OGDEN NEWS.

OGDEN, APRIL 11, 1900.
FLED FROM HYMEN'S ALTAR
Epistle Results in an Interesting Breach of Promise Case.

In yesterday's Salt Lake papers there was an account of the sudden and very unexpected departure of Edward Rose from that city. Rose was to have been married to Rose Haglund of Salt Lake City on Sunday, and all arrangements were made for the wedding, but the bridegroom did not appear. A search was made for him but with no avail, and he was immediately employed an attorney and filed suit against Rose for $25,000 damages for breach of promise. A summons was placed in the hands of a constable of Salt Lake to serve on Rose if he could be found. The officers of the law found out that the man they wanted to answer to the charge had fled to Ogden, so the constable was sent to Ogden to look for Rose. He saw him in the train ready to leave Ogden for Butte, Montana, his old home, so the constable got Officer Conroy of Ogden to place the man under arrest. He went into the train and took him to the police station, but when Clerk Terrier saw the papers he immediately released him, but he was too late for his northern train, so was compelled to wait over night in Ogden until yesterday. During his stay here he retained Col. A. B. Hayes, of Ogden, and Attorney Day of Salt Lake to represent him in the damage suit brought by his old lover, Miss Haglund, also to look up the matter of being a suit for false imprisonment and arrest. This will be quite an interesting breach of promise case, but Rose's attorneys refuse to make any statement about the matter at the present time.

WILLARD.

Apprehension for the Fruit Crop—Goes to the Hospital for Treatment.

Special Correspondence.
Willard, Boxelder County, April 10.—Returning from conference we found the ground covered with a beautiful fall snow" to the depth of two or three inches and the thermometer showing the mercury about four degrees below freezing point. While the storm is doing good in soaking the earth and supplying moisture to thirsty vegetation, the possibility of the fruit crop being killed by frost creates some uneasiness.

The beautiful weather of last month brought forward the fruit blossoms so that the orchards present lovely pictures of apricot, peach and plum trees in full bloom. Here, where orchards vary in size from one to forty acres and constitute almost the sole dependence of many of the owners, the loss of the fruit crop means a sad diminution of the annual income. We still hope, however, much may be saved.

One of our respective townsmen, A. Carlson, after suffering months of a diseased leg, has at last been sent to the hospital, amputation of the diseased limb being necessary.

Message has visited nearly every family in our locality during the present year but it has been in a mild form.

On account of the open winter there is a surplus of feed on hand, and farm teams are in prime condition.

We are expecting the soaking to spread over the entire neighborhood much earlier than usual, because of the earlier turning in of the water in the canals this season, and this means brighter prospects for the timely maturing of the grain.

We are looking forward to a considerable increase in population in the near future, and as many of the settlers are land poor, it will be the means of equalizing taxes, labor, etc.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

DRIGGS, IDAHO.

Teton Valley—A Thriving and Prosperous Locality.

Special Correspondence.
Driggs, (Teton Valley,) Idaho, April 8.—Spring came one month earlier than usual in the Teton and the farmers got down to business with better spirits, as everything promises an abundant harvest this fall. The health of the people has been very good, with nothing to interfere with our meetings, schools, or societies.

This valley was first settled eleven years ago by a company of Salt Lake and Utah people comprised mostly of "Mormons." There were ten wagons in the company. At that time the land was not surveyed but ranches were taken up by the company and the whole country was surveyed, and the valley has been settling up very rapidly since. We are located about three hundred miles north of the coast of Salt Lake City, and are forty-five miles from Rexburg, our nearest railroad station. Many improvements in the last few years go to prove that the people are prospering, and the land is being cleared and covered by a network of fencing covers the valley.

Several new buildings have just been completed this spring, among the most prominent one of the Young Men's hall which is just finished, and will be used for meetings, socials, etc. A new dancing pavilion is just completed and is a credit to our country. It is an octagon, 56 feet each side, with four stories, and contains a grand stand, two dressing rooms, and one for the orchestra, Messrs. Beesley and Blainier are the owners of the pavilion, and also members of the orchestra here.

The town of Driggs is located in the center of the valley, and is a thriving little business center, with implement houses, a general store, drug store, school and meeting houses, and a hotel. The town of Driggs is a thriving little business center, with implement houses, a general store, drug store, school and meeting houses, and a hotel.

A good many fine villas will be sent to Rexburg to meet the special excursion that will arrive here on the twentieth of May. The town of Driggs expects her share of the Utah visitors.

Mr. Geo. Gee and a company of Provo people were looking up the land question here last week with a view of locating about ten families.

We had six inches of snow last night, and it was very acceptable as it was getting too dry for farm work.

A petition was circulated around this town of Fremont, Idaho, last week for signers to call an election for the county seat fight between Rexburg and St. Anthony this fall. The petition had many signers, and every one seems in favor of Rexburg.

PARKER, IDAHO.

Reappearance of Winter—Bright Agricultural Prospects.

Special Correspondence.
Parker, Fremont Co., Ida., April 8.—Strange to say, it is quite comfortable here at the present time, and most of the snow is three or four inches deep, and still snowing. This has put a temporary check on farming operations, which were much further advanced than ever before at this season of the year.

In the northern part of this district the sub-irrigation has already made its appearance, owing to the water having been turned in by the canal.

The health of the people is good except in the family of Brother Wm. L. Flint, which has one or two cases of what is called diphtheritic sore throat. The family is quarantined and the patients are progressing favorably.

On account of the open winter there is a surplus of feed on hand, and farm teams are in prime condition.

We are expecting the soaking to spread over the entire neighborhood much earlier than usual, because of the earlier turning in of the water in the canals this season, and this means brighter prospects for the timely maturing of the grain.
