

CHAMPIONSHIP PIGEON SHOOT.

Harry Money of Oakland Carries
Off First Honors.

SCORES 88 KILLS OUT OF 100

Winner is the Youngest Son of Captain A. W. Money—Second Place Tied.

New York, Feb. 22.—Harold Money of Oakland, N. J., a member of the Catear Club of Garden City, L. I., and the youngest son of Captain A. W. Money, the veteran trap shooter, won the amateur pigeon shooting championship of America from a field of seventeen contestants at the Catear Gun Club grounds today, with a score of 88 kills out of a possible 100. Colonel Thomas Martin of Buffalo, N. Y., tied for second place with 87 kills, and Dr. Frank C. Wilson of Savannah, Ga., and C. A. Pinter of Pittsburgh tied for third place with 84 kills each.

Later a miss and out contest for $15 was instituted, to which the club added a prize of a $100 silver cup. The new 25-yard mark was put on the 25-yard mark and had to concede two, three and four yards to some of the men who had just beaten McAlpin, who was on the 25-yard line, and Dan Bradley, who was on the 30-yard line, had to play second and third to the young fellow at the finish. Money killed 17, while McAlpin ran second with 16; Bradley, 15; Painter, 14. The other twelve men fell by the way-side.

A BRUTAL PRIZE FIGHT.

University Students Engage in a Bare Fists Contest.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 22.—Guy Robertson, a senior in the state university, and Paul Harper, a junior in the same institution, fought to a finish this morning in a bare fist contest at the university. The fight was with bare fists, both combatants being stripped to the waist. The men were well matched and, as both are athletes and members of the football eleven, the fight was fierce from the beginning. It lasted four rounds, Robertson being knocked out. The senior forced the fighting, punishing his lighter and smaller opponent severely. Harper was almost killed at the end of the second round, but he was badly cut up about the face and head. The affair arose out of the fact that a number of the juniors handcuffed Robertson last night in an effort to prevent the senior from leaving the university. Telamon beat Artful Tied two lengths. The event was worth $2,500.

ATHLETIC EXHIBITION.

Interesting Program at the Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium Last Evening.

There was an interesting exhibition given in the gymnasium at the Y. M. C. A. headquarters last evening which was well attended by a good number of the lovers of athletics. When the affair terminated the consensus of opinion was that the gymnastic exhibition ranked among the best amateur events that had been given in Salt Lake City.

for a long time. The evening's program opened with some good work on the part of the junior classes in the direction of fancy drill, followed by the seniors in an interesting turn on the apparatus. Emulating the example set by Al G. Field's minstrels here during the week, the boys indulged in some good pyrotechnic work after the fashion of the Redoubts. Other features of the evening were a clever exhibition illuminated club swinging act by Physical Director Augustus and work on the bars by some of the best exponents in that direction.

An excellent program of music and readings has been prepared and the event promises to be a most enjoyable one. The affair has been planned to give those whose employment during the week prevents them from attending the regular sessions an opportunity of enjoying the art exhibit and every preparation has been made to make the occasion a most delightful one. Following is the program:

Mrs. Urquhart Lee, the noted instructor, who was here last fall, will arrive in the city on March 1st, and the class will study under her instruction.

The afternoon and evening parties at Christensen's yesterday were enjoyed by a large number.

The Woman's Democratic club gave a pleasant party at the home of Senator and Mrs. J. L. Rawlin's last night. The decorations, score tables and prizes were commemorative of the day celebrated, the rooms being adorned in cherry color with the Washington to cap all.

The tallies were little hatchets tied with the red, white and blue, and the score cards in red with a message from William Wilson, which had been on the card. The message was as follows: "Let the Republic which Washington founded be preserved in spirit as well as in form, and in these hours of temptation, let the true citizen be the principled purchaser with blood and defended for a century, W. J. BRYAN."

The prizes, which were fine portraits of George and Martha Washington, were won by Mrs. A. J. Hoffman, Bessie Wilson, and the booby flag box of candy and a paper hatchet by Mrs. J. E. Hyde and Albert Hoffman.

The Ladies' Literary club celebrated its birthday yesterday in a most interesting fashion at the home of Miss Buchanan read a paper on "What is the United States Doing in Her New Territories?" Mrs. Hancock read a paper written by Mrs. White of Boston on "The Visit of the Cuban Teachers." "The Interest of the Moment" was the subject of a humorous sketch by Mrs. John Caine. It was in the form of a letter to the club purporting to come from George Washington telling in amusing fashion the different phases of the club's growth, and also dealing with current events. An original poem on "The Father of His Country" was also read by Mrs. Caine. Mr. Graham sang a number of war songs, and patriotic songs were given by the chorus under the direction of Mr. Peabody. The program closed with "America," sung by the club. A social half hour followed, refreshments being served.

Before the members dispersed, Mrs. William Jennings presented the club, on behalf of the home and educational section, with a bas-relief of "Nikae Unloosing Her Snares."

The Music Section will meet Wednesday morning, Feb. 27th, at 10 o'clock at the club house. Mendelssohn and Tchaikowski will be the composers for the day. All club members are cordially invited.

RAILROAD NEWS.

S. H. Babcock, traffic manager Rio Grande Western, has returned from a business trip to New York. He states that while the railroad atmosphere in the East is surcharged with consolidation rumors he has not heard that the Harriman syndicate had gained control of the Rio Grande Western.

W. H. Snedaker, general western agent, Illinois Central, is in town today. He reports numerous washouts, and traffic demoralized to an extent thereby, throughout California, Oregon and Nevada. Snedaker was very glad to hear about the loss of the Rio de Janeiro off the Golden Gate yesterday, especially so for the reason that he was personally acquainted with the Captain. Ward, the commandeer of the ill-fated vessel. He further stated that at the point where the ship went down that the water is no deeper than twenty feet at low tide.

Belated passengers over the Southern Pacific who are now arriving in town report that all the desert portion of the country traversed in Nevada is practically one vast lake, and that owing to the nature of the ballasting in the portions affected the roadbed is in a very sticky and moist condition, so much so that the utmost caution is being exercised by the engineers in running their trains.

Among the live stock shipments that have been handled the past week are three carloads of cattle from Gunnison to Omaha; three cars of stock from Ephraim to Kansas City; two cars of horses from Dillon, Mont. to Union Pacific; and four cars of mules from Wadsworth, Nev., to Blackburn, Miss.

There was another washout yesterday on the Oregon Short Line at a point near Pebble, Idaho. A large force of men is at work repairing the damage.

My parents fed the whole family on these little pills; never had any other remedy in the house, and I am the smallest of eleven children. So much for Humphreys' Specifics. I should advise all those who are young children to get packages of it and carry it around with them. It is the most reliable thing you can get—except a ticket over the New York Central."

LAST RITES OVER MRS. CRAIG

Funeral Services at St. Mary's Cathedral—Interment in Calvary.

The obsequies of the late Mrs. Julia L. Craig were held yesterday afternoon from St. Mary's cathedral. The church was well filled with sorrowing friends and the profuse and gorgeous floral tributes bore mute but eloquent testimony of the high esteem in which she was held by her friends. One very beautiful floral piece was a cross, contributed by the associates of the bereaved husband in the auditor's office of the Oregon Short Line. The music was very sweet and Father Curran, who conducted the services, pronounced a splendid eulogy upon the deceased. He spoke of her great patience and cheerfulness through the long and bitter hours of suffering. The pall-bearers were C. J. McNitt, J. W. Hall, J. Cruikshank, A. H. Barthel, Charles Bodell, A. E. WEBER STAKE ACADEMY.

Washington's Birthday Commemorated in the State Deaf Mute School.

Interesting Socials of the Past Week

—Prof. Moench the Recipient of a Pleasant Surprise.

The basket ball teams of the academy are meeting regularly to prepare for battle with some of the leading teams of the State.

The business department is making extensive preparations for a grand ball to be given next Friday evening at Christensen's. All the old students of the academy are cordially invited. Tickets can be obtained from students of the academy.

A debate is arranged for next Thursday evening, under the auspices of the Literary society; and it, together with a solo, and song by the male quartet, and selection by the Academy Mandolin club, promise an evening of rare enjoyment both intellectually and socially.

The academy is still increasing in numbers.

Prof. Moench attended Dr. Maeser's funeral on Tuesday and placed a beautiful emblem upon the casket, a presentation by the students. The school dismissed in honor of the occasion.

IN THE DEAF MUTE SCHOOL.

Washington's birthday was celebrated in a very interesting way at the State school for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind. A very pleasing program was rendered, as follows:

Musical Lulu McDonald
Ode to Washington (a poem) Elgin Jacobson, Peter Slot, Ole Pettit, John Alvey, Roy Gings, Mary Young, Pearl Wright, Lizzie Edgington.

A recitation—Washington's Life—conclusion of this the company was marched down to the business department, where three long tables were spread with a delightful menu and speedily surrounded by a jovial crowd of happy smiling students.

An adjournment was next taken to the preparatory department, where dancing was joyfully entered into the wee small hours of the night. Merriment, innocent merriment, reigned supreme and the surprise will ever be remembered as one of the most pleasant ever given by the students to the beloved principal of the Weber Stake academy.

CAPTURED THE CHOIR LEADER.

William J. Barnes, musical director of the Fifth ward, was tendered a very delightful surprise party on Wednesday evening, February 20th. The choir met as usual for practice in the meeting house, and about nine o'clock, Mr. Barnes was called out by four men escorted him to the ward amusement hall adjoining the meeting house, where he was surprised by the greetings of about one hundred of the members of the ward and some from other wards. The students were all brightly and Mr. Will Crawford and Miss S. Fowler furnished sweet strains of music on the violin and piano, to which the merry crowd danced until about one o'clock, when Mr. Barnes was called to the front, and Miss Beatrice Farley, in behalf of the choir members, presented him with a beautiful gold mounted ebony baton, with the words: "W. J. Barnes, from the Ward Choir, Feb. 20, 1901. W. J. Barnes responded very feelingly, expressing his appreciation of the gift.

SOCIALS AND PERSONALS.

For a week or more quiet whisperings around the Weber Stake academy indicated that there was something on foot, but nothing materialized definitely until last Tuesday morning, when special advantage was taken of the principal's absence, while in Salt Lake City. On that morning the committees were appointed and all arrangements made for a genuine surprise upon the principal, L. F. Moench. The trap was sprung on Thursday morning. By a special prearranged plan, the principal was lured out for a few moments. Upon his return school was to be called; but, lo and behold, no one would respond. The bell was tapped again and again, but no one obeyed its signals. The principal asked amidst it was silence when in thirty-three years the students refused to obey him. Words fail to describe his looks; teachers and students all in disobedience. No one would answer the roll call. The principal, looking from the clear blue sky the words rang out, "surprise, surprise," followed with hearty, genuine laughter and clapping of hands. An explanation followed and the principal had to surrender. For once he was in the hands of his students and an unconditional surrender demanded and cheerfully given. The lessons were hurriedly gone through and at 2:30 the school dismissed for the event of the evening. At 8 o'clock the school again convened and an interesting program prepared specially for the occasion was enacted. The first was a song by the academy choir, followed by prayer, after which Prof. Christensen entertained the audience with a beautiful violin solo, which was highly appreciated. Miss Bessie Neal in behalf of the students stated the object of the gathering, and in words of commendation spoke of the kind feelings entertained by the public for their beloved and respected principal. The Hunter Mandolin club of the academy followed with a beautiful selection, after which the principal responded feelingly to the love and respect shown him by his students. He then spoke of the kind feelings entertained by the public for their beloved and respected principal. PROVO.

SENTIMENTS OF DR. MAESER To be Perpetuated—Old Folks Entertained in Opera House.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Feb. 23.—On September 6th, 1900, the late Dr. Karl G. Maeser visited the Maeser school in this city. He was requested by Principal Jensen to write a letter to the old people in the city of the four rooms and complied with the request. The writing has remained and will remain for a long time, as it has been decided to cover the blackboards with the words and refer to them as mementoes of the venerable man.

The writing is probably all that remains of the "volumes" of blackboard work Dr. Maeser has done in his long life as a teacher.

The following are the sentiments and each is signed by Dr. Maeser.

"The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom."

"This life is one great object lesson, to be given to the principles of immortality and eternal life."

"Man grows with his higher aims."

"Let naught that is unholy ever enter here."

OLD FOLKS' ENTERTAINMENT.

Washington's birthday was generally observed in Provo. The business houses were closed and a day of rest and pleasure generally enjoyed.

The great event was the theatrical entertainment given the old people in the afternoon in the opera house. Our five hundred invited guests, all over the age of sixty were in attendance and enjoyed the presentation of "The Lancashire Lass," played by a local company with the following cast:

CEDAR CITY.

Interesting Educational Notes from the Branch Normal.

Special Correspondence.

Cedar City, Iron County, Feb. 21.—A change had been made in the chapel exercises of the Branch Normal. Heretofore one Instructor had had charge during the first four days of the week, the principal taking charge each Friday. The instructors are now taking one morning each. This week Messrs. Decker, Tipton and Anderson have addressed the students.

The coming school city election and the division on party lines is causing great interest among the students. Precinct primaries of both parties were held on Wednesday at which delegates for central committee were elected, as well as nominations made for precinct justices and for two councilmen for each precinct. Efforts were made in some of the primaries to instruct delegates as to their conduct in the city convention, but the effort failed.

The Democratic city convention was held on Thursday afternoon at which the following nominations were made: For mayor, O. H. Snow; for attorney, John Foster; for recorder, Estella Spishbury.

Blinding Headaches

"For two years I endured the tortures of nervousness, headache, muscular weakness and loss of appetite. My weight was only 70 pounds, while I had weighed over 100 pounds. I was subject to severe headaches, mostly in the morning, and at times I was so dizzy that I could scarcely distinguish one object from another."

"I spent a great deal of money experimenting with different physicians, but none of them gave me any relief. Last winter I got much worse than I was obliged to go to a hospital for treatment, and after six weeks of care and skillful attention I was but little, if any, better. After leaving the hospital I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People upon the recommendation of a friend who had been benefited by them, and they have done more good than all the doctors combined."

"I had only taken a few doses when I began to feel better and within one week had gained three pounds. I could enjoy my breakfast, I have so much confidence in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People that I recommend them whenever an opportunity presents itself, and all those who have used them speak very highly of them."
