

MANY "SPILLS" ON SAUCER TRACK

Hopper Had Hard Fall and Received Serious Injuries.

ANOTHER BAD MOTOR RACE.

Sprint Events Brought Out Some Hair Raising Finishes—Six Riders Took a Tumble.

The bike races at the saucer last evening were of the hair raising order, and several "stunts" that were not on the program were pulled off, giving the spectators an evening's entertainment that has not been equaled this year.

Besides a poor motor race, the sprint races in which Starbuck made a remarkable sport, there was some high and lofty tumbling on the part of six riders, but unfortunately, one of them was injured quite seriously.

In the first of the half-mile handicap races, the riders going at a fast pace, Hopper ran into another wheel and pitched headlong over his own mount and fell on his shoulder. He then turned over and his face struck the track with great force. He was picked up by friends, he was unconscious and it was fully 15 minutes before he manifested any signs of recovery. He was taken to the hospital and taken home, where physicians attended to his wounds. He received a terrible cut over the left eye and it is feared that he is hurt internally.

Burris and Staver also fell and received several cuts and bruises, but nothing serious. Then the amateurs came in for their share of bad luck. In the second heat of the one-mile handicap, amateur, Hopper fell and received a severe injury to his head. He was picked up by friends and taken to the hospital. In the final Limberg and Staver bumped each other and both went down with a crash.

One of the pleasing features of the evening was the splendid race at speed by Harry Starbuck in the main event, when he outdistanced all others and won the heat. Hopper, Downing and Chapman created a great deal of excitement in the heat of the two-mile handicap race, when Starbuck was extremely slow until the finish when the three riders put up the best heat there was in them. On the home stretch Starbuck led with Hopper second but the latter made a phenomenal start and crossed the line by a narrow margin, Downing coming in second. The five-mile motor race was somewhat tame, Hopper's machine gave out at the end of the third mile, and Chapman and his machine was pressed into service. He lost the race, however, by being lap. The summary follows:

Half-mile handicap, professional—Layland (12 yards), first; Williams (third), Time, 2:14.2.

One-mile handicap, amateur—Blum (5 yards), first; Hopper (52), second; Hopper (75), third. Time, 2:31.3.

Two-mile handicap, professional—Hopper (scratch), first; Downing (scratch), second; Samuelson (scratch), third. Time, 4:10.4.

Five-mile motor match race—Starbuck made the two miles in 1:37 and 1:32. Again, Chapman he made the three miles in 1:28, 1:27 and 1:27.3.

DAILY WORKS WELL

Paced by His Wife on Bike, He Does Road Work.

In doing his morning road work, "Chicago" Jack Daly dispenses with the services of a professional rider. He starts out early and early every morning for a run over the road of several miles. In these trips he is paced by his wife. He is a daily rider and knows how to set a pace that occasionally compels Jack to cry "enough." The pair exercise a great deal of comfort along the route they travel. In the afternoon he works out at Thompson's gymnasium and goes through a pretty fast pace. Daly takes exceptionally good care of himself and does not require very much training, but he is working at a very lively pace in boxing with Thompson the pair sets a terrific pace and the great wonder is there is not a knockout occasionally.

Jerry McCarthy is rapidly rounding into perfect form. The amount of work he does each day, the department headquarters is simply wonderful. Today he worked out with three or four men besides punching the bag, skipping the rope and doing a great deal of shadow work. A big crowd of interested spectators watch both Daly and McCarthy work out each day, and late in the hour which will take place on Monday night at the Grand theater is hourly increasing. Condie and McHugh are working hard, and their labors preliminary to a decision will undoubtedly be the fastest preliminary ever seen here.

DIABLO TONIGHT.

Famous Trick Rider to Perform Great Feat at Salt Palace Tonight.

At 8:30 o'clock this evening at the Salt Palace "Diablo" will perform his wonderful feat for the first time in Salt Lake City of leaping the lake. He arrived in the city late yesterday and late tonight the Kenyon hotel with Charles Kilpatrick, the one-legged bicyclist, who will give an exhibition of his wonderful feat of leaping wooden stairs at the Salt Palace on his wheel.

A group of eight men have been busy all day getting the loop ready for the exhibition this evening and the subsequent ones. "Diablo" will continue with the rider, as it requires experts to set up the loop and see that it is in perfect condition before the expert performs his feat.

JACK CLIFFORD ARRIVES

Reached City Last Night with Manager Lavigne and Long.

Hard hitting Jack Clifford reached Salt Lake from Seattle at 8:30 last evening and was met at the depot by Eddie Robinson and local sporting men. He was accompanied by his manager, Billy Lavigne, and his sparring partner Long. The party at once proceeded to the Kenyon hotel, where Clifford looks as hard as nail and says he never felt better in his life. He hears absolutely no marks from his recent 2-round encounter with Perry Querant, and he says he will soon round into proper shape. He will do his work at Thompson's gymnasium, and those who know him, know that he will work hard and faithfully.

Young Clarence English has run out of sparring partners and a couple of new ones are to be pressed into service. In the future he will do his boxing stunts with George Gibbs and George Hackett.

At a meeting between Managers Robinson and Lavigne last night it was decided to leave the date for the mill open for a day or two. But they agreed upon the weight question. The boxer will have to make 125 pounds at 5 o'clock on the day of the contest.

TROUBLE AT AN END.

Striking Ball Players Left Last Night for Seattle to Play.

The trouble between seven players on the Salt Lake team and Manager Robinson was settled last night, and at midnight six of the players left for Seattle to play the balance of the team. They arrived here in time for Friday's game. Father Tom Kelly did not go with the bunch, but will go to Seattle in time for the game there. They also refuse to play on this afternoon. Manager Robinson has no new men for the team and they will probably be used at once.

Pittsburg Champion Will Challenge

American League Pennant Taker.

Pittsburg, July 28.—President Dreyfuss of the Pittsburg team of the National

The crowning joy of motherhood is the crowning joy of motherhood is to have healthy children.

But there can be no joy in motherhood without health, and without health for the mother there can be no health for the child.

It is of vital importance for women to know that the health of mother and child is in general entirely within woman's control. The thousands of women who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription when expecting motherhood, have testified that it made them healthy and happy in the days of waiting, made the baby's advent practically painless, and gave them health to give their children.

Mrs. W. J. Elder, of Hill Dale Farm (Knoxburg, Tenn.), writes: "During the past year I found myself expecting maternity, and in rapidly falling health. I suffered dreadfully from bleeding and urinary difficulty. I was growing perceptibly weaker each day and suffered much sharp pain at times. I felt that something must be done. I sought your advice and received a prompt reply. Took twelve bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and also followed your instructions to begin to improve immediately, my health became excellent, and I could do all my own work (we live on a good farm). I walked and rode all I could, and enjoyed it. Had a short, easy confinement and have a healthy baby."

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book containing 1,000 pages, is given away. Send 21 one-cent stamps for expense of mailing only, for the book in paper covers, or 4 stamps for the volume bound in cloth. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

baseball league, announces that if Pittsburg wins the National league pennant the winner of the American league pennant will be challenged to a series of 11 games to decide the championship of the world, the conditions being that the winner receive 75 per cent of the gate receipts and the loser 25 per cent; the winner also to visit the west and east as world's champion; the loser to remain at home.

HOW THEY STAND.

Pacific National League

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Los Angeles	25	35	.419
San Francisco	23	37	.385
Seattle	21	39	.350
Portland	19	41	.318
San Diego	17	43	.284
Oakland	15	45	.250
San Jose	13	47	.216
Albany	11	49	.182
Stockton	9	51	.148
San Bernardino	7	53	.114
San Luis	5	55	.081
San Jose	3	57	.047

American League

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Boston	23	29	.443
Philadelphia	21	31	.404
Cleveland	19	33	.365
Detroit	17	35	.327
New York	15	37	.289
St. Louis	13	39	.250
Chicago	11	41	.216
Washington	9	43	.176
Pittsburgh	7	45	.138
St. Paul	5	47	.100
Minneapolis	3	49	.061
St. Louis	1	51	.023

National League

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Pittsburg	24	28	.461
Chicago	22	30	.424
St. Louis	20	32	.385
Philadelphia	18	34	.346
Cincinnati	16	36	.308
Boston	14	38	.269
St. Paul	12	40	.231
Washington	10	42	.192
San Francisco	8	44	.154
San Diego	6	46	.115
San Jose	4	48	.077
Albany	2	50	.038

Western League

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Colorado Springs	24	28	.461
San Francisco	22	30	.424
St. Louis	20	32	.385
Philadelphia	18	34	.346
Cincinnati	16	36	.308
Boston	14	38	.269
St. Paul	12	40	.231
Washington	10	42	.192
San Francisco	8	44	.154
San Diego	6	46	.115
San Jose	4	48	.077
Albany	2	50	.038

Pacific Coast League

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Los Angeles	24	28	.461
San Francisco	22	30	.424
St. Louis	20	32	.385
Philadelphia	18	34	.346
Cincinnati	16	36	.308
Boston	14	38	.269
St. Paul	12	40	.231
Washington	10	42	.192
San Francisco	8	44	.154
San Diego	6	46	.115
San Jose	4	48	.077
Albany	2	50	.038

HARDSHIPS ARISING FROM UNIONISM.

A few days ago there appeared in the "News" a well written editorial under the caption, "Unions and the Government."

It appears that one Mr. W. A. Miller, assistant foreman in the government printing office, was discharged from his position through the instigation of the bookbinders' union, which it seems, he offended because he didn't choose to explain to a committee of that union the reasons for his discharge.

It is a part of these "committees," "walking delegates," and the like, to insult those whom they consider to be "unions," and to make them feel that they are not to be taken into consideration as to their own rights, but to be taken into consideration as to the rights of the union.

Here is an instance, observed by the writer a short time ago in this city. It will be remembered that a strike was ordered by the federated unions because of some little trouble with the bookbinders, whereby hundreds of men were ordered to quit work, and when they did not, they were taken into consideration as to their own rights, but to be taken into consideration as to the rights of the union.

Co-workers beware of the way you treat your fellow-laborers and especially brethren as against brethren in the church. This kind of "union" can not last. It is built on wrong principles, and will not prevail. Already several unions have gone out of existence, and one or two are now seriously considering the advisability of taking the same step. WORKER.

A boon to travelers. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Cures dysentery, diarrhea, seasickness, nausea. Pleasant to take. Perfectly harmless.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

POCATELLO, IDAHO.

BURGERS' HIGH HAUL.

Residence of Tim Farrell Entered—Cash and Valuables Taken.

Special Correspondence. Pocatello, Idaho, July 27.—The residence of the popular O. S. L. conductor, Tim Farrell, was burglarized this morning about half-past three o'clock. Mr. Farrell awoke by the noise made by the burglar, and called out: "Who is there?" The intruder answered by turning on the electric light and aiming a murderous looking revolver at Tim, saying: "Don't make any funny business now." The noise-awake Mr. Farrell then ordered them to cover their faces with the bed clothes, saying he would not hurt them if they did not propose to be disturbed. The order was obeyed and the robber took Farrell's watch and some $40 in cash out of his trousers.

A confederate was ransacking the other room, where some $250 was found where Mr. Farrell's watch was, but she assured him she had none. They did not disturb Frankie, the 12-year-old son, who slept in a room by himself, doubtless fearing to Hale and Hearty Children.

If your child is restless at night, grinds its teeth, wets the bed, is constipated, craves indigestible food or is fretful and peevish, you can be sure it has Worms. KICKAPOO Indian Worm Killer will expel them and restore the child's health. These tablets are pleasant to take and won't harm the most delicate child. 25c. Box of 12, 50c. by mail from us. Your money back if not satisfactory.

Read that Mr. Geo. E. Felt, of 125 South Ninth St., Salt Lake City, says about the KICKAPOO Indian Worm Killer: "My little girl, 4 years old, was greatly troubled with worms. I called on three different doctors, bought several different kinds of medicine, but she got no better. Finally I was advised to use KICKAPOO Indian Worm Killer, and bought a package at the drug store. She immediately passed great quantities of both stomach and pin worms. She now eats and sleeps well, and has gained many pounds in weight."

KICKAPOO INDIAN MEDICINE CO., New Haven, Conn.

PROFESSOR S. P. LANGLEY AND HIS NEW FLYING MACHINE.

For many years Professor S. P. Langley of the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, has been experimenting with flying machines and has at last invented one that he believes will actually fly. Great interest is taken in his tests by army experts, as Professor Langley proposes to demonstrate by dropping torpedoes from the machine that it is not only a perfect locomotor, but may be a powerful engine of destruction in time of war. Professor Langley eliminates the balloon from his machine for the reason that he does not consider that the problem of actual flight by man will ever be solved with its aid.

however, lost to sleep from this unjust and tyrannical order by the union; they had, and have had, more jobs than they could handle, almost, but their workmen were harassed and hampered in the peaceful performance of their labor, whenever an occasion offered itself.

One of the bosses of the firm in question was finishing a job at a residence in the city, and he was with him when the workmen employed on the same building had quit working, sitting around talking and discussing the "unfairness" of "scabs" working together with the union men, and so on. He soon learned that they were waiting for him to quit, so they could start in. Of course, they could not start as long as there was one working in the building who had been declared "unfair," and had a heavy unpaid "fine" charged up against him. Meanwhile a man came driving along in his buggy, stopped and came in, and signed up the situation at a glance, let loose on his investives, and in the most shameful manner, as in the Miller case, abused and insulted this lone workman, calling him all manner of names. One "scab" (the application is a misnomer to one who has not given up his manhood) who thought he had stood enough, came down the ladder in three jumps, and picking up a brick, made for the last corner, saying: "I am not what you have called me, and if you do not get out of here as quick as you know how, I will break your face." The "gentleman" staggered through a side door and into his buggy quicker than it takes to tell it.

Our friend happened to see one of the men who had refused to work while he was in the building, one whom he had long known, a returned Elder and home missionary, to whom he addressed himself, asking him if he didn't think he had got into rather strange company; how he could affiliate with such abusive men and sanction such unbrotherly conduct against an honest, unoffending workman? He certainly knew it was against the principles of the Church. It might here be mentioned, too, that the "walking delegate"—save the title—of the union which his brother is alleged to have sinned against by himself and his three co-members of the firm, undertaking, all four, to earn an honest livelihood, when the union had said only two of them should work—claims to be a "Mormon," and has it is reported, tried to harm this shop, by spotting who were working for them and asking them to quit work; also trying to take the case to court, here of a certain eastern firm—in sort, to kill this young man.

Many such actions on the part of some members of some of the local unions have come to the writer's observation, some of which might be mentioned later on. However, the most liberal-minded, sturdy and manly workmen in our community are against the unions, and the union men themselves condemn the arbitrary, tyrannical actions of their associates, well knowing that they in a little while will do harm to themselves. The "gentleman" who has been mentioned here is a returned Elder and home missionary, to whom he addressed himself, asking him if he didn't think he had got into rather strange company; how he could affiliate with such abusive men and sanction such unbrotherly conduct against an honest, unoffending workman? He certainly knew it was against the principles of the Church. It might here be mentioned, too, that the "walking delegate"—save the title—of the union which his brother is alleged to have sinned against by himself and his three co-members of the firm, undertaking, all four, to earn an honest livelihood, when the union had said only two of them should work—claims to be a "Mormon," and has it is reported, tried to harm this shop, by spotting who were working for them and asking them to quit work; also trying to take the case to court, here of a certain eastern firm—in sort, to kill this young man.

Many such actions on the part of some members of some of the local unions have come to the writer's observation, some of which might be mentioned later on. However, the most liberal-minded, sturdy and manly workmen in our community are against the unions, and the union men themselves condemn the arbitrary, tyrannical actions of their associates, well knowing that they in a little while will do harm to themselves. The "gentleman" who has been mentioned here is a returned Elder and home missionary, to whom he addressed himself, asking him if he didn't think he had got into rather strange company; how he could affiliate with such abusive men and sanction such unbrotherly conduct against an honest, unoffending workman? He certainly knew it was against the principles of the Church. It might here be mentioned, too, that the "walking delegate"—save the title—of the union which his brother is alleged to have sinned against by himself and his three co-members of the firm, undertaking, all four, to earn an honest livelihood, when the union had said only two of them should work—claims to be a "Mormon," and has it is reported, tried to harm this shop, by spotting who were working for them and asking them to quit work; also trying to take the case to court, here of a certain eastern firm—in sort, to kill this young man.

Many such actions on the part of some members of some of the local unions have come to the writer's observation, some of which might be mentioned later on. However, the most liberal-minded, sturdy and manly workmen in our community are against the unions, and the union men themselves condemn the arbitrary, tyrannical actions of their associates, well knowing that they in a little while will do harm to themselves. The "gentleman" who has been mentioned here is a returned Elder and home missionary, to whom he addressed himself, asking him if he didn't think he had got into rather strange company; how he could affiliate with such abusive men and sanction such unbrotherly conduct against an honest, unoffending workman? He certainly knew it was against the principles of the Church. It might here be mentioned, too, that the "walking delegate"—save the title—of the union which his brother is alleged to have sinned against by himself and his three co-members of the firm, undertaking, all four, to earn an honest livelihood, when the union had said only two of them should work—claims to be a "Mormon," and has it is reported, tried to harm this shop, by spotting who were working for them and asking them to quit work; also trying to take the case to court, here of a certain eastern firm—in sort, to kill this young man.

Many such actions on the part of some members of some of the local unions have come to the writer's observation, some of which might be mentioned later on. However, the most liberal-minded, sturdy and manly workmen in our community are against the unions, and the union men themselves condemn the arbitrary, tyrannical actions of their associates, well knowing that they in a little while will do harm to themselves. The "gentleman" who has been mentioned here is a returned Elder and home missionary, to whom he addressed himself, asking him if he didn't think he had got into rather strange company; how he could affiliate with such abusive men and sanction such unbrotherly conduct against an honest, unoffending workman? He certainly knew it was against the principles of the Church. It might here be mentioned, too, that the "walking delegate"—save the title—of the union which his brother is alleged to have sinned against by himself and his three co-members of the firm, undertaking, all four, to earn an honest livelihood, when the union had said only two of them should work—claims to be a "Mormon," and has it is reported, tried to harm this shop, by spotting who were working for them and asking them to quit work; also trying to take the case to court, here of a certain eastern firm—in sort, to kill this young man.

Many such actions on the part of some members of some of the local unions have come to the writer's observation, some of which might be mentioned later on. However, the most liberal-minded, sturdy and manly workmen in our community are against the unions, and the union men themselves condemn the arbitrary, tyrannical actions of their associates, well knowing that they in a little while will do harm to themselves. The "gentleman" who has been mentioned here is a returned Elder and home missionary, to whom he addressed himself, asking him if he didn't think he had got into rather strange company; how he could affiliate with such abusive men and sanction such unbrotherly conduct against an honest, unoffending workman? He certainly knew it was against the principles of the Church. It might here be mentioned, too, that the "walking delegate"—save the title—of the union which his brother is alleged to have sinned against by himself and his three co-members of the firm, undertaking, all four, to earn an honest livelihood, when the union had said only two of them should work—claims to be a "Mormon," and has it is reported, tried to harm this shop, by spotting who were working for them and asking them to quit work; also trying to take the case to court, here of a certain eastern firm—in sort, to kill this young man.

Many such actions on the part of some members of some of the local unions have come to the writer's observation, some of which might be mentioned later on. However, the most liberal-minded, sturdy and manly workmen in our community are against the unions, and the union men themselves condemn the arbitrary, tyrannical actions of their associates, well knowing that they in a little while will do harm to themselves. The "gentleman" who has been mentioned here is a returned Elder and home missionary, to whom he addressed himself, asking him if he didn't think he had got into rather strange company; how he could affiliate with such abusive men and sanction such unbrotherly conduct against an honest, unoffending workman? He certainly knew it was against the principles of the Church. It might here be mentioned, too, that the "walking delegate"—save the title—of the union which his brother is alleged to have sinned against by himself and his three co-members of the firm, undertaking, all four, to earn an honest livelihood, when the union had said only two of them should work—claims to be a "Mormon," and has it is reported, tried to harm this shop, by spotting who were working for them and asking them to quit work; also trying to take the case to court, here of a certain eastern firm—in sort, to kill this young man.

Many such actions on the part of some members of some of the local unions have come to the writer's observation, some of which might be mentioned later on. However, the most liberal-minded, sturdy and manly workmen in our community are against the unions, and the union men themselves condemn the arbitrary, tyrannical actions of their associates, well knowing that they in a little while will do harm to themselves. The "gentleman" who has been mentioned here is a returned Elder and home missionary, to whom he addressed himself, asking him if he didn't think he had got into rather strange company; how he could affiliate with such abusive men and sanction such unbrotherly conduct against an honest, unoffending workman? He certainly knew it was against the principles of the Church. It might here be mentioned, too, that the "walking delegate"—save the title—of the union which his brother is alleged to have sinned against by himself and his three co-members of the firm, undertaking, all four, to earn an honest livelihood, when the union had said only two of them should work—claims to be a "Mormon," and has it is reported, tried to harm this shop, by spotting who were working for them and asking them to quit work; also trying to take the case to court, here of a certain eastern firm—in sort, to kill this young man.

Many such actions on the part of some members of some of the local unions have come to the writer's observation, some of which might be mentioned later on. However, the most liberal-minded, sturdy and manly workmen in our community are against the unions, and the union men themselves condemn the arbitrary, tyrannical actions of their associates, well knowing that they in a little while will do harm to themselves. The "gentleman" who has been mentioned here is a returned Elder and home missionary, to whom he addressed himself, asking him if he didn't think he had got into rather strange company; how he could affiliate with such abusive men and sanction such unbrotherly conduct against an honest, unoffending workman? He certainly knew it was against the principles of the Church. It might here be mentioned, too, that the "walking delegate"—save the title—of the union which his brother is alleged to have sinned against by himself and his three co-members of the firm, undertaking, all four, to earn an honest livelihood, when the union had said only two of them should work—claims to be a "Mormon," and has it is reported, tried to harm this shop, by spotting who were working for them and asking them to quit work; also trying to take the case to court, here of a certain eastern firm—in sort, to kill this young man.

Many such actions on the part of some members of some of the local unions have come to the writer's observation, some of which might be mentioned later on. However, the most liberal-minded, sturdy and manly workmen in our community are against the unions, and the union men themselves condemn the arbitrary, tyrannical actions of their associates, well knowing that they in a little while will do harm to themselves. The "gentleman" who has been mentioned here is a returned Elder and home missionary, to whom he addressed himself, asking him if he didn't think he had got into rather strange company; how he could affiliate with such abusive men and sanction such unbrotherly conduct against an honest, unoffending workman? He certainly knew it was against the principles of the Church. It might here be mentioned, too, that the "walking delegate"—save the title—of the union which his brother is alleged to have sinned against by himself and his three co-members of the firm, undertaking, all four, to earn an honest livelihood, when the union had said only two of them should work—claims to be a "Mormon," and has it is reported, tried to harm this shop, by spotting who were working for them and asking them to quit work; also trying to take the case to court, here of a certain eastern firm—in sort, to kill this young man.

Many such actions on the part of some members of some of the local unions have come to the writer's observation, some of which might be mentioned later on. However, the most liberal-minded, sturdy and manly workmen in our community are against the unions, and the union men themselves condemn the arbitrary, tyrannical actions of their associates, well knowing that they in a little while will do harm to themselves. The "gentleman" who has been mentioned here is a returned Elder and home missionary, to whom he addressed himself, asking him if he didn't think he had got into rather strange company; how he could affiliate with such abusive men and sanction such unbrotherly conduct against an honest, unoffending workman? He certainly knew it was against the principles of the Church. It might here be mentioned, too, that the "walking delegate"—save the title—of the union which his brother is alleged to have sinned against by himself and his three co-members of the firm, undertaking, all four, to earn an honest livelihood, when the union had said only two of them should work—claims to be a "Mormon," and has it is reported, tried to harm this shop, by spotting who were working for them and asking them to quit work; also trying to take the case to court, here of a certain eastern firm—in sort, to kill this young man.

Many such actions on the part of some members of some of the local unions have come to the writer's observation, some of which might be mentioned later on. However, the most liberal-minded, sturdy and manly workmen in our community are against the unions, and the union men themselves condemn the arbitrary, tyrannical actions of their associates, well knowing that they in a little while will do harm to themselves. The "gentleman" who has been mentioned here is a returned Elder and home missionary, to whom he addressed himself, asking him if he didn't think he had got into rather strange company; how he could affiliate with such abusive men and sanction such unbrotherly conduct against an honest, unoffending workman? He certainly knew it was against the principles of the Church. It might here be mentioned, too, that the "walking delegate"—save the title—of the union which his brother is alleged to have sinned against by himself and his three co-members of the firm, undertaking, all four, to earn an honest livelihood, when the union had said only two of them should work—claims to be a "Mormon," and has it is reported, tried to harm this shop, by spotting who were working for them and asking them to quit work; also trying to take the case to court, here of a certain eastern firm—in sort, to kill this young man.

Many such actions on the part of some members of some of the local unions have come to the writer's observation, some of which might be mentioned later on. However, the most liberal-minded, sturdy and manly workmen in our community are against the unions, and the union men themselves condemn the arbitrary, tyrannical actions of their associates, well knowing that they in a little while will do harm to themselves. The "gentleman" who has been mentioned here is a returned Elder and home missionary, to whom he addressed himself, asking him if he didn't think he had got into rather strange company; how he could affiliate with such abusive men and sanction such unbrotherly conduct against an honest, unoffending workman? He certainly knew it was against the principles of the Church. It might here be mentioned, too, that the "walking delegate"—save the title—of the union which his brother is alleged to have sinned against by himself and his three co-members of the firm, undertaking, all four, to earn an honest livelihood, when the union had said only two of them should work—claims to be a "Mormon," and has it is reported, tried to harm this shop, by spotting who were working for them and asking them to quit work; also trying to take the case to court, here of a certain eastern firm—in sort, to kill this young man.