Trinidad, Colo., Nov. 13 .- For the first time since the strike of the coal min-Monday, J. T. Kebler, general manager of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company, is said to have made advances to effect a settlement. Today it is authoritatively stated that he requested the striking miners to appoint a committee of five men to confer with him in his office in Trinidad. This proposition was rejected by the men, who say the United Mine Workers of America must be recognized before any settlement can be made. The proposition is said to have been made in both Starkville and Engleville, two C. F. & I. camps, which have been closed down since the strike was declared,

A number of miners were taken to Primero this morning in a caboose of the Colorado & Wyoming railroad, Several armed guards went with the min-ers and they were taken to the mine under guard. Whether they were strikunder guard. Whether they were strik-ers who returned to work or men sent here from other points is impossible to determine. The company dficials claim they were returned strikers, while the union officials state that they were shipped in from other points. Many rumors were afloat today, and one to the effect that the operators had acceded to all the demands of the met with the exception of a recognition of the union gained considerable credence and caused a sensation on the streets this evening. THE STRENUOUS LIFE.

A Great Strain,

No one disputes the fact that we are living in a "rapid" age; it is rush, rush rush, from morning until night, and competition is so fierce that the strug gle does not cease until the machine is worn out.

Women, too, even when surrounded Women, too, even when surrounded by every comfort, become infected by the common spirit, and what with their clubs and many social duties, have no time to give thought to their physical well-being until they are sud-denly brought to a sharp realization of the fact that nothing in their lives is so important as attention to correct or important as attention to correct of

Referring further along to the terri-tory bisected by the canal, the president wrote

"On the one hand the United States desires to safeguard with scrupulous care the interest and the honor of such country or countries. On the other hand, in my judgment, it is time to declare that the beginning of the canal cannot be much longer delayed. This nation does not desire to be unreasonable or impatient. but it cannot and will not permit any body of men permanently to obstruct one of the great world highways of traffic, and refusal to permit the building of the canal unts to such obstruction. Of course amounts to such obstruction. BRITAIN'S ATTITUDE.

President's Reception of Panaman Minister Will Not Affect it.

London. Nov. 13.—From inquiries made by a representative of the Asso-ciated Press, it is believed that Presi-dent Roosevelt's reception of Bunau-Varilla, as minister of the republic of Panama will not affect the attitude of Great Britain toward Panama. While the Delich government is quite willing the British government is quite willing to leave the arrangement of affairs at the isthmus to the United States, it does not desire to commit itself to recdoes not desire to commit itself to rec-ognize Panama's independence until as-sured that it has been established.
