Because He Quarreled With His Wife Walter Illingworth Elects To Suicide.

MAKES ALL PREPARATIONS.

Vrites Letters, Disposes of Property, Secures Carbolle Acid, Creates a Fuss, Fails to Drink Poison.

Because he had quarreled with his wife and because she had left him and declared she would never live with him again, Walter Illingworth, a collector for McCoy's livery stable frightened his wife and several other persons by declaring he had taken carbolic acid with suicidal intent, last night. Illingworth resided at 58 east Fourth South street. A few days ago he and his wife had a musunderstanding and separated. Mrs. Illingworth secured employment at the Clift House. Last night Illingworth told Mrs. Hannah Canavan that worth told Mrs. Hannah Canavan that he was going to kill himself. She tel-ephoned for the police and they hurried to the place. Illingworth was found on the floor groaning and in his hand was a bottle of carbolic acid. The man was hastened to the emergency hospital and Dr. S. G. Paul summoned. The physician said the man had not taken acid.

LETTER TO WIFE.

Interfact for white. Mingworth had written the follow-ing letter to his wife: "My dear wife, Mabel: You do not gave for me any longer. I have not a friend on earth now. I wish you all the neck in the world, for I love you and love you with all my heart. So godd bye, and I hope we shall meet in hea-ren. Your WALTEER." "A Take City Utah April 10.

Salt Lake City, Utah, April 10. He also wrote the following letter to

"To the public: I, Walter Illingworth, To the public: I. Walter Illingworth, do hereby swear that I am about to take the life of my wife, Mabel Il-lingworth. I have lost my mind so that there is nothing on this earth that I care for but her. She has left me and I don't think she will come back. If she is not with me by noon omorrow, April II, I shall take her life and mine. If this is to happen, I want all my belongings to go to Mrs. Canavan, the lady at my house. There is $15 in the National Bank of the Re-public, there is due $12 for furniture, which she will pay and own the furnipublic, there is due $12 for furniture, which she will pay and own the furni-ture. The county will take care of both of us, as there is a policy of $1,000, which, 1 think, will be paid to Mrs. Canavan, as my wife will not be here to receive it. So I will say good-bye to everybody.

to everyl "WALTER ILLINGWORTH."

Before the man left the emergency hospital Mrs. Illingworth arrived on her face. With tears streaming down her face, she threw her arms around her hushand and assured him that she would mever leave him again. This eemed satisfactory to Illingworth and the pair left the station together.

A Great Public Necessity

PROVEN BY THE THOUSANDS

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Who have taken it and been benefited and cured, - especially needed in the Spring.

You Have Been Housed Up, and you have housed up your blood, during the winter. You are pale and nervous, and have no appetite, feel tired and all worn out.

Your Blood is Impure and Impoverished—the number of red corpuscles has decreased, and the vital fluid lacks color, is thin and weak. As a consequence your liver does not act properly, your kidneys and bowels fail in their duty, and general debility results.

You Must Purify, Enrich and Revitalize your blood, now, and this is the reason why Hood's Sarsaparilla is such a great necessity at this time of year.

It Will Cure You of all spring ailments, that tired feeling, dizzy sensation, dimness of vision, headache, coated tongue, pain in the back, nervous headache, as well as pimples and other eruptions, rheumatism, catarrh and scrofula.

Used Since 1876-"I commenced to use Hood's Sarsaparilla in 1876, and have used it in my family ever since as a spring medicine, with good results." MRS. E. M. DELESDERNIER, Needham, Mass.

That Tired Feeling-"I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla and cannot say too much in its praise. I recommend it to every one that has that tired feeling in the Spring." MARY J. BAKER, Hortonville, Mass.

This Great Medicine is commended to you with an honest desire to aid and benefit you and with a firm belief that it will do all that is claimed. What it has done in the past is an assurance of what it will do. Get it today and sharpen your appetite.

Under the Pure Food and Drugs Act no change was necessary in Hood's Sarsaparilla to conform to the law or to public sentiment. It is perfectly safe, pure, genuine and reliable.

MUSIC LOVERS MEET.

Plan Incorporated Organization to Promote Summer Attractions.

There was a meeting last night, at the Commercial club, of a number of citizens interested in the promotion of music in Salt Lake, to arrange for the organization of a permanent, incorpor-ated company to handle the annual music festival, an annual Chautauqua, and for the importation of various at-tractions. The situation and pros-pects were fully talked over, and an-other meeting will be called for next Tuesday afternoon. It was decided to have as a special feature of the Chau-tauqua an Italian band of 60 men. Among those present last evening, were Fisher Harris, S. H. Love, J. J. Mc-Clellan, Evan Stephens, Arthur Shep-herd and Fred Graham. In sympathy with the movement are John Q. C⁻ tch-low, Horace S. Ensign, H. W. Dougall, Anton Pedersen and A. H. The dressing of the piece was an especially charming feature and the whole presentation, with the one exception of its length (due to the time consumed in stage settings), was the most ambitious and the most gratifying to Miss Babcock and her friends, that the dramatic club has yst presented. The presentation poes again this afternoon and evening, and it is so excellent that it ought to appeal to theatergoers generally, even those who have no personal interest in the young players.

Railroad Company Says "Lapse On Part of Old and Trusted Employe."

BLAMED FOR WRECK

DEAD ENGINEER

BINGHAM GETS INFORMATION.

Town Clerk Receives a Letter from General Superintendent Stenger On Subject of Wrecks.

What caused the recent wreck on the Bingham Copper Belt line of the Rio Grande will never be known. Despite the fact that Engineer J. M. Goodwin lost his life because he stayed by his post the railroad company says the wreck happened because of "a lapse upon the part of an old and trusted employe." Just what this "lapse" was is not explained, and seeing that Goodwin is dead, he must bear the brunt. The wreck occurred March 21 and three men were killed; Engineer J. M. Goodwin, Conductor Chas. Madden and Fireman James J. Joyce. All remained at their posts as the locomotive twisted and turned in mid-air. All were buried by the cab, their lives being crushed out by it. Snow on the tracks of the steep grade was at first believed to have been the cause of the wreck and by many, is still believed to have caused the heavy engine to start skidding down the steep hill, so steep that with snow on the tracks, brakes could not hold the weight of the machine-Goodwin and his fellow-workers could Goodwin and his fellow-workers could have jumped, but Goodwin stayed, clutching at his throttle in order to save the engine from leaping to de-struction in the bottom of the canyon to the side of the tracks. His part-ners were doing their best to aid. The engine finally struck a sharp turn in the tracks, sailed into air; crashed through Col. Wall's mill and finally stopped in the bottom of the canyon. From beneath the cab three mangled bodies were takea.

SUPT. STENGER'S LETTER.

The company in a letter to the town clerk of Bingham wrote as follows: Dear Sir—Your letter of March 26, which was written on request of the board of trustees, has been received.

which was written on request of the board of trustees, has been received.
I appreciate fully the interest that the city officials of the town of Bingham have in the matter, and your recommendation has been received in the same spirit it was given.
For your information will advise that the question of derail switch has been gone into very thoroughly some time ago, and we are still investigating the question of the Copper Belt railway, and will continue to do so until we have eliminated all the elements that it is possible to eliminate.
So long as there are railroads, there will be accidents, and of course it is admitted that some roads are more difficult and dangerous to operate than others, but no expense will be spared and no points overlooked in making the operation of the Copper Belt as safe as possible.
For your further information, beg to advise that this accident was not caused on account of any defect in the track or in the engine, as a complete and thorough investigation has shown, the indications being that it was entirely due to a lapse on the part of an old and experienced engineer, who had the reputation for externe care, and the accident should not have happened, and would not have happened, and would not have happened if the engine had been properly handled.

Poor Rich Children

Two hundred thousand dollars is enough to "bring up" a little daughter of the rich. If it's a boy, it will cost more.

May K. Warwick takes up the case of these rich children, in the current issue of THE SATURDAY EVENING POST.

A wealthy Boston couple put their two boys under the care of French bonnes and governesses. When the children reached the ages of eight and nine they were sent to a well-known school. They knew their mother-tongue so very little that they could not understand what their instructors were saying to them, and they actually did not know how to dress themselves. They had to be sent home; there was no place for them, even in a fashionable school.

Some of these children become cads and rakes, others attain beautiful ideals of courtesy, breeding and social grace, but they all lose something which a human being has a right to.
