MABEL'S GRANDMA.

"The world is even as we take it,
And life, dear child, is just what we make it."

This was the sentiment of an old lady to her grandchild Mabel. And many a Mabel has found it to be true, and she has taken care of her health. She keeps on hand a supply of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and so is not troubled with those wasting diseases, weaknesses, "dragging-down" sensations and functional irregularities that so many women endure. It is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrappers and faithfully carried out for many years.

"Favorite Prescription" is a legitimate medicine, not a beverage. Contains no alcohol to intoxicate; no syrup or sugar to derange digestion. As a peculiar in its remedial results as in its composition.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, particularly to the women and its appointees. For "feeble women generally," Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic, or strengthgiver.

A book of 100 pages, on "Women and Her Diseases, their Nature, and How to cure them," sent sealed, in plain envelope, on receipt of ten cents, in stamps.

SUMMONS.

In the District Court in and for the Third Judicial District of Utah Territory, County of Salt Lake.

Henrietta Brewer, Plaintiff, vs. John J. Brewer, Defendant.

The People of the Territory of Utah send Greeting:

To John J. Brewer, Defendant.

YOU ARE HEREBY REQUIRED TO appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff in the District Court of the Third Judicial District of the Territory of Utah, and to answer the complaint filed therein within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons—if served within this county; or, if served out of this county, but in this district, within twenty days; otherwise within forty days—or judgment by default will be taken against you, according to the prayer of said complaint.

This action is brought to have a decree of this court dissolving the bonds of matrimony existing between plaintiff and defendant—awarding to plaintiff the care, custody and control of their four minor children, Lillie, Ray, Clarence and Chester—adjusting the defendant to pay the expenses of this action, counsel fees herein and such sum for alimony as to this court may seem just for her support, and for general relief:

Upon the ground that for more than one year prior to the commencement of this action, and from the fourteenth day of August, 1888, said defendant, disregarding the solemnity of his marriage vow, willfully and without cause deserted and abandoned plaintiff, and ever since has and still does so, so willfully and without cause desert and abandon plaintiff, and to live separate and apart from her, without any sufficient reason, and against her will and without her consent; and that defendant, for more than one year last past has failed and willfully neglected and neglected to provide plaintiff with the common necessaries of life—having the ability so to do; that he has compelled her to live upon her own labor and the charity of friends.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint as above required, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded therein.

Witness, the Hon. Charles S. Zane, Judge, and the seal of the District Court of the Third Judicial District, in and for the Territory of Utah, this 4th day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine.

A BOGUS LORD!

The Adventures of Burchell, the Englishman Accused of Murder.

HIS VISIT TO SALT LAKE CITY.

The Autopsy on Taulbee's Remains.

—The McCalla Court Martial.

By Telegraph to the NEWS.

THE BENWELL CASE.

Magisterial Proceedings: The Accused Sent for Trial.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., March 12.—The Benwell murder case was resumed today. The court room was packed with people. Through a misunderstanding Burchell was not brought from Welland until 5 p.m. Soon after the court opened in the town hall.

The magistrate announced that Mrs. Burchell was charged with being an accessory to the murder, and that he was ready to hear any new evidence. The detectives had none to offer, and the magistrate remanded her to the same custody she has been in since her arrest.

Burchell was then brought up. He looked unconcerned and smiled at the crowd which stared at him. Several witnesses were sworn and most of the evidence was merely a resume of that taken at the coroner's inquest.

New evidence was introduced when George Phemister, telegraph manager at Niagara Falls, produced three telegrams, one of which was sent from Niagara Falls, February 17th, addressed to "Pelley, Stafford House, Buffalo," and said: "Arrive Buffalo 9 o'clock. Must remain there tonight. (Signed) Bastell."

Phemister could not describe the sender, and could not say that it was Burchell. In the message it is supposed Burchell's name was misspelled by the operator, or by himself knowingly.

Another telegram from Buffalo, February 17th, directed to Burchell and signed "Stafford," said: "Telegram and letter sent to ship heavy baggage to Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York."

The third telegram was from New York, March 1, and was evidently from Pelley, though not signed. "Benwell not here" was all that it said. That closed the testimony.

When asked if he had anything to say Burchell, after consultation with his lawyer, said; "I have nothing to say at this particular time."

Magistrate Hill then held him for trial in October at Woodstock.

"MY LORDS" CAREER.

Extraordinary Adventures of An English Swindler.—The Climax.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 12.—Tribune Special: The detectives of this city believe that Reginald Burchall, alias Lord Somerset, is no other than the Earl of Somerset who shone as a leading society light in this city about five years ago. Frank Kelley, former chief detective, said tonight:

"The Earl of Somerset made his debut in society in this city in the latter part of 1885 and soon became a lion. He was lionized and petted by the elite, and the male members of society introduced him into their clubs and organized all kinds of sport for the benefit of the rogue lord. He made a tour of the fashionable seaside resorts after leaving this city and appeared in Newport and Long Branch as Lord Courtney, the catch of the season, a blue-blooded and wealthy young Englishman. He was received at these places with open arms and for nearly a season was the swell of swells along the whole coast.

"At the close of the season he suddenly and unceremoniously left with quite a sum of money, borrowed from the young swells who

MADE A PET OF HIM.

The rogue had also turned up in Baltimore, where he represented himself to be Sir Hugh Leslie Courtney, of the British royal navy, and always wore a naval uniform of the utmost brilliancy. He was the idol of the women in that city, who entertained him in royal style and introduced him to their papas. He not only succeeded in borrowing money from the men of the city, but also borrowed pin money from the ladies, and after a season of high living disappeared had worked the Pacific Coast.

"He had worked the Pacific Coast prior to this as Lord Courtney, and was arrested in New York on a charge of forgery from Salt Lake and sent there for trial. He was acquitted and came back to New York, where he was rearrested and sent to England on a charge of forgery. Lord Courtney also appeared in Montreal as Charles Pelham Clinton, and played a merchant there for a considerable sum and then cleared out. He represented himself to be the agent of an English estate and gained the confidence of a merchant and then swindled him."

THIS FESTIVE SWINDLER

figured, as is intimated above, in Salt Lake, in 1880-81. He appeared like a brilliant meteor in the fall of 1880, from the Pacific Coast, dressed faultlessly, was "as handsome as a picture," and his manners and language were elegance itself. "Hugh Leslie Courtney," as the charming swindler styled himself, was, of course, courted, wined and dined and made a lion of, and for a time he flew high. But, as usual, his funds presently ran short and he forged a £400 draft on London, which he discounted at the London Bank of Utah and managed to escape before being arrested. In the course of his wandering up and down upon the face of the earth, "Hugh Leslie Courtney" struck New York once more, where he was arrested and brought to this city about April 1, 1881, on a requisition upon Governor Cornell of New York. However, "My Lord" was wanted back in the old country for swindling, and, as it seems, the Salt Lake officials, fearing the indictment here might not hold, allowed it to be dismissed April 27, and the scamp was given over to an English official.

The fellow went also by the name of Charles Pelham Clinton and Marcus La Parr Beresford. That he has come to grief at last is a matter of great congratulation. While here he escaped from his guard while talking to his lawyer, and was found by "Doc" Sprague in an out house three miles from the State Road.

COMMANDER McCALLA.

His Conduct Investigated By Court Martial.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The court of inquiry into the charges against Commander B. H. McCalla, of the United States vessel Enterprise, was opened today, Admiral Kimberly presiding. The first witness was Executive Officer Ingersol. He said the men on the ship were confined in straight-jackets for trifling offenses. The charges against the captain in this respect were true. Witness described how the men were tied up on a ladder and left in that position for hours. The commander had directed him to keep the men continually at work about the ship. In all these cases the punishment was for drunkenness.

In regard to the assault on fireman Walker, witness said Walker was very drunk and was abusing the commander roundly. McCalla ordered him to stop and told the men to get some water ready. Walker was still defiant and the captain ordered water thrown on him. Walker was then gagged with a bayonet by the commander's order. Even this did not silence Walker and the and struck Walker on the head. Walker then fell on the deck face downward. Walker was picked up and placed in a hammock. After dry clothing had been given him he was covered with blankets, with the gag still in his mouth.

Cross-examined, he said there had been an unusual number of bad men on the Enterprise, though he never knew so much liquor to be smuggled on board any ship as on the Enterprise. He described the various improvements for the benefit of the men which McCalla had introduced when he assumed command of the ship.

Lieut. Fiebcuhn of the Enterprise confirmed many of Ingersoll's statements.

Lieut. Chanley said there was a lack of system rather than any particular system of

DISCIPLINE ON THE "ENTERPRISE."

One day an apprentice boy named Myer hesitated, when ordered, to go down into the coal bunker. McCalla asked him what he meant by smiling at him, and, drawing his sword, said: "Now, Daniel, if you smile at me again I will kill you."

Lieutenant Milligan re-told the Walker incident. He said Walker was riotously drunk and using awful language before arrested. After the first outbreak McCalla threw three buckets of water over him to quiet him, but without success. McCalla then brought his sword and struck him with it. After Walker's wound had been bound up he began to be noisy and abusive, and was gagged.

On Taulbee's Remains.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Dr. D. S. Lamb today conducted an autopsy on the remains of the late ex-Representative Taulbee in the presence of a large number of medical men. The ball was found to have passed through the eye, downward, fracturing a portion of the orbital plate, thence towards the brain, fracturing and splintering the fetrous portion of the temperal bone. A further penetration of a sixteenth of an inch would probably have resulted in instant death. At the base of the brain a large abscess had formed, which was the immediate cause of death. Other abscesses were discovered and the membranes were much inflamed and congested. The position of the ball was such that it could not have been extracted with safety to the patient, even had its exact location been known.

A coroner's inquest was held this afternoon. The jury found that Taulbee came to his death from a pistol wound inflicted by Kincaid, and the prisoner was committed to jail to await the action of the grand jury.

OPINION OF AN EXPERT!

Mrs. Mary E. Welch, Teacher of Domestic Economy at State University of Iowa, says:

"My deliberate judgment is that the oven of the Range, as compared with stoves, is not only more equally heated in every part—front as well as rear—but as a result of its superior ventilation the food placed therein is better cooked, while retaining a sweeter flavor, and a larger proportion of its best juices. I have found, also, that the consumption of fuel in this Range for a given amount of work, is much less than any other." MRS. MARY E. WELCH.
