

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATIONS.

FARMINGTON.

At 4 a.m., the inhabitants of this city were aroused from their peaceful slumbers by a discharge of ordnance from the battery, under the directions of Capt. Leonard, the reverberations of which were not ended when the Deseret Brass Band, stationed in front of the residence of Major J. W. Hess, struck up the national airs, "The Star Spangled Banner," "Hail Columbia," &c.

The band, under the direction of Capt. W. Glover, then proceeded to serenade the citizens, halting at the residences of the Hon. Thomas Grover, Col. T. S. Smith, Mr. J. Lethbridge, Capt. Harrison, Judd, Leonard, &c., who acknowledged the compliments paid to them in neat and appropriate speeches.

After marching through the principal streets, cheering the inhabitants with their thrilling strains of martial music, they returned to the residence of the Hon. T. Grover, where they partook of a sumptuous breakfast.

At 8 a.m., the Cavalry regiment, "The Mountain Rangers," and the Infantry companies mustered for general drill. After inspection, various military evolutions were performed in a manner creditable to both officers and men.

The band, seated in a carriage drawn by four beautiful horses, and accompanied by Major J. W. Hess, the Hon. T. Grover and the "Mountain Rangers," proceeded to the residence of Capt. W. Glover, from whence they returned to the city and in front of the Infantry companies marched to the parade ground.

The military were appropriately addressed by their commanders, eulogized for their soldier-like appearance, promptitude and attention, and dismissed to participate in the various recreations and amusements of the day, in commemoration of the memorable and glorious epoch of '76.

All passed off peaceably and harmoniously.

KAYSVILLE.

A battalion was formed at 8 a.m., commanded by R. N. Allred, consisting of Horton D. Haight's Company of Mountain Rangers, R. N. Allred's Company of Riflemen, and Robt. Harris and Samuel Henderson's companies of Infantry, who, after performing a variety of evolutions on the public square, were placed in charge of the Marshal of the day, Rosel Hyde.

At half-past 9 a.m., the escort formed under the superintendence of the Marshal of the day, and marched to the Bishop's residence in the following order:—

Brass band, in charge of Capt. Owen Dinsdale.
Mountain Rangers.
Rifle Company.

First and second Companies of Infantry.

Committee of Arrangements.

Bishop and Council.

School-teacher Charles D. Evans and pupils.

The above marched in order to the spacious Bowery, when a salute was fired in remembrance of '76.

Assembly was called to order by the Marshal of the day.

Allen Taylor, Bishop, R. N. Allred and D. P. Curtis, Counsellors, with the Committee of Arrangements, were called to the stand by the Marshal of the day.

The Declaration of Independence was read by Charles D. Evans.

Oration by Bishop Taylor.

Music by the band.

Short address by Dorris P. Curtis.

Comic song by Father Taylor.

Oration by R. N. Allred.

Band played a lively air.

An address by Geo. D. Watt.

Benediction by D. P. Curtis.

Called to order at 3 p.m.

Band played "Hail Columbia."

Oration by Bishop Taylor.

TOASTS.

May the happy time soon arrive when home manufacture shall be the object of every farmer in Deseret; when utensils and machinery shall supersede manual labor, and reservoirs and canals be universally spread over this wide region.

WM. PAYNE.

The Constitution of the U. S.—The offspring of Diety. May it survive the polluting touch of corrupt administrators.

CHAS. D. EVANS.

The Military of Deseret—Defenders of the people's rights, supporters of the Constitution. R. N. ALLRED.

May the liberty we would to others extend.

Be vouchsafed by our God in our peaceful land.

SAMUEL HENDERSON.

Recitations, songs, &c., added variety to the exercises of the afternoon.

Much credit is due the Marshal and Committee of Arrangements for the good order observed and for their tasteful ordering of the day's proceedings.

CHARLES D. EVANS, Clerk.

OGDEN CITY.

Under the direction of Edward Banker, Thomas Dunn, Francis A. Brown, Wm. Gibson, M. D. Merrick, Isaac N. Goodale, and Nathaniel Leavitt, Committee of Arrangements.

ORDER OF THE DAY.

The silence of early dawn was broken by firing of artillery.

At sun-rise the mammoth flag of Deseret was unfurled to the breeze, when the Ogden City Brass and Martial Bands in carriages, each drawn by four horses, accompanied by a corps of life guards, commanded by M. D. Merrick, passed through the principal streets of the city, serenading and firing appropriate salutes.

At 9 o'clock the militia of the district paraded upon the general parade ground, under command of Maj. D. Moore, commanding the district.

At 9 1/2 an escort of cavalry was formed upon the public square, under the direction of C. W. West, Marshal of the day, to escort the Mayor and suit to the parade ground, when a general review took place.

At 11 o'clock a grand procession was formed including the entire forces under the direction of the Marshal of the day, in the following order:

Battalion of Cavalry, commanded by Maj. B. F. Cummings; Mayor and suit; Brass Band; First Battalion of Infantry commanded by Maj. L. Clark; Martial Band; Second Battalion of Infantry, commanded by Maj. I. Allred; Third Battalion of Infantry, commanded by Maj. E. Bingham, Jr.; Fourth Battalion of Infantry commanded by Adj't. D. Gamble; Fifth Battalion of Infantry, commanded by Maj. L. A. Shirliff, and proceeded to the Tabernacle, which had been previously beautifully arranged and decorated with flowers and evergreens, interspersed with banners bearing appropriate mottoes.

The Mayor and suit accompanied by the commissioned officers, took seats upon the stand, and the military were seated by companies. The tabernacle being densely crowded.

Called to order by the Marshal of the day.

Ceremonies opened by E. Bingham, Sen., Chaplain of the day.

Music by the Brass Band.

The Constitution of the United States, read by F. A. Brown, Esq. Music by the Martial Band.

An oration was then delivered by Hon. A. Palmer, orator of the day.

Music by Brass Band.

Speech by the Mayor, upon constitutional rights and true liberty.

Music by the Martial Band.

An original military song by W. Poulter.

The following regular toasts were then read:

The Valleys of Deseret—Cradles of liberty.—C. W. West.

Ogden City—our mountain home.—May its inhabitants never cease their exertions until they have made it what it is destined to be.—F. A. Brown.

The young men of Utah—Born in the midst of mobs, cradled in the wilderness of adversity and educated in the tents of truth, virtue and integrity, they love their rights.—C. W. West.

Uncle Sam—May he remember that all domestic questions must be settled by the people.—C. W. West.

To the Patriotic sons here assembled:—May they live long to defend the banner of liberty, and put to silence their enemies.—J. A. Browning.

Brigham Young—The Lion of the Lord:—May he continue to govern.—C. W. West.

Prest. Buchanan—May the spirit that dictated his inaugural address guide him in his administration.—M. D. Merrick.

An original song, presented and sung by W. Poulter.

VOLUNTEER TOASTS.

Prest. Buchanan—The people's choice:—May he be governed by principle, and not by party cliques.—C. W. West.

The Priesthood of God:—May it never again be taken from the earth.—F. A. Brown.

Democracy—when statesmen work for the people, and not for money.—C. W. West.

Music by the Bands.

Benediction by the chaplain.

Procession formed and escorted the Mayor and suit to his residence; where the Marshal returned his hearty thanks to the officers commanding for their promptitude in assisting him to carry out the orders of the day, and dismissed the escort into the hands of the respective officers.

At 3 o'clock p.m. the militia again paraded under command of J. C. Switzer, acting Adjutant of the day, and performed various manoeuvres and evolutions. The forces being formed into a hollow square, a spirited military address was delivered by Maj. L. Clark, and then they were dismissed into the hands of the several majors.

Firing of guns and lowering of flags at sun-set concluded the proceedings of the day.

An active and energetic spirit pervaded the militia, and both men and officers manifested that the struggles and privations of our sires were not forgotten, and that the spirit of '76 yet burned in the hearts of their sons.

GRANTSVILLE.

At an early hour in the morning the companies were upon the parade ground, under the direction of the following committee of arrangements: Harrison Severe, M. F. Bell, A. W. Sabin, J. W. Cooley, and James McBride; D. M. Burbank, Marshal; John W. Cooley, Chaplain, Aaron Seave, Chairman.

Military drill and evolutions during the forenoon. Addresses, and songs instructed and enlivened the military, citizens and ladies assembled in the Tabernacle during the afternoon. A comical performance in the evening by the young men, interspersed with songs and recitations, closed the exercises of the day.

Peace, union and good order, as always among Saints, characteristically prevailed.

A. C. BROWER, Adj't.

PLEASANT GROVE CITY.

Capt. S. S. White's company of Infantry announced the dawn of day by volleys of musketry, at which time our mammoth National Flag unfurled itself to the southern breeze. The band then serenaded around the city, the Infantry continuing to fire salutes at intervals.

At 8 a.m., the Sunday School under the direction of the superintendent, H. Winters, sen., met at the School-house and formed a procession, being joined by the company of Infantry and band, paraded the principal streets, arriving at the Council House at half past 9, and escorted the Mayor and City Council to the City Hall, arriving at 45 minutes past 9 o'clock.

The citizens having assembled at the Hall, proceedings commenced at 10 o'clock, as follows:

Hymn by the choir. Prayer by Prest. H. Walker. Song by the Choir.

Address in behalf of the Sunday School by Alonzo Winters.

Song by Thort Peck, sung by Wm. M. Frampton.

An oration by Thort Peck.

Music by the band.

Address by J. L. Heywood.

Comic Song by Wm. West.

Benediction by Prest. S. M. Farnsworth.

Chant by the choir.

2 P. M.

Singing by the choir. Prayer by Prest. Duncan McArthur. Music by the band.

Address by Bishop H. Walker.

Music by the band.

Comic song, composed and sung by B. H. Johnson.

Recitations by the teacher and scholars of the Sabbath School. Comic and sentimental songs, toasts and sentiment.

TOASTS.—The Constitution of the United States—May its just and righteous principles continue to spread and be disseminated among mankind until all king-craft, priest-craft and aristocratic institutions and nations are made to submit to its leveling principles of equal rights. E. M.

The President of the United States:—May he be blessed with judgment and wisdom to guide his administration in the channel of the Constitution and laws of the United States. E. M.

The day we celebrate:—May the patriotic zeal which actuated our forefathers in their deliberations 81 years ago, live in the hearts of their sons. G. H. A. H.

Brigham Young—The Lord's anointed:—May he live to see all those that form plans for his destruction wither and come to naught. E. M.

The fourth of July—The birth-day of American Independence:—May it be commemorated throughout all future generations. W. M. F.

A few things to be found in Deseret: A glove for the hand of time, a nest of young eagles, a sprig from the tree of liberty growing from the seed, an antidote for every disease, an appetite for every thing that's good, a regulator of the morbid desire, a detector of bogus coin, a ferry across the river Styx. T. P.

The remaining time, until midnight, except an hour in which to partake of refreshments, was occupied in the dance, interspersed with comic songs, recitations, and so forth.

Peace and plenty characterized the occasion, and all seemed to enjoy themselves, and not the least discord could be seen throughout the day.

No MAELSTROM.—"I have been informed by a European acquaintance that the Maelstrom, that great whirlpool on the coast of Norway, laid down in all geographies, and of which we have heard such wonderful stories, has no existence. He told me that a nautical and scientific commission composed of several gentlemen appointed by the King of Denmark, was sent to approach as near as possible to the edge of the whirlpool, sail around it, measure its circumference, observe its action, and make a report. They went out, and sailed all around and all over where the Maelstrom was said to be, but could not find it; the sea was smooth where the whirlpool ought to be as any part of the German ocean."—[Cor. of Scientific American.

DRIED APPLES IMPROVE OTHER FRUITS.—A skillful cook can mix fruit's so as to improve their natural flavor in a pie, or to save the free use of sugar. Dried apples, shred up fine with a pair of scissors and stewed, may be added to many kinds of fruit pie with decided improvement. They qualify and enrich the taste of currants and gooseberries, which are otherwise too sharp; and they add a pleasant acid to whortleberries and some other kinds that are (when used alone) apt to be too sweetish and insipid.—[Life Illustrated.

NEVER SPEAK CROSS.—The parent can be assured that he never gains anything by a harsh word. What if your boy breaks a pitcher, or glass, do you mend either by applying harsh epithets to him? Does it make him more careful in future? Does he love you better? Hark! he is murmuring. What says the boy? 'I'm glad of it; I don't care how much I break.' He talks thus to be even with his master. It is very wrong in him, we know, but it is human nature, and the example has been set before him by you. Say to the careless boy, 'I am sorry; you must be more careful in future,' and what will be his reply? 'It was an accident, and I will be more careful.' He will never break another pitcher or glass, if he can help it; and he will respect and love you a thousand times more than when you flew into a rage and swore vengeance on his head. Remember this, ye who get angry and rave at a trifle.
