WHITE paper of any kind may be rendered temporarily transparent by moistening it with benzine, in which condition it may be used as a tracing paper. After a time the benzine will evaporate, and the original opacity of the paper will be restored. In this way a design may be transferred to any part of a sheet of paper without the necessity of employing regular tracing paper for the purpose.

IN the Seventh Ward, four members of Mr Chesney's family have been afflicted with throat disease. A physician was called in, and he declared the affection to be diphtheria. Since then, however, two more physicians have been summoned, who say that the disease is ulcerated sore throat, the latter statement probably being correct. One child, about four weeks old, died Saturday night: the rest are improving.

LOCAL NEWS.

Mr. Brain's Case.—Mr. Edward Brain, who was arraigned on Monday, and was given two days to plead, was brought before the District Court this morning and entered a plea of not guilty to the indictment for polygamy and unlawful cohabitation.

Sentenced.—This morning, in the District Court, Albert Moore, found guilty of an assault with deadly weapon upon one Richard Powell, was called to receive sentence. In view of the aggravated circumstances connected with the affair, Judge Zane placed the punishment at six months' imprisonment in the penitentiary and $100 fine.

Another Liquor Case.—This afternoon Peter Schmidt, of Cottonwood, was tried before Justice Pyper, on a charge of selling a gallon of beer without license, and being adjudged guilty, was fined $250, and ordered committed until paid, for a period not to exceed six months. An appeal was taken to the District Court, and the bonds were fixed at $500.

Home Painted Screens.—Brother S. R. Marks, who is connected with the Co-operative Furniture Company, carrying on business just west of the Temple Block, has called our attention to some wire screens for windows and doors, gotten up by that company, upon which are painted landscape scenes, floral designs, etc., and which compare very favorably with anything in that line imported. We were pleased to learn also that this firm employs some fifteen workmen in the manufacture of furniture, a specialty being made of the better class of upholstered goods, in which some new designs and original mechanical contrivances that are quite ingenious are introduced. We wish success to all such efforts.

Selling West's Map.—The new map of Utah, which we noticed some time since as having been issued by Jos. A. West, C. E., is now being canvassed for in this city by Brother Ben. E. Rich, who, in his jocular way, complains of being occasionally mistaken for a spotter during his peregrinations. In the present disturbed condition of society, strange itinerants are apt to be looked upon with distrust, but we can cheerfully recommend both Brother Rich and the map which he is offering for sale, as entirely worthy of the people's confidence, and we hope he will meet with success.

District Court Proceedings.—Edward Brain, charged with polygamy and unlawful cohabitation, pleaded not guilty.

Albert Moore, found guilty of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to do bodily harm, was sentenced to six months imprisonment in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $100.

In the case of the people, etc., vs. Michael Murphy, for murder, the empanelment of the jury was completed, and the trial commenced. Four witnesses, Dr. G. D. Gregor, Rev. Patrick Blake, John J. Duffy and James Tremayne were examined.

TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

CULLED FROM LATEST EXCHANGES.

—As Messrs Sprague and Strode, two gentlemen of Laramie, were out walking together last Sunday afternoon in the eastern part of that town near the lake, the former happened to glance to the ground and there saw what appeared to be an old brass watch, half imbedded in the mud. He stopped and pulled it out, and upon examination, it proved to be a solid gold hunting case watch of considerable value. How it got there is an unexplained mystery.

—We clip the following from yesterday's Ogden Herald: "During last night the tailor shop of P. Anderson, on the corner of Fifth and Young Streets, was broken into and several pieces of cloth, valued at from two to three hundred dollars were stolen. The thief effected an entrance by breaking out a pane of glass in the door, by which means he could draw back the catch and let himself in. Suspicion points very strongly to a fellow who was in the store last evening, looking at some pieces of cloth for a suit. The man is a stranger in town, and the very goods he was looking at are the pieces that were stolen.

—A singular forgery was perpetrated in Laramie last week. A young man named M. F. Younkin stepped into the Boomerang office and asked permission to write a letter there. His request was granted and he sat down at the manager's private desk, wrote a short note, put it into an envelope and sealed it. He posted it, however, without putting a stamp on it, and as the envelope had the Boomerang's card printed in one corner, it was returned to that office; and, bearing the address of the young man who wrote it, the business manager took it to his boarding house. The landlady, to whom he handed the letter, made some inquiries concerning Younkin, who had represented himself to her as an employee at the printing office. This was denied, whereupon the landlady produced the following note, to which the business manager's name was attached: "Let the holder of this, Mr. Younkin, have board at your house. He is working for me. I will be responsible for all his contractions." It was written on a Boomerang blank, doubtless taken from the manager's desk at the time he wrote the letter, but was such a palpable forgery, that steps were immediately taken to have the young man arrested. He was arraigned, plead guilty, and committed to jail in default of $500 bonds.

The Indian Farm.—A gentleman down from the "north countree," who recently visited the Indian village known as Washakie, on the Bear River, gives us some interesting items concerning the dusky colony.

There are now from 250 to 280 Indians in the colony, most of whom are as yet living in their lodges, though a number of houses have been erected, and they are making fair advancement in the adoption of civilized habits. A good many more houses are to be erected this year, and the place will then compare favorably with other villages in appearance.

The school, which for some three years past has been conducted there by Brother J. J. Chandler, has been well attended by the Indian children, who have generally made excellent progress in their studies. They excel in the matter of penmanship, as proof of which we were shown a really fine specimen, executed in the Spencerian style by an Indian boy who had only attended school one quarter. Not one school teacher in ten, so far as our observation has extended, can write so well.

The Indians have all their small grain sown—about 270 acres—and are now busily engaged in clearing out their water ditches and repairing the canal, in which they own capital stock to the amount of $8,000, and which has for its source a large spring near Samaria, in Malad Valley. This canal also supplies water to the people of Portage.

The Indians purpose devoting more attention to stock-raising than to grain culture, and do not care to raise much more of the cereals than they require for their own consumption. They already have 1,500 head of sheep of their own, and herd 2,000 belonging to others, on shares. They also have quite a large band of horses, which they are gradually grading up by crossing with French and Morgan stallions, three of which they keep for that purpose. Of horned stock they have kept but few heretofore, having only one cow to each family, but they expect to raise them more extensively hereafter.

Whatever property they have they own in common, and really set an example to white people in the amicable manner in which they manage their affairs. They are temperate and industrious, and have forsaken almost entirely their nomadic habits, remaining on the farm throughout the year. Indeed, the condition and general deportment of the Washakie colony reflect great credit not only upon the Indians themselves, but especially upon those who have been called to labor among them as missionaries, and upon the authorities of the Church and of Box Elder Stake, who have taken such an interest in looking after the welfare of their Lamanite brethren.

A Bright Book.—We have had the pleasure of scanning the pages of a work of which "Eli Perkins" is the author and compiler. It is entitled "Wit and Humor of the Age," and comprises wit, pathos, humor, ridicule, satires, dialects, puns, conundrums, riddles, charades, jokes and magic. Mechanically it is a fine specimen of the art typographical, is printed on paper of superior quality, is beautifully bound, and comprises 776 pages. It is embellished also with excellent likenesses of the most noted wits and humorists of the age. But it is not of the "body" of this volume that we care to speak, as "The body without the spirit is dead." The contents are varied and refreshing, like a succession of showers and sunshine, a perusal being one of the best antidotes extant for the cloudy cares of life, with whose shadows every human existence is more or less darkened. It is a cheerful companion whose presence will illumine any household where it enters and remains. Besides all this numbers of people here have sunny recollections of Eli Perkins (Mellville O. Landon,) the noted humorist, who once lectured in the Salt Lake Theatre. He is one of the most genial, kind-hearted, frank and fearless gentlemen we have ever had the pleasure of meeting. He has spoken many kindly words concerning the "Mormons," not a few of whom give him a warm place in their feelings and wish him well.

"Cohabitation."—This morning Deputy Marshal Sprague arrested Samuel H. B. Smith, on a warrant issued from the Commissioner's office, on complaint of Marshal Ireland, charging Mr. Smith with unlawful cohabitation with Mary Smith and Julia Winter. An examination was waived, and the accused was held over in $1,500 bonds to await the action of the grand jury. Dr. J. M. Benedict and Mr. Jacob Moritz are his sureties.

CITY COUNCIL.

The regular session of the City Council was held in the City Hall last evening, Mayor Sharp presiding.

A petition from Mrs. V. F. Howard, a widow lady with three children, who lives in the Ninth Ward, represented that two cellars of her house had been flooded with seepage water from the Salt Lake Canal to such an extent as to render it impossible for her to rent it, thus cutting off a much-needed income. She asked as a recompense the sum of $250, and desired that steps should be taken to prevent the trouble. Referred to the committee on canal.

A communication from Mr. R. R. Anderson stated that he is the owner of Lot 4, Block 105, Plat B, and that when he bought the fund from the city in 1875, he was informed that it could give him no better title than that of 1868. He had since learned that Mark Lindsey had made certain transfers to the city which strengthened the title of his property, and he therefore desired a new deed. Referred to the committee on public grounds.

T. Keeler and B. Y. Hampton, Jr., were granted licenses as auctioneers.

Licenses as retail liquor dealers were granted to Samuel Schili and L. Woolf, the latter being the agent of the California Wine Co.

The following communication from the Mayor was read:

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
SALT LAKE CITY,
April 21, 1885.

To the Hon. the City Council of Salt Lake City:

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to direct your attention to the fact that the principal of the bonds issued by Salt Lake City to enable it to construct a canal and other works to supply its inhabitants with water, is made payable, by resolution of May 11, 1880, fifteen years after the date of said bonds; but that they are subject nevertheless to redemption after five years from their date, at the pleasure of the City Council.

As the date of the bonds is June 1, 1880, and the term of five years elapses on June 1st, next, I take this occasion to inquire of your honorable body whether or not you wish the amount remaining in the Sinking Fund after paying current interest, on that date, devoted to the redemption of a portion —say $50,000—of said bonds; the provision authorizing the City Council to act in the premises is as follows:

SEC. 12.—If the redemption of said bonds, or any part thereof, shall be required by said Council prior to their maturity, the same shall be redeemed in their numerical order, and notice of such redemption shall be given by publication in some newspaper published in said city, as said Council may direct, at least thirty days prior to said first day of June or the first day of December next following the publication of such notice, and after the day specified in such notice of the redemption, all interest on such bonds as are called for redemption shall cease.

Respectfully,
JAMES SHARP, Mayor.

The following appropriations were made: Mrs. Ellen Kay, $28 as rent of ground for an engine house in Twelfth Ward; Joseph A. West, $240 for maps previously ordered; F. W. Taylor, $50, for services in the Assessor and Collector's office.

On motion of Mr. Dean, the names of Messrs. Webber and McFarlane were added to the committee on public improvements.

Council adjourned for one week.

Suicide.—A young man named W. F. Jones, better known as Frank Jones, committed suicide on the night of April 14, by hanging himself in the stable of Mr. John Turner, Bruneau, Owyhee County, Idaho. He is said to have two brothers and one sister in this city.

Proposed Telephone Extension.—Mr. E. G. Holding, manager of the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone Company for this city, leaves for the south in a day or two, for the purpose of interviewing the business men of Provo, Springville, Spanish Fork and Payson, with a view of extending their lines to the latter place. Many citizens of Utah County have solicited the telephone company to extend their system north and south. The company have decided to do so providing they meet with sufficient encouragement from the business men of the county. If they do, the work will be done right away.

The Murder Trial.—In the case of the People, etc., vs. Michael Murphy, indicted for the murder of Patrick Egan, on the 2d of July, 1884, between Park City and the Sampson mine, seven jurors were obtained yesterday afternoon. The number drawn being exhausted, a special venire was issued, returnable at 10 a.m. this morning, when the full number was secured, and the remaining names on the special list excused. The following are the jury:

Wm. Groesbeck,	T. G. M. Smith,
Willard Pixton,	John C. Mackey,
H. S. Beatie, Jr.	A. G. Nygren,
A. M. Johnson,	Orson B. Romney
Geo. D. Snelgrove,	Wm. A. Pitt,
Geo. F. Price.	W. C. Lyng.

This is Murphy's second trial for the murder, the jury having disagreed in the first.

Accidental Death.—On Monday afternoon Michael Collins, a miner employed in the Beck mine, Tintic, Juab County, was killed by the explosion of a blast in the Eureka mine. The drifts of the Beck and Eureka were known to be close together, and it was understood that before a blast was fired warning should be given, but in this instance it seems to have been neglected, with the result stated, the body of the unfortunate man being horribly mangled. Mr. Collins was about 36 years of age, and was generally esteemed and respected. The sad news has been sent to his relatives in the east. His remains were brought to this city last evening, and the funeral took place from St. Mary's Church (Catholic) this morning.

The coroner's jury, Daniel Doherty, Adolph Von Bour and James W. Fahey, rendered the following verdict:

"An inquisition holden at Eureka, in Tintic Precinct, County of Juab, on the 20th day of April, 1885, before Delos Lombard, Justice of the Peace in said precinct, in said county, upon the body of Michael Collins, there lying dead, by the jurors whose names are hereto subscribed. The said jurors upon their oaths do say that the deceased came to his death by a blast while working in the Beck mine, the blast being exploded by parties working opposite, who, through a misunderstanding, failed to make the necessary sound known to miners as a warning. The facts as presented to the jury do not show that anybody was really at fault for the accident."
