Supreme Court Today Sustains the Decision of Judge Hall.

IN FAVOR . OF DEFENDANTS

Complicated Suit to Quiet Title Settled-Property Passed Through A Number of Hands,

The Supreme court today affirmed the decision of Judge Hall in the case of John Jenkins Jr., appellant, vs Mary E. Jenson and Thomas Quayle. The ppinion is written by Chief Justice Miner, and concurred in by his associates, and is very lengthy, occupying twenty-one typewritten pages.

The action was brought by John A. A. J. Davis leaves in the morning for his oil well in the San Rafael. He says the well is down 1,300 feet, and the present indications warrant him in be-lievcing that it will not be necessary to go lower than 1,700 or 1,800 feet in order to secure a good flow of oil. Mr. Davis has the highest hopes for the oil fields in that part of the state.

J. H. Turner returned this morning from a business trip through the Dixle country, and is at the Kenyon. He says that the Silver Reef properties are backing looking unusually fine, and that in Grand Gulch is being found copper assaying 80 per cent pure, and there are lots of the bronze metal in that sec-tion. Mr. Turner reports a better feeling in southern Utah than for a long time past, and everybody is hoping for a railroad.

Le Roi C. Snow Retires, From Position Of Instructor in German at the L. D. S. University.

Ephraim Jensen, the custodian of the Tabernacle, will retire from that position on the first of the year and the office will again be assumed by Charles J. Thomas. The latter held that posltion for over a score of years, and when he retired a little more than a year age it seemed as if a fixture of the historic building had been removed, and there are many who will be pleased to learn that he will return to his post.

The resignation of Mr. Jensen comes as a surprise to his friends. He feels, however, that a more satisfactory field is open to him elsewhere. He re-cently purchased a home in this city and it is quite probable that he will make his permanent residence here. But he has not decided fully whether he wil remain in the city or just what oc-cupation he will pursue. Under his custordianship some changes were effected left in the Tabernacle, the most remarkable of which was the remodeling of the or-gan. Mr. Jensen is a zealous, well in formed man and his many friends wish him abundant success in whatever business he may engage. Atother surprise which his friends were not prepared for is the resignation of LeRoi C. Snow as instructor in the Latter-day Saints' University. It is not stated what led Mr. Snow to take course, but he feels, perhaps, that better opportunities await him in another field. Mr. Snow has been instructor in German and French at the university for the lust two years and a half, and is a very hard and conscientious worker. Just what he has mapped out for himself in the future he has not disclosed to his friends, but it will doubtless he along a literary line, as his pre-dilections lead him in that direction. He has many friends who wish him prosperity and happiness in whatever pro ession or vocation he may choose for himself. His retirement from the university is sincerely regretted by his fellow teachers and the students as well as his many friends throughout the city and state

Clothes

In this store are as carefully selected as the dress clothes. We are exclusive sellers of the Workingmen's Favorite Carhart brand. Overalls, Coats, Caps Shirts, Woolen and Corduroy Pants and Corduroy Suits. This brand is title "The Aristocrat among working clothes," and a more truthful term could not be applied to it.

Anything with the Carhart label on it means that it is the best that skilled union labor produces, and is equal to the price you pay for it.

Ask any Railroad Man about Carbart Gools and SEE if he don't tell you the same.

We've Gloves, Shoes, Rubber Goods, or anything else the workingman wears.

Remember our sale of men's $13.50, $15.00 and $16.50 Suits at $11.25, this week only.
