WASHINGTON, 23.—H. M. Davis, of Erie, Penn., testified to his knowledge of the insanity of one of Guiteau's aunts.

Thompson Wilcoxson, of Freeport, Ill., knew Guiteau's father, and described his peculiarities.

John A. Rice, of Minton, Wisconson, a practising physician for 26 years, testified that he examined the prisoner in 1876 and came to the conclusion that he was insane. His insanity was emotional rather than intellectual. There appears to be an impairment of judgment, but not much, if any, impairment of intellect. He told his friends that Guiteau ought to be secluded. Witness treated Guiteau's father; did not consider him insane.

Recess.

After recess the witness again took the stand. Did not see Guiteau after he had run away from Scoville's house, at Beaver Lake, Wisconsin.

The prisoner.—I returned to Chicago and opened a law office; I did not run away.

Frank L. Union, of Boston, testified to hearing Guiteau at Investigator Hall. His bills proclaimed: "Do Not Fail to Hear Hon. Chas. Guiteau, the Life Giant from the West. He will Show that Two thirds of the Race Are Going Down to Perdition."

The prisoner.—That is a liberal estimate. (Laughter.)

Witness.—There were about 50 persons present at the lecture. At the end of half an hour the lecturer evidently became disgusted with himself and left in a hurry.

The prisoner—"I was disgusted at the audience."

Witness—After he had gone the audience agreed the man was crazy. Guiteau came next day and asked for the hall, and he said he was not crazy, but inspired, and that God was his Father and direct counselor and said he did nothing wrong. He said he knew the way to heaven and hell and if witness did what he told him he would go to heaven, if not to hell.

Question by David Gee, "Suppose at the time mentioned Guiteau had struck you, would you have struck back."

Witness—No.

The prisoner—"I don't strike persons."

Witness said he appeared as a witness impelled by reading Scoville's appeal for witnesses.

Mary I. Lockwood, of Washington, stated that the prisoner had boarded at her house in March, 1881. The only reason she knew for his leaving was that he didn't pay his board.

Prisoner—I was there a month. I paid $5 and I owe her $20. They are very nice ladies; that's all there is about it. Tell everybody that, if you want to.

Scoville—What was the particular occasion of his leaving?

Witness—He transacted his business with the head waiter.

Prisoner—Nothing was said at all. I got the money and paid $5; the rest I had used. I stayed a week or two longer on the strength of that, and that is all about it. This kind of evidence is irrelevant and I object to it. [Laughter.] After a pause: I presume there were people in the house who thought I was a little cranky. There is no doubt about that, at all. I did not have any conversation with the ladies. It is all done by notes. They were too kind hearted and polite to annoy me about a board bill.

Witness stated that Guiteau was too abrupt in his manner at the table, there was want of etiquette.

Prisoner—I did not know anything about the people at the table, and of course I kept my mouth shut. I did not enter into conversation with them.

Norwood Dorman, of Boston, who attended the lecture at Investigator's Hall, said all he could understand from the lecture was that the people of this place and the rest of mankind generally would probably go down to perdition. I supposed the man insane. Adjourned.

The Stars.

The Acting Attorney-General makes public reports submitted by M. M. Gibson, special attorney for the United States in the Star service investigation, who says: For manifest reasons it would not be prudent to disclose all the facts discovered by the investigation pursued by the representatives of the two departments, or indicate a tithe of the evidence which must be reserved for the courts. The documents, nevertheless would fill 120 newspaper columns of exclusive exhibits, dealing chiefly with the administration of the contract office during the term of General Brady. Gibson reports in one of the most prolific years of the Buchanan administration, the whole matter of the administration of the postoffice department, it became almost synonimous for public robbery. It is asserted that there were only six cases of expedition, involving a total of $217,840 in the fiscal year of 1872, and only seven, amounting to some $81,000 during the fiscal years of 1875 and 1876, when Gen. Tyner was in charge of the office, and in each of these cases orders making allowances they are less than pro rata, i.e., the ancient custom in accordance with true allowances to contractors for trips added and speed increased to $601,336. The original pay on these routes was $1,090,620, an increase of about 58 1-0 per cent., while the additional duties required of contractors were only about 33 1-3 per cent. Gibson charges that Brady, therefore, deliberately advertised the Star service on such schedules as to leave no doubt of the premeditated increased pay, drawn by lower for expedition, and said that in almost every instance he violates the letter and spirit of the law in making orders for additional allowances by which these contractors would be receiving more than two million and a quarter of dollars a year. It is charged that during the fiscal years of 1879 and 1880, there were orders on which allowances were made and money paid, which were retractive and in direct violation of the law. That there were, during Brady's incumbency, 74 orders made in violation of the law. Gibson says the inspection of every case of expedition was by experienced and impartial men, whose instructions were to ascertain the truth and report. The most searching investigation was made. Hundreds of witnesses were examined, and volumes of testimony taken. I cannot resist the conviction that in almost every case the allowance for expedition was fraudulently obtained. Gibson finished as follows: "There has been inefficiency and dereliction of duty, and still graver official shortcomings, in the administration.

Mrs. Christianey's Condition.

The janitor endeavored to persuade her to return to her residence, but she broke away from him and exclaimed that she would never return home again; that she wanted to see her lawyers on very important business. Her shriek attracted quite a crowd, and a gentleman kindly volunteered to relieve Hughes of his charge. A carriage was quickly summoned, and the unfortunate lady was placed in it and driven to her residence, about four squares from the spot she was first discovered. Her ravings were terrible to listen to as she was borne down Louisiana Avenue.

It is asserted that the evidence submitted by the prosecution in the divorce suit during the past week or two has been of a very damaging character, and Mrs. Christianey has brooded continually over it. It was impossible for any one to see her to-night, as she was under the doctor's care, who had prescribed absolute quiet and given her a narcotic to induce sleep. Her moans could plainly be heard on the sidewalk, and passers by were attracted until an unusual crowd had congregated in the vicinity of the house. The affair has created considerable excitement in this city, owing to the fact that the parties are so well known. The construction put upon Mrs. Christianey's conduct is that her troubles have driven her mad, and the next step in the case may be to send her to an asylum.

Bonds.

Secretary Folger has directed a computation to be made for the purpose of ascertaining at what premium the government can afford to purchase 4½ and 4 per cent. bonds instead of calling in the 3½s and at the same time protect the government from loss. This has been done in view of the fact that 4½s and 4s are not redeemable until 1891 and 1907 respectively. If the surplus revenues should enable the government to call in all outstanding 3½s, which will certainly occur previous to the time the next loan matures. It is maintained that there will then be no use for surplus revenue, the proceeds at which continued 5s and 6s are redeemed and 4½s and 4s fall due. As to the Secretary's programme relative to the outstanding 5s and 6s, there appears to be good ground for the statement that unless some emergency arises Windom's policy of calling in continued sixes in preference to continued fives will be followed.

Office Seekers.

Arthur recently told an office seeker to come and see him in about thirty days from the time the incumbent's commission expires. "I have made up my mind that all officials shall serve out their terms unless they perform their duties improperly." Such incidents have greatly cooled the ardor of office-seekers generally, and particularly of those members of the Grant faction at Chicago who have been expecting to step into good places without more trouble than to display their "306" badges. Their is some comfort for them, however, in the fact that in all forecasts of the new Cabinet which have come from Grant's friends, no man has been mentioned who was not an advocate of Grant's nomination last year, with the exception of Chaffee, and he is now counted as belonging to the Grant element by reason of his recent family ties.

Not to be Bullied.

The members of the New York Stock Exchange discussed Gould's story without the display of any vast amount of terror or excitement. A member of the governing committee said, "we have refused to do dirty work for him and he resorts to the lash, but he will find we can stand it if he can. The New York Stock Exchange will not be bullied by him, and the sooner he wakens to that the better it will be for him."

Business.

The clearing house exchanges show increased business transactions at nearly all the cities over the corresponding week of last year. Milwaukee shows a decrease of 2.4 per cent and New Haven of 19. New Orleans is about stationary. At all other towns there has been an increase as follows:

New York, 2.8; Boston, 17.5; Philadelphia, 18.9; Chicago, 15.5; Cincinnati, 10 0; St. Louis, 25.3; Baltimore, 5.6; San Francisco, 12.7; Pittsburg, 26.4; Louisville, 5.6; Providence, 15.3; Kansas City, 14.1; Cleveland, 23.5; Indianapolis, 22.8; Memphis, 8.0; Springfield, 22.6; Columbus, 24.9; Worcester, 24.9; Lowell, 26; Syracuse, 17.2.

Commenting on the figures the Public says: The exchanges for the third week of November compare fairly with the same week of last year, of 30% all activity outside of New York. The exchanges of the corresponding week in 1880, had at that time, never been surpassed only four or five times in the history of clearing houses. In comparison with such a week any gain is evidence of a general expansion of business. The increase has preceded ten per cent at fifteen out of twenty-three cities, as the average advance in prices has been only six percent, and speculative operations are not at present more active than they were a year ago. The returns denote large increase in the quantities exchanged.

The effect of the failures at Boston does not appear this week, but some depression in boot and shoe trade is noticed.

Improving markets for iron and coal are noted at Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

Mrs. Lincoln.

Mrs. Abraham Lincoln has been in this city nearly two months, submitting to medical treatment at the hands of Dr. Anderson. A Times reporter says: She has needed means to secure constant attendance and nurse and the $3,000 pension granted by Congress is utterly inadequate to support her wants in her present condition. It is stated that active efforts are making to have Congress increase her pension. Dr. Sayres said to a Times reporter: If it were not for her illness which may very possibly prove incurable, even with the best and most constant attendance, I believe she would get along on the paltry $3,000 Congress has thrown to her, and she would would never have known from me that she was the wife of the man who did more for his country than any other man, was poor and in want. As it is, she is absolutely driven to ask assistance from somebody, and I believe Congress is the proper place to apply. The widow of Abraham Lincoln should not want for proper care during her sickness. The country owes it to its own honor, as well as to the memory of the dead, to provide liberally for her in this emergency.

Gould's New Road.

The Times says that Jay Gould will notify Wall street to-day that he has secured control of the New York & New England Railroad Company. He will also probably make known his plans for insuring a permanent and direct New York connection. The scheme contemplates an immense depot in this city as large as the Grand Central.

Suburban Investment.

CHICAGO, 23.—The Times says the newest suburban scheme is said to be engineered by A. B. Meeker with a powerful syndicate behind him, including many railroad magnates. This syndicate has bought the south Chicago lands belonging to the Bowen estate. The proposition is to use this land as a depot for the products of the large eastern and western coal companies that have their agencies here. The Chicago & Western Indiana will transfer coal to different Western lines of railroad. Dock improvements will be made. The enterprise involves an outlay of $1,000,000. A number of New York capitalists are interested.

Rise in Grain.

There is a story, which seems to be well authenticated, to the effect that a syndicate, composed of Hutchinson and other Chicago parties, has been formed to bull grain in opposition to Lester and several New York parties.

Arrangements are consummated by which the New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad will come in on the Illinois Central tracks some time during 1882.

On a call of the Board this afternoon, a million and a half bushels of wheat were sold, of which B. P. Hutchinson bought 410,000 bushels. This put the price up 3¼ cents, and the other cereals followed.

Vaccinate or Vamoose.

The State Board of Health, which claims to have control over such matters, decided to-day that pupils should not be admitted to the schools anywhere in the State after January 1st unless they have a certificate of vaccination.

Fruits of the Occident.

The Tribune prints a column on California fruits, showing their importance in this market, and that they are distributed from this city over the whole country. In the article is interwoven an interview with Washington Porter, of a fruit shipping firm of this city who has been in California recently. Porter is thoroughly impressed with the idea that the State is only in its infancy, so far as its production of fruits for the use of the world is concerned.

Irish Convention.

The Irish American National Convention, which begins its session on the 30th inst., at the McCormick Hall, promises to be a monstrous affair. Delegates will be present from all the principal cities in the country, and arrangements have been made to accommodate 2,000.

FOREIGN.

Baroness Coutts.

LONDON, 23.—The threatened litigation between Baroness Burdett-Coutts and her relatives is averted. All the counsels considered she was married to a foreigner, which she could not do under the terms of the will of the Duchess of St. Albans without renouncing her interest in Coutts' Bank. The Baroness therefore resigned her half share in the bank, but will continue to receive a small annual allowance as compensation.

Killed and Captive Christians.

Turkish officers and soldiers have massacred a Christian family at Tuca and carried off 10 men, women and children and £200.

Vennor's Prediction.

MONTREAL, 23.—Vennor predicts very cold and stormy weather the last week in the month on this continent. In the northwest it will fall considerably below zero. Severe frost will extend southward and westward.

Papal Polley.

Tremos, prelate in the household of the Pope Leo XII, is here. He expresses the opinion that his Holiness would, ere long, change his residence to Malta or Salisbury, from opposition he received in the holy city. The Italian Government does not afford the protection which it should. The Pope foresees his departure and has had a catalogue made of all objects of value in the vatican.

French Polley.

PARIS, 23.—Gambetta issued a circular defending the Tunisian policy of France. It is the efficient protection of French and European interests in Tunis.

Parisian Pigs.

The United States minister conferred with Gambetta to day upon the importation of American pork into France.

A Mulatto Murderer.

HAVANA, 23.—While the civil guard was trying to re-arrest a mulatto bandit, he killed one man and wounded two. The bandit was finally killed.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

The steamer Mary Jane from Port David for Erie, is reported lost with six men missing.

Gen John W. Reid, of Kansas City, a prominent citizen, 60 years of age, was killed yesterday by falling from a caboose on the Missouri Pacific R. R.

A passenger reports a collision near Rahway, in which 12 persons were killed. Railway officials say they have no knowledge of the accident.

The Southwestern Rate Association this morning arranged a Colorado pool on the basis of 45 per cent. for the Chicago division and 55 per cent. for the St. Louis divisions. They then adjourned the meeting to Chicago, December 6th, when the sub-divisions will be determined on.

"I consider it a great pleasure," writes A. J. Doak, Esq., manager American House, Amesbury, Mass., "to state that the inflammatory rheumatism which so severly affected my feet, yielded at once upon a few applications of the St. Jacobs Oil, which is worthy of the highest recommendation."

Correspondence.

POLK CITY, Polk County, Iowa, Nov. 19, 1881.

Editor Deseret News:

Since my last letter to you Bro. Wallantine and I have labored in several counties in Wisconsin. On the 3d and 4th of September we were present at the Conference held at St. Francis, Minnesota, minutes of which you have published. We then came back to St. Paul, where we took steamer for La Crosse, Wisconsin. Here we expected to find some who were favorable to the cause, as we had the names sent us from Utah, of several persons living here. Here I would remark, that where the names of parties to be visited are sent to the Elders they should state whether they were relatives or if friends, state where they resided, when the acquaintance was made, so that the Elder would know how to approach them. From La Crosse we walked back into Eau Clare County, near the south line, where we held a number of meetings, and made many friends. We then worked our way back to La Crosse, took steamer to Dubuque, thence by rail to Clinton County, Iowa, where we labored the past six weeks, baptized six persons and blessed three children. In De Witt we held a number of meetings in the Court House.

We visited a number of families who had once belonged to the Church, but had lost the faith. I cannot imagine any persons more miserable than are those who have backslided.

When the light becomes darkness, how great is that darkness. Some of these treated us well and told us to call again, while others could not abuse us bad enough.

On the 16th inst., I came here to Polk City, which will be my post office for some time. Any of the brethren having relatives living near here, whom they would like me to visit, if they will please send me the addresses and particulars.

I find the people so corrupt and so bigoted that they will not endure sound doctrine, but they have heaped to themselves teachers. I am satisfied that there are many honest ones who have not embraced the gospel, but the vast majority have no faith in religion, and while they fear there is a God, they would give more to satisfy themselves that there is no God, than they would to try and gain his favor.

Ever praying for the welfare of Zion and the advancement of truth, I remain your brother,

THOS. J. STEED.

The Seventh Comet of the Year.

Director Swift, of the Warner Astronomical Observatory, Rochester, N.Y., at 11 p.m. of the 16th inst., discovered a faint, round, tailless comet in the constellation Cassiopeia, which has a right ascension of 1 hour 50 minutes and a declination north of 71 degrees, with motion slowly westward. This is the seventh comet which has been discovered since the 1st of May last, four of which, meeting the conditions of the fund, have received the Warner Prize of $200, Professor Swift procuring the first and last award. Inasmuch as the comet of 1812 is expected in the quarter in which this one appeared, Prof. Swift is not sure at present that the stranger may not be the familiar comet which was discovered by Pons. In 1878, Director Swift, at Denver, claimed to have discovered an intra-Mercurial planet. In May, 1882, he will visit Egypt, under the munificent provision of Mr. H. H. Warner, to observe the total eclipse, at which time he hopes to verify his intra-Mercurial planet discovery. Mr. H. H. Warner's generous patronage of science has given astronomical study a wonderful impulse during the past 12 months, and the country is to be congratulated on having so broad-minded a man so "substantially" devoted to the upbuilding of her intellectual as well as physical interests.

$50 REWARD.
