wing. On a certain occasion, towards the ose of the career of the Son of God the flesh, His disciples asked him if e would at that time restore the Singdom to Israel, and what would be he signs of His second coming and of the end of the world? Among other hings He told them that this Gospel of things He told them that this G spel of the Kingdom should be preached in all the world as a witness unto all nations and then should the end come. The Apostles set out upon the mission which had been given them, and we read in the Acts of the Apostles, and in their Epistles contained within the dids of this holy book, of the adven-tures which befell them and the perse-cutions which they endured. It had been said of them by their Lord and Master, that they should be hated of all men for His name's sake; but "blessed are ye", said He, "when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and ahall say all manner of evil against you falsely for my sake. Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your re-ward in heaven, for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you." And the day would come, He said, J when they that put His disciples to death would think they were doing "Thus were the minds of the Apostles" should occur after the time in which he had received a revelation and God was living, but he was shown what had mide good the words which he proalready taken place; not as the imperfect records of profane history have given it to us, but he saw it typiffed in itsfullness. He saw the events which had followed the creation down until one period has iod's service. Thus were the minds of the Apostles repared for the fate which afterwards eich them. Their expectations were fulfilled. The truth was not popular. Although devils were subject to these dwell on the earth, and to every nation and kindred, and tongue, and people. Showing conclusively, as well as lauguage can show, that this was to be an event of the last days—the hour of God's judgment, which Christianity itself in its perverted state, will ad-mit is at the ent of the world. John saw the angel restoring the Gospel shortly before the hour of God's judg nored by the great mass of humanity. A few believed in their words; a few rejoiced exceedingly that the Church of God was established on the earth; that the Savior who had been promised as a lamb slain from before the foundation of the world, had at last come shortly before the hour of God's judg-in fulfiliment of the prophecies of old. ment, saying with a loud voice to all Him, and they rejoiced in the work of God. Churches were formed in different lands. The Apostles went forth professed to have the true Christian from Jerusalem, after they had been "endued with power from on high," and built up churches in many of the faith-"Fear God, and give glory to Him, for the hour of his jucgment is come."
