

Representative Ollie James of Kentucky moved that a committee of three be appointed to wait on the committee to ascertain when it would be ready to report. This motion received a second, and was carried without delay. Chairman Clark named James H. Clayton of Alabama and T. H. Hall of Texas as the committee.

Delegates J. C. Shober of South Carolina created a wild shout by declaring that the convention wanted to hear Bourke Cockran speak.

After quiet had been restored it was stated that Mr. Cockran was not in the hall. A demand for C. A. Towne, "the silver-tongued orator," was made but Mr. Towne declined to respond.

In the anxiety to learn when the committee on resolutions would be ready to report the list of resolutions and the oversight was remedied by a motion, which was carried by a viva voce vote, and the procedure straightened out.

"CALL THE ROLL."
"The clerk will call the roll," said the chairman, "for the list of honorary vice presidents," and the calling of the roll, designed that for the purpose of keeping the convention quiet by giving it something to which it could listen, proceeded with much deliberation.

By 11 o'clock the torrid temperature in the hall had moderated materially, the result being due to a heavy rain-storm that passed over the city. The relief, while not great, was sufficient to aid decidedly in the comfort of the crowd that packed the hall.

When the rollcall was finished, Chairman Clark, who was displaying decided ability in keeping up the interest of the convention during the tedious waiting for word of action from the committee on resolutions, called on the band to play "America." His wishes were carried out, the entire convention rising and singing two stanzas of the song. The motion was sufficient to aid decidedly in the comfort of the crowd that packed the hall.

HOBSON TALKS.
Mr. Hobson accepted the invitation, and made his way from the Alabama delegation to the platform. He was greeted with a round of applause, and the usual cry of "Hobson, Hobson."

He spoke for a few minutes, and revealed the best and strongest voice that has been heard in the convention. "What president has been brave enough to stand up for the labor union of the world?" It was a Democratic president, he said, and applause greeted the assertion.

He passed on to the color question, and declared that when the black or yellow races are in contact with white people, if that race would not commit suicide, it must remain absolutely distinct. A shout from the southern delegations greeted this statement. He declared that Booker T. Washington would soon outlive his usefulness if he did not cease to yield to the teachings and influences of the Republican party and its chiefs.

FOR RACIAL LINES.
He urged the men of the west and north to refrain from expressing the south by advocating anything that tended to obliterate the racial lines. He deprecated the fact that in the Republican convention not one man had risen to speak against the plank in that party's platform which called for the reduction of southern representation in Congress because of alleged disfranchisement of voters in the south.

The speaker worked himself into a high pitch of excitement, and with white face and ringing voice he drew a picture of the situation of the colored people of the south, and concluded with the words, "Let us make the Republicans name the battlefield and let us make them call it 'Waterloo!'"

The speaker finished, and the band following him, closed the play, "The Star Spangled Banner," and then swung into "Dixie," which received more than the usual tribute.

BROKE HIS GAVEL.
In his efforts to secure order Chairman Clark broke his gavel handle short off.

The committee headed by Representative Ollie James, which had been despatched to the rooms of the resolutions committee presented itself and Mr. James was loudly and warmly applauded. His announcement was:

TO REPORT TONIGHT.
"Your committee appointed to wait upon the committee on resolutions report that they have discharged that duty. The committee informs us that they will be unable to report to this convention until 8 o'clock tonight at which time they will bring in an unanimous report signed by every member of the committee."

Great applause and cheers greeted this statement, and as soon as Mr. James could be heard again he continued:

"New York, Nebraska, Virginia and Wisconsin have all joined hands and will bring in a platform that will carry us to a glorious victory in November."

Again the convention voiced its pleasure at the news and a mighty shout went up.

CONVENTION ADJOURNS.
Mr. James followed his last announcement at once with a motion to adjourn until tomorrow night. A second was at once heard and the motion was carried, the session closing at 11:58.

CONVENTION SCENES.
Today's program held out special inducements to the spectators. Oratory and stirring situations were promised in abundance. The report of the committee on resolutions, the discussion incident to the consideration of the platform recommended were awaited with keen interest.

perfection of the permanent organization have intensified interest in the convention and have been sufficient to create a tremendous demand for tickets.

Again the day opened with a hazy sky, the weather gradually warming up.

SLOW IN OPENING.
The convention proper was a trifle slow in opening, and a long-haired individual in one of the galleries felt himself called upon to start things himself. He mounted a chair and addressed all those within hearing of his voice on the virtues of William J. Bryan, and the moral obligation of those who are politically opposed to that gentleman. A crowd gathered quickly about him, and finally, the band was called upon to drown him out.

After struggling against the thumping of the bass drum and two dozen snorting brass horns, the talkative gentleman sat down and kept quiet.

THE MORNING SESSION.
St. Louis, July 8.—The Democratic national convention spent the morning hours today in waiting for the report of the committee on resolutions. A committee was appointed by Chairman Clark to call on the resolutions committee and learn when the platform would be submitted to the convention.

Just before the noon hour the convention resumed, and the resolutions committee was called upon to report. The committee reported that it had been unable to reach a decision on the platform until 8 o'clock tonight to prepare its report, but that the action of the committee would be unanimous and a platform submitted, which he declared would bring the party a "glorious victory."

The convention then took a recess until 8 o'clock. Chairman Clark had the convention in hand from the moment proceedings opened. He announced, through a strong voice, that the first person raising a row would be thrown out by the police.

After the committee had been dispatched to await the pleasure of the resolutions committee, the band gave a concert of patriotic selections. Bourke Cockran was called on to address the convention, but he was not present. Former Senator Charles A. Towne was next invited to take the platform but declined. Capt. Richmond Pearson Hobson was the next choice and he was enthusiastically cheered. He spoke principally in relation to the disfranchisement plank of the Republican platform and made an appeal to the North and the West to support the South in the position the Democratic party of that section has assumed between whites and blacks.

After the decision of the platform committee had been announced, the program for the remainder of the day was decided upon. The convention will assemble at 8 o'clock, the platform will be read, and it is believed, adopted. After debate and then the nomination of a president taken up.

BRYAN SECURES A GREAT TRIUMPH

adopted the plank relating to separate statehood, offered by Delegate W. P. Timmons of Arizona with respect to Arizona and New Mexico, as follows:

STATEHOOD PLANK.
"We favor the immediate admission of the territories of Arizona and New Mexico as separate states."

In dealing with the subject of statehood for Oklahoma and Indian Territory, the committee was less emphatic in its declaration, confining the plank to a general statement of support for these two territories, as follows:

"We favor the admission of the territories of Oklahoma and Indian Territory."

The currency plank offered by Mr. Bryan was referred to a sub-committee consisting of Williams, Bryan and Hill, with authority to draft a financial plank for submission to the full committee. The opinion was expressed that these men might agree upon something, and if they should, it would probably eliminate any fight on the floor of the convention.

One of the western members said that he did not expect Mr. Bryan to make any more of a fight for the currency plank. He said that the many changes he had been able to procure in the platform.

When at 8:30 a. m. the last plank as drafted by the sub-committee had been read, the members of the committee applauded.

TILLMAN SUSPICIOUS.
Mr. Bryan said that if his desired amendment to the trust plank should be adopted he would not press the plank favoring the inclusion of an income tax. Senator Tillman, upon noting a smile upon the faces of both Mr. Bryan and Mr. Hill, remarked to Mr. Bryan that "since you and Mr. Hill seem to have become too chummy, I think we had better look further into the trust plank."

CANNON AGAINST BRYAN.
Discussion of it thereupon was resumed and Frank Cannon, of Utah, took the floor.

He followed Mr. Bryan in 1896 and 1900 and he said that the amount of his support for Bryan was not now as it was then. He said that he had abandoned those issues, I will vote against this proposition, he seems to want most."

Mr. Cannon, in conclusion, contended that the present issue in this campaign was "Victory" and that the issue should be "Rooseveltism." Mr. Bryan defended his position on the trust question saying that "victory" alone should not essentially be the paramount issue and that unless a question was settled right it was never settled at all. Senator Daniel called Mr. Shively to the chair and made a speech supporting the principle of anti-trust legislation. He took the position, however, that if enforced the existing inter-state commerce law and anti-trust statutes are sufficient and he believed a Democratic administration could be depended on to enforce them. Hence he considered it safe to omit the proposed plank.

The Carmack suggestion for a financial plank was adopted without a financial plank. The report, it is said, will be unanimous and there will be no minority report.

The committee resumed consideration of the financial question on the basis of tariff plank introduced by Mr. Carmack.

"The secretary of the treasury shall not melt the silver dollars that are now legal tender and convert them into subsidiary coin, thus reducing the volume of currency so fortunately increased by the recent remarkable increase of the gold production."

The Carmack suggestion for a financial plank was voted down and the platform was adopted without a financial plank. That plank, however, was not adopted, and there will be no minority report.

CARMACK'S PROPOSITION.
The Carmack proposition was voted down without division and Mr. Carmack then offered the following, which the committee has not yet acted upon:

"We recognize that the great and unlooked for increase in the production of gold, amounting in the last few years to four thousand million dollars, has relieved the silver market of the scarcity of metallic money, and that because of that fact the money question as it was presented in the last two presidential campaigns is not now acute or pressing for legislative relief, but it is not the less the indicated demands of the Democratic party in the past for an increased volume of metallic money, that demand not being for silver or gold, but for gold as gold, but for a sufficient quantity of standard money to maintain the level of prices and transact the business of the country."

PLATFORM ADOPTED.
Mr. Bryan presented a suggestion declaring it to be the sense of the Democratic party that the volume of currency should be increased. Mr. Hill complained that in view of the action of the committee last night in voting down the gold plank, the insertion of the proposed resolution would be a species of bad faith. The committee accepted this view and voted down the resolution. No further financial planks were suggested and the platform being considered complete, was then adopted by a rising vote and in the midst of general applause.

feely satisfactory. You know you can't get everything you want." Senator Hill said: "I am perfectly satisfied. Of course, there are things that I wanted in and thought should go in, but in politics it is give and take, and I am taking. I should have liked to have seen an expression on finances in the platform, but the majority thought otherwise, and neither Mr. Bryan's plank nor mine was adopted. You will remember that the New York state convention made no mention on the financial question, and so this platform is similar. We did not put in an income tax plank and we changed only slightly the tariff plank."

"Will Judge Parker stand on the platform?" do not see why not. I am said to be one of his friends. He answered, smiling, "and I am satisfied."

BELMONT SATISFIED.
August Belmont said he was satisfied that the platform was one on which Judge Parker could stand. He said: "I have always been quite willing to have a platform without any financial plank in it. I believe the people have finally settled the matter and it is superfluous for any party to merely reiterate."

Gov. Thomas of Colorado said: "I succeeded in securing the incorporation of the greater part of my labor declaration, and on the whole I am satisfied with the platform."

John Sharp Williams, who made the original draft of the platform, said: "I am delighted with it."

ANTI-PARKERITES JUBILANT.
Despite Senator Hill's optimistic views of the situation, there were many expressions of strong disapproval in the Parker headquarters by delegates. One said:

"Parker cannot stand for such a platform and if he is named he will be compelled to deal with the financial question in his letter of acceptance."

To this statement Cord Meyer, chairman of the New York Democratic state committee, said:

"Something like that will have to be done or we will not be able to carry New York."

The anti-Parker people were jubilant over the matter when they heard of the disposition of the financial plank.

Charles F. Murphy said: "I don't think the decision of the committee has improved Parker's chances, but of course, nobody knows Judge Parker's views."

It was said at Tammany headquarters today that at a meeting of the anti-Parker forces last night Mr. Bryan took the floor and he would willingly accept either Mr. Massachusetts, or Gray of Delaware as a compromise candidate and that George Fred Williams had declared that he would accept Olney.

The Parker people are confident that they will nominate on the second ballot if not on the first. But to this the anti-Parker people take exception.

Charles A. Towne said today: "We will control more than a third of the delegates and if they stick to the third or fourth ballot you will see a jump to some candidate other than Parker."

"Will it be McCall?" "Well, if it is, some other state must start it. We cannot as we are instructed for Parker."

RUSSIAN BALTIC FLEET WILL SAIL.

It Will Leave Cronstadt on July 28 Under Sealed Orders

I'S DESTINATION A MYSTERY.
Whether it Goes to the Far East May Depend on Naval Developments.

St. Petersburg, July 8, 1:20 p. m.—The Russian Baltic fleet will sail from Cronstadt July 28, under sealed orders. Complete mystery enshrouds its destination. It is said, although nothing is certain on this point, that the orders for the division will be opened at five day intervals. Whether the warships are bound at once to the far east in advance of the other ships may depend on naval developments at the seat of war, but there are attending circumstances which make it seem unlikely that the division will start on its long journey until the other ships are ready. It is understood that the division will include the armored cruiser Aurora and the battleship Alexander III, and possibly the battleship Navarin, and the transport Kamchatka. Great stacks of charts were put on board the Admiral Nakhimoff, the Oslia and the Aurora yesterday.

The general naval situation, with the Port Arthur squadron ready for action at will, and the Vladivostok squadron embracing the Japanese transport plans, compelling the constant presence of Vice Admiral Kamimura in the sea of Japan, is considered to have improved. The Japanese fleet is stationed everywhere over the latest successful cruises of the latter. The admiralty expresses astonishment at the failure of the Japanese torpedo flotilla to drive home its attack on the Vladivostok squadron under the favorable circumstances related in the dispatches received from Vladivostok yesterday. The admiralty thinks the Japanese missed a fine opportunity through flinching at the last moment. It is a matter of general comment at the admiralty that notwithstanding the energy and activity displayed by the Japanese torpedo craft since the attack at the opening of the war, when the Russians claim they were taken off their guard, have the Japanese torpedo attacks sunk a Russian warship.

With 30 Japanese ships engaged in recent attacks, without counting that of June 23, no Russian ship has been destroyed, indicating how difficult it is for torpedoes to cope with battle-ships or cruisers when the latter are prepared. This is considered to be a lesson of the war and vindicating Russia's decision to continue her naval program for the construction of heavy ships.

Viceroy Alexieff has conferred a long list of decorations on the subordinate officers of the Vladivostok squadron, the captains having already been decorated by the emperor.

Although no official announcement to the effect has been made, it is believed that the Vladivostok squadron returned to port several days ago.
