Salt Lake. This is suggested by the developments of the week, which show Main street, West Temple and State all on the way to be materially altered in the appearance of their respective sky lines.

And from the Oregon Short Line and Rio Grande depot structures the same message is carried. Everywhere record breaking work with scraper, concrete mixer, and steel pillar is fusing into the making of the Greater Salt Lake.

Here is what happened to two young men who wanted a start in a likely line of business. They bought a suburban farm a month ago. They platted it, drained it, and this week they report the sale of the very last lot the whole transaction taking less than 30 days to wind up from the time the plat went on the market. Suburban homes are in keen demand. and the incessant pressure of an incoming population keeps the demand always in advance of the supply.

The dog days of summer, coming with a rush after June's wet season, find the Newhouse and Boston blocks up above the fifth story, in brick and stone facings, while the work on the Newhouse hotel, the Beck-Newhouse

It never gets too hot to build in | about due to begin. In the skyscraper district rents are decidedly jumping on account of the prospect of its becoming a civic center. The ground is broken for the Salisbury estate building, and soon will be broken for the Commercial club's home, although the club is getting no nearer to a selection of plans. Now that Ware & Treganza have proven that local architects can at least give a board of governors something pretty serious to think about in competition with eastern men, other architects are anxious to have the competition re-open so that they may submit sketches. A new plan, suggested by a member of the Commercial club's board of governors, is to build the building of pure white glazed brick, water proof, so that the hose may be turned on them any morning, and as fire proof as any common material.

The white tile fad for club buildings is getting a hearing in Los Angeles, and there are those who would see it given a chance here

THEODORE G. SCHULTE.

Theodore G. Schulte, who died June 26 and was buried the following Monday, was born in this city Nov. 16, 1881. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Schulte of 75 I street, and he is sur-vived also by two sisters. Misses Ella and Paula Schulte. He attended the Franklin school for a number of years, afterwards going to the University of Utah. He was of a genial nature, ajways appearing bright and cheerful, seeking to hide his own troubles and to drive care from the minds of his 'friends. He was very popular, es-pecially among the younger set. The funeral was conducted under the aus-pless of the Knights of Pythias, to which order the deceased belonged, and the obsequies were attended by many frends. The grave in Mt. Olivet ceme-tery was literally banked with flowers.

Hundreds of persons were near or in front of the store at the time of the explosion. Terrified shoppers rushed out of the front door to the sidewalk. Women and girls appeared in the up-per whodows shouting and pleading for help. Men upon the sidewalks told them to wait until the firemen arrived with their ladders. Hysterical with the fright that was upon them, some did not wait but hurled themselves to the sidewalk. In this manner many were severely injured. When one or two than that Dr. Wilson had died mysteri-ously after drinking a bottle of ale, an anonymous letter was mailed to Coroner Jermon from Bristol, Pa., by the man who sent the poison. This let-ter was posted at 5:30 p. m., and reads in part:

in part: "I want to write you regarding the death of William H. Wilson. This per-son was a malpractitioner who in some way induced my wife without my knowledge to become his patient. As a result of his treatment she died a few weeks ago. To protect her name I did not give all the facts to my phy-side on und she was huist with another sician, and she was buried with another

I did not give all the facts to my phy-sician, and she was buried with another cause of death being assigned. "To rid the community of the whole-sale killer, I have removed him as I would a weed in the garden. "Now that this service to the com-munity is rendered and the death of my dear wife avenged, I am going to quit this part of the world. "This letter is true in every detail, and to prove that I am the person who attended to the matter I will tell you that the ale contained cyanide and that there were two seals with the letter S on the neck of the bottle. I had no selfish interest in the matter, By the time you get this on Monday morn-ing I will be far away from home. Yours very truly, (Signed) "An Outraged Husband and Father."

(Signed) "An Outraged Husband and Pather."
Following this letter is one mailed on June 29 at 9 a. m. at Back Bay sta-tion, Boston, and also addressed to the coroner. In it the writer says:
"In my last letter regarding Dr. Wilson I forgot to request you to give the matter to the newspapers as it might be well to let the public know that there are some people who regard this sort of thing in its true light; mut-der of the most cowardly sort."
The last bears the same signature.
That he letters were mailed by the man who sent the polson to Dr. Wil-son seems to be beyond doubt, for none of the points referred to in the letters had before been made public and nothing at all was known of the case when the first letter was mailed and nothing tail was known of the man for whom they are looking in the man for whom they are looking in the man for England, and they have sent a description of him to Scotland Yard.

On Sunday morning andresses were made by Elder Chas, if. Hart and Pres-ident Lund, both speakers referring to the great mission of the Prophet Joseph Smith, it being just sixty-tour years ago Saturday since he sealed his testi-mony with his blood, dying a martyr for the great cause he represented. Sunday afternoon Bishop Owen said he never was more happy in his life than today, due to the fact that the people have about realized the dream of the past six years. Congressman Joseph Howell felt that this was a proud day in the history of Wellsville. He was pleased to be here and share in the joy of the saints on this magnificent building, and of its dedication. Precident Lund said: 'I congratulate this memorable occasion, the completion of this magnificent building, and of its dedication. President Lund said: I congratulate the poople of Wellsville upon having one of the finest meetinghouses in Zion. It may not be the most costly but it is very convenient; it is a magnificent house, and one that will suit the pur-pose for which it has been erected. Your bishop has asked me to offer the dedicatory prayer, and if you will unite with me we will dedicate the house unto the Lord." He then offered the dedicatory prayer, which was a most impressive one. Elder Grant was the last speaker, and he gave a powerful address upon the duties of the saints and the grandeur of the great latter-day work. Too much praise cannot be giv-en the good people of Wells-ville in entertaining their friends. The wellsville has the reputation of doing things in about the right way and the conference will long be remem-bered by the people. The attendance at the four meetings were as follows: Sai-urday, 16 a. m. $62; Saturday, 2 p. m., 1255; Sunday, 16 a. m., 1601; Sunday, 2 p. m., 1.774.
