News from England.—The following is extracted from a letter from Elder H. C. Fowler, now on a mission in England, to a friend in this city. The communication is dated at Emsworth, Hants, March 3d:

"I am pleased to say the Lord is blessing the Elders in their labors. Here, in the London Conference, the fruits of their efforts are being made manifest by additions to our numbers. We are baptizing a few all the time. The Lord has begun to work upon the hearts of the people, and in many parts of the Conference many are inquiring after the truth. It seems to me a renewed interest is being taken in the principles of the gospel. There is not that indifference that has been manifested of late years. The people seem to be waking up, at least so it seems to me, in this Conference. In one small village down here I expect shortly to baptize seven or eight persons, and at another place where I called and preached on my way to this place they have written to President Burton to send them an Elder. The people want to hear the principles of 'Mormonism' explained. Some are having significant dreams. It appears that the Holy Spirit is operating upon and striving with them."

The health of Elder Fowler at date of writing was good, and he was taking much interest and pleasure in his missionary labors.

Theatre.—A good play well played was Mr. Lingard's "Life's Dream" at the Theatre last night. There was "heaps of fun in it," observed one of the spectators, who evidently enjoyed it richly, and the audience generally appeared to be well satisfied with both the play and the performers.

Mr. Howard Paul sang, "When George the Third was King," and was well applauded therefor.

Mr. Lingard was famous as usual in his famous twenty character sketches, in which he is unsurpassed, if not unrivaled.

For this evening there is a great bill. The beautiful drama of "Alphonse" commences the programme, with Miss Lingard as "Mme. Guichard," Mr. Lingard as "Jean Marc De Montaigne," Miss Roobe as "Mme. Raymond De Montaigne," and Mr. Lindsey and Miss Clawson and others of the company in the cast.

Mr. Lingard follows with his extraordinary serious and funny character sketches.

The performance concludes with Mr. Howard Paul's comic metropolitan scene of "Locked Out," with the author as "Oscar Raymond" and Miss Roobe as "Lottie Lee." Disputed neighbors and other by the company.

On Easter Monday evening the fine play of "Charity" constitutes part of the programme.

Contempt Case.—Yesterday sixteen men employed at the Richmond mine by the company of that name were arrested, and appeared in the District Court this morning, in answer to the charge of contempt, in disregarding a restraining order issued by that Court, while Judge McKean presided, and the parties at whose instance the men were arrested claim that the latter were at work on the disputed ground when they were arrested. The dispute is between the Richmond and Tereza Mining Companies, and the dispute has some peculiar features in its history.

It appears that, several years ago, the two parties concluded upon a compromise line, beyond the limit of which they agreed not to encroach, and this arrangement was carried out for four years. The Tereza Company, however, subsequently went over that boundary and the Richmond Company sought for and obtained an injunction, preventing them so doing. The Richmond owners were fortunate in finding good ore, while those of the Tereza were not, and the latter applied for a government patent, the lines of which struck across the claim upon which the Richmond Company has been working, against the injunction of which patent the Richmond Company have filed a protest.

At subsequent proceedings, before a referee, in which the Tereza Company applied for a restraining order, against the Richmond Company, to prevent the latter from operating upon the ground they had been working upon before, and which was within the lines of the patent applied for by the Tereza Company, the report of the referee, Mr. Farley L. Williams, was in favor of the Tereza Company, and the Court issued the restraining order accordingly.

The Richmond Company expect to show that their men were not working within the patent lines referred to when arrested, having tunnelled from where they formerly operated beyond the boundary of the patent.

The matter will come up for hearing at 9 o'clock on Monday, until which time the case was continued.

An Important Ruling.—About half-past eleven o'clock to-day the grand jury of the Third District appeared in Court, when U. S. District Attorney Carey stated that there was reason for believing that Mr. Lawson, a member of the grand jury, was not a citizen, on the ground that he had not resided five years continuously in the country prior to his obtaining his naturalization papers, having lived a portion of that time, and coming to the country, on the Sandwich Islands as a "Mormon" missionary.

The ruling of his honor, Judge Emerson, was, in effect, that a person's residence is where his property is, or where his family reside, and that a person might come and go from his place of residence, and still be a resident within the meaning of the law, and that therefore Mr. Lawson is a citizen; and that gentleman retained his place on the grand jury.

How to Grow and Cure Broom Corn. Procure good and pure seed. Get a hand drill and drill it in rows three feet apart. Set your drills so as to drop your seed about one and a half inches deep. The seed must be selected good, rich, warm soil for it, and plant about the 1st of May, or as soon as the soil is warm and moist. It will require four months to mature. Cultivate it well with the cultivator, and keep it as clean from weeds as possible. When passing from the field into the threshing machine, cut it out, and cut as much each day as you can plant. This will enable you to cut all your corn in the field, and will furnish material for good durable brooms. Leave in the field until the corn is well shelled, and then thresh it out, and put it in a sack, and keep it in a cool, dry place, and it will keep for a long time. It will be found that you can get a better yield of broom corn than you can of any other kind of corn. It will be found that you can get a better yield of broom corn than you can of any other kind of corn. It will be found that you can get a better yield of broom corn than you can of any other kind of corn.

Boys, Go to School. JACOB CITY, March 25th, 1875.

Editor Deseret News.—Hail hail boys! The good news of improvement. Mechanical drawing and calculation school about to be established for those who wish to learn mechanics. It has been the prayer of many a boy, who has wished to ascend the rounds of the mechanical ladder, to see such a school started at Salt Lake, and I trust that all those who wish to avail themselves of this opportunity will do so readily.

So, as to establish it upon a sound foundation. Mr. Wm. J. Silver is a man of great mechanical ability and judgment. I speak from personal knowledge, and feel satisfied that the officers of this school are men qualified to hold such positions and fit for such laudable enterprises as they have undertaken. So, boys, put your shoulders to the wheel.

Large Coal Field Discovered. BEAVER, 27.—A large coal field was discovered fifteen miles south of Beaver, in the Territory, in this county, and within a few miles of the prospective route of the Utah Southern railroad, on Wednesday last, by three young men residing near the town of Beaver, who are about to start out to prospect for coal on a tract of three hundred acres. The quality has already been tested; it burns well and gives promise of being good coal, and is regarded as one of the most valuable discoveries in all the mining districts of this Territory. New discoveries of galena and other smelting ores are reported daily in the Lincoln and Shantle districts.

house was well filled, and the congregation was agreeably entertained by Elders James E. and M. McKean.

In the afternoon Bishop Rowberry occupied most of the time in a very able discourse, portraying to the minds of the Saints the heavenly rewards in store for them, and closing in a very eloquent and brilliant manner upon the United Order.

The meetings were all well attended, and a good spirit prevailed generally.

I cannot close this correspondence without referring briefly to an interesting and elegant bridal festivity at this place on the 24th inst., on the occasion of a matrimonial alliance between Mr. Cyrus Bates (a son of Cyrus Bates) of the first ward, and Miss Augusta Ellison, of the second part. The festive gathering was at Bro. Cyrus Bates' residence, consisting of a large number of prominent citizens, including our much beloved Bishop Rowberry, Bro. Stephen S. Worthington, and the friends and relatives of the newly wedded pair. Much rejoicing took place on the occasion, including various amusements, appropriate toasts and sentiments, and last, but not least, a sumptuous supper, well and ably furnished by Bro. Cyrus Bates.

While in the height of enjoyment a rare occurrence took place. The bride's brother-in-law, Mr. S. S. Worthington, placed in the hands of Cyrus Bates what appeared to be a legal document. The latter read the contents, the substance of which was as follows:

"I, Stephen S. Worthington, do hereby present to the bride, as a bridal gift, four large American cows and one share in the Toole and Gransville Grist Mill."

Many thanks were expressed and much merriment, and the company separated, hoping that in the actions of the happy couple on the stage of life each scene would be as joyful as the wedding scene, when the last act in earth's drama was performed they would meet again in a joyous paradise, on the heavenly shores of eternity.
