Yred J. Kiesel Secures Appropriation for Junction City Singers.

WILL SING IRRIGATION ODE.

Utah Building to be Completed May 20—Exhibit Leaves Salt Lake May 15.

Spencer Clawson, manager of the Utah exhibit at the Lewis and Clark exposition, will leave tonight for Portland, to remain until after the Utah building is completed, and probably until the fair is formally opened. Prior to his going, a meeting of the Lewis and Clark commission was held yesterday afternoon for the purpose of settling questions which have been under discussion. The proposition to send the Ogden Tabernacle choir was agreed to by unanimous vote, and $500 was appropriated for the purpose of assisting to defray the choir's expenses. The grant of money was approved by several commissioners, and an original proposition to expend $2,000 for this purpose was voted down. The sum of $500 was allowed as a concession for the Utah exhibit, and who fostered the plan to send the Ogden choir as a pet scheme. The choir will visit Portland during Utah week, and will sing the Irrigation Ode at the Irrigation congress, which meets during that week.

WEEKLY SHIPMENTS OF FRUIT.
Several other items of business were attended to. Among them was the appropriation of $1,000 for a horticultural exhibit, and $1,000 for a horticultural exhibit. It was further decided to ship small lots of Utah fruit each week during the fair, instead of sending a large carload for Utah week. This latter plan, it was agreed, would insure a fresh supply at all times.

EDUCATIONAL EXHIBIT.
L. A. Osteln, director of the educational department, has been notified that the exhibit of the schools this year would surpass any heretofore attempted in this line, as in addition to what the St. Louis commission collected, a large additional amount was on hand and would soon be ready for shipment.

BUILDING BEING PUSHED.
It is now planned that the Utah exhibit shall leave Salt Lake on May 15, thus giving 10 days for its arrangement in the Utah building before the opening of the fair. Mr. Clawson has received a telegram from Portland stating that the building will be turned over on contract time, which is May 20.

Herbina.
Will overcome indigestion and dyspepsia; regulate the bowels and cure liver and kidney complaints. It is the best blood purifier and laxative. In the world it is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and should you be a sufferer from disease, you will use it if you are wise.

AMUSEMENTS.

White Whittlesley closes his Salt Lake engagement with a performance of "Heartsease" this afternoon and another of "Soldiers of Fortune" tonight. Last night the bill was the most interesting play "The Second in Command," rendered before an audience which the severe weather seriously affected. There was nothing the matter, however, with the rendition. Mr. Whittlesley gave as the rendition, and artistic interpretation of the part of Major Blenheim as he did before, many considering the presentation as a whole the best in his repertoire.

The support was again good, the best work being rendered by Mr. Mason, Miss Perry, and Miss Brisson.

After one of his big recalls last night, Mr. Whittlesley advanced to the footlights and in the course of a pleasant little speech of thanks said: "I don't know what it is, but it is so fascinating about this house, but it is fascinating—very much so. Besides you seem not only to like but to demand these little speeches. Coming from me, a man who is not a speech maker at all, makes it more difficult for me to understand. Nevertheless it is very pleasant to talk to full houses, even if I haven't experienced them in Salt Lake; but that makes no difference, we are coming back next year, and many years in the future, to give you such plays as you like, plays that will finally go to full houses all the time. I thank you."

"Down by the Old Mill" goes for the last time at the Grand Theater. Tomorrow night "The Senator's Daughter" will form the bill.

The advance sale for Chauncey Olcott who opens tomorrow night, is now going on at the Theater box office. "A Romance of Athlone" was written for Mr. Olcott, and is said to give his singing and acting abilities a rare opportunity.

ACCOUNTING ON SHEEP.

Floto Commission Company Files Suit in Federal Court.

The Floto Commission company of Omaha has filed a suit in the district court demanding an accounting for certain sheep mortgaged to them by Daniel Densley, Jr., of Riverton, Utah. The State Bank of Utah is named as defendant and it is alleged that the bank knows of the disposition made of the sheep and records of the mortgage, from this suit. The complaint alleges that on Dec. 1, 1901, Daniel Densley, Jr., of Riverton, Utah, gave promissory notes to plaintiff aggregating $20,000, the security consisting of certain sheep on 34,555 head of sheep and 15,500 head of sheep on a second mortgage. The proceeds of the sale of wool was to be paid to the plaintiff, and the mortgage, and Densley was to keep possession of the sheep until the full amount was paid.

Continuing, the plaintiff claims that Densley in order to defraud him, allowed his sheep to mix with other sheep, and destroyed all marks of identification through shearing. That on Sept. 1, 1902, defendant and said Densley caused by sale of the State Bank of Utah to be delivered to Anton Nelson, a number of sheep in excess of 15,000, that out of the sale the defendant pretended to pay a pretended indebtedness of Densley to the State Bank of Utah, the proceeds consequently going to the State Bank of Utah.

The final allegation is that defendant took the proceeds of the sale of wool at various times, for which an accounting is also demanded. The money involved amounts to $20,000, with interest at 8 per cent from August, 1903.

SHEEP QUARANTINED.

Governor Gooding Issues Proclamation To This Effect.

Special Correspondence.
Boise, Ida., May 2.—The following proclamation relative to the dipping of sheep as a means of guarding against scab, was today issued by Gov. Gooding: "F. H. Gooding, Governor of the state of Idaho, by virtue of the authority in me vested by law, after due consideration of the state livestock sanitary board and the state veterinary surgeon, do hereby order that all sheep and goats within the state are hereby quarantined in the particular locality in which they are at the date of this proclamation, and do hereby prohibit the driving or moving of sheep across the lines hereinafter in this proclamation defined, without a certificate from the veterinary surgeon, his assistant, or a livestock inspector, that the said animals are in good health. All exposed sheep within this state must be dipped once according to the rules and regulations prescribed by the state veterinary surgeon, before crossing what is designated as the upper or exposed sheep line, and all diseased sheep must be dipped twice, before crossing what is designated as the lower or diseased sheep line, under the rules and regulations as heretofore mentioned. All sheep within, or that come within, the state are exposed, within the meaning of this term as used in this proclamation, and are hereby quarantined, and must be dipped, under state or federal supervision, previous to July 1, 1905, regardless of whether they have been moved over either the diseased or exposed sheep lines, or kept within an enclosure or upon the public range."

QUESTION OF TAXES.

Shall They be Levied on Incomes or On Property.

An interesting debate was held this morning at the general assembly of students of the Latter-day Saints' university in Harrah hall. The class in civics, under Prof. Hinkley, having considered the question, whether a general property tax is preferable to a tax on incomes, the subject was thrown into the form of a resolution and debated by four speakers before the entire student body.

Mr. B. W. Cummings, Jr., for the affirmative or property tax side, made the following points:

"That the income tax has been tried in this country and found wanting; that it was not adapted to our system of government; that a property tax is better because its times and methods are not arbitrary; its burdens felt as little as possible; and its bearing upon one class; that it was easily administered; property being always visible and impossible to conceal. This speaker also maintained that under the property tax system, the non-property owner pays taxes indirectly, on what he spends; that the income tax is bad in theory, being directed against the well-to-do, against temporary incomes, and against personal liberty."

Mr. J. B. Harris, for the income tax or negative, maintained that the income tax is less inequitable than the personal property tax; that the income tax was perfectly successful in this as well as in other countries; only that at the close of the Civil war the men of large incomes landed together to defeat the income tax, and the rich were shielded and the poor were discriminated against in the repeal of this tax. Statistics of inequalities in property taxation were quoted from Chicago tax assessments, and the opinions of Ely and other economists in favor of the income tax were quoted.

Mr. James T. Hammond, Jr., showed the effect of an income tax in permitting idle property to remain untaxed until it would become very valuable; that income taxes would be more heavy upon the business men than upon the farmers; and quoted the opinion of Taft and other of the supreme court in opposition to this form of taxation.

Mr. R. W. Young, Jr., showed that the income tax is a good form of taxation since it makes each one pay according to his ability, and not according to his property. He also showed that it was easy to assess and collect the income tax, and that it does not discourage improvements as the property tax does. This speaker supported his argument by quoting from several great economists.

The first two speakers then summed up the arguments and the judges, Prof. Christensen, Thomas and Horne, decided in favor of the affirmative by five to four points.

THE DAUGHTER OF PROF. RENO OF ELWOOD, IND.

RESTORED TO HEALTH BY VINOL.

Mrs. Reno's Letter and Advice to Mothers, Published by Request of Druehl & Franken.

Mrs. Reno says: "Our daughter Marion was troubled with indigestion; she became fretful, could not sleep at night, lost flesh, and we feared that we should lose her. We tried different doctors, and many kinds of medicines, with no apparent success, until we tried Vinol. Two bottles cured our little daughter; she can eat anything, sleeps well and has gained flesh. No other child is the best medicine in the world for children. I advise every mother who has an ailing child to try Vinol. I know nothing equal to it, and it tastes so good there is no trouble in getting children to take it."

A reporter of the "News" asked Mr. Druehl of Druehl & Franken of this city, who is selling Vinol, regarding it. Mr. Druehl assured the writer that this is only one of a great many such cases that are constantly coming to their attention where Vinol has actually saved the lives of children when all else had failed.

"You know, of course," said Mr. Druehl, "Vinol is not a patent medicine, and it contains all the medicinal, curative elements of cod liver oil, without the nauseating oil; it is delicious to take, and will make rich, pure red blood, sound flesh, and muscle tissue, and create strength and health more surely and quickly than anything we have ever sold in our store."

In the strongest manner we unhesitatingly induce and guarantee Vinol to increase the appetite, cure stomach troubles, give strength and renewed vitality to the aged, build up the run down, tired and debilitated, make the weak strong, cure chronic coughs, colds and build up the convalescent, or will return to the purchaser every dollar paid for it. I just wish every mother in Salt Lake City who has a sick, puny or ailing child would try Vinol on our guarantee."

CONVOCATION OF EPISCOPALIANS.

The Sixth Annual Session is Now On at the St. Mark's Cathedral.

ADDRESS BY BISHOP SPALDING.

Pays Glowing Tribute to the Late Bishop Leonard—Outlook for Future Work.

The Episcopalians of the missionary jurisdiction of Salt Lake are in their sixth annual convocation, in St. Mark's cathedral, with these clerical delegates: Rt. Rev. F. S. Spalding of this diocese, Dean Eddy of this city, Rev. P. F. Wood, Delta; Rev. Hyrum Bullis, Glenwood, Colo.; Rev. Arnold Miller, Aspen; Rev. C. W. G. Lyon, Grand Junction, Colo.; Rev. J. W. Gunn, Montrose, Colo.; Rev. Alfred Brown, Ogden; Rev. C. E. Perkins and Rev. George C. Hunting of this city.

At yesterday afternoon's session, Rev. G. G. Hunting was chosen secretary, and Rev. C. E. Perkins treasurer. The latter and Judge Ritchie were elected delegates to the general convention to be held at Richmond, Va., and Dean Eddy of St. Mark's and Rector Perkins of St. Paul's and Harry Woodman and Mr. Beesley were elected members of the board of missions.

TRIBUTE TO BISHOP LEONARD.

In the evening, Bishop Spalding delivered the annual address, in which he paid a touching tribute to the late Bishop Leonard, and made the following remarks:

"There must be a feeling of sadness in many hearts as we meet today for prayer and counsel. It is indeed sad that new relationships are entered into only at the expense of old ones, and in the district of Salt Lake has paid dearly for whatever the future may have in store for her. It was my privilege to know Bishop Leonard, and I can therefore in some degree sympathize with you in your sense of loss of not only a leader, but also a friend. For the splendid foundation which he laid, for the tradition of high work which he set before us, and for his own example of unselfish mission spirit, let us thank God and pledge ourselves to carry forward the work which he lived and in the midst of which he died."

"And next I feel that my opening words must be an expression of gratitude to you, my brethren of the clergy, who have so faithfully carried on the work of this large district, for the months after Bishop Leonard's death. That my way is plain and my difficulties few is due to the faithful way you have followed at Salt Lake and in the many stations where there have been no clergymen for months, most sincere thanks are here given to the faithful men and women who have kept church life alive through lay services, Sunday schools and guilds."

EASTERN HELP NEEDED.

"It is too soon for your bishop to venture upon many recommendations for future work. He must be familiar with conditions first and that in a district like this, which presents many different problems, will take some time. One thing, however, a new-comer may say. The work here is much like work elsewhere, no harder and no easier. The days have passed when we can truthfully say that the people in the east live with wild and wonderful stories of western heathenism. After spending many years in the west, I returned from a seven years' stay in the east, and I am convinced that in many parts of the west we are quite as able to help ourselves or our eastern friends. I am too much of a western man to be able to try to get money by under-rating and misrepresenting the west and its people. For work in parts of Utah, eastern help must be asked. Our splendid services to the Ute Indians must of course be entirely supported by outside help, but in the cities of Utah and the new camps in Nevada and Colorado and the rich farming country of western Colorado self-help must be counted on more than in the past."

"It must be our policy to give to all the clergymen in this district enough salary to enable them to live comfortably and contentedly. I believe we should aim at a minimum of $1,000. We want the best men we can get and when we get them we want to keep them. It takes a better man to succeed in a small western town than in a large eastern city. This is not because the people make so many demands upon him, but because they make so few. His own sense, pluck, courage and zeal are all he has to depend upon. The missionary in the west, not because the west wants him, but because the west needs him, and if he is not careful he will in his own life grow weaker and not stronger as a clergyman. We must help each other, brethren, spiritually and intellectually. Perhaps one of the reasons Bishop Leonard left his valuable library to the diocese was because he felt that men living far from library facilities and stimulating intellectual forces were in danger of reading little and carelessly. I have heard more poor preaching in the west than in the east. I fear there are quite as many mental sluggards out here as there are in many other parts of the country, and yet if the preacher is to make himself felt in this western country he must study and read and think with all his might."

REQUIREMENTS FOR SUCCESS.

"It is a mistaken idea that the only requirement for a successful western missionary is that he be a hearty sort of a man, a great hustler, a good mixer and other phrases which have been invented recently to describe the man who must be prompted to do his share. In many places the church has been weakened by too much outside help. The bishop who is behaving in a heavenly way if he helps those who help themselves. As I have already said, there are parts of the district where self-help cannot be expected, but there are other parts where it ought to be expected and we must all of us try to develop it as rapidly as possible. In order that money may be released and appropriated where it is more needed. This object will be gained if every man in the district not only tries to earn his salary, but feels that when he has done all things he is an unprofitable servant."

"In his last address to you, an address which is an account of most devoted service and most remarkable progress, Bishop Leonard said: 'Our work was never in healthier condition than at present, and while all that we have been doing in these years is fundamental and seems very small, it has put us in that condition where we are ready to go forward to larger and better things.' We must not fail my brethren, to prove the truth of that prophecy. May God give us grace to lead his church forward to larger and better things."

THE NEW STATE ARMORY.

Some of the Up-to-Date Quarters and Appointments it Will Have.

According to plans being prepared for the new state armory, the armory will have a basement to be used for general storage purposes, and for keeping the artillery and cavalry equipment. On the first floor will be officers and various company, regimental, brigade headquarters. On the second floor will be a gymnasium, library and officers' rooms, the gym room to be used for dancing also. The drill shed will include a covered yard roofed with glass and used for field maneuvers, and there is to be also a military kitchen where the men will be taught to cook for the field. The entire cost is placed at $200,000. The last Legislature appropriated $100,000 a year for 2 years, and $200,000 a year comes from the general government, and it is interesting to know that all this, with the prospects of a good armory, have resulted in large accessions to the guard in the last few weeks.
