HAVERHILL, Mass., 11.—A shock of earthquake was felt this morning at Mount Washington. The shock jingled the chandelier pendants, opened the inside blinds and awakened the people from their slumbers. It was not noticed in the centre of the city but felt in Georgetown.

The court house shook several seconds, the crockery, etc., on the hotel tables rattled and some fell making the guests start from their seats. A shock was felt here about 12.30, and a few minutes later the hotel on Rockaway Beach was shaken, the doors and windows rattled loud enough to be heard a considerable distance, and the outer doors of other buildings were closed by its force.

MEXICO, via Galveston, 11.—At Calera, on the Mexican Central railway, yesterday, a Mexican peon insisted against orders upon walking on the wall of the round house. Being irritated, finally he was knocked off by an American, whom the police, instead of arresting, beat with clubs until the man was rescued by Americans and taken up the railroad to Fresnillo. The mayor of Calera is supposed to have instigated the trouble, having always been inimical to Americans. He caused the arrest of 12 men employed at the station, including the train dispatcher and telegraphers and imposed fines and sentences of imprisonment without trial. On representing the case to the Minister of the Interior, orders were sent for their release, but instead of complying with the orders, the mayor compelled the prisoners to clean the streets. American railroad men have threatened vengeance. The Federal authorities, however, will take prompt action to avoid further trouble.

The twelve railroad employees (American) arrested at Calera Saturday were, with the exception of three, released upon the payment of a small fine. The three retained were ordered to Zacatecas for trial. The federal authorities are assuring fair treatment.

GALVESTON, 11.—News Terrill, Texas, special; Bill Dougherty and Jack Gray, young ranchers residing at Sand Prairie, in the southern part of this county, were the principals in a desperate duel fought yesterday evening, in which both men were wounded, Gray fatally. The trouble grew out of a feud of long standing, and as the only adjustment they agreed to go to an isolated place and use revolvers until one or both fell. At the appointed time both were on time, and without parley commenced action, both using single action, 45 calibre. After the first fire the men changed positions and began at will, Dougherty receiving one of Gray's three shots in the arm, while Gray at Dougherty's fifth shot fell with a bullet in the lower part of his back. This ended the battle and both men were cared for by their friends, who from a distance had watched the bloody encounter.

DENVER, 11.—An excursion train yesterday morning carried several hundred people 20 miles south of Denver to see a fight between John P. Clow of Denver and Geo. A. Morrison, of Leadville, for the championship of Colorado. Both men were badly used up. At the end of the sixth round one of the spectators reached over the rope and struck Clow. This started a rough and tumble fight, 30 or 40 men participating. The sheriff had disarmed the crowd before leaving the train, which probably prevented a terrible fight. The sheriff and posse succeeded in dragging the combatants apart before any serious injury was done. In the meantime the referee called time and decided in favor of Clow.

It is now asserted that Dickenson had been using the bank funds for private ventures in stock; his margins, however, were small, but he averted suspicion by putting small sums to his credit in a large number of offices. He lived at Brush Fork, on Beaver Dam. The masked men then shot and killed two of the "Mormon" elders. The third Elder ran toward the woods, from which firing was soon heard. The Elder has not been seen since, and it is supposed he also was killed. It has been since ascertained that the masked men before going to Condor's house stopped at the house of a man named Garrett, near Condor's house, and found a "Mormon" Elder there. They left two masked men in charge of this Elder. Shooting was heard there shortly afterward and that Elder has not been seen since. When the firing commenced at Condor's house, one elder hid behind Mrs. Condor, and in shooting at him Mrs. Condor was wounded.

WASHINGTON, 12.—A horrible story is published in the New York Times of the starving survivors of the Greely party being crazed by starvation and having fed on the dead bodies of their comrades, and that written documents in possession of the Navy Department substantiate the terrible narrative. It has created a great sensation here and Admiral Nichols, acting Secretary of the navy was shortly besieged by newspaper men anxious to ascertain something official concerning the publication. The admiral says there is absolutely nothing in the navy department confirming the story and he doubts its truth. It is possible however a report this nature may have gone out.

A resolution was adopted demanding the passage of a law prohibiting the giving of work to other than Union men.

A circular antagonistic to Governor Cleveland, signed by the workmen, has been introduced, and a number of attempts to offer a resolution relating to it were ruled out of order or not brought properly before the convention.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., 12.—The democratic convention to nominate State officers, met here to-day. Ex-Governor Hardin was elected permanent chairman. The report of the committee on resolutions was delayed until evening by a contest over the tariff question, the national plank on that subject meeting with opposition. A platform was finally reported and adopted without discussion. It simply endorses the declaration of principles made by the democratic national convention recently held in Chicago, and pledges an earnest support to Cleveland and Hendricks. The action of the Missouri delegation in the Forty-eighth Congress is also briefly approved. Attention is called at some length to the economical and faithful administration of every department of the State government since it passed into the hands of the democracy. The remaining planks consist of congratulations to the people of the State in the reduction of the Missouri debt of about ten millions, the enlargement of the public school fund and the material reduction of taxation; declares the democratic party originated the public school system of Missouri, and stands pledged to maintain popular education in the State, and concludes with the statement that

The authorities of the town and the majority of the population fled. Four thousand Chinese troops, recently arrived from Shanghai, retired into the interior. The British Vice-Consul went on board the English gunboat, having previously sent a protest to Admiral Lespes against French occupation, and pointing out that Kelung was protected under a treaty with England. The French upon landing, seized many junks and embargoed several steamers hailing from Shanghai, on the ground that their papers were irregular. Floquet exclaiming: "You have pronounced condemnation upon Comte de Paris. We will execute it." Treppet resumed his speech, and said he hoped no Congress which assembled March 4th, 1889, would replace the monarchy.
