Equal Rights to All.—While this is the spirit of the constitution, the teachings of many religions oppose it. For example, the man who largely advises the people to be obedient to the Government, is regarded by all as a benefactor; while he who advises the people to be obedient to the law, is regarded by all as a traitor.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

NOTICE.

There will be a priesthood meeting of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion in the Fourteenth Ward Hall in this city, on Saturday night, August 11th, at 11 o'clock a.m. A punctual attendance is required of all the Bishops and their counselors, and of the Presidents of the various Quorums, (High Council, High Priests, Elders, Priests, Teachers and Deacons,) that are organized in this Stake of Zion. We invite the Presidents of Seventies of the various quorums residing in the Stake. Members of the various quorums of the priesthood residing in the Stake who desire to attend are at liberty to do so.

The Bishops will be required to give a report of their several Wards. This report will state the number of members of the Church in the Ward, the general condition of feeling and fellowship of the members, whether the teachers perform their duty in visiting the Saints, whether the heads of families attend to prayers in their families, how many pay tithing and temple donations, also the number of births and deaths for the three months ending July 31st, 1877, with the baptisms, re-baptisms, and blessings of children in the Ward during the same period.

To facilitate the business of the meeting, it is requested that the Bishops make this report in writing rather than orally.

By the request of the First Presidency of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

A. M. CANNON,
D. O. CALDER,
JOS. E. TAYLOR,
Presidency of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion.

Thermometer 91 degrees F. in the shade at 1 p. m. to-day. Clear.

Back Again.—The companies of troops which left Camp Douglas a short time since for the east, for the purpose of assisting to quell the railroad strike "uprisings," returned last night to their old quarters, the riotous disturbances having subsided.

Fine Number.—Roussell's Printer's Cabinet for July is, as usual, a splendid specimen of the typographical art. Its whole make up is first class, and is an indication of the kind of office from which it emanates. S. P. Rounds' establishment is an institution of which Chicago may be proud, and the Cabinet is a welcome sight to printers everywhere.

Home.—Elder Wm. C. Staines, Church Emigration Agent, arrived in this city last evening, from New York.

After the above was in type, we were pleased to receive a visit from Brother Staines, who is in excellent health and spirits. He expects to return to New York in the beginning of September, in time to receive the next company from England.

Improving.—Although still suffering considerably from a severe and complicated attack of illness, the condition of Dr. Clinton gradually improves, and, with proper care and treatment he will doubtless soon be convalescent.

There are some things connected with his incarceration at the penitentiary which will do to keep. If the particular time has not arrived to bring them forth, the occasion will be almost sure to arrive. They are on hand when wanted. The matters referred to can be made interesting to the general public and particularly so to the parties immediately concerned.

Martial Bands.—At the monthly meeting of the superintendents and teachers of the Sunday schools, last evening, the question of the advisability of organizing a martial band among the youth of each Bishop's Ward was considered. At the next regular meeting it is expected that reports will be received from the wards as to the practicability of carrying out this project. Should it be concluded that a band for each ward would be a little too heavy to start with, it is not improbable that at least steps will be taken to organize several in the city.

Animated Scene.—An animated scene occurred near the post office last evening. District Attorney Howard and Attorney R. N. Baskin had an "uprising" at the time. These two gentlemen being unable to "see eye to eye," and falling to convince each other by the peaceful means of logical reasoning, resorted to the knock down style of argument, fists and canes being the implements of war brought into requisition. Both came out of the fray without serious damage. The District Attorney's cane was broken by the sudden and forcible contact with such an exceedingly hard substance as the corpus of his antagonist.

Summer Complaint.—The present month is generally the most severe season of the year on young children, being the time when "summer complaint" is usually most prevalent among them. Mothers and guardians of little ones should be careful not to expose their precious charges to the fierce rays of the sun. All food which is not easy of digestion should be kept from them; their bodies should be kept clean; frequent warm baths, and an airing in the early morning, before the atmosphere becomes heated, is generally beneficial. Special care should be exercised to not allow the little ones to eat unripe fruit. The exercise of bathing and good judgment is calculated to save much sickness, and perhaps painful death.

His Majesty.—In view of the growing interest in this industry in Utah, the following sensible article from the August number of the American Agriculturist, may prove profitable to some of our readers.

In 1890 the production of silk in America was valued at $1,000,000. In 1876 the value of the silk made in this country was not less than twenty-five million dollars. No branch of manufacturing industry has advanced more rapidly than this, and none promises to grow more steadily in the future. But it is worthy of note that the raw material for this manufacture is wholly imported, and the exception is so trifling that it need not be taken into account. At the same time no country in the world possesses a finer climate and soil for the raising of the silk worm, and the cultivation of the trees upon the leaves of which it feeds.

Unfortunately, the light, easy, agreeable industry of breeding and rearing the silkworm, and the fine fibre from the cocoons, is not considered as being worthy the notice of farmers, or farmers' families. Yet the day of small things has not wholly passed away, and indeed it seems to point to a necessary return to the smaller industries of the family, which have been abandoned or neglected during the flourishing times of the past few years. Everything is tending towards the exercise of economy in small as well as great things, and an industry which may profitably employ the children of the farm, is not to be overlooked or despised. The exhibition of silkworms and their cocoons at the Centennial, did much to inform the public as to the character of this employment. The exhibit of Mr. Crozier, of Stillville, Kansas, was very interesting in this way, and it is to be hoped may be effective in turning the attention of farmers' wives who have more than usual leisure, to the advantage of learning the methods of managing the worms and of teaching their daughters. The reeling of the silk is somewhat difficult, and the machine needed for it is very simple, and can be worked by a little girl.

Several million dollars a year might be distributed among farmers' families, that are now sent abroad for the purchase of raw silk, if only the attention of those who are able to do this easy work were effectively turned to it. In California, the raising of silkworms' eggs is an important industry, but in this the silk is sacrificed, or at most, the cocoons from which the worm is reared, are used for a very low value for carding purposes.

Sinister Motives.—It has been hinted strongly that the game of base ball, this afternoon, between the fat and lean nines, has been got up for other purposes than those of amusement. Most of those participating are said to have an eye to business. These suspicions indicate the small amount of faith people generally have in their fellow-men.

It is said that Mr. Lannan, being a butcher, expects to get the contract to supply the beef steaks for the numerous black eyes. Some imagine that Dr. Benedict meant business when he shouldered that case of instruments and splints. It is not improbable that Mr. Wagner will brew some mischief out of a disputed point, when the lawyers on both sides anticipate a case. It is probable the game will be so close as to make it difficult for the umpire to draw the line. We advise that neither side indulge in crowing till it gets out the Woods. It will be a golden opportunity to gain a reputation for scientific playing. The leans are likely to be greatly harassed from the centre field. We suggest to the thins that the easiest plan to vanquish the fats will be to give each of the latter a chance for a run. Notwithstanding the confidence shown by the fats, we lean strongly the other weigh. Our reason is that though nominally there are but nine on a side, the leans have one Moore. The centre field of the leans is expected to throw a Hoyer ball than any other man on the ground.

The game is likely to be greatly delayed, as there will be a long Parley every time there is a point in dispute.

The fats have an ample field for display.—Butterfield.

None of the fats are expected to be "caught out on a fly." The fly couldn't be found that could stand it. Should any of the fats be struck on the back of the head by a ball, it is hoped the bawl won't come out of his mouth.

The Election.—The election in the City yesterday was very quiet. It will be observed by the following figures that there was a very light vote, especially on the side of the opposition.
