The Indian War—Mills Surprises a Hostile Sioux Village—Ponies Captured—The Indians Scattered, etc.

CHEYENNE, Wy., 16.—A courier who left Gen. Crook's command Sept. 10th brings the following news of Sept. 9th: Since General Crook's column turned south towards the Black Hills on the 5th inst., there has been considerable hardship through wet weather and living on bacon and hard bread, and a good deal of grumbling.

On the 7th it was decided to send a portion of the pack train ahead under escort of Col. Mills, with fifteen men on the best horses of each company of the Third Cavalry, making 150 in all. Lieut. Von Leutwitz, Schwatka and Crawford composed the subordinate officers, with Lieut. Bubb, of the Fourth Infantry, chief commissary, Tom Moore chief packer, and Frank Grnard, Crook's chief scout; the latter was to serve both as guide and scout, and on yesterday evening he discovered, through the rain and fog, without being himself observed, a hostile Sioux village, consisting of forty-one large lodges, and a band of several hundred ponies and a few American horses. Mills concluded to attempt the attack with his 150 men, without waiting to send word to Crook for reinforcements. He fell back a few miles, hid his command in a ravine, and at two o'clock this morning marched for the village, which was situated on a little creek, a tributary of Grand or Owl Creek. He formed on the north side before daylight, and ordered Lieutenant Schwatka and company M to charge through the village, while the rest of the force, dismounted, were to form a skirmish line on the other side and pick off the Indians as they came out. The latter were completely surprised and scattered out pell-mell, half naked, returning the fire to some extent. Their ponies were effectually stampeded, but owing to Mill's small force he only succeeded in securing the lodges and property therein, and about one hundred and forty ponies. There was an immense quantity of dried meat, berries, etc., all that Crook's whole pack train could carry, and sufficient to postpone the proposed purchase of supplies. There were wagon loads of robes and savage spoil of all kinds, the guerdon of the Seventh Cavalry, which Custer used in the Little Horn massacre, and various articles of wearing apparel, worn on that occasion, were also captured; a quantity of corn, stored at the mouth of Powder River as late as August 5th, where Terry was fired on, was among the spoils. The whole march and showing since Terry and Crook met go to confirm the soundness of the latter's views of the enemy's probable destination and whereabouts, since leaving their camp on the Little Horn. Lieut. Von Lutwitz of Company C was seriously wounded in the knee; privates Medley and Charles Foster of Company B, Augustus Dorn of Company D, and Sergeant Glass of Company E were wounded, and Private Werzel of Company A was killed in the action. In the morning about seven o'clock word had reached Crook, 15 miles back with the main column. He came forward with selections from the cavalry, reached Mills at eleven o'clock. The latter had kept up a good picket fight during the forenoon. Crook was very much disappointed because Mills did not report the discovery last night, as there was plenty of time to have got up the entire command, and so effectually surrounded the village that nothing could have escaped. But the General is also pleased, too, all things considered. About 100 yards from the village is a little ravine in which a band of seven warriors and fifteen women and children were safely lodged in cavernous rocks, and it was in trying to dislodge them that Mills lost his killed and most of his wounded.

General Crook desired to save the women and children, and by means of Grnard's interpretation a parley ensued. Three warriors came out, one chief named American Horse, being mortally wounded. Before this parley was effected, however, Frank White, a citizen, was shot through the heart, and privates Kennedy and McKeenan of company C, Fifth Cavalry, were wounded. About twenty minutes past four o'clock this afternoon there was a sudden picket firing sprung up, beginning on Col. Mason's front, resulting in the wounding of Sergeant Shrieber, of Company K, and private Dorn of Company F, Fifth Cavalry. It proved to be the result of reinforcements received from Crazy Horse's band, and a running attack all around the the circle, but the troops were quickly thrown out, and the enemy driven off in every direction. The latter got about a dozen horses, too poor to get into camp. The village was thoroughly ransacked and the spoils divided around, Col. Mills and men getting the ponies. There were found passes to "Good Indians" from Indian agent Howard, of the Spotted Tail agency, and an illicit tender, named F. C. Boucher, dates respectively January 14th and February 18th, 1876. Much ammunition and many guns were found in the lodges, and all the evidence is to the effect that these Indians were prepared for winter. There were probably 1,000 warriors connected with it, and their chief is "Roman Nose," formerly of the Cheyenne agency. It is regretted that others of the larger villages near by were not surprised and destroyed; but this affair demonstrates the good policy of a stern chase after the Indians, even with the foot soldiers who came in here to the relief of the cavalry, as their part in the play gives them renewed vigor and spirit.

September 10.—Later.—There was a little picket firing throughout last night and this morning. After the command was on the march a number of Indians came down on the rear of the column, but were met with a warm reception from Captain Sumners' battalion of the Fifth Cavalry, who covered the enemy in the ravine, killing several and disabling others. Private Foster, Company F, Madden, Company M, and Geo. Cloutier, Company D, were wounded. The command marched fifteen miles, to-day, toward the Hills, bringing the entire sick and wounded on twelve litters. Medical director Clements amputated the right leg of Lieut. Von Lutwitz last evening, and private Kennedy died of his wounds. No other amputations or deaths are likely to occur. The wounded chief American Horse died last night. Most of the captives are brought along; a few squaws being left back, with the General's advice to the hostile bands to go on the agencies, behave themselves, and all will be well with them. Col. Mills, Lieut. Bubb and Gruard go through to the Hills, to-morrow, with a view to secure future supplies.

The Deadwood Blues.

The Wheeler Brothers, who have been working their famous claim Number Two, below Gayville, on Deadwood Creek, arrived at Fort Laramie last night with a paid escort of twenty men. They bring, as proceeds of their work for seven months, over $300,000, and 1,900 pounds of dust. They will bring their escort to the railroad at this city, and probably arrive here to-morrow.

Gen. Sheridan Awaiting the Arrival of Crook.

General Sheridan is now at Fort Laramie awaiting the arrival of General Crook, or advices from him as to what point he may meet him for council.

Relief for the Sick and Destitute of Savannah.

NEW YORK, 16.—At a meeting yesterday for extending relief to the sick and destitute of Savannah, it was resolved that lists of subscriptions be issued to agents of different lines of transportation, managers of trade organizations, banks, hotels, churches, business houses and theatres, requesting them to solicit contributions of money, provisions and clothing; to be handed to the treasurer daily, and by him sent to John F. Wheaton, President of the Savannah Benevolent Association, at Savannah. In response to the dispatch, Mr. Wheaton telegraphs that the situation is unchanged. A very large number are sick, and all the lower classes of the white and colored population are destitute. Money is the most serviceable.

More Relief For the Savannah Sufferers.

ST. LOUIS, 16.—An impromptu meeting was held on 'Change today to consider the question of sending relief to the yellow fever sufferers at Savannah. Several hundred dollars and a considerable amount of provisions were subscribed on the spot, and commissioners appointed to send further aid.

Yellow Fever Interments.

SAVANNAH, 16.—The total interments to-day was twenty-five; yellow fever twenty one. The weather is very threatening, with north-east winds and rain, which are bad for the sick.

Gen. Crook Details his Movements and Engagements.

CHICAGO, 16.—General Sheridan telegraphs from Fort Laramie to the military headquarters here a dispatch which he received from General Crook, detailing his movements and engagements as already reported in a Cheyenne dispatch to the Call.

General Crook imparts the following additional information: In the captured village was found, besides great quantities of dried meat and ammunition, an army guide and portions of officers' and non-commissioned officers' uniforms, and other indications that the Indians of this village had participated in the Custer massacre. Our main column got up about noon that day, and was shortly after attacked by a considerable body of Indians, who they (the prisoners) say belonged to the village of Crazy Horse, who was camped somewhere between their own village and the Little Missouri River. This attack was undoubtedly made under the supposition that Captain Mills' command had received reinforcements. The prisoners further stated that most of the hostile Indians were now going into the agencies, with the exception of Crazy Horse and Sitting Bull, with their immediate followers. Crazy Horse intended to remain on the head waters of the Little Missouri; and about half of Sitting Bull's band, numbering from sixty to one hundred lodges, had gone north of the Yellowstone, while the remainder, with some Sans Arcs, Minnecoujous and Uncapapas had gone in the vicinity of Antelope Buttes, there to fatten their ponies and trade with Rees and others. I place great reliance in these statements. From other correboratory evidence which I have, these Indians, with Sitting Bull, will amount probably to 300 or 400 lodges, and, in my judgment, can be very easily struck by Gen. Terry's column, provided that it go in light marching order and keep under cover. Our prisoners also, in their conversation, fully confirmed, in every particular, my opinions as already telegraphed you. We had a very hard march here from Pearl River for eighty consecutive miles. We did not have a particle of wood, nothing but a little dry grass, which was insufficient even to cook coffee for the men. During the greater portion of the time we were drenched by cold rains, which made traveling very heavy. A great many animals gave out and had to be abandoned; others are now in such a weak condition that a great number of them will not be able to resume the campaign until after reasonable rest. I should like to have about 500 horses, preferably the half-breed horses raised on the Laramie plains or in the vicinity of Denver, and acclimatised to this country. I intend to carry out the programme mentioned in my last dispatch viz Fort Lincoln, and shall remain in the vicinity of Deadwood until the arrival of my wagon train.

It is asserted that Servia has obtained 60,000 muskets and several mitrailleuses from Prussia.

Text of the Porte's Answer.

Within twenty-four hours after the Powers shall give judgment ou the peace conditions the Porte will order a suspension of hostilities.
