

CONFERENCE OF M. I. ASSOCIATIONS

Three Profitable Meetings Held
Yesterday in the Tabernacle.

REMARKS BY PREST. SMITH.

General Officers Presented and Sustained—Interesting Addresses by Pres. E. S. Taylor and Others.

The eighth general conference of the Young Men's and Young Ladies' Mutual Improvement associations of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, was continued yesterday, meetings being held in the Tabernacle at 10 a. m. and at 2 and 7:30 p. m. At the morning meeting the music was furnished by the Temple choir under the leadership of Prof. C. J. Thomas, while at the afternoon and evening meetings the singing was by the Tabernacle choir under the direction of Prof. Stephens. Prof. J. J. McClellan officiated at the organ. The meetings were interesting throughout, and the remarks made were full of authority, and to those engaged in Mutual Improvement work and the reports given showed the associations to be in a healthy condition. The weather was all that could be desired, and as a result the meetings were well attended, the afternoon session especially, revealing the presence of a magnificent assemblage of Mutual Improvement workers. President Joseph F. Smith presided.

The Temple choir and congregation sang "Come, Come, Let Us Sing," which was offered by Elder Jonathan J. Kimball. Miss Lettie Owen then rendered the solo: "O Lord Most Holy."

OPENING REMARKS.

President Elmina S. Taylor of the Young Ladies' associations, offered a few opening remarks, in which she expressed the thought that the work of Mutual Improvement had been a blessing to all the young people of Zion, she urged obedience on the part of the young to those in authority, and as she believed this was the only beneficial and safe course to pursue.

PRESIDENT JOSEPH F. SMITH.

President Joseph F. Smith next spoke. He referred in high terms to the integrity and whole-souled devotion to the work of God, of Sister Taylor, and expressed thankfulness that the Lord had spared her life to be present at this conference.

The speaker then dwelt upon the manifestations of the Spirit of God, and pointed out the necessity for continued faithfulness, that the Lord might be pleased with our conduct and be led to pour out His blessings upon us. These blessings and manifestations, he said, were sometimes with-drawn from us for a purpose, as though the Lord desired to test our faithfulness and to prove to His own satisfaction that we were worthy of His blessings. The experiences of the Saints in this respect produced within them a testimony of the Lord's work, and one which would remain with them as long as they were permitted to live upon the earth.

President Smith took up the subject of the justice and wisdom of God in permitting His children to be deprived of loved ones, and pointed out the folly of the characters of the Father with His love and dropping all hope of eternal life as a result.

The speaker related a dream he had at a time when he was depressed, and which he was led to a beautiful place where he was privileged to meet the Prophet Joseph, who reproved him for being late. He admitted being late, and said that he was late because he had been bathed and put on a clean garment, whereupon the Prophet bade him welcome and smiled as though fully satisfied with the answer. At this place he met his father, President Brigham Young and others of the servants of God, whose very presence thrilled his whole being and made him feel that the dream was as much of a reality as any earthly condition he had ever been called upon to experience.

President Smith referred to his being baptized in this valley when a boy by President Heber C. Kimball, at which time there came upon him a testimony of the divinity of the work. He closed with a strong exhortation to faithfulness.

ACHIEVEMENTS FOR THE YEAR.

Sarah Edgington of the Young Ladies' general board, then spoke upon Mutual Improvement achievements for the year 1902-3. She stated that the Young Ladies' associations throughout the Church had an enrollment of over 23,000 souls, exclusive of officers, who numbered nearly 2,000. The general board, comprising 24 members, held 16 meetings during the year, six of them being held conjointly with the young men. The board had visited 24 stakes, and had traveled 1,600 miles by rail and 1,050 miles by stage and carriage. It had sent two representatives to the Women's council in Washington and one to the International Council in Copenhagen, where a great deal of good had been accomplished. Twenty-six members of the associations were in the world as helps to missionaries, and they also were doing a good work. The stake officers' meetings during the year had been very successful, and over 100 local offers of home had been held. The excellent work of the associations generally was referred to, and the mothers were commended for their services were so much needed. Now, however, through their efforts, the young girls had been prepared for responsibilities and they were not assuming them and assisting man-fully with the work in hand. The speaker touched upon the lessons of the young ladies' associations and said they had been of great benefit to every member, in music much was being accomplished, this department having attracted attention among the girls. The Young Ladies' Journal was also advancing, 10,000 copies of this periodical being printed, as against 8,000 for the previous year.

Elder Thomas H. Hull, general secretary of the Young Men's associations, spoke with a reference to the organization of Mutual Improvement associations by President Brigham Young, and said that the object of such associations was to inculcate within the minds of the young men a love for the Gospel and to fit and prepare them for the work of the ministry. In this respect the associations had been a great success. They had prepared hundreds of young men for the mission field, and from their ranks Bishops and presidents of stakes had been selected to such an extent that the Mutual Improvement associations were now looked upon as the "finders" of those able to assume responsibility. At present the Young Men's associations had in the mission field, and were doing a noble work as ambassadors for Christ of the principles of His Gospel. During the past few years even Manuals had been prepared.

erling a wide range of subjects, including the life of Jesus, the apostolic age, the dispensation of the Father, the times and the fundamental principles of the Gospel. The publication of the Era had marked an epoch in the history of Mutual Improvement work. It was started without capital but through the support given it by the various associations it had gradually worked its way to the front and was today regarded as one of the best periodicals in the Church. The missionaries, to whom it was being sent without charge, were lavish in their praise of its value as an aid in the spread of the principles of truth, and while during the past five years it had cost in the neighborhood of $100,000, it was felt that the good accomplished fully justified the outlay. In closing Elder Hull paid high tribute to President Smith for the assistance he had been to the general board of the Young Men's associations.

The afternoon session was opened by the Tabernacle choir singing, "Ye simple souls who stray." Prayer was offered by Elder H. S. Tanner. The choir sang the anthem, "The Nations Bow," the solo being rendered by Mrs. Lizzie Thomas Edwaird.

ADDRESS BY MRS. MCGUNE.

Mrs. Elizabeth C. McGune, a member of the general board of the Y. L. M. I. A., was the first speaker. She said she felt that the Latter-day Saints were a people of great faith, and especially so when they were called upon to address the people. The speaker said she was highly gratified to see such a magnificent congregation, and had been led to wonder why so many more attended the afternoon meeting than were present at the morning session. The morning meeting had been an inspiration to her and she was sure that those who were absent had missed one of the opportunities of their lives.

Mrs. McGune referred to her trip to South America, where she said she had been brought in contact with many of the upper classes, to whom she had a splendid opportunity of presenting the Gospel. The people of South America were very much interested in the work, but they were kind and hospitable, especially those who lived there as ministers of foreign nations. The speaker referred to having been personally requested by one of the latter to explain the principles of the Gospel, an opportunity which she was only too pleased to take advantage of. These people were very much interested in "Mormonism" and she believed the seeds sown would result in an abundant harvest in the future. She said she had been afforded her life in bearing testimony and relating the story of the "Mormons" to the foreign minister of Brazil. This gentleman was much affected by what she had heard and at the speaker's personal solicitation he made a promise that should any of the "Mormon" missionaries ever come to that land to proclaim their message, he would assist them in every way possible. Other influential gentlemen made similar promises, which gave the speaker much joy and satisfaction.

ECONOMICS DISCUSSED.

"Economics for Young People" was the subject for an excellent address by Mrs. Adella W. Barclay, who argued that young men should acquaint their wives with their income in order that they might be able to govern their expenditures accordingly. Articles bought at bargain counters, when not needed, were dear at any cost. Young people should keep within their means, and the girls should economize and use the means entrusted to their care judiciously.

Their Skiffs Upset by Waves from a Passing Steamer.

Memphis, Tenn., May 30.—Sixteen negroes, composing two families of cotton plantation hands, were drowned last night in the Mississippi river near Pecon Point, forty miles north of this city. They left the Chinese plantation after dark in two skiffs. Waves from a passing vessel capsize the frail boats and all hands save one went down. An earl, Will, escaped by clinging to an earl. Seven bodies have been recovered.

WAS FOUND DEAD.

Commissioner Sutherland of Blaine County, Idaho.

He did not return and today a searching party found him. His skull was crushed and indications were that he had been thrown from his horse.

CLOSING REMARKS.

President Smith was the closing speaker. He said in part: "I feel to express my gratitude and unqualified approval of all that has been heard and sung here today. I am grateful to God that these young men and young women, who have expressed to me the love of the Father, the spirit of their fathers and the spirit of the prophets. I am proud that we have such earnest workers in our midst, and that the boys and girls, the men and women, and all who have taken part." President Smith also thanked the choir and the soloists and all who had taken part in the conference. He also announced that today the one hundred and second anniversary of the birth of President Brigham Young would be celebrated and bore testimony to the fact that President Young was a man of God led by His power.

The choir sang the anthem: "There's a Sound From the Vale," and after benediction by Miss Alice K. Smith, conference adjourned for no year.

More Than Fifty Persons Were Injured.

Eighth of a Mile—Carling for The Wounded.

Mrs. H. C. Smith of Los Angeles will probably die from her severe injuries, and Frank Christmas, a San Francisco traveling man, is in a serious condition. He is suffering from internal injuries as well as external cuts and bruises.

Responsibility of the White Race

New York, June 1.—"To the white race belongs the responsibility for the condition of the black man in the south, and the people of that section of our country have no right to nullify the fourteenth amendment by the suppression of the negro vote," said the Rev. Dr. David Gregg, who was applauded several times during his sermon on "Has the City War-timed Anything?" in the Lafayette Avenue Presbyterian Ave. church, Brooklyn.

Dr. Gregg elaborated upon the cause of the "Civil War" and the horrors as an illustration of what should not again be gone through with and said that, unless this southern negro question were taken up immediately by wise heads on both sides, and quickly brought to an amicable settlement, he felt morally certain there would be an uprising, the result of which could not be predicted. There was every indication, he believed, that the south was gradually drifting back to slavery, and this has been doing for some time.

Dr. Gregg also referred to the fact that the south was gradually drifting back to slavery, and this has been doing for some time.

IN BREATHITT COUNTY.

Trial of Jett and White Declared to Be Simply a Farce.

Lexington, Ky., May 31.—The Herald tomorrow will publish a sensational review with a citizen of Jackson, now here, in which he gives his views as to what may be expected when the troops are withdrawn from Breathitt county. After reviewing conditions, he argues that no permanent good will result from the presence of the troops and the pending trials, but on the contrary that they will only aggravate the troubles that have cursed Breathitt county.

The trial of the accused in Breathitt county, under present conditions, he says, is a farce, and when the troops are removed there will either be an exodus of anti-Hargis men or a bloody feud, much bloodier than any that has heretofore happened in Kentucky.

He intimates that certain country officials are interested in securing an acquittal of the men accused of the murder, and predicts that they therefore will acquit. Nothing was found, and then "God only knows what will happen."

Advices from Jackson say that Sunday was a quiet day. Saturday night was very quiet, and the troops were not disturbed. The troops were not disturbed, and the troops were not disturbed.

OUTRAGES ON LITTLE GIRLS.

Two Barbers of Leadville Are Charged with the Crime.

Leadville, Colo., May 31.—Indignation is very strong against Charles and Stephen Smith, the two barbers who were last night charged with the outraging of six little girls here, the facts being secured against the men by the officers. It is alleged, revealed a condition of degeneracy never before equaled in the country.

The stories as told by the little ones, all of whom are under 14 years of age, are so revolting for publication that the officials state that they have proof that the deeds have been carrying on their lustful practices for over three years, and that many little girls have been enticed by them into their clutches.
