"STRATHMORE" AT THE THEATRE.-"Strathmore, or Wrought by His own Hand," presented at the Theatre last night, is a very good piece, especially when considered that it is the dramatization of a novel. It is full of love, plot and counterplot, hate and vengeance, giving scope for some fine acting, but it is too heavy ever an opportunity for all to witness it who may desire to do so.

This burlesque will be preceded by the celebrated Indian sensational drama—
"Nick of the Woods," in which Mr. Chaplin appears as the "Jibbenainosay,"
"Bloody Nathan," "Nick of the Woods,"
"The Avenger," "Reginald Ashburne" and "The Spirit of the Waters," "Tellie Doe" will be personated by Miss Walters,

Lovery.-Last evening we received, by one of our carriers, from Mr. Hardman, gardener to Mr. Warren Hussey, from the garden of the latter, 7th Ward, one of the most beautiful bouquets we have ever seen in this Territory. Not only were the flowers choice in variety, but the bouquet was neatly arranged, being tastefully set lieved he has fled the country. There off with green, showing to advantage the delicate tints of color displayed in the floral specimens. Some of the most prominent varieties were gladiolas, double and singles geraniums, perennial phloxes, dahilas, verbenas, asters and petunias. The garden of Mr. Hussey is one of the finest and most tastefully arranged in this questioned as to his reasons for entertaining such an idea, he could give no satisfactory answer, having no proof to give that would tend to substantiate the charge he made against her. The court said if he had have saved all the present trouble, and thought if he made another such attempt upon himself he should take a little better

Charles, and stated that the latter occupied a large portion of her time in hiring out to work, to help to support her family.

The court told the prisoner that whisky was the cause of all the trouble. It had injured him so that it made him entertain improper ideas concerning his wife, who had borne him a large family of children, He was bound over in $300 bonds, to the Probate Court, to answer at the first sitting of the grand jury.

A DESCENDANT, -There was a bad drunk in the police court this morning. The indidividual against whom that charge was made, and who appeared in a wretchedly dilapidated condition, was the grandson of a man who used to reside in the west of Scotland, and who was a most determined and indefatigable opponent of "Mormoniam," and was well known to many of the elders who labored in the neighborhood of Paisley in the early days of the Church in Scotland.

DISTINGUISHED ARRIVALS. - Senator Sherman, Col. Thos. A. Scott, President of the Texas Pacific, or 32nd Parallel railroad, senator Harris, Col. M. Mannus and other gentlemen and ladies arrived in this city this morning at 11:20. We understand the party intend remaining here to-night, and will return to Ogden by special train immediately after the morning's services at the Tabernale to-morrow. We wish them a pleasant and agreeable journey.

NEW SCHOOL HOUSE.-A new school New School House.—A new school house is being built in the Sixteenth Ward, when completed it will be large and handsome, a credit to the enterprising residents of the Ward. It will be two storeys high, and rock is the material used for its construction. The south-east wing is so far advanced that the outside door frames are all set. The mason work was commenced only two weeks ago. The wing will be sufficiently sdvanced this fall to enable the people to hold meetings in it during the winter. The main portion of the building, we understand, will be built as soon as the circumstances of the people will permit. The new school house will be on the site of the old one, the latter having been torn down. We are pleased to learn that the people of the Sixteenth Ward have moved in this direction, and wish them success in erecting a public building that will do them credit.

seen by our telegrams from the east to-day that the agent of the Associated Press has finally, as he seems to think, got the "dead finally, as he seems to think, got the "dead wood" on the Mountain Meadow affair, the evidence being, as usual in all matters hatched up against the people of Utah, on the testimony of an apostate "Mormon." Whether such an affidavit as the one mentioned has been made, we know not, and care as little; we are decidedly of the opinion however, that all parties guilty of murder, no matter where committed, especially when attended with atrocious cruelty and the perfidy, are deserving of the highest punch.

for some fine acting, but it is too heavy ever to be very popular, there being an utter absence of the comic or fun-creating element, which at times renders it somewhat monotonous. "Lady Vavasour" gives scope for the display of artistic skill, and Miss Jean Clara Walters, who personated this role gave an additional proof of her ability and versatility. Mr. Chaplin as "Strathmore" was very effective, and the various other characters were well sustained.

As for the comic operatic burlesque, "Norma," it is perfectly indescribable. To form any idea of it it must be seen, and as it will be repeated to-night there will be an opportunity for all to witness it who may desire to do so.

This burlesque will be preceded by the celebrated Indian sensational drama-"Nick of the Woods," in which Mr. Chaplin appears as the "Jibbenainosay."

He was asked if he had any all the arbitrators except Sir Alex. reason for the attempt upon the life of his wife, to which he replied that the latter had been unfaithful to him. On being leagues only in relation to the Alabama award, which case constitutes the greater portion of the total sum. Dammade against her. The court said if he had killed himself instead of shooting the celling of Messrs. Hague's store, he would he would have against two. All the other cases presented by the American government were dismissed by the court. The Times says willingly will we consent to pay this sum to improve a law of nations.

Mrs. Charles, the wife of the prisoner, was placed on the stand; her testimony, however, elucidated but little beyond what has already been published. She said her husband was usually kind when sober, and was invariably under the influence of liquor when he abused her and made vile charges against her character. She was willing to hear any evidence that could be produced against her character. She had lived eleven years in the First Ward, previous to going to live at Mr. Jenkins house, and no one bad had any reason to believe that her character was otherwise than respectable. Herself and husband had seven children.

Mrs. Martha Jenkins testified to the respectable and industrious character of Mrs. Charles, and stated that the latter occupied a large portion of her time in hiring out to work; to help to support her family.

The court told the prisoner that whisky was the cause of all the trouble. It had tives leave on Monday, and the American on Tuesday.
