

FRAGMENTS.

"MONTI CRISTO" will be repeated at the Opera House this evening.

The Home Dramatic Club perform "Storm Beaten" at the Theatre this evening.

ANDREW SWENDBERG was arrested this morning for drunkenness and profanity.

HENRY BURTON was fined $15 in the Police Court this morning for battery on a small boy.

SEE advertisement of E. F. Branting for lost coat, for the recovery of which he offers a reward.

PRESIDENT WILLIAM BUDGE, of Bear Lake Stake, addressed the Conference this afternoon.

Four places of amusement open for evening—the Theatre, Opera House, Music Hall and the circus. Enough, surely.

ANY coal miners who may be desirous to obtain employment, are invited to send their addresses to W. W. Cluff, Esq., at Coalville, Utah.

A GREAT many people were looking for snow this morning and would compromise for nothing short of frost. They are now willing to concede that fall is not half over yet.

HENRY LOVE, the street car driver, wishes it understood that he is not the person who was arrested for gambling the other day. The culprit was given the name of Love as a "nigger."

At 7 o'clock this evening there will be a meeting of superintendents, teachers and persons interested in Sunday schools. It will doubtless be an interesting occasion to Sabbath school workers.

This chamber concert given by Evan Stephens last evening, in the hall over Coates & Snellgrove's music store, was well attended, and the programme was rendered in a very satisfactory manner. Another concert will be given there by the same company this evening.

THOMAS HARRIS, janitor of the University of Deseret, has a quantity of walnuts which he would be pleased to distribute free of charge to persons from the country who may wish to obtain them for planting. These seed walnuts may be obtained by calling on Mr. Harris at the University.

New Jail.

Utah County is to have a new jail. The county committee and a committee of the Utah County Court, being parties to the contract.

Found a Sack of Clothing.

On Tuesday last Henry Day, of Draper, found a sack of clothing at a point on the State Road, some distance south of that town. The party who lost it should communicate with or call on Mr. Day.

Will Be Examined To-day.

A correspondent states that the examination of John C. Graham, who was arrested in Provo yesterday, on a charge of unlawful cohabitation, was set for 10 a. m. to-day, to which time the defendant gave bonds for his appearance.

Expected Home.

Elder Horace Cummings, of the Twelfth Ward, this city, who has been laboring as a missionary in Mexico for over two years, most of which time he has spent in the City of Mexico, in a communication dated at the latter place September 26th, states that he expects to reach home in about three weeks from that date.

Sentenced by Judge Zane.

This morning Brother Thomas Osborn, of Union, Salt Lake County, was arraigned in the District Court on an indictment charging him with having lived with his two wives, contrary to the provisions of the Edmunds law. He pleaded guilty and stated that he was ready for the judgment of the court. Replying to the judge's questions he stated that he had no promise to make as to his future relations with his wives. He was sentenced to imprisonment in the penitentiary for six months and to pay a fine of $50 and costs.

Third District Court.

A short session was held to-day, at which the following business was transacted:

Mary Stringham vs. Millard Arnett; leave to file complaint.

United States vs. John Osborn; unlawful cohabitation; plea of guilty; sentenced to imprisonment for six months and to pay a fine of $50 and costs.

Francis Rolison and Anton Cramer were admitted to citizenship.

Thomas Vennard was excused from service as juror.

Court adjourned to 10 a. m. to-morrow.

The Opera House.

After a long a sliver with closed doors at this place of amusement, those who came last evening expecting everything to run smoothly and all the details to be in the hands of the manager, were disappointed as they were not. The orchestra was very bad, the music was painful and the waiting at times was painful and the waiting at times was painful.

The version of "Monte Cristo," performed by Mr. Lindsay, was vastly different from that of Mr. Grismer, the superiority being with one, then with the other, and both good enough when properly presented and well acted. Lindsay's escape from the warty tomb upon the rock where "Dante" triumphantly announces his possession of the keys of the city, was the best we have seen; it was the only climax of the evening that was strongly brought out, and was rewarded with vociferous applause.

Lindsay, Cummings and Bywater are entitled to praise for their thoroughly "up," average good acting and the occasional "burst" that went beyond the average; the same should be said of Carrie Cogswell, Miss Cook looked nicely and dressed appropriately, but she has the aversion common to her sex to looking old or even middle-aged, and was quite too youthful in the last two acts, especially where it seemed a question which was the elder—herself or her son. She should cultivate the art of being "gracefully still," and not so constantly use her feet and so seductively her hands. The other characters have all the way from fair to indifferent. The orchestra was very bad. The piece goes on again to-night, and with the ice fairly broken should be done well and draw a large house.

A CURIOUS STORM.

A Phenomenon in Emery County—Crops, Prices, Etc.

Brother O. W. Warner writes from Moab, Emery County, an account of an extraordinary storm that recently occurred at that place. Flat pieces of ice, some of them measuring as much as two inches across, and from a fourth to half an inch in thickness, fell. Glass was cut in places, the trees were hanging on the trees, and in this way considerable damage was done to fruit. A man was sitting on a chair, feeding a molasses mill when the ice began to fall. He hastily raised his chair above his head for protection, when a piece of ice struck one of his fingers, severely bruising it. What makes this storm seem all the more phenomenal is the fact that the climate around Moab is considerably milder than that of Salt Lake Valley.

Brother Warner states that the crops in Moab have been good, though only a small area has been planted. Grain is worth three cents and potatoes one and a half cents per pound. From ten to twelve tons of squashes have been raised per acre, and samples of these are worth from 100 to 150 pounds. Peach trees have grown eight feet from the ground this year.

A school teacher, and a few families of good settlers are wanted at Moab.

"The Silver King."

The Theatre last evening was not so crowded as at previous Conference performances in this city, owing to the many attractions for visitors, but a large audience greeted "The Silver King." Next to "Storm Beaten" this drama seems to be the more popular, being twice as long as the other, and causing the spectators to carefully follow it from beginning to end. It was put on the stage in first-class style and gone through to the satisfaction of almost everyone. The careful style in which Mrs. Birdie Cummings acted "Nellie Denver," the wife of the silver king, was very marked. Miss Ardie Cummings, as one of Denver's children, of a small amount of favor. The other lady characters were also made most of. Mr. Wells as "Wilfred Denver, the Silver King," added other laurels to his reputation as an actor. His portrayal of the terrible weakness at the murder scene and the accusation of himself, was very effective and elicited well-deserved applause; as did also his visiting "the spiders" den as the deaf postman and discovery of the real murderer. Mr. Spencer and Mr. Young appeared to decided advantage. Mr. Taylor, Mr. Evans, Mr. Crouch, Mr. Owen, and the balance of the male characters did their portion in a way to make the play interesting.

To-night "Storm Beaten" for the last time. On Saturday and Monday evenings, "Lights of London" will be given.

First District Court.

Something is wrong with the grand jury, or the district attorney. Yesterday, one man charged with assault with a deadly weapon, went before the grand jury and made a voluntary statement. The grand jury thought no one but unlawful cohabitation defendants would make voluntary statements, therefore without paying attention to the evidence brought against him, they returned an indictment for unlawful cohabitation. Another man was indicted for battery upon one man, and then another indictment for the same offense on another man was brought in when the grand jury only intended one.

Again a man was indicted on a charge of grand larceny and three or four of the witnesses were not endorsed on the indictment. The original indictment also contained several defendants and the copy only one, the clerk saying he was instructed to so prepare it. The latter case, has given rise to considerable argument. Isaac Healey was arraigned and entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of attempted rape.

The case of U. S. v. John Harris, unlawful cohabitation, is to follow the case of William H. Harris, now on trial, and the case of Maurice McGrath, grand larceny, is to follow that of Harris, and will last some time.

From Illinois.

Elder John F. Brown, of Kanab, reached this city last Wednesday night on his return from a mission to the southern part of Illinois, on which he took his departure in July last. He was released on account of ill health. He conducted twelve Saints to Utah, and states that a few still remain in the region named. He reports the prospects for successful missionary work there as being unfavorable. He had the pleasure of baptizing three persons the day before starting for home.

On the journey to Utah three railroad wrecks occurred behind the train on which he and the company of Saints he was conducting were traveling, and one occurred ahead of it. But no accident happened to the train he was on, though it was delayed about 36 hours in consequence of the other accidents. Elder Brown greatly regrets that ill health prevented him from remaining longer in the field.

Parry's Magazine.

The October number of this excellent home periodical is out, and is the first one of the new volume. Judging by its general appearance, and the evident increase of the expense devoted to it, the magazine is prospering. The first article in the present number is a biographical sketch of the late President John Taylor, which presents a personal description of the distinguished subject, giving a clear and pleasing idea of his manner and appearance. Historically, this article is probably the best and most complete account of President Taylor which has yet appeared in print.

The serial "City of Mexico and its Environs," is a very interesting paper, and the present installment of it is illustrated by an engraving of the Castle of Chapultepec. The Ignara, and How it is Caught, is also an illustrated article. The balance of the contents is as follows: The Pleasure Boat, The Marine, The Compass, The Land Where Our Dreams Come True, Being a Boy, Substance and Shadow, The Charm of Garibaldi, Absence, a sonnet, Jessie's duty, a story, The Romance of Thieving, The Evening Newspaper, Letter on the Gospel, Lyby Mo as Tha chie, Two Ways, For the Older Fellow, Prospects for Volume Four, Monthly Summary of Current Events, with portrait of Robert T. Lincoln, by the Editor, Salmagundi. The frontispiece is a wood portrait of President Taylor, which is the merit of being a reproduction. It was engraved by J. W. Whitcomb from a photograph by Savage. The publishers announce a number of improvements for the opening volume. Among them will be illustrations of Rocky Mountain scenery, articles by talented home authors, etc., while the price, which is very low, will remain the same, viz $1.00 per annum.

The Constitutional Convention.

Pursuant to the call of the President the State Constitutional Convention met in the legislative chamber, City Hall, to-day.

The Convention was called to order at 12:20 p. m. by Hon. John T. Cairne, President. The Secretary, H. M. Wells, called the roll, which showed about two-thirds of the members present. The following counties had representatives: Beaver, Box Elder, Cache, Davis, Emery, Iron, Garfield, Juab, Kane, Morgan, Rich, Salt Lake, Sanpete, Sevier, Tooele, Utah, Uintah, Wasatch and Weber. Those not represented were Kane, Millard, Piute, Sevier and Washington counties.

The Board appointed to canvass the returns of the election on the Constitution, reported having performed that labor. The total vote was Constitution, Yes, 13,195; Constitution, No, 502. The report was received and approved. The committee appointed last July to draft a memorial to Congress, reported that they had prepared the document.

The report was received, and the Convention went into executive session, with closed doors, to consider the memorial. After being in session a little over two hours, the doors were opened, and the Convention adjourned to 7:30 this evening.

The Long Term Expired.

This morning Brother Rudger Clawson was brought down from the penitentiary to have an examination before Commissioner Norrell, as to his discharge from custody for the due imprisonment on him for a conviction of polygamy. Brother Clawson has served the three and a half years' sentence for polygamy, but still has the greater part of the six months' sentence to serve for the unlawful cohabitation part. At the request of his attorney, Judge Sutherland, the hearing was postponed till Monday next, at 10 a. m.

"The Orchestrone."

The Calder Music Palace has lately brought out and have for sale in large quantities a beautiful instrument named as above. It combines all the qualities of the ordinary organ and is worked entirely with the pedals, perforated paper being revolved and acted upon by means of the wind thus produced. They have a number with keyboards, also, a person can "make believe" he is playing, while all the time the pedals and paper are doing the work. It is worth seeing.

"Early Breakfast" Stove.

This excellent kitchen utensil has been advertised in our columns for some time and has never, so far as we can learn, proved contrary to what is claimed for it in any respect. The name is very suggestive, being an object most sought for and which the stove itself abundantly facilitates. P. W. Madsen & Co., 38 and 41 e. First South Street, have it.

Dismissed.

Yesterday afternoon, at Ogden, Charles Rondquist, of Hooper, had a preliminary examination before Commissioner Rogers, on the charge of unlawful cohabitation. There was no evidence against him and he was released.

No Sunday Schools.

On account of Conference, there will be no Sunday Schools held Sunday, Oct. 9th, 1887.

JOHN C. CUTLER, Stake Supr.

No Internal Revenue Tax.

In reply to a correspondent, we will state that where a man manufactures wine from his own vineyard and distills it on his own premises, he is not required to pay an internal revenue tax upon it.

THE PRESIDENT.

He Leaves Milwaukee for St. Paul.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 7.—The day opened bright and beautiful after a regular downpour of rain during the night, and everything seemed to make the remaining hours of the President's stay in Milwaukee of the most pleasant nature. About 8:30 carriages containing the President's party and the reception committee left the Plankinton Hotel and proceeded to the Soldiers' Home by way of Grand Avenue and Blumensdorf road. The sides of the avenue were who doffed their hats and waved handkerchiefs, while occasional cheers broke forth as some of the individual caught sight of his political chief.

The President's wife and the ladies who accompanied him were seated in the rear of the train. The cannon on the greensward in front of the home meanwhile booming forth a presidential salute.

The time left before the departure of the train was so brief that no stop was made and the carriages drove very rapidly along the south side of the city to the depot.

A LARGE CROWD

had congregated about the decorated willow on the platform fully an hour before the distinguished party arrived, and when the President's car came into view it was greeted with a round of cheers which continued until the train left the depot. The appearance of the President and the ladies who accompanied him on an especial outburst of enthusiasm from ladies, who waved their handkerchiefs and paroled in accompaniment to the cheering. Mrs. Cleveland still looks bright and fresh, notwithstanding the continued round of receptions and levees which she has undergone, and smiled sweetly as she accompanied her husband to the train.

POSTMASTER-GENERAL VILAS

was also the recipient of a burst of applause as he stepped out and vanished into the presidential car, which was immediately pulled out, leaving the yelling crowd behind.

NORTHWESTERN INTERESTS.

OTTAWA, Oct. 7.—The Interior Department has advised from the exploratory survey party sent to explore British Columbia, which has been gathering general information regarding the country. The party proposes to winter near Ft. Rupert, 1,000 miles north of Victoria. After obtaining more men, the party will endeavor to penetrate into the country as far north as Mackenzie's Bay or the Arctic Ocean. The explorers will start from Ft. Smith, a new route to Mackenzie's River and entering civilization at Edmonton. They expect to reach Ottawa next fall.

DOMINION GOVERNMENT

has been apprised of the decision of Judge Dawson of Sticks in regard to sealed sealed this year; all were found guilty of illegal sealing and the sealers were fined $100 each. The sealers forfeited to the United States Government. The claim of the sealers in Behring's Sea will probably be fought out in the United States courts. It is made the subject for an international commission.

The Sale Ratified. NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The board of directors of the Western Union to-day officially ratified the contract for the purchase of the Baltimore & Ohio telegraph lines. The Western Union at once took formal possession. President Garrett, of the B. & O., who arrived from Europe this morning, has given his approval in legal form.

Kearney Redivivus.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Denis Kearney, the agitator, arrived in Chicago from the Pacific Coast this morning and left for New York in the afternoon to take part in the three-cornered political struggle waged between the democrats, republicans and followers of Henry George. Kearney, on reaching Chicago, made an immediate effort to see particularly Parsons. The Pacific Coast agitator was quickly but firmly denied admission to the hall by the police. Kearney went away lamenting and telling his friends that he had been "banned" from the hall. He would surely get his chance in a hall, but Parsons only laughed.

KEARNEY SAYS

that in New York he will make a series of speeches, taking the ground that the question of questions for the working man at this time is not the far off issue of land taxation, but shall the laboring people concentrate every effort in passing a law through Congress making the exclusion of the Chinese from the country a crime. He will urge that the hands of the democrats be strengthened, that the present being, being in his opinion the strongest anti-Chinese advocates. It will be an unusually great victory, he thinks, for the workmen of New York now to help pass the Mitchell anti-Chinese bill. He said that the Chinese are not for the sake of a slide issue.

WEAKEN DEMOCRACY

and indirectly strengthen the pro-Chinese republicans. After leaving for New York, Kearney proposed to travel the anti-Chinese agitation in the principal cities of Canada.

AMERICAN BRIGANDAGE.

If we may credit a recent statement in the San Francisco Chronicle, the system of brigandage which has been so long prevalent in Italy, would seem to have been imported and adopted by the really bandit of the border along the Rio Grande. That journal of the 30th ult. says:

"Only a few days ago a resident of Texas, an American citizen, was seized on American soil by a band of Mexican brigands, carried across the border and held in bondage until redeemed by a payment of $15,000. Word was sent to his family that unless the sum was paid the captive would be shot, and as he was a man of means, the amount was promptly raised and paid. The bandits, and the prisoner released.

He was kept blindfolded during his detention, and when his ransom was received information that the ransom had been paid he was escorted to the Rio Grande River and mounted on horseback. The bandit chief was then removed from his eyes and he was told to go on his way. During the time of his detention there must have been thirty or forty persons who visited the place, all of them undoubtedly connected with the same organization of these ruffians along the border, having their headquarters on both sides of the river, and chiefly on the Mexican side. The bandit chief, Mariano Elias at Nogales a few days ago may, perhaps, have been the work of this case of border ruffianism and the abduction of the rich Texan part of the scheme of the same gang of ruffians. It is difficult to see how their net, either American or Mexican, and they distribute their favors impartially.

It will require the joint efforts of Mexican and United States governments, aided by the State of Texas, to root out and destroy this confederation of bandits. There should be concert of action, and vigorous and well directed action at that, for the state of things now existing is a reproach to any civilized nation and must be ended as soon as possible."

DEATHS.

GIBBS.—At West Portage, Oct. 1, 1887, of diarrhoea and teething James Edwin Gibbs, 11 months and 10 days.

HARRIS.—At West Portage, Sept. 25th, 1887, of scarlet fever, Parley Brown, son of Knott and Jane Ann Harris; aged 5 months and 6 days.

POOL.—At Dayton, Oneida County, Idaho, September 21, 1887, Peter John Pool, aged 44 years, 2 months and 10 days. Brother Pool embraced the Gospel under Prince Edwards' Island, British America, in the year 1844. Was one of the members that sailed in the ship Brooklyn, with his mother and sister, under the leadership of Elder Samuel Brannon, in the year 1846-47. He lived there until the year 1860, when he moved to Franklin, Cache Valley. He was one of the first settlers of Franklin. There he labored faithfully to build up that place. In 1874 he moved from Franklin to Dayton, where he lived until his death.

Brother Pool was a man that was greatly respected by all who knew him. He was a faithful and true Latter-day Saint.—Utah Journal.

PHILLIPS.—At South Hooper, October 1, 1887, of hepatic colic, John Dee, son of Edward and Hannah Simmons Phillips, aged 41 years, 8 months and 2 days.

Deceased was born at Newry, Hancock County, Ill. Moved with his parents to Winter Quarters in 1849, from there to Utah in 1849, and settled in Kaysville in the spring of 1850, where he made his home until a few years prior to his death. He was ever ready to obey any call upon him where his services were required to assist or defend his brethren. He was a member of the Kaysville Stake, and held elements in Shaptope from the days of the Indians. He took a large part of his time from Salt Lake City to Kaysville to help the Saints there in a time of scarcity. In the summer of 1886 he went to Kaysville with others, to assist the "Mormon" immigration from that point. He was a kind husband and an indulgent father and died in full faith of the Gospel. He leaves a wife and a host of friends to mourn his loss. He was buried from the Kaysville meeting house, Sunday, October 24. A number of the brethren made consolatory remarks, and all testified to the many good qualities of the deceased. The remains were followed to the cemetery by six vehicles.
