

THE COAL COMBINE.

Utah Pacific Alone Can Prevent It from Destruction Now.

THAT ROAD STANDING ALONE.

Refuse to Sign the Combine Articles of Agreement and Ask the "Little Fellow" to Make Concessions.

The announcement in the New York Herald that the coal combine of this city was near the point of destruction, created, as was fully expected, a stir of considerable proportions in business circles. To all it was a surprise, the most pronounced sentiment for such evidence do not usually allow themselves to be overcome by a combination of matters however serious they may be to their existence.

But conditions have not changed today and although there have been no new developments since the evening of the "little fellow" article, the combine's fate on life has very nearly expired and the very near future will determine and express to the country the result.

That the Utah Pacific will not be among the survivors when that time comes is a foregone conclusion. The combine's fate on life has very nearly expired and the very near future will determine and express to the country the result.

SCIENTIFIC EXPEDITION.

Dr. Talmage and Party Going to Grand Canyon, Colorado.

Will Travel by Rail to Point and From There by Pack Mule.

The officials of the University of Utah and the Desert Museum have arranged for a scientific expedition to leave this city next Monday.

The party will be made up of the following: President J. E. Talmage, as director, Prof. Matthews, and Prof. Neal, of the faculty, and probably others, and Mr. Johnson, Mr. Cunningham, Mr. Forsberg, and several others.

The plan is to go to the Grand Canyon, where the party will be accompanied by southern people, there taking horses and pack-mules and going by way of Park Lake to the mouth of the Colorado River.
