LINCOLN'S MEMORY

Plinarily Celebrated by the School Which Bares His Name.

A MARTYRED PRESIDENT HONORED

Complete Program of Exercises as Extensively Rendered in the Lincoln School This Afternoon.

The anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln was appropriately observed by the Lincoln school this afternoon. It is fitting that the day be marked by proper observances, especially by the school which bears the great man's name. The exercises took place in the lower corridor of the Lincoln school on Fifth South, between Third and Fourth West streets, the pupils being arranged in a circle, and those taking part being in the center, on raised platforms.

The exercises were beautifully decorated with flags and bunting and presented a very attractive appearance. A portrait of "the emancipator" was artistically draped, and was also that of the poet Whitman. The literary part of the program was well rendered, the singing excellent and the orator during the exercises commendable. One of the interesting traits of the occasion was an address by Judge Goodwin, who spoke in eloquent terms of the life and public services of the statesman, who has few peers in American history.

Among those present were the president, Misspenny, President Nelson and other members of the board of education; Mrs. Ross, supervisor of physical culture, city schools, and also a good attendance of parents and patrons. The exercises opened by the school singing America in a spirited manner. The President's famous Gettysburg speech, which is as follows, was then delivered in a declamatory style by Alton Striving, an eighth grade pupil.

Fourteen and seven years ago, our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of this war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that the nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But in a larger sense we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will be little aware, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for the living that we are gathered here today. It is for the living that we should dedicate this ground.

After the reading of the address, the school sang the national anthem, and then the exercises closed with a prayer by the pastor.

At all America's grand men stand alike together in the lives and motivations of the people that the time, when men who bore the name of Abraham Lincoln. Our school is named after him and a noble example of himself is far to be followed. It would be well to look to his life as a guide.

Abraham Lincoln was born in Hardin county, Kentucky, in the year 1809. His father, Thomas Lincoln, was a good farmer, hard-working man, and his mother a pious, educated woman, who instilled in her son, the young Lincoln, the love of learning, and the desire to improve himself. He was a self-made man, and his life was a constant struggle to better himself. He was a man of great integrity, and his life was a constant struggle to better himself.

The closing exercises on the program were the singing of the national anthem, and the reading of the Gettysburg address. The exercises were well attended, and the program was well rendered.

THE PRESS CLUB LECTURES.

The First One Was Well Attended Last Night and a Goodly Sum Raised for Charitable Purposes.

The first of the series of Press club lectures given at the Theatre last night in the augmentation of the Young Ladies Aid Society charitable fund was a success beyond the most sanguine expectations of any of the promoters, financially, socially and every other way.

A piano solo, "Gode's de Calcutt," was especially given by Professor Krumpholtz. Judge Price sang in the most happy "The Holy City," after which Judge Krumpholtz, delivered his excellent lecture on "Character."

When the Judge finished speaking, Lizzie Thomas Edwards rendered a most beautiful solo, "The Star of Bethlehem." The evening's entertainment and the program for next Monday was announced.

A Printer Burned.

Charles Nichols, a well known and long established and successful printer, was burned in his shop with a lead and stove yesterday. It appears that he opened the door to allow the circulating cans when there was a miniature explosion caused by the blowing of gas that had accumulated in the lead furnace. In reaching for the door that morning his friends wondered what he was doing and they went to see what was the matter. They found him lying on the floor, and that in his struggle with "the gas," he had inhaled a quantity of the "poisonous" gas. The "poisonous" gas was the result of the burning of the lead in the furnace. The result of the poisoning was a severe case of lead poisoning. The result of the poisoning was a severe case of lead poisoning. The result of the poisoning was a severe case of lead poisoning.

News From Pleasant Grove.

Pleasant Grove, Feb. 11, 1904.—A social event took place here on Friday evening of last week, given by the members of the choir. A picnic was prepared for the lady members and a very enjoyable time was spent in singing, recitation and speaking. The program was also included in all the good enjoyment of the occasion and very much given. The evening was very enjoyable, and the result of a very nice dinner as a token of the respect which the choir had held for it. It consisted of a volunteer of the choir and a number of other members of the choir. The result of the dinner was a very nice dinner as a token of the respect which the choir had held for it.
