Royal Roysterers.

DUBLIN, Oct. 21.—At a meeting of the Church of Ireland Temperance Society, Canon Welleon, who recently received an appointment in England, made an address, in which he said he hoped the Queen would find a more suitable way to honor her husband's memory than by sending her sons and son-in-law to the top of a highland mountain to drink raw whisky. He was present, he said, at this year's festival in honor of the presence of the Queen, and he never saw a more disgusting and revolting scene of drunkenness. It surpassed the traditions of Donnybrook Fair.

The Universalists.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The National Convention of Universalists at their closing session to-day adopted temperance resolutions which, summarized, are as follows: The committee deplore the organized assaults of the liquor interest against the Sabbath and expect all good citizens at the polls and elsewhere to oppose the movement.

A committee was appointed to establish missions of the church in Japan and to raise a fund for that purpose.

The Water Convention.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 21.—In the waterways convention to-day resolutions were adopted calling on Congress to regard the interests of the people of the great Mississippi Valley and the northwest and demanding an appropriation sufficient to prosecute intelligently and successfully the work of river improvement in the interest of commerce.

The "Times'" Libel Suit.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—Wm. Graham, a barrister, has been instructed to draw papers for the Times' defense in the action brought against the paper by Frank Hugh O'Donnell for £50,000 damages for libel in publishing the remarks about him in the articles on "Parnellism and Crime." Sir Henry James and Mr. Lumly Smith will defend the Times.

Recovering Reason.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Bartley Campbell's friends in this city have received word that the dramatist is rapidly recovering his reason and that he will be able to eat his Christmas dinner outside of an asylum.

Attaching Mines.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 21.—The Evening Wisconsin says: A special from Bessemer, Michigan, says: The Iron Chief, Sunday, Lake Phœnix, Geyrge Washington, West Presque Isle and Florence mining properties will be attached by the miners on account of wages. The claims against the two first companies are said to amount to $10,000. There is considerable suffering amongst the miners, as it is several months since they received any money and the merchants refuse to give them credit without security. The officers of Moore, Benjamin & Co., in Milwaukee, say the miners on their properties took acceptances to mature November 4th, and that they have no basis for an attachment.

Not Properly Packed.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The board of trade has concluded its inquiry into the loss of the Inman Line Steamer City of Montreal, burned at sea, August 16th, while on a voyage from New York for Liverpool. The board decides that neither the owner nor the officers of the ship are blameable for the disaster and that the cotton in the steamer's cargo in which the fire was first discovered was not properly packed.

The Detroits Win.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 21.—The St. Louis Browns were to-day compelled to relinquish their proud claim to the championship of the world, as they were defeated by the Detroits for the eighth time in eleven games played. The Browns played like amateurs, while the League champions took advantage of every point, batted hard and ran bases to perfection. The weather was clear but quite cold, and only about 2,000 people were in attendance. Score: St. Louis 3, Detroit 13.

Girard Heir.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 21.—A Newcastle, Pa., special says: Mrs. Jules Arnoux, of this city, is a daughter of Jean Girard, youngest brother of Stephen Girard. She has, she says, credentials to prove her relationship. She claims $750,000, as due her and five other heirs from Girard College in Philadelphia, and is now making arrangements to bring an action to recover.

Ayoub Khan.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—In accordance with advices received from Merv, Ayoub Khan has assumed directions of the insurgents in Afghanistan. It is also reported that Fvioz Kohis, the noted chieftain, has joined the insurgents. Deserters from Pendjeh report that Ayoub Khan is preparing the revolt in Herat and Afghan Turkestan.

DESPERATE AFFAIR.

A Bloody Fight in Indian Territory.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 21.—A special to the Gazette from Wawoka, Indian Territory, via Muskogee this evening, says: On Thursday a took place on the north fork of the Arkansas River, between Bud Trainer's gang of outlaws and the vigilante committee under the leadership of Robert Henderson, a Scotch halfbreed, which followed them from Duckworth's store in the Creek Nation on the occasion of the raid there on Wednesday. It appears the outlaws, finding out the size of the force which was following them, decided to risk an encounter and made haste to reach the river banks where they could find shelter behind trees and in the ravines which line the banks on either side. In this they succeeded so that when the vigilantes came up they were entirely for a time at the mercy of two score of men who knew not what mercy was. Henderson then took his men a short distance up the river where a fording place could be found, then crossed and took up a position on the other side of the stream from and where his men were all well protected as those of Trainer's men. The river at this point is only about 100 yards wide and across this distance from Thursday morning until Thursday night the bullets were singing on their mission of death. When the vigilantes had succeeded in obtaining this position they found they had lost three men, and two more were seriously wounded. As Trainer found the enemy in the rear on the opposite side of the river, he sent half of his men down the stream to cross and come up on the other side, fighting under cover of the trees. In this coup d' etat they were surprised by the avengers, who met them half way and opened fire upon them, checking their course and driving them panic-stricken and precipitately back. In endeavoring to rally his men Bill Chuet was killed, and before the river could be re-forded John Leeco, of the robber gang, was shot off his horse, but not killed.

DESPERATE FIGHT

THE FIGHT

from this on was continued across the stream, the banks of which were lined at a distance of about five yards apart, with sharpshooters. No sooner was a head, an arm, or any part of a body visible, on either side, than bullets were seeking to find lodgment therein. As Thursday night was coming on, Hendersonjcalled his men in for consultation, when it was found that out of his force eight were killed outright and eight others had received serious though not fatal wounds. The force was in this way reduced one-half, and it was thought best to remove the wounded here and go back home for reinforcements. The dead were then buried, and the wounded, it was found after dressing their wounds, were able to return home with the rest of the party. It is thought as many of the outlaws were killed as of the pursuing party, though this will NEVER BE KNOWN.

Henderson says he will collect men and follow the robbers to hades, if necessary, but what he will wipe them out.

Henry Aires, a well-to-do stockman from the Cherokee Nation, who was one of the party with Henderson, says: Bud Trainer was killed during the fight. He is of the opinion that not less than fifteen were killed outright upon both sides, and thinks one half the outlaws who were not killed were wounded. It is by no means certain that another party will be organized to hunt down the outlaws, as it is thought the severe lesson they have been taught will tend to drive them from the territory or at least to put a quietus on their lawlessness.

American Shipping.

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—The convention of the American Shipping and Industrial League met here to day. Ten states were represented by thirty-two organizations and 150 delegates.

Hon. W. R. Spofford, of Massachusetts, was chosen president and made an address in which he discussed the decline of American shipping and the various measures proposed for its resuscitation.

Senator Frye, of Maine, followed. He said he had been doing all he could to lift up from death the American but the shipowners were lying on their oars and doing nothing. Organized work was a power in this country, and there was really nothing to which Congress was more sensitive than the voice of the voting population. It was time congress awoke up to the fact that if a market was not soon found for American manufactures outside the country there would be an over production. If we had all the ships we needed we could not sail them cheaply enough to compete with England. The way to compete successfully was to have Congress put its hand into that big surplus and pay for sailing merchant ships under the American flag. It was a great task to get such a measure adopted, but an organized effort would accomplish it.

MERCHANT MARINE,

A committee on resolutions was appointed.

Hon. Nelson Dingley of Maine believed such meetings as these were moulding to the pitch of compelling Congress to act rightly in the matter. It was not the shipping industry alone that was at stake, it was our naval importance in the event of danger from outside, as we are next to powerless. The division of sentiment as to the remedies, grows out of a lack of knowledge as to the exigency of the case. Our coastwise and interior marine had prospered; it was the tonnage in foreign trade that had been wiped out. They stood on the same basis except in one particular. The coastwise trade was amply protected, while the foreign trade was open to all.

PUBLIC SENTIMENT

After remarks by Hon. O. B. Potter, of New York, and others in the same general strain, the meeting adjourned till to-morrow.

Churchill's Speech.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—Lord Randolph Churchill made an address at Seaham to-day in which he said that a comparison of the administrations in Ireland of Lord Londonderry and his predecessor, the Earl of Aberdeen, would show that Lord Londonderry's administration was marked with gravity, propriety and decency which would be difficult to discern in that of the Earl of Aberdeen's. That of Lord Londonderry was free from the melancholy and unfortunate eccentricities of behavior which astonished the public during the Earl of Aberdeen's government. Churchill also said he believed that Mr. Gladstone and his supporters, judging from their language, supposed that Ireland was governed by Turkish pashas or a system similar to that of the

SPANISH INQUISITION,

but the government was composed of men as respectable and honorable as Gladstone. The law of Ireland is the same as that of England and the government was unable to fix the terms of special criminal laws, because they had no knowledge that would enable them to say what time these laws would cease to be necessary. At a time when the air was so thick with the darts of the enemy, it was the duty of the conservative association to spread correct information. If the people were correctly informed, they would favor a continuance of the union.
