Washington, 31.—The committee on public lands will introduce a separate bill when Congress re-convenes, declaring forfeited the lands granted to certain railroad companies. The companies most interested are those in the northwest and south. The amount of land involved is reported by the chairman of the committee, Cobb, as between 50,000,000 and 100,000,000 acres. The Texas Pacific land grant is expected to be reported forfeited. This grant is alone 14,000,000 acres.

In an interview to-night, Cobb said there was no question of the right of government to declare forfeited 25,000,000 acres of land on various roads. "Attorneys of the railroads," he continued, "will be given an opportunity to be heard, but will not be given too much time. The Northern Pacific has not compiled with the grant. It has 48,000,000 acres that ought to be forfeited. In the judiciary committee of last Congress the vote for its forfeiture stood 7 to 8. There are a number of railroad men here now trying to oppose any legislature of the character contemplated. They have been trying to influence members of the present Congress. Some years ago they got the Supreme Court to declare that the judiciary did not have power to declare the land forfeited, and now they say the legislative power ought not to take any action of that kind, because the question is not thoroughly understood. These same men controlled the committees from the clog of the war up to the Forty-fourth Congress, and they These same men controlled the committees from the clog of the war up to the Forty-fourth Congress, and they controlled the last Congress. They had the committee packed in their favor. It is a fact that every republican Congress since 1865 has favored the railroads. No justice has been done to the country or government or over one

St. John, N. F., 31.—The excitement of the public mind at Conception Bay has somewhat abated in the Harbor Grace, Orange and Catholic afray. The following is the latest version: The Orangemen walked out on the morning of St. Stephens' Day and got as far as the turn at Paddy McGrath's house, leading down from Harney street to Water Street. They had just arrived at the bridge and the band was playing "Boyne Water," when they were met by a mob and told to come no further but to go back. The Roman Catholics were arranged in line, those in the front rank having pickets in their use no other weapons except in self-defense. Chicago, 30.—Daily News' Cairo, Ills; An itinerant preacher named Cook, living in Fort Donelson, yesterday entered the room of his wife who was about to give birth to a child and shot her attendant, Mrs. Joseph Glasgow, through the heart, killing her instantly. He then fied to the woods, but was captured by infuriated citizens after an exciting chase. He said the woman was mixing a dose of poison to give the child when born and he was compelled to shoot her. An informant just returned from the scene thinks he was

Cook is now safely lodged in jail and will likely remain there till court convenes next April. There are some who think Cook is laboring under a temporary fit of insanity. This will probably prevent his being lynched.

Washington, 1.— The ceremonial observance of the first day of the New Year was interfered with to some extent, by the raw northeast wind and drizzling rain. The President's reception was largely attended and more usually pleasant and successful. Only about half the members of Congress were in the city, but most of these were present together with members of the Cabinet, diplomatic corps, Justices of the Supreme Court, and district courts and officers of the people of the city and district was good, and nothing occurred to mar the pleasure of participants. The decorations of the Executive Mansion were simple but tasteful.

FOREIGN. Critical Situation in Egypt.

The Abyssinian demonstration on the Kassala road renders the situation still more critical. Nothing can be done at present, as an immediate advance would mean disaster.

British gunboats have gone to Massowah; 100 women and children, together with 400 soldiers are bravely holding out at Sincat. With the promptest action on the part of England there will be barely time to save those people from a terrible fate.

It is believed there are 2,000 rebels between Suakim and Sincat, and should the Egyptians attempt to march to Bar-made.

The congregation numbered 3,000. Father Hameriee especially denounced socialism. Suddenly a loud whistle was given, which was the signal for shouting and hooting from all parts of the church. The demonstration was evidently prearranged. Cries of fire were also raised, and a panic ensued. The alarm was fearful. Firemen, police and surgeons soon arrived and the panic was allayed. Z. C. M. I. SHOE FACTORY.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE ES-TABLISHMENT, INCLUDING AN IN-CIDENTAL MENTION OF OTHER DEPARTMENTS.

The subject of manufactures in Utah is of much importance to her citizens. For this reason we devote some of our space to an extended notice of the Z.C.
M. I. Shoe Factory, giving details of the systematic mode of manufacturing boots and shoes. There are one hundred and fifty persons employed in this business, including men, boys and young ladies. In a dozen of the number are employed. In this room the first part of the manual labor is done. Care, skill and judgment are highly essential qualifications of the workmen in this department, as the materials used in cutting are expensive, and a considerable degree of ingenuity is required to cut the stock to advantage and with the least possible waste. The cost of material and labor in the uppers averages about one-half the value of the finished article. There are nearly one hundred styles of boots and shoes made in the establishment, and the large number of patterns required is surprising. Each shoe upper is made of six or eight pieces, and in cutting a set of sizes of ladles' shoes there are frequently upwards of fifty cutting a set of sizes of ladies' shoes there are frequently upwards of fifty patterns used. Manager Rowe is the designer of the multitude of patterns, which constitute an invaluable adjunct of the business. Nearly all the work in this department is done by hand. There are no two sides of leather, or skins, exactly alike, lit is, therefore, hardly possible to use machinery in cutting uppers; a few dies, and some small machines for cutting strips, is all that is used here. We must not omit noticing, however, a remarkable ingenious machine placed in this room for measuring leather. No matter how irregular in form, nor how many holes there may be in the leather, the indicator of the machine will instantly show the precise quantity of surface in the side or skin placed on it. About half of the material required for the appers is imported, but we are pleased to state, a large amount is now made at the Z. C. M. I. Tannery, and J. W. Summerhays & Co. of this city furnish most of the lining skins and roans that are used.

The uppers. after being cut and

The uppers, after being cut and stamped with sizes and order numbers, are assorted in what is called "case lots," that is five dozen pairs of shoes or one dozen pairs of boots, and are passed into

A work ticket accompanies each case lot, on which is detailed a description of the goods, order No., who for, when wanted, scale of sizes and number of pairs of each size, with lines on which to write the name of each person who does any of the various designated portions of the work. South Farmington, Mass., 31.—The wages of employees of the Lancaster gingham mills at Clinton, Mass., nambering several bundred, have been out making nail holes. It accurately guages the distance from the edge and between the holes, and punches them with astonishing rapidity. An important, and costly item in this department is the extensive assortment of steel dies required for cutting soles, heel lifts, etc., used in connection with the two solecutting presses. Attention is called to the fact that no shoddy is used here, a careful inspection of each lot of stock will invariably show that nothing but genuine, and good leather enters into the goods, in that respect differing vastly from a large proportion of the boots and shoes imported into the Territory.

The incessant pounding of shoemakers' hammers, whirr of machinery, lively movements of the workmen and array of racks, filled with boots and shoes in process of manufacture, combine to make a picture of industry that instinctively calls to mind a hive of busy bees. The method of fastening soles on boots and shoes, adopted in this workshop, is the same as has, for many years, extensively prevailed in England, and is now becoming popular in America, it is called the clinching screw process; unquestionably the best in the world. Solid iron lasts are used; the clinching screws are driven into the clinching screws are driven into the soles, with a stout, flat, file; the points of the nails turn on the last, after passof the nails turn on the last, after passing through the inner sole, and they are then firmly riveted, or clinched, by blows of a heavy hammer. After the soles and heels are securely fastened on, the boots or shoes having passed through the hands of lasters, nailers and heelers, are then given to the heel breaster, who manipulates a machine which, at one slice, cuts through the six, or more thicknesses of sole leather comprising the heel and leaves a square breast next to the shank. The heel trimmer next receives the goods. An old fashioned shoemaker, accustomed to spend an hour or more in whittling to spend an hour or more in whittling a pair of boot heels into good shape would almost be inclined to think that the magic art had been introduced in the modern method of heel trimming as done in this establishment; the rapidity with which heels are trimmed, by machine, into the most perfect forms, has the appearance of a sleight of hand trick. Although highly interesting to a personal observer, it would be

There are competent foremen in each department of the factory who are specially instructed to permit no poor stock to be used or imperfect work done on the goods, and their duty is to carefully examine all goods as they pass through the various hands in each room. By this means every pair of boots and shoes is subjected to frequent inspection. Damaged or poor goods are laid aside, and only the best packed for market.

To properly conclude our observations, we will now look into

He here found a young woman with a deep gash extending from her right ear down the throat. She was extremely low from loss of blood. She said: "Doctor, for God's sike, save my life."
