He fought them determinedly without weapons, until he secured a club, when he finally forced them to retreat, after wounding ten or twelve, two of them seriously. The trouble arose from the belief that Ah Poy had not been making a proper disposition of their funds.

R. and on the Republican, of a general raid from Red Cloud's and Spotted Tail's bands of Sioux, and from the Cheyennes, Dakotahs, Arapahoes and others combined, the supply of beef furnished those Indians being nearly or quite exhausted, and, there being no money with which to purchase more, they must deplete the settlements or starve. A large cattle owner and contractor now here corroborates the report of the Indian supplies being nearly exhausted.

As the conductor stepped off to ascertain the cause of the stoppage, he was met by a masked man and a pistol placed to his head, and he was marched off under guard. The engineer, fireman, mail and express messenger, and other train men were then seized by five masked and heavily armed men, and also placed under guard. The robbers then went through the entire train and took from the passengers about two thousand dollars and a large amount of jewelry, and from the Adams Express messenger over a thousand dollars; they also rifled the mail and then left in a southerly direction, and after the release of the train men the train started southwards. The robbers left a note on the train, of which the following is a copy:

"The most daring robbery on record—the south bound train on the Iron Mountain railroad, was stopped here this evening by five heavily armed men, and robbed of ——— dollars. The robbers arrived at the station a few minutes before the arrival of the train, and put the arrest agent under guard; they then threw the train on to the switch. The robbers were all large men, none of them less than 6 feet tall; they were all masked, and started in a southerly direction after they had robbed the train. All were mounted on fine blooded horses. There's a hell of an excitement in this part of the country.

S. Co., the documents referred to being letters and extracts from the company's files and books. Rumor assigns to nearly every prominent man, in and out of Congress, a place in these records, which show them to be guilty of receiving bribes from the company in return for their efforts to secure the subsidy in which that corporation has rejoiced for some years. There has been an unflinching interest displayed all day in all circles here in regard to the matter. The ways and means committee began its investigation, with closed doors, last Congress, but soon gave it up; as far as it was carried, however, it disclosed something very rich. LONDON, 1.—The polls were opened yesterday in Guildford, Chatham, Kidderminster, Maidstone and North Lincolnshire; the Conservatives were victorious except at Barnstable, electing their candidates in eight boroughs represented by liberals in the last Parliament; the Liberals show a gain of only one member, having defeated a Conservative at Barnstable. Rear Admiral George Eliott, Conservative, was elected at Chatham by a majority of 639, although the dockyards and other government establishments there gave the ministry great influence; at the last election he was defeated by a Liberal candidate, Mr. Okisay, then under Secretary for foreign affairs, who had a majority of 184. Onslow, Liberal, was elected at Guildford by 243 majority, against 21, at the last election. Henry James, Attorney General, and A. C. Barclay, the former Liberal members, were both returned from Taunton without opposition. During the week there were forty-eight elections, and the result is twenty Liberals and twenty-eight Conservatives are returned to Parliament.
