The Co-op Furniture Company. In another column will be found the advertisement of the Co-op Furniture Company, whose establishment is at 41 Main Street. Recently this excellent firm doubled the capacity of their warerooms and, having thus extended their facilities, correspondingly increased their stock of goods, which have been selected with care and skill, and have been placed down to the lowest practicable living figures.

We have no hesitation in commending this establishment as second to no other in fair, honest dealing and general reliability, the names of the gentlemen connected with it being a guarantee in that respect.

Besides the large assortment of im ported goods kept in stock by the company, they pay special attention to the home manufacturing department, in which they keep a force of competent workmen employed, great care woman. There is no doubt that the being taken to produce articles that mania in the east for everything Eagare notable for being both neat and substantial.
