People Assemble on Occasion of 106th Anniversary of Birth of Brigham Young.

Wandamere resort presented a scene of galety and animation all day Saturday, the occasion being the celebration of the one hundred and sixth anniversary of the birth of Brigham Young. The affair was gotten up under the direction of Col. Willard Young and B. Morris Young, two of the sons of the departed leader, and was a complete success from beginning to end. Besides the regular commemoration exercises, which occurred in the large from her home in Erda, Tooele county, new pavilion, there were games and various kinds of sports for the children, at which prizes were given away; there was boating on "Wandamere." riding on the miniature railway, coasting down the chutes, and diversions of many kinds consuming the entire day. The attendance was large, and was increased materially during the evening, when a dance closed the exercises. At the hour appointed for the com-mencement of commemoration exer-cises, hundreds of people had found sents in the pavilion. The hall was decorated with flags of various nations hung in different places, with a large portrait of Brigham Young draped about with American flags in front of the speakers' stand and surmounted by the motto, "Absent, but Not Forgot-ten." Music was furnished by the Fort Dauglas band. when a dance closed the exercises.

the motto, "Absent, but Not Forgot-ten." Music was furnished by the Fort Dauglas band. There were present on the stand, of the family of the deceased, Col. Wil-lard Young and B. Morris Young, Pres-idents Joseph F. Smith, John R. Win-der and Anthon H. Lund, President F. M. Lyman, Elder Orson F. Whitney, Gov. John C. Cutler, and Master of Ceremonies Frank Y. Taylor. The opening number was a quartet, "The Flag Without a Stain," by Messrs, Pyper, Whitney, Ensign and Spencer. Prayer was offered by President A. H. Lund. The quartet sang "Ben Bolt." Frank Y. Taylor, who acted as mas-ter of ceremonies, then introduced El-der Orson F. Whitney, who delivered a powerful address on the life of Brig-ham Young, the full text of which ap-peared in Saturday's "News." The Fort Douglas brass band ren-dered a selection. The muster of ceremonies then intro-fuced President Joseph F. Smith, who spoke in part as follows: PRESIDENT JOSEPH F. SMITH.

PRESIDENT JOSEPH F. SMITH.

PRESIDENT JOSEPH F. SMITH. President Smith referred to the ple-ture of President Young, which hung in front of the speaker's stand, draped among flags and surmounted by the motto, "Absent, but not Forgotten." The speaker said President Young was ab-sent only in body—his spirit, his genius, his works are present, and never can be forgotten. President Smith referred to the time of his first accuaintance with Brigham Young, when as a child he remembered the great leader at the beginning of his career at Nauvoo in 1843 and 1844, in the trying scenes of the assassination of Joseph and Hyrum. "When the people under pressure of mobocratic violence were compelled to take their way westward in search of a new home in February, 1845. I saw Brigham Young and his associates with wagons and trains crossing the Missis-sippi river on the ice, and my child's mind wondered if I would ever see them again. What particularly impressed the circumstance on my mind was the fact that in the train was my only sur-viving brother, and knowing somewhat of the dangers which the emistration.

It Took Thomas Quinn Just Three Hours to Get Back Into Jail. Hours to Get Back Into Jall. After spending about a year in the state prison, and after promising War-den Pratt that he would refrain from den Pratt that he would refrain from whisky and other intoxicating liquor, Thomas Quinn, released from prison yesterday, is now in the city jail with he charge of drunkenness hunging over . Quinn had hardly reached the city before he began to load up and when Officer Evans saw him, Quinn was in a state bordering on helplessness. With-in three hours after his release he was in jall again.

PILLS WERE FATAL.

Death of Little Mary Cochran Follows After Eating Medicine.

As a result of swallowing a number of laxative pellets, little Mary Cochran died in convulsions Saturday evening. The mother of the child is staying at the Taylor rooming house, on cast Second South street, and came to Salt Lake for medical treatment. The pills, composed of belladonna, aloes and strych-nine, were in a cupboard and were se-cured by the little girl. It is not known how many of them she ate, but the dose was sufficient to prove fatal in a very short time. ort time.

short time. Dr. Samuel Paul was called as soon as it was discovered that the child was ill, but he arrived too late to save her life. The mother, whose health was al-ready in a precarious condition, was prostrated with grief. The little girl was tree years of age. The body will be taken to Erda for burial.

REFUSED TO ACCEPT.

Grand Army Veterans Return $50 to County Commissioners.

Evidently the G. A. R. was not in need of money to defray the expenses of Memorial day exercises, as the committee from that organization refused to accept the $50 donated by the county accept the $50 donated by the county commissioners for that purpose. The warrant for the money was issued sev-eral weeks ago, but was not called for, so Col. George B. Squires, who is a G. A. R. veteran, took the warrant for the purpose of delivering it to the commit-tee. The committee refused to accept it, and hence it was returned to the county auditor's office. The refusal grows out of a belief on the part of the G. A. R. committee that their first request for funds was not cordially received.

THE EXODUS.

"I wondered with yearning heart, if I should ever see my brother again. At the muzzle of cannon and muskets a few remained in Nauvoo, to gather tew remained in Nativoo, to gather what possessions we might, and placing these into boats we rowed across the river into lowa, and from the other side, where we had no friends and no shelter, we were compelled to gaze across the stream and watch the mub-tike possession of and sack Nauvoo.

BRIGHAM'S LEADERSHIP.

'In the spring of 1847, I distinctly re-In the spring of 1841, I distinctly re-call, the ploneers led by President Young and other, started on their journey westward, A portion of my mother's family accompanied the plo-neers. Brigham displayed then the qualities that made men love him. As a boy I looked upon him as a father, and a protector of widows and orphans, and a protector of widows and orphans. and a protector of widows and orphans, and many others looked upon him not only as a president and leader, but as a personal friend, and a counselor. No man, woman or child ever placed con-fidence or trust in Brigham Young that was ever disappointed, for he was loyal and true to his word, inspired and gifted man that he was. In every position with all people, he was true and honorable, in all his dealings with men.

"I honored Brigham Young while he lived, and sustained him by faith and by works. I had faith in him and in his mission, and that faith has grown stronger with the lapse of time, for I have become more capable of appre-ciating the nature of the grand work which Brigham Young set out to ac-

AN INTIMATE FRIEND.

AN INTIMATE FRIEND. "I wish to say to friends and to the stratagers within our gates that I knew Brigham Young perhaps as infinately as almost any other living man, and I know that he was God's servant, and that it was through the power and in-spiration of God that he accomplished his mission. I would like to make this decleration and assertion as my firm bellef and faith that it was God Al-mighty that made Brigham Young great. It was the work of the Lord in which be was engaged, and that the Almighty called him and gave him the power to lay the foundation of the great commonwealth, is true beyond doubt. It was through God's provi-dence that he did it. It is impossible to separate the work of Brigham Young from his ministry. The Lord made him great, Brigham Young of binself, as a man, could not have se-complished the work; no. 500 Brigham Young's could not have accomplished the work, had not the Lord been with the work, had not the Lord been with hlm.

AN HONORED NAME.

AN HONORED NAME. "I was proud of my association with Brigham Young: I bonored him in life. I honor him still, and Y expect to honor and uphoid him as the man who estab-lished the gospei and built up a great commonwealth in these mountains. May the people ever hold him in honor and reverence-may they love and honor Joseph Smith's name as prophet and founder of the Church, and love and honor the memory of Brigham Young as his lawful successor." Lizzle Thomas Edward sang a so-prano solo, after which the Nineteenth ward ladies' quartet sang "An Ode to Brigham Young." and henediction was pronounced by President Join R. Win-state a license of $500 for that privilege. Such is the opinion of Atty. Gen. Bree-den, which was handed to Secy. of State Tingey on Saturday afternoon. This vital question has puzzled the sec-retary of state for some time because a certain salesman who has been selling can-openers at wholesale in this state wanted to know if he had to pay that license. Consequently the attorney general was asked for an opinion on the matter and has decided the question as far as the legal phase of it is concerned.
