BREVITIES.

An item is a dramatic bill of fare—the theatrical supe.
Only eight soldiers of the first Napoleon are alive.
What railway charges always are—fare enough.—Fun.
The Great "Liberal Party"—George Peabody, Esq.—Judy.
Velocipedes can be "called from the stand" and hired like cabs in Paris.
In England the prices of new varieties of grape vines, sell from $1 to $20 each.
In order to establish themselves in the world, men do all they can to appear established there.
A case of the Grecian bend is reported in Springfield. It was an Irishman over a saw horse.
A list of the names of bar-room keepers in St. Louis fills four columns of the Missouri Democrat.
Queen bees live from three to four years, the workers nine months, and the drones until they are killed.
Raspberries are said to grow better if planted in rows like a hedge and cut back to a height of three feet.
If a gentleman marries, the lady must be won before they are married—afterward they are both one.
There are 400 noblemen to every square mile of Hungary, and one to every eighteen of the population.
The best eating in Germany is at Hamburg. The richest made dishes are at Prague. The worst cuisine at Trieste.
A new process has been discovered of making ice by compression, and it is said to be entirely practicable.
"What are you doing with my microscope, George?" "I've been shaving, father, and I want to see if there are any hairs in the ether."
Written agreements should be drawn up as shortly as possible; for parties are sure to agree best between whom there are the fewest words.
It is said that there are more agricultural implements in the new State of Iowa, than in Germany, Spain, Italy, Turkey, Russia, Africa, and Asia.
The heat at Baden and Homburg has been so great that in some instances people have actually burned their fingers at the gaming tables.—Fun.
Some one in the interior of New York claims to have captured the champion mosquito. It is 4 1/2 inches in length. Twelve dollars has been refused for it.
Niagara has found a rival in the Victoria Falls on the Zambesi river, South Africa, which are about nineteen hundred yards wide, and four hundred feet deep.
When the Indians plundered a freight car in Nebraska, they tied yards of calico to the tails of their ponies and went careering over the plains with the long trains streaming behind.
The widow of Stonewall Jackson has presented to David Macrae, of Glasgow, the coat worn by him when he fell on the battle field of Chancellorsville. It is to be placed in some public museum in Scotland.
At the village of Graulhet, France, a man recently sold his horse and wife together for forty dollars, and the wife duly ratified the contract, by administering a sound thrashing to her degenerate better half.
The latest thing in championship matches is a "grand convention and tournament" of all the brass bands in Indiana. A pure silver cornet is to be the badge of championship, and the match takes place near Franklin next month.
The Burial Board of Carlisle, England, has been bigoted enough to refuse a daughter the privilege of placing on the tombstone of her father the words, "Not lost, but gone before," because he had been an actor and clerk of a race course.
Nicolas Low set a pear scion in Moses Parson's orchard, in Norway, Me., in a thorn stump, in May, 1863, and it has grown sixteen feet two inches by actual measurement, and twelve and a half inches in circumference. It bore seven large pears this season that came to maturity.
An old picture represents a king sitting in state, with a label, "I govern all;" a bishop with a legend, "I pray for all;" a soldier with a motto, "I fight for all;" and a farmer drawing forth reluctantly a purse, with the inscription, "I pay for all."
Fred Douglass said at the Equal Rights Convention that a few years ago the only luxury he enjoyed was a whole seat in a car. Even that luxury he did not have now. The other night he was riding muffled up in his blanket, when some one asked him for half his seat. He stuck out his head and replied, "I'm a nigger." "I don't care what the d—l you are—I want a seat!"
The coal oil fiend is killing its victims by the dozen, weekly. Anything which will avert the danger should be known. The Burlington Argus says: "The explosion is caused by a practice of neglecting to cut off the charred portion of the wick when the lamp is filled; observation will show that in a few days' use the wick becomes like charcoal in composition, for an inch below the top of the tube containing it, and after the lamp has burned for a short time, the heated tube fires all of the charred portion of the wick inside, and that sets the oil on fire below; this may be prevented by cutting off a sufficient portion of the charred wick each day after using the lamp."
