He Credits Cleveland With Being Responsible in Large Measure For Parker's Defeat.

IS VERY SORE AT THE DEMOCRATS

He Has No Faith Whatever That Reforms Will Be Accomplished By Their Party.

New York, Nov. 13 .- Thomas L. Watson today gave out the following statement "It should be borne in mind that at the time the Springfield convention tendered me the presidential nomination the People's party had no real existence as a factor in national politics for eight years. In the presidential election of 1900 it gave to its nominee only 500 votes. To that extent had the fusion of 1986 swallowed up a movement which included nearly 2,000,000 of voters and about 1,500 active newspapers.

"Therefore, we had to build from the ground up in 1894. We had almost nothing to start with in the way of party organization, campaign funds and newspaper support; we had only three months in which to work. These things being first considered, some fair idea of what was accomplished can be had oly when the official returns are "Up to this time no official statement has been made of the vote, and I can only guess what it was from information conveyed to me by friends in various parts of the country. These sources of course, are not very reliable. Basing an estimate upon them, however, my opinion is that I received something like states, north and south, east and west, as to indicate that the sentiment which gives its moral support to the People's seriy is national and not sectional.

I have found everywhere that the current was strong and deep in favor of Jeffersonian Democracy. I believe today that if all those who believe in that theory of government could be usited in harmonious action we could sweep the country.

"Mr. Roosevelt's overwhelming ma-jority was not so much due to the fact that our people believe in class legislation, and the reign of special privileges, it was not by any means an indorse ment of corporation tyranny, the greed the trusts or the methods of combind capital. Mr. Roosevelt's ma-jority over Mr. Parker was due mainly to two things

CAUSES OF PARKER'S DEFEAT.

"One was the immense personal unpopularity of Mr. Cleveland's second administration. Unfortunately for Mr. Parker, he became so completely identi-fed with the marauders who plundered the government during Cleveland's sec-and administration that he had to bear ill the odium which they had incurred.

The people have never had a chance to show just what they thought of that mission than to relax the grasp which the great railway corporations have up on the commercial throat of the southon the commercial throat of the south-ern states, a grasp which is maintained by the alifance between Democratic bosses and Wall street financial kings then it would have sufficient mission to warrishi its continued existence. "My own state of Georgia is as com-pletely under the thumb of Morgan and Belmont, one of whom controls the Southern railway combine, tha other of whom controls the Louisville & Nash-ville combine, as the state of Pennsyl-yania is under the control of the Peina-sylvania railroad, or the state of Wis-consin is under the control of those cor-SITUATION APPALLING. "The situation is simply appalling and would not be befieved by anybody who was not conversant with the facts. I expect to return home and open a campaign on the lines of Jeffersonian Democracy to take our state govern-ment out of the control of Morgan and Beimont and to put H in the control of the Georgia people, where it belongs.

"In nearly every southern state there is a similar contest to be waged against corporation tyranny. By the time the next presidential election rolls around there is every reason to believe that there will be sufficient mentiment in ravor of the reform principles which are embodied in the national platform of the people's party to win success at the Instance, Mr. Bryan's forty-seven dif-ferent systems of government rails roads; they may not be in favor of some other planks in his platform. Be that as it may, Mr. Bryan has no more that as it may, Mr. Bryan has no more right at the present to say what the Democratic platform shall be in 1908 than any other distinguished Democrat. "For the next four years the Demo-cratic creed must remain what the St. Louis convention of 1904 made it, and the machinery of the party must re-main the back of the party must rethe machinery of the party must re-main in the hands of the men who now hold it. The air still rings with the elo-quence with which Mr. Bryan indorsed the candidate of the St. Louis conven-tion, spoke of him as the Moses of Democracy; spoke of Parker's ideals as his own ideals and proclaimed the 'sin-carite' with which he mes advection cerity' with which he was advocating both the platform and the nomince of 1904. "Mr. Bryan himself will remain for "Mr. Bryan himself will remain for four years as much bound by the action of the St. Louis convention as he was when he made his whiriwind trip through Indiana. If the action at the convention bound him then it binds him now. The election did not release him. He can only be released by an-other national convention, and the national convention will not meet till 1908.

ST. LOUIS PLATFORM.

"Therefore, when Mr. Bryan cuts loose from the platform which he so recently asked the people to indorse in behalf of Judge Parker, he takes a po-sition which is that of Bryan the in-dividual, and which can not bind any other Democrat whatsoever. For four years the Democratic party has got to stand by the action of the St. Louis convention whether it wishes to do so or not. What it did there is official and binding. Mr. Bryan himself gave t his sanctlo

"Again, Mr. Bryan has no substan-tial reason for believing that he can ever get the national Democratic party to adopt the Populist program which he has just formulated. The Democratic party never did do it, and the presumption is that it never will. The plutocratic element has just as much power within the party now as it had when the St. Louis convention met. Indeed, it has more. It has all the ma-chinery now which the Bryan men then had: it has the same control over the newspapers which it then had; there-fore, it is as certain as anything can be that it will again be able to defeat Mr. Bryan in the national convention when he comes before it with his Populist platform.

POWER OF PLUTOCRATS. "Suppose, however, that he should be scoad administration. Mr. Bryan's victorious over the plutocrats in the international convention—can they not superiority. It was only when the old knife him as successfully as they did in 1896? Is it not absolutely certain that they are just as much joined to their idols now as they were then? Will they not be as desperate and unscrupulous in knifing their own ticket as they were in 1895? Every argument based on human nature says they will "Then, if Mr. Bryan should win the nomination on his Populist platform in 1896, the plutocratic element in his own party will bar his progress andcompass his defeat just as it did before. "Again, suppose that the plutocratic element should triumph over Mr.Bryan in 1908 as it did in 1904, then Mr. Bryan will have to submit just as he did submit in 1904-after having de-clared publicly and positively that he yould never support a gold standard nominee of the Democratic party, "Mr. Bryan could not bolt in The time to have done that was 1904, That opportunity will not return. He himself has set the example of submitting to what was wrong because, al-though it was wrong, it was regular.

Blood Poison, hereditary or contracted, pollutes the system with a polson that, unarrested, effects disastrous ravages throughout the -human anatomy. Soon ulcers form in the mouth and throat, rose and copper-colored spots appear on the body and often buboes form in the groin, the scalp hecomes discussed and the hair and eyebrows fall out, the whole surface of the face and body finally becoming covered with horrible sores. In the third stage the hard tissues, the bones and the ligaments are attacked, the actual frame-work of the body putrifies, the whole human organism becomes a mass of corruption and the pitiful victim cries for death to end the awful sufferings.

"In short, the Democratic party has this hopeless situation: The Bryan-ites cannot drive out the plutocratic element, the plutocratic element cannot drive out Mr. Bryan.

JEFFERSONIAN DEMOCRACY,

"I should be only too glad to cooperate on parallel lines and honorable terms with any Jeffersonian Democrat like Mr, Bryan or Mr. Hearst or George Fred Williams to accomplish a purpose which is common to us all, but I bewhich is common to us all, but I be-lieve that the best way to assure the final success of the referm movement is for us to build up a party of Jeffer-sonian Democracy on solid foundations where unity of sentiment goes hand in hand with unity of purpose, and where, therefore some hops of accomplishing therefore, some hope of accomplishing that which we wish to accomplish can be reasonably entertained.

"In the south there are peculiar reasons why the present policy of the Democratic leaders should be defeated, and a better line of policy adopted. For the last 25 or 20 years the Democratic machine politicians have made that great section a mere tool in the hands of Wall street and a handful of eastern Democrats who have no purpose in common with us, and who use the elec-toral vote of the solid south for their own selfish purposes.

"In this manner our southern coun-try, which is an empire in itself, has been made a province for a few great financial magnates who exploit it their private gain without the slightest reference to the welfare of the south-ern people. The situation is pitiable, The degredation of it finds expression in the phrase. The solid south would vote for a yelley dog on the Democratic ticket.'

AS A SOUTHERN MAN.

"As a southern man, I am ashamed of such a state of affairs. They exhaust their strength with internal struggles, leaving the party where its enemies can always defeat it at the poles. There is this further weakness in the program of Mr. Bryan: The plutecratic element has shown that it can safely defy him and combat him, al-though he is the nominee, whereas he submits to them when they put up a plutocratic nominee

"From a party so hopelessly divided it is the rankest folly. In my judgment, to expect any reforms. From year to year it is a dreary go round and round of one faction fighting another faction, each of which alternately whips the other and neither of which ever whips

"As a southern man I am ashamed of such a state of affairs, and resent it profoundly. If I can do anything toward accomplishing the political inde-pendence of my can people from this slavish servitude to a handful of Wall street politicians, I consider it a duty
