Havana Items.—The Insurrection still strong.—Siphon wants an investigation.
Dying Indians butchered by U. S. Troops.—Mississippi Bill signed.
WASHINGTON.—Mr. Phillips, U. S. Consul at Santiago de Cuba, writes on Jan. 3d, that political affairs are deplorable. Valmaseda aspires to the position of Captain General of the island, and in order to increase his popularity among the blood-crazed Catalonians, who are operating in his behalf both on the island and in Spain, he gives them imperative orders to make this a war of extermination; and we daily hear of peaceful citizens residing in the country being assassinated by the mobilized Spanish troops. The insurrection, says Mr. Phillips, continues in full force. It is estimated that fifty per cent of the Spanish volunteers are disabled from sickness; the hospitals are full to overflowing; and it is generally known and admitted by liberal minded Spanish officers, that it is impossible to suppress the insurrection.

Representative Siphon will publish a card to-morrow, refuting the charges made against him in connection with the sale of cadetships and denying the reports as false and slanderous. He says there is no evidence before the committee implicating him directly or indirectly, and he challenges an investigation.

The Indian commission announces that they have received the sickening details of Col. Baker's attack on the Piagans, in Montana, Jan. 3rd, of whom a hundred and seventy-three were killed; but only fifteen fighting men, 94 of whom were women, over a half of whom were more than fifty years of age; there were also fifty children under twelve, many of whom were killed in their parents' arms. The whole village had been suffering for two months with the small pox, and half a dozen were dying daily.

The President has signed the Mississippi bill.

ILLINOIS.

Cadetship sale investigated.—The method of taking the Census—Pittsford's trial from the returned Exiles—A "shameless, graceless, villainous, detestable liar."

Chicago, 23.—The Tribune Washington special says that the House military committee was in session all day on the cadetship inquiry. Pettis, on the last House, appeared as a friend, but wanted to see if he could succeed in breaking the force of the evidence against him. Landon the missing witness, returned voluntarily to the city, and appeared before the committee. He testified that he inserted the advertisement which appeared in the New York papers and which led to the inquiry of the House, but he said that he did it of his own notion, with no regard to any party. He appears to have been actively engaged in a sort of broker's business in cadetships. In the case of Goladay's appointment to the committee has evidence that the sum of two thousand dollars was paid in connection with the transaction; but there is nothing to show that Goladay was in any sense implicated in the matter. There is a great deal of anxiety among those implicated, as every body understands that, if judgment be executed against Whittemore, Logan will report against the others at once.

General Walker, Superintendent of the census, has made a careful examination of the census law, and comes to the conclusion that some minor changes in it are both advisable and necessary. A draft of a short bill, with a letter explaining it, was sent to Secretary Cox; it was by him warmly endorsed and sent to Congress. The original returns, made by enumerators of the census, go to the Secretary of each commonwealth, and the practice heretofore has been to send one copy to the census office and one to the county clerk's office. General Walker holds that the last named copy is wholly needless, and he recommends its abolition as a saving to the treasury of nearly one-third, in the cost of paper for returns, and of one hundred thousand dollars in writing. Schedules are now returned by the middle of November; but Walker advises legislation requiring the return of schedules of population and mortality by the middle of August, so that, if necessary, they can be used in making up the basis of representation for the next Congress. Penalties are now imposed on persons who refuse to answer some questions in the schedules, and he recommends that these be extended to all of them. He strongly urges that the appointment of enumerators and assistant marshals should be subject to the revision of the Secretary of the Interior, to the end that a good class of men may be secured, especially in the South, where it is expected that the demoralization consequent on the war will render it difficult, in any event, to get correct returns.

The Tribune's New York special says that a number of ex-confederates who have returned home from their voluntary exile in Brazil, tell touching stories of their sufferings there. They say they are glad to be back under the old flag.

The World having reassorted that Greeley sought refuge under the table and windows of a restaurant during the July riots, the Tribune pronounces the author as a liar, a graceless, shameless, villainous and detestable liar.

NEW YORK.

Erie R. R. Company informed.—Letter dated—Mississippi Bill signed—A heavily armed Frigate—Barrington's death.
NEW YORK.—The Erie Railroad company enjoined at the suit of the preferred stock holders, from recognising certificates bearing the tax stamp of the English speculators, who have leagued themselves with the Ramsey, Eaton, and Vanderbilt party for the purpose of putting the line under the control of the New York Central.

A post office porter, named L. Murray, was held for examination in the United States commissioner's office yesterday, charged with embezzling numerous money letters. He admitted the accusation.

The Tribune's correspondence says that the Costa Rican government has annulled the contract made with an American Company for the construction of a railroad across that country to the Pacific coast, the terms not having been complied with by the incorporators, who are principally New York men, General John C. Fremont having been President of the Company.

A large quantity of specie is being shipped hence to Europe.

The screw frigate Colorado has received most of her complement of men; there are now on board 5,800 seamen which number has to be supplemented by the marine guard, about fifty men. When the Colorado is ready for sea, there will be nearly 7,000 souls aboard.

NEW YORK, 23, 10 a.m.—Minister Baringham died yesterday at St. Petersburg.

Washington's Birthday Celebration.—Grand Musical Festival—Steamer Sailed—Rain Storm.

SAN FRANCISCO, 22.—Washington's birthday was celebrated here enthusiastically. Business was suspended and there was a parade of the military. Public and private buildings were decorated with bunting.

The chief feature, however, was a grand musical festival in aid of the Mercantile Library Association, which commenced to-day at the Merchants' Pavilion to be continued for several days. The city is crowded with people from the interior to participate in the event. The States of Nevada and Oregon both contribute their quota of singers and musicians. The immense building was full to overflowing and the streets in its vicinity were crowded with people unable to obtain admittance. The entertainment passed off with general satisfaction. About fifteen hundred voices were in this grand chorus, with two hundred instruments, a big drum, big organ, thirty anvils and electrical guns, closing the grand anthem "America." The audience wild with delight, arose to their feet, cheering and waving handkerchiefs.

The United States steamer Saginaw sailed for Midway Island to-day. Her officers will superintend the removing of the obstructions at the entrance to the harbor of the island. A coaling station for Government and China steamers will be established there.

Heavy rain storm to-night.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Religious Legislation.—Commercial Treaty—New Line of Steamers—Barrington's Death.

LONDON.—In the House of Lords, to-day, Lord Chelmsford introduced a bill to secure the better observance of the Sabbath. It restrains, and in some cases entirely prohibits, trading on Sunday. Lord Chelmsford said the bill was intended to check the growing evil. He read statistics showing that over ten thousand shops were kept open on Sunday in London alone. The Bishop of London spoke in support of the bill. Earl Morley signified that the bill had the approval of the government. The Lord Chancellor thought the bill would have the effect of depriving laborers of the recreation to which they were entitled on Sunday; and he doubted the wisdom and efficacy of the measure. The bill had a second reading in the Commons.

The commercial treaty between Austria and Great Britain is ratified by both governments.

Decentralization favored.—Debate in the Corps—Legislative Ministry triumphs.

PARIS.—Val Drome, minister of the Interior, has submitted to the Emperor and the legislative bodies, a report in favor of the decentralization of the executive administration. The Corps Legislatif has referred it to a committee of Barrot, Guizot, Prevost and Pansard.

The Journals Officiels publishes a list of persons appointed to revise and modify the administrative regulations throughout the empire on the suggestions made by the Minister of the Interior and approved by the Emperor. Among the names on the list are the following: Liberals, Bonnet, Dassy, Darnaud, Guizot, Lacaze, Delavergne, and Pansard.

In the Corps Legislatif the debate on interpolation regarding the domestic policy of the government was continued. Count Anon replied to the speech delivered yesterday by Jules Favre, he pronounced against the demand for the dissolution of the Chamber and declared that the government desired to maintain peace both at home and abroad and to lay the foundation of a parliamentary government. The Emperor had manifested a will to follow the same liberal policy, but if discord arose between the Chamber and the ministry the Emperor must decide and the ministry would respect his will. The speech of the Minister was received with enthusiastic cheers. The debate terminated with a vote of 236 in favor of, and 18 against the ministry.
