FORT DOUGLAS TO BE INSPECTED

Will Perform the Duty.

CONDITION OF THE ARMY. FEE IS FIXED AT 25 CENTS.

Very Satisfactory Under the Circumstances-Few Men Left are Overworked.

Colonel Frank D. Baldwin, inspector general, U. S. army, for the department of Missouri and Colorado, arrived in the city today and is stopping at the Kenyon hotel. To a representative of this newspaper today Col. Baldwin said his visit here was necessitated by his duties as inspector general, and that he would begin the inspection of Fort Douglas on Monday, continuing the same through the week, and that he expected to complete his duties here by the end of next week.

"I find," said the colonel, "that the army is far below its efficiency of two years ago, before the commencement of the Spanish war. At that time the United States army was one of the finest in the world. This deterioration in efficiency is not, however, due to any lack of enthusiasm or natural ability on the part of our officers and soldiers, but is caused by overwork of both. Here at Fort Douglass, as you know, where there should be a full regiment of men you have a single company only. All the posts througout the country are proportionately manned, numerically speaking, and it is impossible for so few men to keep their posts in order and at the same time continue the drill work prerequisite to thorough and perfect efficiency.

"Most of our posts are commanded by young officers who are enthusiastle in their duty and who would keep up the old degree of efficiency provided the osts were sufficiently garrisoned."
"In the event that the United States

"In the event that the United States government decides to retain the islands, now under its care as a result of the Spanish war, will that necessitate an increase in the army?" was asked.
"If our present army organization were recruited up to its maximum strength it would number sixty-five thousand men. This would be ample for all purposes if the Filipinos and Cubans are given their independence. But bans are given their independence. But if the Philippine islands are retained it is difficult to say how many men will be required or how long they will be compelled to fight, for this guerilla warfare is likely to last for years. The masses of these people are a very degraded lot and almost incapable of

FREE FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

Col. Baldwin, Inspector General, Board of Education Concludes that it Shall be Done.

State Health Hoard to Issue a Proclamation-Subject Discussed Last Night.

The board of education committee on teachers and school work met last night with Dr. Beatty, secretary of the State board of health, and Dr. Keogh, city health commissioner, and resolved to enforce vaccination upon all school children as a safeguard against the entrance into the homes and schoolrooms of the dreadful disease of smallpox. The committee further determined to have issued a more effective rule touching preventive measures for other contagious diseases. The action taken will be recommended for adoption to the board, at a special meeting to be held Tuesday evening.

After a short discussion of the question in all its phases, the following resolutions were adopted:

"Resolved, that no pupil or teacher shall be permitted in the schools at the opening thereof on Jan. 8, 1900, who shall not present the certificate of a been vaccinated or give evidence of successful vaccination.

"Resolved, that the superintendent be empowered to arrange with the board of health for the vaccination of all pupils who may present themselves for that purpose, at a cost of not to exceed 25 cents each; provided, that the children of indigent parents shall be vaccinated free of expense."

Health Commissioner Keogh said that in no way could the imminent danger of a smallpox epidemic be reduced to a minimum in Salt Lake better than by compelling the vaccination of every person in the public schools, whether pupl or teacher. He added that he would try and have the city health department co-operate with the school board in making general vaccination effective. Within the past day or two, several vaccine points had been received from the east, and he did not think there was any occasion for alarm on that score.

Dr. Beatty, in speaking of the virtue of vaccination, said that no well informed person could show that anything but almost utter immunity from smallpox resulted from vaccination. He challenged anyone to cite an instance where any fatality ensued from the ap-plication of modern aseptic methods, and no one could name an instance of even an arm being lost from it. Beatty asserted that there was absolutely no danger from vaccination, and no one could gainsay He said that Utah was about the only State in the Union in which there were no compulsory vaccination laws, and for this reason he believed that if small pox should become epidemic in Salt Lake and other towns where the contagion has broken out, the result would be terrible. Chairman Critchlow affirmed that it was his opinion that the school board has a legitimate right to enforce vaccination of school children, when the disease has already broken out.

Dr. Beatty thought that the general powers granted by law to the State health board, are ample to require vaccination in the schools, but if there were any doubt about it he would favor throwing down the gauntlet now and testing the question In answer to a question by Mr. Critchow, Dr. Beatty said that all the 12,000 pupils and teachers could be treated during Christmas and New Years holidays if the vaccination was done in a wholesale way. He could vacciante at the rate of one a minute if he had an assistant to prepare the arms of the victims. Those who do not wish to have their arms marred, may have the vac cine applied on the leg above the knee

Dr. Beatty declared that on Monday the State board of health would issue a proclamation, ordering compulsory vaccination of all school children and teachers and recommending the same preventive to every person beyond the reach of the board, the recommendailon being based upon the fact of the presence of the disease in Salt Lake and other towns in the State. By general agreement the arrange ments for the vaccination campaign was left with Superintendent Cooper, the board concurring.

Mr. Moyle was willing to support the general proposition, but did not know about the compulsion. President Nelden doubted the school board's authority to act on the lines recommended, but Messrs, Critchiow, Walker and Young voted for and heartly supported the

After a brief discussion a resolution to abolish the evil was adopted for recommendation to the board. Following is the resolution:

"Resolved, that for sanitary reasons all curtains in any school rooms of the city be removed before the opening of schools after the Christmas holidays and that they be not replaced at any Quite an extended argument was indulged in, on the necessity of disinfect-ing text books, apparatus and everything in the school rooms by the fre-quent application of formaldehyde gas, but no action was taken upon the mat-In respect to preventing the spread of other contagious diseases, such as scarlet fever, whooping cough and the like, the following new rule was unanimously agreed upon for adoption by the board:

"It is hereby made the duty of school teachers and principals to as certain daily as early as possible the cause of absence of any pupil, and in case absence is caused by sickness supposed to be contagious, that such cause be reported at once to the board of health for investigation, and the superintendent of schools is hereby authorized to make such rules and regulations as to him seem necessary to discover and report all such cases."
