DISAPPEARANCE OF LONIE HAILEY

Young Lady Makes Elaborate
Preparations and Then Drives
From Home in Buggy.

FUNERAL OF GEORGE H. CORSE

Funeral of Mrs. Rasmie Neilson—
Booming Big Four County Fair—
—Vandalism at Depot.

Ogden, Aug. 28.—The police and members of the sheriff's office have been called upon to help locate Leonora Hailey, the daughter of Thomas Hailey, who has suddenly disappeared from her home, 243 Healy avenue. Although the girl left her home on Wednesday, nothing was thought about it until late yesterday afternoon, when she had failed to put in an appearance.

On Wednesday morning, while the girl's mother had gone to a meeting in the neighborhood, the girl who is called "Lonie" made preparations for leaving home. She first carefully ironed a number of dresses and other clothing and packed them in a valise. She then got the family horse and buggy and loaded her belongings into it, and drove away. As an extra precaution, the girl took a hat and a quilt and a $10 bill from her mother's purse.

She seemed to be able to pass from the neighborhood without being seen and has thus far baffled her parents as well as the officers, who together with many friends of the family, have kept up a diligent search for her. It is the opinion of the officers that the girl has driven to some friend in the country and is visiting there for a time and will return in a few days.

FUNERAL OF MRS. NEILSON.
The funeral service over the remains of Mrs. Rasmie Neilson, who died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Thurston Wednesday evening, will be held this afternoon at the Huntsville meetinghouse. The deceased, who had attained the age of 82 years, was an active member in the Latter-day Saints Church, having been baptized in 1873. She had resided in Utah 34 years, most of the time in Huntsville. The deceased is survived by five children, nine grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

VANDALISM AT DEPOT.
Vigorous steps are being taken by Depot Master George Cunningham to put a stop to the numerous acts of vandalism that have been committed around the Union depot and in the waiting rooms. The furniture and other property have been mutilated and marked upon and have in many other ways been the target for the malicious mischief maker. Instructions have been issued to every employee of the depot company to place under arrest anyone found marking upon the walls, furniture, doors or other property of the depot property.

The acts of vandalism also extend to the beautiful grounds, which are pronounced the prettiest in the interior mountain region. Flower beds are trampled upon and the flowers plucked. Several arrests have been made recently and more will probably follow until the vandalism is stopped.

MORE TROUBLE FOR SANITARIUM.
The Shupe-Williams Candy company has filed a claim in the intervention against the Ogden Canyon Sanitarium company, to recover $244.80 and costs. The hearing in the case of the J. H. The case promises to be one of the hardest fought in the district court in many months, when it comes to trial.

Special Correspondence.
Nephi, Aug. 27.—The funeral of John Adams, who died Monday, was held in the tabernacle yesterday, the speakers being Presidents J. W. Paxman, Charles Sperry and J. W. Ord. Bishop William H. Pettigrew, and Elder Samuel Brinton, John Adams was born at Bucklebury, Berkshire, England, Aug. 12, 1837; was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints Jan. 21, 1849; came to Utah in 1862, crossing the plains with Homer

Duncan's ox train, walking the entire distance from Florence, Neb., to Salt Lake City. He with his wife and two children arrived and settled in Nephi, Sept. 29, 1862, where he has resided ever since. He took part in the Black Hawk Indian war. He also assisted in the construction of many of the public and private buildings here in the early days. John Adams was devoted to his family, to his religion and to the welfare of his fellow man. He held many minor offices in the church from that of deacon to high councilman of the Juab stake of Zion.

John Adams leaves surviving him his widow, Sarah A. Adams, and her son, Mervin. Henry Adams, Alice Carter and H. J. Christenson, children of his first wife, Jane Adams, who died many years ago; also leaves 19 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren. He was a kind, loving and affectionate husband and father, and honest citizen.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.
Miss Stella Brown met with a severe accident the other day while coming down Salt Creek canyon just above the Plaster mills. The horse attached to the buggy became frightened through one end of the shafts coming down and commenced to run. Two smaller girls who were with her jumped from the rig, when the buggy upset, bruising Miss Brown considerably about her head and face and body, but no bones were broken.

Representatives from the B. Y. U., Provo, were here Sunday, and at the afternoon and evening services urged young people who are going away to school to attend the Provo Institution. Several excellent vocal and instrumental selections were rendered.

Jacob Coleman, the county clerk, leaves for Stanford University, Cal., today to take a course in law.

ST. GEORGE.
FRUIT FESTIVAL.
Early Products of Southern Utah Experiment Farm Sampled.
Special Correspondence.
St. George, Washington Co., Aug. 24.—One of the finest fruit festivals ever held in this county, and probably in the state, was given by the Utah Experiment station, under the auspices of the St. George Commercial club, at the residence of Frank G. Miles, on the evening of Aug. 21. On a well lighted, spacious lawn stood four long tables, end-to-end. They groined beneath the weight of many hundreds of pounds of beautiful and choice fruit, such as the station is noted for. Fantastically arranged in rows, came, and pyramids were tomatoes, cantaloupes, cut watermelons, plums, peaches, peaches and choice grapes, etc., and festoons and streamers formed of grape vines laden with the natural fruit of the vine made the most tempting and appetizing sight it has been one's opportunity to behold for many a day.

After the rendition of an excellent program, consisting of songs, speeches and instrumental music, the master of ceremonies, Hon. D. H. Morris, bade all help themselves, and not to stop until all of the fruit had been disposed of, including an additional wagon load of watermelons and another of cantaloupes, that could not find a place on the heavily burdened tables. It goes without saying that after the 200 invited guests, including members of the Commercial club, county and city officers, and leading citizens and their families, had partaken until satisfied, many basketsful were remaining. This the foreman of the station, Mr. Joseph T. Atkin, very appropriately bade all of the departing guests help themselves.

This process of carrying away was more effective in relieving the tables and wagons than was the eating process. The object in holding the festival was to display some of the earlier varieties of fruit from the station which reach their best before the holding of the annual county fair in September.

Before the festival was adjourned, Mayor F. L. Daggett offered the following resolution, which was vociferously and unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, that it be the sense of this gathering that a vote of thanks be tendered President Whitsoe, and the faculty of the Agricultural college, Dr. Ball, director of the experiment station, and Joseph T. Atkin, superintendent of the southern Utah experiment station, for the elegant display of fruit furnished for the occasion."
