WYOMING STOCKMEN ARE HAPPY.

What the Coeur d'Alene Trouble Cost the State of Idaho—Other Items.

Wyoming stockmen are unanimous in the expression that cattle are later and in better condition now than at any time for seven years. Shipping will begin next week and the Wyoming range steer will bring the top prices.

U. S. Marshal Parkinson has, says the Boise Statesman, relations from north Idaho, where he gathered in discharges all of his captives except ten at Hope. The natural ways the Coeur d'Alene trouble into this state cost the government $20,000.

Professor Ashton, entomologist of the Agricultural Experiment station at Moscow, Idaho, has investigated the grain aphis, which is found all through that section. Professor Ashton believes that the snow will do no serious damage to crops.

The prospects are that a silver camp will spring into existence south of the Winnemucca, Nevada, line fall, says the Silver State. Assays taken from ledges give over 100 ounces in silver and a few dollars in gold. An assay from Virginia City showed 170 ounces in silver and $9 in gold.

Some of the stockmen who reside in Utah county, on whose cattle range in Fremont county, have decided to pay their taxes, amount to the Lamanite (Wyo.) Sentinel. To-day they said that no property in Wyoming so big and should remain a state if men who resided up enough stock to indemnify themselves county and brought them to Lander to be sold. The assessor refused to take the cash.

The Laramie Creamery will soon send shipments this week, says the Republican of last week. The fine now has raised in consequence of the cream not yet in by the consumers. It is claimed by the managers of the creamery that 5 of the material reaches is desirable to be a profitable source of revenue, and that the Hub City is not to be outdone in enterprise or cheapness than some of the article.

The Merchants' Protective association of Boise, Idaho, is a commendable to all the leading merchants of Idaho urging them to cooperate to get an agitation in opinion from the legislative candidates to avoid any possible position on the question of repeal of the merchants' license, which the association considers a most unjust tax. The association will endeavor to see that such are elected to the legislature who favor the repeal of the obnoxious law.

Up to date 2,500,000 pounds of wool have been received at Great Falls, Mont., for shipment East. It is estimated that this year's total will amount to between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 pounds, or about twice the present year's pile. Last year's clip received and shipped from there amounted to about 3,250,000, so that the present season is gratifying in that it shows an increase of almost 100 per cent to the wool shipments. Prices range from 9 to 11 cents.

The Mountain Home (Idaho) Republican states that one day last week Messrs. Smith, C. N. Smart, Dr. Nesbitt and Hugh Latham visited Kiteka cave. They explored the cavern to the depth of about 700 feet. That this cave has been visited by many people to prove past is evidenced by the numerous autographs that are carved upon the walls and cards strewn along the bottom. The most noted one card bearing the date of 1873. They added their autographs to the already large collection.

A few days ago Pete Larsen came within an ace of casting in his checks, says the Shoshone (Idaho) Journal. He was up the river in company with several others swimming, and while attempting to cross the river at a point where the current is rather swift, became exhausted and sank. He went down twice before any of his companions noticed it, and just as he was descending for the third time Matt McKell, who was in the water, swam out and succeeded in catching and landing him on the bank.

An effort to have the mail route now terminating at Lake valley, extended some forty-five miles farther north to Gerlach, to connect with the route from Ely to Frisco, Utah, is being made, says the Pioche (Nevada) Record. A petition was circulated here on Monday and will be taken from here to White Pine county, where the opening of the route is as much desired as at this point, as it will place Lincoln and White Pine counties in direct communication with each other, something we have not enjoyed for a year or two.

The Weiser (Idaho) Signal says that a large company of Norwegian emigrants are intending to settle in Long Valley this summer. The committee went out by boat to choose a location, since traveling over it is impossible. Idahoan, decided to locate there. They say they do not mind the deep snow, they are used to it. Here they can find good water, good soil, plenty of timber, can raise grain and gardens, and think that deep snow and long winters are less inconvenience than scarcity of feed for winter, poor water and very little of it, no timber and no range for stock.

Winnemucca (Nevada) Silver State-Min. Logan, of Lovelock, who is now in custody, put an end to her husband's life after he had murdered three men in a cowardly manner by shooting them through the back with a rifle, and after he had threatened to cut her up in small pieces, leaving a ride but would end her life so easily, is in the eyes of more than one exchange a woman to be upheld for her justifiable act. After a preliminary examination before Justice Young of Lovelock, she was discharged on the ground of self-defense.

A man named Naglane, employed on a ranch about five miles from Reno, Cal., had been on a protracted spree and while under the influence of delirium tremens, rushed into a barn and set fire to it. The flames drew the attention of several people who were working in the vicinity and they rushed into the barn and dragged out Naglane, who was badly burned, and threw him into a large horse trough. They then returned to the barn and took out the horses, and while they were thus occupied Naglane rushed back into the barn unobserved. The barn was destroyed and the man perished.
