

RAY C. NAYLOR TO QUIT THE GUARD

He Has Sent Letter of Resignation to Governor Cutler.

HE HAD A CERTAIN POLICY.

Adj. General Will Leave the Service On Jan. 1—Communication to Executive Is Made Public.

For a number of years past there has been not quite a feeling of harmony between all portions of the National Guard of Utah, and the pot which from time to time has boiled a little between periods of simmering, has reached the boiling point again.

In the resultant commotion another resignation has been brought to the surface, and it is that of Adj. Gen. Ray C. Naylor, who for nine months has been at the head of the military arm of the state. In a letter of resignation, he states what his reasons for resigning are, giving as the principal one the fact that under present conditions he cannot see his way clear to build up the service.

It seems that Gen. Naylor had a certain definite policy in view when he accepted the position. It was to bring into the service the large number of veteran soldiers who are at present hovering on the edge of the guard, and "winking a wise military eye" as one of them expressed it.

For nine months, he says, he has been at work on these plans, and so far it seems he has not been able to carry them out. For that reason he has decided to withdraw, and leave the effort to others. Gen. Naylor took the office following the term of Gen. George H. Morgan, who resigned in the hurry of opinion consequent to the granting of the armory to a banquet committee on a night Gen. George H. Morgan had granted it to the first battery.

THE THIRD OCCUPANT.

Gen. Naylor is the third occupant of the place since C. S. Burton resigned at the end of Gov. Wells' administration. Gen. Bowman who was the first appointee, resigned with Brig. Gen. Sam C. Park, his resignation, however, not being voluntary. This was the result of a difference of opinion between them as to the proper functions of an adjutant-general. Gen. Burton held the position for six years under Gov. Wells, and all through the trying period of the Spanish war, his correspondence with the war department, which made the place the most overworked in the state, regardless of salary. The salary is only nominal, but the next legislature is counted on to raise it to about four times its present value.

Rheumatic Pains

"I have suffered terribly with rheumatism. I took Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and they gave me great relief. I have spells of terrible pains in my ribs, and in the small of my back, and the Anti-Pain Pills help me right away. I am now well of the rheumatism and think Anti-Pain Pills done me more good than all the other medicines. I first heard of them through the following circumstance that happened at our home two years ago. A friend, Mrs. Brown, of Orion, Mich., came to visit us. She had not been able to dress herself or comb her own hair for months. A friend of ours came in and seeing her suffering offered her some Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. She laughed at the idea of relief from such a source after doctoring for so long, but took one of the tablets with the remark that it would at least do her no harm. She took another that evening, and the next morning she was so elated that she went to the drug store and got a package and took them home with her. Recently she was here again, and told us that she continued taking the pills, and that one box cured her, and she has not had a symptom of rheumatism since."

ent size. It was made nominal in the beginning in keeping with the policy that restricted all state salaries to a minimum while the state was being organized, and it did not happen to receive an increase with the others, when they were raised.

Gen. Naylor's resignation does not take effect until Jan. 1, 1907, and it is not yet known who will take his place.

GEN. NAYLOR'S LETTER.

Gen. Naylor was seen this morning in relation to his resignation. He said that while he did not care to discuss it he would insist that it be granted, and that it was his intention to leave the service by Jan. 1, if possible. Further than that he did not care to discuss the matter. His letter of resignation follows:

I have the honor to tender herewith my resignation as adjutant-general, National Guard of Utah, to take effect on your convenience and before Jan. 1, 1907, if practicable.

In taking this action I desire to state that I am doing so because I am convinced that under conditions obtaining at present and for some time past in the guard the constructive work necessary to place it on a proper footing is impracticable. To these conditions I had the honor to call your excellency's attention on accepting the office of adjutant-general, and it was my understanding that executive action would follow to so alter the situation that necessary growth would be possible. Since then, however, no such action has been reported to this office, and the fact that your excellency's attention has been called repeatedly and ineffectually to the matter, leads me to the conclusion that such action has been deemed inadvisable.

Under existing conditions, I regard it now, as I regarded it on accepting the position, impracticable to attempt the reconstruction of the guard, or its expansion along the line desired by the national government, and in keeping with the general policy among states. Trusting that this communication will receive early and favorable action, I remain,

Very respectfully,
RAYMOND C. NAYLOR,
Adjutant General.

NEWHOUSE MINER ROBBED.

Fleeed Out of Money Representing Six Months' Toil.

Nick Frazer, a miner from Newhouse, was fleeced out of money representing six months' work. He arrived in Salt Lake a few days ago and Thursday night went into the Green Light saloon on Commercial street. After he had taken a drink, he ordered for the house.

The bottle was passed along the counter and all "filled up." He gave the bartender a $5 and the change was returned to him. A pal, partaking of the hospitality, pointed out that he had been short changed. He pulled out his money sack to count and laid several gold pieces and some silver on the counter. As he again looked up a long bony hand was drawing back with the cash. The crowd closed about him and the man with the cash made his get away. Fraser appeared before the county attorney yesterday with Detective Frank Wheeling and swore out a warrant for "John Doe." He also thinks he is minus several other bills which were taken from him by another party. He has no definite idea of the occurrence nor can he give a description of either man. He will remain in Salt Lake for several days to help land the thieves.

IN TIME OF PEACE.
In the first months of the Russia Japan war we had a striking example of the necessity for preparation and the early advantage of those who, so to speak, "have singled themselves in dry weather." The virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our greatest men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared to successfully combat the first cold you take? A cold can be cured much more quickly when treated as soon as it has been contracted and before it has become settled in the system. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of colds and it should be kept at hand ready for instant use. For sale by all druggists.

"LARRY" SULLIVAN GIVEN A BANQUET

Prominent Goldfield Capitalist Will Not Soon Forget Salt Lake.

WAS TENDERED BY D. H. PEERY

Many Guests Were Present at Commercial Club and Listened to Witty Speeches—Memorable Occasion.

"Larry" Sullivan of the L. M. Sullivan Trust company of Goldfield will not forget Salt Lake very soon. Neither will those who attended the banquet given in his honor by D. H. Peery at the Commercial club last night forget "Larry" right away.

Indeed, it was a jolly good affair and when Fisher Harris says it was one of the pleasantest functions ever pulled off in the club dining room, it must be so, for he has arranged a good many banquets since he was installed as manager of Salt Lake's popular club.

HE IS WIDELY KNOWN.

Everybody in Salt Lake has heard of L. M. Sullivan, the Goldfield mining man. In Nevada everybody knows him, for he has probably caused more money to come into Nevada for investment in mines than any other one man in it. But more Salt Lake people know "Larry" Sullivan now than they did a week ago, for he is one of that kind who gets acquainted with folks.

To use the expression common in Nevada, "he is a mixer" and his affability has won for him many admirers. Those who attended the banquet went home feeling that they had always known the Goldfield magnate.

JUDGE GOODWIN PRESIDED.

The guests were welcomed at the Commercial club parlors by Mr. Peery, and shortly after a o'clock a move was made to the main dining room, where the tables had been arranged in U shape. The host took a place at the west end, with Mr. Sullivan and Judge C. C. Goodwin on either side of him. At the request of Mr. Peery, Judge Goodwin acted as toastmaster, and in his usual witty style introduced the guest of honor.

In response Mr. Sullivan thanked Judge Goodwin, Mr. Peery and those assembled for the honor they had bestowed upon him, not forgetting to tell his hearers that he looked upon Nevada as being the greatest gold producing country in the world.

SHORT SPEECHES MADE.

Following Mr. Sullivan, short talks were made by former Senator F. J. Cannon, M. H. Walker, D. C. Jackling, David Keith, Fisher Harris, William Leitch, E. B. Critchlow and J. E. Clinton.

The floral decorations were profuse, while the dinner itself was an elaborate one.

LIST OF GUESTS.

The guests of the occasion were: E. M. Allison, J. L. Armstrong, George Bauger, Herman Bamberger, J. S. Bransford, George Bradley, Willis Beardsley, L. E. Camomille, Frank J. Cannon, J. E. Clinton, E. B. Critchlow, H. Dr. J. F. Critchlow, J. A. Felt, R. K. Cobb, H. P. Clark, A. J. Davis, D. C. Dunbar, S. V. Derrah, A. C. Ellis, Jr., Dr. Eilerbeck, L. H. Farnsworth, L. Fred, James A. Foley, J. K. Gillespie, C. C. Goodwin, E. O. Howard, Fisher Harris, A. E. Hyde, W. C. Higgins, John Hughes, James Hamilton, William Leitch, Tony Jacobson, M. M. Johnson, F. C. Jackling, David Keith, Kenneth C. Kerr, C. E. Leitch, Russell Lowry, George N. Lawrence, Ed. Loose, Joseph Lippman, Ben D. Luce, P. J. Moran, A. N. McKay, M. E. Mulvey, C. W. Miller, J. Oberdorfer, D. H. Peery, A. F. Phillips, J. A. Follock, Joel L. Priest, Charles A. Quigley, C. D. Rookledge, Frank L. Seifert, A. Fred Wey, F. C. Schramm, Joseph Sheets, P. N. Sprague, L. M. SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

The largest event of yesterday was the reception and banquet given by Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Wright and Mr. and Mrs. George Read at Christensen's, which was in every way delightful. The hosts received the guests in the main hall and the supper was served in the rear alcove, the table being beautifully decorated in carnations and ferns. Punch was also served here from a prettily arranged table, and chrysanthemums and ferns were all about, while pink-shaded lights aided in the effect. The hosts were assisted in receiving by Mrs. John E. Hansen, Miss Edith Quinby, Mrs. C. Shade, Miss Edith Read and Miss Carrie Richards, and assisting in serving were Miss Geneva Wright, Miss Genevieve Pillsbury and Miss Mary Jenkinson. About 200 guests were present.

Miss Colbourne was hostess at a dinner at Rowland hall on Thursday, the table being beautifully decorated in red and white with chrysanthemums and red shaded lights, and covers were laid for about 10 guests.

Principal Bradford of the Lowell school and Mrs. Bradford were given a surprise dinner last evening at the schoolhouse. On their arrival at the school, they found 20 of the teachers waiting for them, and the dinner all prepared. Miss Buckbee acted as toastmistress, and Mr. Bradford was called upon to respond to the toast of "The silent man will not be called to court." Mr. Bradford read an original poem, and the entire occasion was heartily enjoyed.

Mrs. A. M. Howard has returned from a visit to British Columbia.

Mrs. Henry De Wolfe is the guest of Mrs. Frank Roberts for a short time.

Miss Maxine Elliott is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Newhouse during her stay in the city.

Mrs. Russell Lowry has returned from the east, where she has been visiting relatives.

Mrs. S. L. Billings entertained the Plate club this afternoon.

The Omega club of the U. of U. were entertained Friday evening at the home of their late president, Miss Lily McFarland. The feature of the evening was card playing, followed by refreshments and a short musical program.

Mrs. J. E. Hansen entertained her Sewing club yesterday.

A pleasant affair of yesterday was the afternoon party given by Mrs. Mabel Snow Cole and Mrs. Lelroy C. Snow in honor of their mother, Mrs. Minnie J. Snow, the guests being the officers and members of the general board of the Y. L. M. I. A. The rooms were decorated in white chrysanthemums, and the time pleasantly spent with music and the interchange of sentiments complimentary to the guest of honor. About 27 guests enjoyed the affair.

An affair of interest was the marriage of Miss Verna Harriet McAllister of Logan, Utah, to Lieut. Robert J. Binford of Indiana. The ceremony was performed by Bishop B. G. Thatcher at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. McAllister in Logan, and in the presence of the immediate family only. The rooms were prettily decorated with roses and chrysanthemums, the dining room being in green. An elaborate wedding breakfast was served after which the couple left for Salt Lake, San Francisco and later to Monterey. The bride is one of the most popular and best known young ladies of Logan and will be greatly missed by her many friends. Her traveling costume was a tailor-made of brown broadcloth. Mr. Binford is first lieutenant of the Twentieth Infantry, United States army, now stationed at the Presidio of Monterey, California.

AN AFTERNOON PARTY.

Given Yesterday at the McNeely Residence to Samuel Chridge.

A large afternoon party took place yesterday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. McNeely, the handsome home being thrown open to about 100 guests in honor of Mrs. McNeely's father, Samuel Chridge, who has been here for some time visiting, and returns shortly to his home in Arizona.

The guests included the first presidency of the L. D. S. Church and the workers in the temple, with a number of others, and a most delightful time was spent with addresses, recitations and music, mingled with informal chat and interchange of reminiscences. Interesting talks were given by President Smith and Presidents Wheeler and Lund, and a program of music was furnished by the temple choir, under the direction of Prof. C. J. Thomas. By Mrs. Lizzie Thomas-Edwards, Miss Emma Lucy Gates and Miss Edith Grant, while an interesting feature was the address of W. A. Riser on "Temple Building and Temple Work." Entertaining recitations were given by Master Don Carlos Wood. The guest of honor replied to the remarks and spirit of the occasion in a characteristically happy vein, and later the guests repaired to the large ballroom where a buffet supper was served, the refreshments being in charge of Mrs. Lou McNeely and Miss Emma Lucy Gates. The entire affair was most enjoyable and will be long remembered by those participating.

What Joy They Bring To Every Home

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play—when in health—and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained, by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

DIAMONDS

The only assurance that the inexperienced diamond buyer has that he has purchased the diamond he wants and at a fair price is the integrity of the dealer from whom he buys it.

A friend of our house was approached by a young man who asked him to direct him to a reliable diamond dealer. Our friend said, "Go to LEYSON'S, they will charge you all the diamond is worth, but you will get exactly what you pay for." The advice might appear to some to be a doubtful compliment, but to us it's the acme of confidence. It implies an acknowledgment of two strong factors in successful merchandising. First, that the house is alive to the fact that legitimate profits must be made to maintain their credit and make it possible for them to buy the best goods at the lowest prices for cash; and second that for whatever you pay LEYSON you will get its equivalent in merchandise.

No one who reasons can expect more, and we wish to impress upon the memory of diamond buyers that we are here to give our time, our experience and our facilities for buying diamonds at bedrock prices to protect all against questionable quality and unreasonable prices. The reputation we have for honest dealing induces people to buy where the Sign over the Door and the Name on the Box carries a conviction of fairness to all patrons.

We invite everyone to visit us whether intending to buy or not, as our display of jeweled pieces is so beautiful that it is worth the trouble to come and see them. Diamond, Emerald, Ruby, Pearl and Sapphire Cluster Rings, Brooches, Lavaliers and Bracelets take the preference this season over single stone rings that have been so popular, and our new designs are entrancing.
