For the last quarter of this year State Auditor Richards collected the sum of $388.50 for recording marks and brands.

The Co-op Wagon & Machine company remembered all its employees with a Christmas turkey yesterday. It took a good many loads, but none were overlooked.

Harold Felt, the eight-year-old son of George F. Felt, is afflicted with scarlet fever, and as a result Mr. Felt's residence, 41 East First North, is under quarantine.

Services commemorative of the birthday of the Prophet Joseph Smith will be held this evening in the Sixteenth ward meeting house, beginning at 8 o'clock. A very interesting program has been prepared.

All the children of the public schools have been invited to attend the exhibit of the State Art Institute next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. There will be no admission fee charged.

With the compliments of the People's Cash Store comes a handsome calendar for 1900 of very unique design. It is made up of a flock of birds, the months being suspended from the necks of the songsters by a blue ribbon.

Heber J. Grant & Co. received a wire this morning from the Elsinore Co-op store stating that they had sustained a severe loss by fire. The exact extent of the damage is not known but the firm carries $5,000 insurance.

Watermaster Seddon's clerical force are busy writing up records of water rights in the municipality of Salt Lake. The data is obtained from the office of the county recorder, city recorder and city engineer.

Councilman George Buckle of the First municipal ward has filed his new official bond in the sum of $500 with Recorder Buckner. Mr. Buckle's sureties on the bond are Horace G. Whitney and William R. Jones Jr.

Elder John Nicholson will deliver an address in the Seventeenth ward meeting house tomorrow night, on a subject specially suitable for Christmas eve. The singing and music will also be appropriate to the occasion.

Besse Statesman: There is a porter running on the Boise-Salt Lake sleeper who was all through the campaign in Cuba and also served under the Stars and Stripes in the Philippines. He had his leg shattered and is drawing a pension of $32 a month. With that and the perquisites of his position he manages to make ends meet.

Charles H. Schved, the hero of the Oodly block fracas, was given a hearing as to his sanity yesterday afternoon and ordered sent to the insane asylum at Provo. Schved is 32 years of age and a native of Germany. He came here from Texas about ten years ago. He claims to have a brother and sister residing in California.

The reception tendered by the faculty of the Latter-day Saints' college to the pupils of that institution last evening was a great success and was enjoyed by several hundred of the college's friends. The affair was given in Christendom's hall, where refreshments were served and where the young people enjoyed dancing until a late hour.

The 1899 calendars turned out by Elias Morris and Sons Co. will be especially interesting to the friends of the late head of that firm. Hon. Elias Morris, third president of the company, is a beautiful picture of the bridge of Conway Castle in Wales, which was constructed by Mr. Morris and his father. It was a very happy thought for the present firm to obtain it for their calendars.

This property some time ago belonged to Kelsey & Gillespie. They were foreclosed last August in the district court, by the grantor.

DOCTOR BEATTY IS DISPLEASED.

Members of City Board of Health Consider Vaccination.

DECLINE TO TAKE ACTION.

Sanpete County Teachers Will Be Welcomed to the State Convention Here—At Pest House.

The city board of health met yesterday afternoon to consider the smallpox question, Mayor Clark, Commissioner Keogh and Dr. Fisher being in attendance.

A communication from Dr. T. B. Beatty, of the State board of health, was read. He strongly urged the necessity of enacting rules that will require school children to be vaccinated during the holiday season and that adults, who may be deemed to have been exposed, be required to submit to that treatment.

HE IS DISPLEASED.

Dr. Beatty indicated in his letter the resolution adopted by the State board on Wednesday, containing directions to cities and towns where smallpox prevails.

Dr. Beatty expressed displeasure at what he characterized as the city board's action, containing directions to cities and towns where smallpox prevails.

ALLOWED TO REST.

Nothing whatever was done with the communication, but the board will meet again soon, and whenever Dr. Beatty specifically directs the city board to act, such communication will be considered and disposed of.

SANPETE TEACHERS MAY COME.

A matter of some importance that came before the educational association was the question as to whether county teachers from Sanpete should be admitted to the convention of State teachers to be held here next week.

President Allison of Ogden came down yesterday, in reply to a letter sent him by the Teachers' association, suggesting the advisability of excluding the Sanpete instructors, and urged that such action was unnecessary and that if it should be taken, the same rule ought to apply to Salt Lake and Utah county teachers.

Superintendent Park, Van Cott and Miss Holton agreed with President Allison. This seemed to be the prevailing opinion, and so the Sanpete teachers will doubtless be present at the gathering.

RAY HAS RECOVERED.

Dr. Ray, the first person to be sent to the pest house here, has recovered, and in a day or two will be able to leave.

Sanpete, the painter, who is also at the pest house, is a decidedly sick man, but it is reported that he is progressing well.

In this connection it may be stated that the nurse who is in attendance upon these cases, and who has had much experience in smallpox, and is familiar with every symptom exhibited during the progress of the disease, declares that these are smallpox cases. In particular, the nurse says, there is an entire absence of the characteristic smallpox odor, which once met with, is never mistaken.

The occupants of the house where Painter Samuelson resided, No. 769 south Second East, were vaccinated by Dr. Keogh yesterday, and the place is under quarantine.

Dr. Keogh heard of another alleged smallpox case yesterday, but on examination, the report proved to be entirely without foundation.

IN SANPETE.

Dr. W. H. Olsten is up from Mantel where he has been for six weeks ago. Dr. Olsten has changed his office over to the corner of Third South and Second East, and he says he will freeze the smallpox out or burn it out, for it's got to go. There will be no further trouble in Mantel; no deaths are looked for, although several of the patients have the convalescent form of the disease. "I don't know so much what is being done in other communities," said Dr. Olsten, "but I am watching my own house very closely. The case here was correctly diagnosed, the great bulk of all this sickness and scare might have been avoided."

Dr. Olsten came here to confer with Dr. Beatty and returned to Sanpete today.

UNIVERSITY HIGH JINKS.

An Improving Program Carried Out During Yesterday Afternoon.

A time of high glee was spent yesterday afternoon at the University, and the pleasure of the occasion was enhanced because it was impromptu. During the afternoon a notice appeared on the board, calling a general mass meeting of the students, with the accompanying bold announcement: "No 'profs' admitted." At the first designated the students, instead of repairing to their respective classes, flocked up to the art room on the third floor, and those who were not acquainted with the nature of the proceeding would look wise and say nothing.

As soon as the students had gathered Will Ray called them to order and nominated Nelson Dickerman as chairman, which was followed by a series of jolly college yells.

Some one moved that inasmuch as it was the last day before the Christmas holidays the students declare all further recitations suspended, the motion carried with a loud majority. As the vociferous applause was subsiding the door opened and in walked instructor R. L. McGhie. George S. Gibbs promptly moved that Mr. McGhie be instructed to announce to the faculty the decision of the students, but he was to wait until Christmas to do it. The motion carried with laughter and applause. Mr. Snow again moved that Mr. McGhie be permitted to remain in the room only on condition that he take an oath swearing that he would look wise and say nothing, and not report anything heard or seen within the solemn assembly. This motion also carried.

A thanksgiving sermon was then given by N. T. Porter, who exhibited a goodly supply of humor. His remarks were interrupted, however, by a number of accidents. Instructor L. E. Young, on entering the room, was seized by Mr. Gibbs and conducted up to the front, where he was obliged to take the oath as administered to Mr. McGhie. Subsequently, instructor Evans came in the room, expecting to meet his art class, but he was confronted with an artless class. He was subjected to the accepting of the same oath administered to the other two. A chorus, composed of the majority of college women, then amused the assembly with a number of musical selections on two-penny mouth-organs. Ernest Bramwell established no mean reputation as a story teller by relating a number of stories in response to the subject "Fish Stories."

On motion of Mr. Gibbs ten students, headed by Gatehouse instructor Evans for the janitor, to bring him before the students to make him confess his sins and ask forgiveness, but after a futile search the young men returned with the disappointing news that the janitor, who was not in the building, he had doubtless smelled a rat. And in this way fun and merriment was made until 3 o'clock, when they all dispersed, and came in the room, expecting to meet his art class, but he was confronted with an artless class. YOUNG MAN'S FOOLISH ACT

Purloined a Diamond Ring from Daynes' Jewelry Store.

Police Pointers.

Yesterday a young man named Sheppard, who comes from an excellent family, ended Daynes' jewelry store to look over some rings, representing that he intended to make a purchase. When the attention of the clerk was attracted, Sheppard slipped a diamond ring in his pocket. The clerk was soon missed by the clerk who reported the matter to the police. Last evening the young man was taken into custody. He gave the ring up, and his property will be probably be returned to him in the future was allowed to depart.

Officer Johnson thought he had found a dead man last evening when he discovered a fellow lying on the hard floor of the Walker House basement. The man was Robert Johnson, a resident of the city, who was taken to the police station.

A lady who resides in the vicinity of Councilman Richards' office, who was burglarized a few nights ago, claims that she saw two hard-looking characters loitering around the house on the night of the robbery, and could identify them as the men who were requested to take a look at the men captured by Detective Sheets yesterday afternoon.

Thos. Fitzgerald last night reported the loss of several articles of clothing and a call bell. He stated to the police that the things were taken from his room over Heibeln's State street saloon.

"Whoopie yah yeh, turelee, turelee. Im's go-anany body, sam!" yelled George Condon on a crowded street last night. His extreme raucosity led to zero when Officer Roberts loomed up.

Cooms' photo has a place in the rogue's gallery, and yet he is but 20 years of age.

Numerous complaints have been received by headquarters from persons who claim to have been robbed at Reilly's saloon on State street between Third and Fourth South.

AT Z. C. M. I. FACTORY.

Employees Have their Annual Banquet and Reception Today.

The Shoe and Clothing Factories Amusement association of Z. C. M. I. gave their annual reception and banquet today, beginning at 11:30 o'clock. On the third floor of the factory building three tables were placed in the south end of the room laden with choice food of various kinds, and the north end was cleared to make room for dancing.

At 11:30 o'clock the band struck up to the tables, and the delicious viands soon faded away.

E. J. Allen acted as toastmaster and presided over the festivities with becoming grace and tact. He gave the toast and the names of those who responded to them:

"The Passing Year," Abbie R. Johnson.

"Our Association," President George S. McAllister.

"The Ladies," Ed Schoenfeldt.

"The Men," Anna Lawson.

"Our Volunteers," Joe Halverson.

General Superintendent T. G. Webster was present and in response to a request made by the association, he encouraged the operatives for their diligence, efficiency and faithfulness to their work.

Manager Rodney R. Hillam was also present and delivered a short address. After all had regaled on the feast to a sufficient, a most excellent program was rendered, in which was exhibited no mean amount of musical and athletic talent. The band kept the program, sets were formed and an hour's dancing was indulged in. All departed after concluding that one of the ablest pleasures ever spent.

The suit is to recover possession of a saddle of the value of $35 and damages to the amount of $10. The plaintiff resides at Woodland, Summit county, and alleged that the saddle was purloined from his place in August. Mr. Weber purchased the property for $14.

Some four or five weeks ago like Hunter was taken into custody by the sheriff's men on the charges of burglary, receiving stolen property and petit larceny. W. D. Williams being complainant.

Yesterday he had a hearing before Judge McMaster. The charges of burglary and petit larceny were dismissed on motion of Assistant County Attorney W. T. Gauder. The investigation of the alleged offense of receiving stolen goods proceeded, resulting in Hunter's exoneration.

The serious charge of embezzlement against H. R. Watrous was being examined into this afternoon in Judge McMaster's court by Attorney W. T. Gauder. Watrous was arraigned before Judge McMaster and demanded a change of venue on the grounds that Justice Sommer was prejudiced and biased.

The only next week will be the Grande, where Clara Thropp opens her home, and on evening in a "Doll's House." We believe this is the first of Ibsen's plays to be rendered in this city and it is sure to be greeted with intense interest.

THE PYRAMID PILE CURE.

A VICIOUS FIGHT.

Two Miners from Bingham the Principals—One Chews the Other's Thumb.

"B-r-r-r-r-r blif, smack, le'go me thumb ye dirty spalpeen, wow, uge, le'go st'ell yer."

These were the words that greeted the ears of Officer Parry as he drew near the Dewey saloon on Second South at ten o'clock last night. A couple of brawny miners from Bingham, Tom Sullivan and John Bettes, were settling a little dispute in a friendly manner and incidentally giving "the boys" an imitation of a cotton-gin separating lint from seed.

Bettes was getting the better of the argument until he stuck his thumb into Sullivan's mouth. The latter imagined he had a tamale or a chew of tobacco and proceeded to masticate vigorously, much to the annoyance of Mr. Bettes.

At the station Sullivan was booked for mayhem and released on $25 bail. Bettes was conveyed to the drunk house.

His thumb was bitten to the bone. He cried like a child and vowed that he could lick any man on the force.

CHURCH NEWS.
