

THE COMPLAINT OF VENEZUELA

Violation of Her Territory Came as a Great Surprise.

COLOMBIA'S GRAVE OFFENSE

Exposition of the Causes That Gave Rise to Perpetuate Present Troubles.

New York, Sept. 2.—A special to the Herald from Washington says:

Venezuela's official memorandum giving an explanation of her present troubles with Colombia, which is addressed to all friendly nations, has reached this country by the Red Star steamer Philadelphia, from La Guayra, the seaport of Venezuela.

The memorandum is signed by Eduardo Biazio, the minister of foreign affairs, and is dated August 16. It has just been published in the official gazette in Caracas, and is in part as follows:

"The government of the republic considers it indispensable to lay before friendly nations an exposition of the international situation created by the violation of the territory of Venezuela, which has occurred in one of the states of Venezuela which adjoins Colombia, and as an enlightened power, to explain to them the unforeseen circumstances which have, against their will, made it necessary to partly suspend the rights guaranteed by the constitution and to still maintain a warlike attitude, which is the natural consequence of the maintenance of public order for the upholding of the national honor.

"It is well known that when in adjoining regions, such as those of the Venezuelan state of Tachira, and the Colombian department of Santander, the same political nuclei which respectively strive to attain direct effective or ascendancy supremacy within their proper local spheres, the natural tradition of the struggle give rise to circumstances which may unexpectedly extend beyond the limits intended and produce unforeseen results.

"The violation of the territory by Colombian troops, with a Venezuelan revolutionist at their head, came as a surprise to the government, because, apart from there being no material indication whatsoever which could have caused it to be expected, in the very circumstances in which the republic found itself and the favorable state of relations with the neighboring country rendered it impossible to foresee any such extraordinary movement emanating from exiled Venezuelans.

"On July 27 the executive addressed a note to the Colombian legation in which they called the attention of the minister to the serious fact that the troops which had crossed the frontier were organized military troops, and that this constituted a breach of the most elementary principles of international law and at the same time rendered the complicity in this act which could be attributed to the state of that army who were subject, as was natural to believe, to the government of the neighboring republic.

"The minister of Colombia, in reply to the protest by the government, manifested surprise at the news of the invasion, and pretended that the fact could not have been accomplished without the definite orders given to all civil and military employees on the Colombian frontier.

"This manner of treatment forced the chief executive to see the necessity of showing an attitude without conceding of the means of future intercourse should the superior powers of the neighboring republic prove not to have participated in the aggression, and, nevertheless, he in conformity with the requirements and exigencies of the national honor and integrity.

"With this intent the legation was told on July 23 that as its answer, far from being even in part satisfactory, the very grave points raised in the note of the Venezuelan minister for foreign affairs, was restricted to considerations of a general nature and to a promise to transmit the protest to the government of Colombia by the first opportunity, the executive power was of opinion that until the answer should arrive and be communicated by his excellency for the purpose of explaining the situation of things, they felt it advisable during such time of waiting to suspend relations with the Colombian legation, this course being indicated by the considerations of its own honor and that of the country.

"Such was the stage at which relations with the representative of Colombia had to remain at that date and such was their position until the ninth inst., when he had not transmitted any explanation of the facts, even after the details of the invasion had become known.

"This demonstrated not only to the government, but to the public, that an evident violation of Venezuelan territory by battalions belonging to the regular army of Colombia, commanded by their own officers, had taken place, and that not even the least change in the appearance, discipline or formation of these troops could be observed.

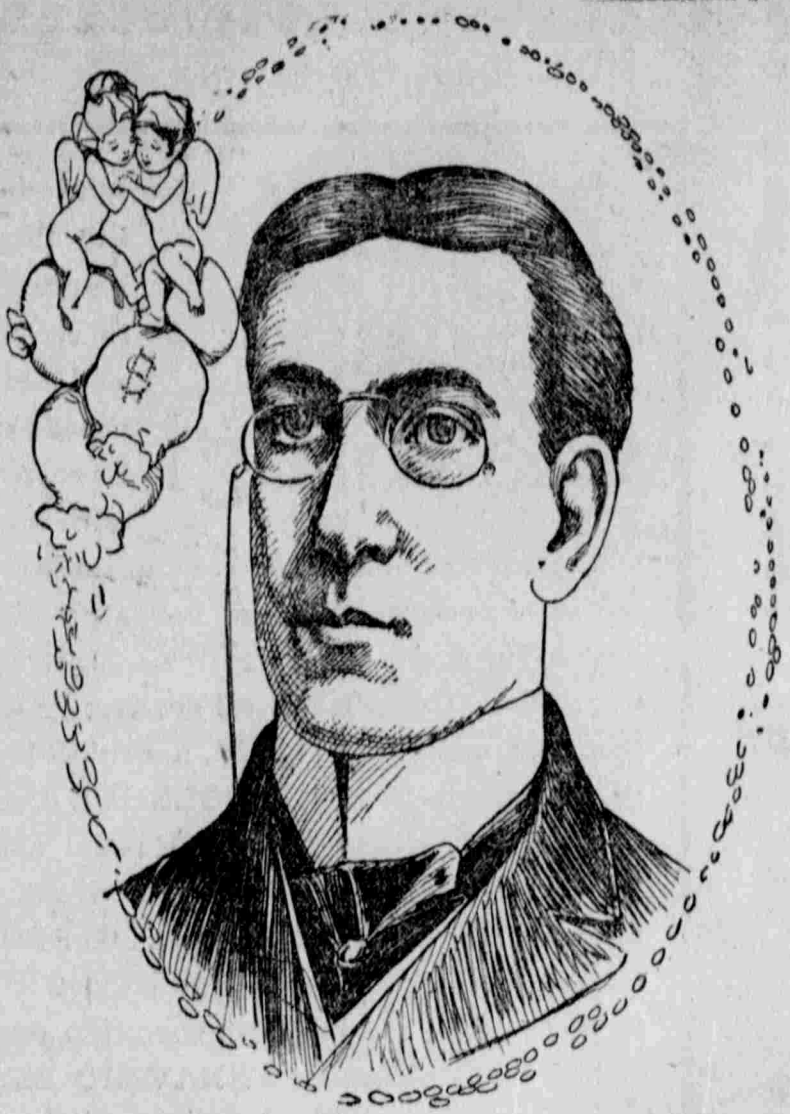

"In such state of things the Colombian minister resolved to embark for his country, as he, as a matter of fact, did, on the 12th of the present month, without the least opposition on the part of the Venezuelan government. Until the moment arrives for defining the attitude which this republic should assume for safeguarding her government she solemnly protests before the civilized nations of the world against the invasion of any portion of the national territory by military forces belonging to the regular army of Colombia, and against the acts committed by them."

Was Kicked Out.

To Deport Boers.

Capetown, Sept. 2.—The military administration has determined, it is said, to deport all the Boers in the reconcentration camps, numbering upwards of one hundred thousand, to garrisoned towns on the coast, where food is more readily available. The railways, thus relieved, will provide sufficient to supply food for the population of Johannesburg, which is as large as before the war, permitting the reopening of all the mines.

FRUIT TROUBLES.

Quarrel Between Packers and Growers on the Coast.

New York, Sept. 2.—The Journal of Commerce says: A great deal of interest has been manifested by the wholesale grocery trade and dried fruit brokers in the probable outcome of the troubles between the packers and raisin growers of the coast. The Raisin Growers' association, who have arrived from Hamburg, Germany, in an interview said that since reaching this country he had found that a great deal of discussion had arisen over the matter of some parcels of raisins sold to the packers of last year's crop sold to the packing company and that the packing company had used force in the removal of raisins from some of the packing houses belonging to dissatisfied members of the packing company.

TOO MUCH

Exercise is as bad as too little for the growing girl. It is very easy for her to overdo, and this is especially dangerous at that critical period of a young girl's life when she crosses the line of womanhood. It is not an uncommon thing to lay the foundation for years of after misery by neglect of necessary precautions at the first "change of life."

The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription not only establishes regularity, but it gives health to the entire womanly organism. It is the best medicine for diseases peculiar to women because it cures the causes of disease completely and permanently.

"Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine nor any other narcotic. It cannot disagree with the most delicate constitution.

"For a number of months I suffered with female trouble," writes Miss Agnes McGowan, of 1125 Bank Street, Washington, D. C. "I tried various remedies, but none seemed to do me any permanent good. The doctors said it was the worst case of internal trouble they ever had. I decided to write to you for help. I received a very encouraging reply and commenced treatment at once. I feel as if I had used your Favorite Prescription a week before I began to feel better, and, as I continued, my health gradually improved, and is improving every day."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Miss Marie Josephine Eastwick Forged for Big Money.

RAISED STOCK CERTIFICATE

Too Small a Revenue Stamp is What Led to the Detection of the Forgery.

London, Sept. 2.—Marie Josephine Eastwick of Philadelphia was arraigned in the Guildhall police court today, charged with having forged a railway certificate of the value of £100,000.

The public prosecutor said the defendant had been residing in England for eighteen months and was believed to be an American of wealth. She had been living with persons said to be her father and sister at the Metropole, London, and had been coaching through England and living generally in the most expensive manner. Latterly she had removed to Hampstead for the benefit of her health.

She obtained an introduction to Mr. Beeton, a member of the stock exchange, to whom the defendant represented herself to be the owner of securities worth, roughly, £500,000. She had been living with persons said to be her father and sister at the Metropole, London, and had been coaching through England and living generally in the most expensive manner. Latterly she had removed to Hampstead for the benefit of her health.

She had been living with persons said to be her father and sister at the Metropole, London, and had been coaching through England and living generally in the most expensive manner. SKILLFUL WORK.

The prosecutor said that on August 26th the certificate had been altered, and the name of the original holder had been erased and the name of Marie Josephine Eastwick had been substituted. The word "five" in the number of shares and the numerals had all been altered so that it appeared to be a certificate for a thousand instead of five shares. This was skillfully done, showing considerable preparation. The only mistake was that the document bore a shilling revenue stamp instead of one of £10, which a certificate for one thousand shares would carry.

The defendant sent the altered document, with a letter, to Mr. Beeton August 26th, asking him to buy a thousand United States Steel shares in the firm name, also requesting a loan of £4,000, adding that she was going in for motor cars rather heavily, and was about to purchase a stock farm.

The defendant wired Mr. Beeton from Buxton, August 28th, asking if the certificate had arrived.

In the meanwhile Mr. Beeton's clerk, on receiving the certificate, noticed that the name of the original holder had been erased and the name of Marie Josephine Eastwick had been substituted. Even Strawboard in It.

New York, Sept. 2.—It is understood that the capital stock of the new strawboard combine, which will be known as the United Board, Board & Paper company, will be anywhere from $20,000,000 to $30,000,000, says the Journal of Commerce. It is claimed that uncertainty concerning the amount of the capital is caused by the uncertainty as to the value which will be placed upon the various plants by expert appraisers. The American Strawboard company of Chicago is the largest concern to be taken in by the new corporation, having a capital stock of $6,000,000. The other large plants are those of the Chicago Coast Board company, with $500,000 capital, and the National News Board Co. of New Jersey, with a capital of $500,000.

Did Merriman "Peach"?

New York, Sept. 3.—Commenting upon the arrest of Dr. Krause on the charge of high treason, the London correspondent of the Tribune says: The real nature of the proceedings has not been allowed to leak out, but some significance is attached to the fact that the arrest should have occurred a few days after Mr. Merriman—one of the defendants in the England—was put on his parole in Cape Colony, and it is believed that these two incidents may not be unconnected with one another.

Milner's Activity.

New York, Sept. 3.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says: Lord Milner has not been idle since his return to South Africa. One of his first public acts on resuming his duties has been to offer some assurances in reply to the representations made on behalf of outlander refugees. The high commissioner declares that there is no object for which he will work more strenuously than that of bringing the people back to the Transvaal as quickly as possible.

FROM GOOD FAMILY.

Philadelphia, Sept. 2.—Friends of Miss Marie Josephine Eastwick learned with surprise today the story of her trouble in London. Although she has only been an occasional visitor to Philadelphia in recent years, her charming personality and her high social position in this city have, despite her indifference to society, made her well-known in local society.

Miss Eastwick is about 32 years old. She is a granddaughter of the late Harrison Eastwick. Her father, Edward P. Eastwick, was formerly associated with the Havemeyers in the sugar refining business, and when he retired, fourteen years ago, he was reputed to be a millionaire.

Fond of horses, dogs and all outdoor sports, she was from the first avers to the social preference that her family's position and wealth assured her. Several years ago Miss Eastwick inherited from her grandmother an interest in an estate said to be worth $100,000. About this time she and her father became estranged. It is said, and the capital afforded by her grandmother's legacy, the young woman sought fortune as a speculator in the stock market, but with what success her relatives or friends do not know. Later on her health gave away, and a reconciliation with her father followed. She was sent to a sanitarium, where she remained for several months.

Upon recovering her health she again went to England and became distinguished as a whip. She did most of her coaching in Scotland and was frequently accompanied by distinguished Englishmen and Americans.

Boers are Savages.

London, Sept. 2.—The Pretoria correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, in a dispatch describing the blowing up of a train between Waterfall and Hammanskraal Saturday by Boers, when Lieut. Col. Vandelaar, of the Irish guards, was killed, says:

"The train carried several passengers, among them two ladies with babies and a nurse. As it tolled through a cut, a negro was seen to raise his hand. Instantly a Boer discharged two mines, derailed the train, while a body of Boers poured in a heavy rifle fire."

"Lieut. Col. Vandelaar got two women to lie down under the seats and ordered his men to return the fire. As he was proceeding along the corridor a Boer burst into the carriage and fired killing him, after, it is supposed, he refused to surrender. Another Boer deliberately fired upon and wounded the nurse. Bullets were flying in all directions, although the Boers were aware that women and children were there."

Malevolent Exaggerations.

New York, Sept. 3.—The foreign office refuses information as to whether China has unconditionally agreed to the German demands of whether Germany has made concessions, but declared the reports current in Peking, concerning the German demands, to be malevolent exaggerations, says the Herald's Berlin correspondent.

The Volks Zeitung learns that on August 28 Baron von Buelow, brother of the Imperial chancellor, who is living in Lugano, called on Prince Chun and soon after sent a long telegram to Berlin.

Wedding in High Life.

New York, Sept. 3.—Says the London correspondent of the Tribune: The September wedding list includes one of the showiest figures of Queen Victoria's jubilee—Lord Oswald Ames, who, by virtue of being the tallest man in the British army, led the famous procession. He will marry Violet Dorothea Cecil, a cousin of the Marquis of Exeter and Lord Salisbury.

Betting on the Shamrock II.

New York, Sept. 3.—The Newport, R. I., correspondent of the Herald says that some of the New York Yacht club members of a speculative turn of mind now at Newport have wagered considerable sums of money upon Shamrock II, obtaining small odds in some instances, in other cases the bets having been made on an even money basis.

MacArthur for Colorado.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 2.—The News today says: Gen. H. C. Merriam, of the department of Colorado, will probably be succeeded upon his retirement by Gen. Arthur MacArthur, late commander-in-chief of the American forces in the Philippines. Gen. Merriam retires from the command of this department next November on account of the age limitation. Several well known officers of the army have been reported from time to time as the next commander of the department, but the name of Gen. MacArthur is considered as final.

Colombia's Bad Fix.

New York, Sept. 3.—Mr. H. L. Hale, a mining engineer of Boston, is among the recent arrivals from Cartagena, where he has spent three months. Concerning the civil war in Colombia, he said the affairs there were very bad indeed. He said that when he left Cartagena the rebels were very active and had occupied the whole of the province of Otrario. Mr. Hale did not care to express an opinion as to the result of the war. He said that so far the rebels had been more successful than the government troops.

Thrown From a Buggy.

New York, Sept. 3.—The serious, if not fatal, injury of Mr. Frederick Warren, one of the owners of the Warren Steamship company, is reported from Beverly Farms, Mass. Mr. Warren with his daughter was driving home from a horse show at the Myopia Hunt club when the horse bolted, throwing Mr. Warren from the vehicle.

Distinguished Passengers.

San Francisco, Sept. 2.—Commander Seaton Schroeder, U.S.N., governor of the island of Guam, arrived here on the steamer China en route to Washington. He declined to discuss conditions on the island or to state the object of his visit to the national capital. Another passenger of the China was Prof. David P. Todd, director of Amherst college observatory, who went to the Dutch West Indies to observe the eclipse of the sun on May 15 last. E. P. Dole, attorney general of Hawaii, and Justice Frear, of the Hawaiian supreme court, arrived from Honolulu. Attorney General Dole is to be married here to Miss Gallagher, of this city.

Cold Storage Combination.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Fruit growers in this section of the state are interested in the announcement that an immense cold storage plant will be erected in Brighton, a suburban village by a company formed by the consolidation of two of the biggest fruit handling houses in the state. These are P. J. Gleason, of Leroy, and Loomis & Co., of New York. It is expected that the syndicate will practically control the fruit output of this part of the state. The company will be known as the Gleason & Loomis Cold Storage company. The capital stock is $500,000. The officers of the company are Patrick J. Gleason, of Leroy, president; Thomas W. Finucane, of Rochester, secretary; and Edward M. Loomis, of New York, secretary-treasurer.

The new company will take over the cold storage warehouses of Patrick Gleason, located at Leroy, Bethany and Albion, and the cold storage warehouses owned by E. P. Loomis and company, of New York, located at Spencerport, Kendall and Carleton, and the big new cold storage warehouse recently built by Gleason & Loomis in the village of Brighton. Mr. Gleason says that inside of a decade he expects the consolidated companies will build a dozen more big cold storage warehouses in Brighton.

PE-RU-NA AVERTS DANGER

In That Critical Time When a Girl Becomes a Woman.

MISS BESSIE KELLOGG.

Miss Bessie Kellogg, President of the Young Woman's Club, of Valley City, North Dakota, writes the following from First street, South, Valley City, North Dakota:

"Ever since I matured I suffered with severe monthly pains. The doctor did not seem to understand what the trouble was and the medicine he prescribed from time to time did not help me. He finally suggested that I have an operation. One of my friends who had been cured of a similar affliction through the use of Peruna, advised me to give it a trial first, and so I used it for three weeks faithfully. My pains diminished very soon and within two months I had none at all."

"This is six months ago, and during that time I have not had an ache or pain. I give highest praise to Peruna. Every woman ought to use it, and I feel sure that it would bring perfect health."—BESSIE KELLOGG.

The experience of Miss Bessie Kellogg, of North Dakota, ought to be read by every girl in the land. It is a critical period in a woman's life when she ceases to be a girl and becomes a woman. Very few pass through this period without some trouble. The doctor is called and he generally advises an operation. Perhaps he will subject the patient to a long series of experiments with nervines and tonics. The reason he does not often make a cure is because he does not recognize the trouble.

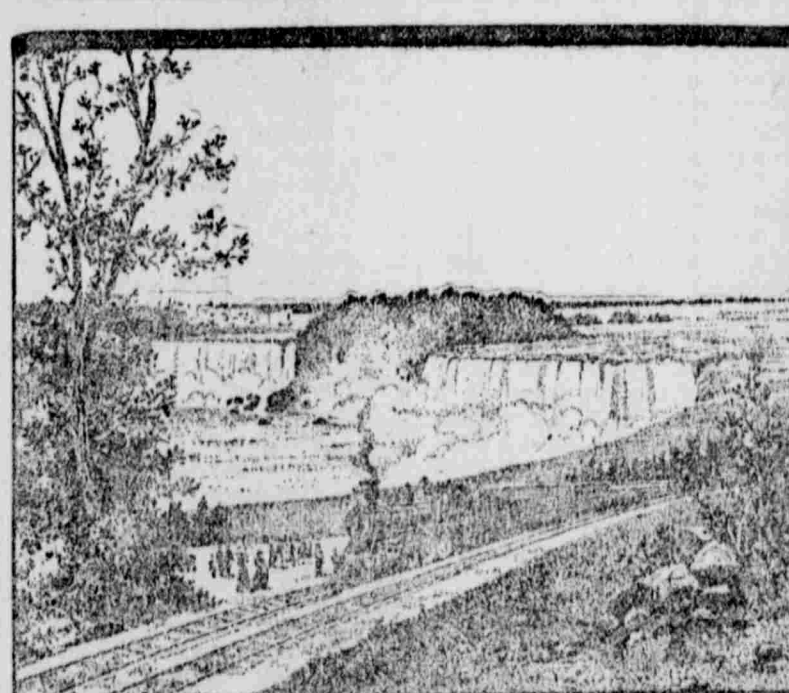

In a large majority of the cases catarrh of the female organs is the cause. Peruna relieves these cases promptly because it cures the catarrh. Peruna is not a palliative or a sedative or a nerve or a stimulant. It is a specific for catarrh and cures catarrh wherever it may lurk in the system.

This girl was lucky enough to find Peruna at last. As she says, the doctors did not seem to understand what the trouble was and the medicine he prescribed from time to time did not help her. Peruna hit the mark at once and she is now recommending this wonderful remedy to all the other girls in the United States.

Thousands of the girls who look at her beautiful face and read her sincere testimony, will be led to try Peruna in their times of trouble and critical periods. Peruna will not fail them. Every one of them will be glad and it is to be hoped that their enthusiasm will lead them to do as this girl did—proclaim the fact to the world so that others may read it and do likewise.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.
