UTAH CLUB WOMEN.

Salt Lake City the Gilded Club Town in the West.

Denver Post: Salt Lake City boasts the oldest women's club west of the Rocky Mountains. The Ladies' Reading club recently celebrated its twenty-first anniversary and one of its announcements, Mrs. Bowles says in Denver, is as to work in connection with the plans of the General Federation club work. A club woman, Mrs. E. B. S. Nichols, and as president of the club, in charge of the reception committee for the Denver biennial. This committee, which meets this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the parlors of the Brunswick with the most prominent members of the club.

There are now twenty-two clubs and clubs in Utah, and Mrs. Nichols, the mother of Dorothy and Marjorie Nichols, is the president of the Utah Federation of Clubs, which is to meet in Salt Lake in September. The Federation work is the construction and maintenance of a building for the use of the different clubs. The Reading club has had its meeting place in the Templeton building for many years, and you will hear of our work from there.

It is the desire of Mrs. Nichols to remind the fact that the unprecedented drive having created many thousand dollars, it will be necessary for every member to raise at least fifty dollars from the others to have the work honorably successful.

AMUSEMENTS.

The second recital of the pupils of Mr. C. K. Bennett was held at the Assembly Hall last night before an audience that filled every seat in the house. The performers of the evening, as usual, had the effect of keeping many away.

The program was made up of selections both vocal and piano, which, taken as a whole, were enough to appeal to the most critical. Good as an hour and succeeded in dashing each number making what would otherwise have been a pleasant evening to sit for prospective pupils.

At future recitals Mr. Bennett should cut his program or positively forbid encores. The latter part of last night's recital from many of its best numbers and in the hands of the restless audience resulted in disorderliness. Very creditable. Those deserving of special mention are: Miss Ethel Bennett, Miss Lucy Allen Peay, Harry Lee, Miss Lillie Corbet, Mary Morgan, Master Allie Bennett and Miss Carmelita Allen. Miss Jones was the accompanist. Her work was excellent.

Wadley Family Reunion.

The members of the Thirteenth ward propose celebrating the anniversary of the birth of their former Bishop, E. D. Woolley, on Monday, the 27th inst., and the family and family relatives also contemplate being there to have a good time. All friends and acquaintances of the Wadley family are likewise invited. are cordially invited. The train carrying them to the Lagoon will leave at 11 a. m.

Wedding Bells.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Pearson left for Chicago last evening in which city they will spend a part of their honeymoon. The young couple were married in the Temple earlier in the day and subsequently received the congratulations of numerous friends. The bride was Miss Corey Lindsay of Taylorville and the groom the principal of the seventh ward school at Cedar City which will be their future home.

At the residence of the bride's parents on First North street last evening Miss Ella T. Hamlin and Samuel Austin Whitney were united in marriage, Chief Justice Zane performing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Whitney are both popular and well known Salt Lakers. Their friends are many and all wish them a long life of wedded bliss.

The home of Bishop and Mrs. Empey of the Thirteenth ward was the scene of a pleasant social gathering last evening. The event was in honor of Miss Ella Pace and Mr. E. J. Rhea, the two were married in the Temple the day. Mr. and Mrs. White will make their future home at Woodland, Summit county, as in the past.
