Flaintif sues for $500 with in-terest from May 5th, 1553, less $500, which has been paid. The plaintiff al-leges that the $500 was loaned to defendants and the evidence of the in debtedness was a mortgage on Spring-ville real estate, there being no note given except the note which was included in and a part of the mortgage. He further alleges that the mortgage was released in 1829, in order to save the payment of taxes on the mortgaged with the understanding that the re-lease of the mortgage should not invalidate the claim of plaintiff against defendant, and after the release, it is alleged, the defendants refused to pay the money due the plaintiff. The de-fendants deny that there is anything due plaintiff, alleging that all the mon
