was awful. He suffered dreadfully, and screamed until we thought he would go into convulsions, it would itch and burn so. We became so dissatisfied that we called in another doctor. He pre-scribed the Cuticura Remedies. The baby commenced to get better right away, although by this time the disease had a good start. I don't think we used more than three bottles of the Cuticura Scop and Cuticura Ointment. It was perhaps several months before all the service were not be the service of the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. With Marquis Ito on Subejet. New York, Sept. 15.—Congressman McKinlay of California, in an address at the Metropolitan Temple, told of a conversation he had with Marquis Ito of Japan, three years ago, in which the marquis predicted the awakening of Asiatics and Japanese in particular, along manufacturing and other indus-trial lines, and foreshadowed the com-petition in manufactured goods which Japan would one day give the United States. That prediction, the congress-man declared, has come to pass and already this country is beginning to feel the effects of the labor of Japan and other Asiatic countries. "I do not see why you people of the United States object to the coming of Japanese labor to your shores," observed the labor to your shores, observed the marquis to me," said Congressman Mc-Kinlay.
