THE OLD MINT IS TORN DOWN.

Historic Little Building Just East of the "News" Offices Razed—Was the Home of Many of Utah's Infant Industries—Gold Coins Made There.

UTAH'S PRIMITIVE MINT.

During the week just ending men have been at work tearing down the old adobe building directly east of the "News" press-room. Now there remains nothing to indicate that one of the historic structures of Salt Lake once proudly reared its adobe form upon that spot—every vestige of stone and adobe has been carried away and the little excavation in which once rested the foundation has been filled up and the ground leveled off, as if in anxiety to forever conceal from human eyes the spot on which was coined the first gold piece ever made and circulated in this part of the United States. Of course, the little tumble-down "shack" was not a thing of beauty and a joy forever from the modern architect's way of thinking; nor was it of the massive or pretentious order, as buildings go now-a-days; but it had a good bit of history attached to it, and many were the tendrils of sentimental recollection that held it close in the affectionate remembrance of the pioneer heart. Now the history and of progress has succeeded in doing in a week what the gentler touch of time and nature would not have accomplished in a century, for its walls of adobe were thick and the pioneer sun-dried brick therein were of special strength. Even now they are not to be allowed to rest, because it has been determined to make them do service in the construction of a stable for cattle. "To what base uses" are they come!

The gold pieces coined at this primitive mint were of fine workmanship and exceeding purity of metal and were designed for circulation in Utah only. Some of them were turned out as early as 1849—just two years after the pioneers had stepped into this valley of America's dead sea. Few of these "fivers" are in existence now, the issue having returned to the melting pot with the exception of some held as curiosities by the Deseret Museum and a few owned by private individuals.

On the fifteenth of June, 1850, the first copy of the "Deseret News" came out upon the street from that building; but at that time there was never heard of "fives," for the first time the old building sheltered the one first professional dentist that located in Salt Lake, Dr. John M. Kay, and afterwards Dr. Sharp, and still later Dr. Danford held forth in the same place in the same profession.

While the workmen were tearing down the old place during the week they kept an open eye for any trinket or scrap of historic paper that might be exposed under the floor, but nothing was found, however, except a piece of a receipt used by one of the dentists. It had printed in one corner a representation of a set of artificial teeth, surrounded by all the vain-inflicting dent instruments imaginable at that day.

"There's where I lost my first tooth!" exclaimed one man whose attention was attracted by the tearing-down process. And he looked as if he would like to take the picture, which his mind conjured up, of his first experience had therein with a grim, determined tooth-puller.

In the fifties James M. Barlow established in the old building the first jewelry and watchmaking shop, that Utah saw. "He used to make rings weighing anywhere from half an ounce to an ounce and a half," said Mr. Jos. B. Hill, the grandnephew of Hon. Philip Edwards who in 1859 was the opponent of Broderick in the famous contest for senator, and is exceptionally accomplished. Both will receive the good wishes of their numerous friends for their future.

The razing of this historic structure is only the beginning of a process of clearing to which this part of Salt Lake is to be subjected.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE BOYS OF ZION.

Idaho Falls, Idaho, January 25th, 1900.

Editor Deseret News:

I want to tell the boys of every ward throughout Zion what one little boy has done by selling the daily Deseret News.

As he came on the train, late last night, he presented to the passengers, "Deseret Evening News," published in Salt Lake City last evening at 5 o'clock. The passengers bought from him. He at once recognized me, and on asking how he prospered, he replied: "Splendid!"

The boy is 12 years old, attends the public school daily, and is named Lorenzo Vernon Thomas, a grandnephew of Bishop James Thomas of the Mormon Church. He is a member of the Young Men's Association, and is a very good boy.

After the program refreshments were served, and the rest of the evening was devoted to conversation, the topics being suggested by a unique scheme, a Greek cross of white paper, tied with the colors of the Epworth league and upon which the subject for discussion was written.

Elder Willard Christopherson was the recipient of a delightful reception and entertainment given in his honor at the Farmers ward hall last night, a host of friends of the young missionary gathering to extend their good wishes upon the event of his departure for Europe.

A very pleasant character sociable was given at the home of Miss Ruth Rogers on Third street last night. While each one present had his own part to play, as had been expected, those who did presented a great number of clever and amusing characters, the list being as follows: Alice Farnsworth, Spanish lady; Florence Farnsworth, Japanese beauty; Anna Elberbeck, Adonis; Mr. and Mrs. Pratt, Death; Clifford Barlow, Harrow Pratt, Death; Clifford Barlow, Death; Ingalls Mackintosh, girl; Carl Dawson, old pet; Royston Durnford, Fagin; William Arnold, Farmer; Orson Rogers, Farmer; Lorenzo Shaw, Jr., society girl; Horace Whitney, Bill Sykes.

Mrs. John C. Cutler and family left for Los Angeles today for a trip of two or three months.

Notwithstanding the extent to which society patronized the Theater during the Nance O'Neil engagement, there seems to be an equally eager interest in the coming Frederick Ward engagement. Society, in fact, is on the qui vive for the arrival of the noted actor, and already a number of box parties are being planned for the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dinwoody have returned from their eastern trip.

ANTI-VACCINATION MEETING

Enthusiastic Gathering in the Sixteenth Ward Last Night.

A small but enthusiastic meeting of the Anti-Compulsory Vaccination league was held last evening in the Sixteenth ward meeting house. The constitution of the league was read, as also were the resolutions which were adopted at the first public meeting of the society. Addresses were made by Chairman J. E. Cox, Secretary J. H. Parry, N. Y. Scofield, Wm. J. Silver, Mrs. Elizabeth D. Roundy and T. F. Griffiths, briefly outlining the objects of the organization, the nature of the fight against compulsory vaccination, and showing up the very doubtful utility of vaccination and the evils frequently resulting from the vile practice. The boards of health and education were scored for the efforts they made to compel vaccination. The progress of the expensive legal fight, to maintain the rights of healthy children to attend school, was given in detail. An appeal was made for financial aid to meet court and legal expenses to continue the fight to a conclusion before the Supreme court of the State.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Passed Out of Regard for the Memory of a Good Woman.

Whereas, Our Heavenly Father, in His infinite wisdom, has deemed it best to call unto Himself our beloved co-worker Julia A. McDonald Pace, who recently departed this life in St. George, Utah.

Whereas, She has been suddenly removed from us in the prime of a useful life wherein all the powers of her talented mind and sympathetic heart, over-taxed her physical endurance, in her devotion to the cause of truth and the building up of God's kingdom upon the earth, therefore be it

Resolved, That the general board of the Primary association bow in humble submission to the will of the Great Creator.

Resolved, That we deeply regret the loss of her valuable counsel and zealous labors in behalf of the primary children of Zion.

Resolved, That we extend to her family our heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be placed upon our records, one sent to the Deseret News for publication.

LOUIE B. FELT,
President.
MAY ANDERSON,
Secretary.

EACH SAID "HE DID IT."

Officer Milner Refused to Act as Adjudicator and Made Some Arrests.

Last night a couple of men rushed up to Officer Milner and each told a tale of the other's perfidy and wanted the officer to be the official adjudicator of the trouble. One said: "He swindled me out of $47." The other said: "No, he beat me out of $47," then a lively fight followed. No telling where the row might have ended had not Milner seized both the men and hustled them off to headquarters. At the station both men insisted that the other had got the best of him. They gave their names as J. C. Brocken and J. H. Price. The former related his story first. The substance of it was that Price took him into a room to look at some rare samples, a game of poker followed and he lost $47 and suddenly realized that he was being fleeced. Then Price had an innings and told a similar story only he lost $47.

Broken had papers to prove that he was O. K. and he was allowed to depart in peace while Price was assigned apartment No. 1.

Do You Want a Calendar?

The biggest and best—calendar ever issued by any American railroad is now being distributed by the Burlington Route.

It has twelve sheets, one for each month of the year. On each sheet is a striking illustration of some feature of the Burlington's service or of the territory reached by its lines—the government fast mail running at full speed; a tourist car on its way to California; engine 101, the largest passenger engine in the world; a library car; a compartment sleeper; the Burlington station at Omaha; a dining car; a monster freight train; Estes Park, Colo.; the plunge bath at Hot Springs, S. D.; Yellowstone Falls.

The drawings from which the pictures were made are by Louis Braunholtz, of Chicago, and cost several hundred dollars.

The size of the calendar is 22x28. The dates are in big type which can be read at a distance of 50 feet. For business offices the Burlington calendar is simply invaluable.

Purchased in large quantities, the calendars cost the Burlington Route 27 cents apiece. With postage, packing, etc., they represent an investment of about 35 cents. Our price is 15 cents—10 cents less than cost. Write for one; stamps will do. If it is not satisfactory, send it back and your money will be promptly refunded.
