BIG PATRONAGE AND POOR SHOWS

Public is Becoming Disgusted With the Obnoxious and Malodorous Midway-Has Seen Enough Fake Shows to Last For a Generation.

nival grounds and along the midway yesterday afternoon it looked very much as though interest in the fair and the freaks of the fakirs was declining. "There is sure to be one badly patronized day in the week," said Secretary Clawson, "and I'm afraid this will be the one." Calculations went all wrong. however. Last night the grounds were packed, and a congested throng crowded up and down barker's row, harking to the oratory of the spielers, and wondering if there was anything personal meant by the Turkish band playing, "She never saw the streets of Cairo." And it's just as well if she didn't.

The laboring men of the A. O. U. W. and the federated trades organizations owned the afternoon and evening yesterday, but they very sensibly postponed the unbottling of their enthusiasm until the shades of night were falling fast. There is only one advantage in going down on the sizzling midway in the afternoon, and it did not appeal with sufficient force to the workmen to get them out. This advantage lies in the fact that after having been in one of the sultry, oven-like tents, the atmosphere out of doors actually feels cool for awhile. Really, it does: but the workmen didn't think the sensation was worth the price of melted collars and ruffled serenity, so they wisely refrained from thronging the midway in the afternoon, Had it not been that the official program called for a parade at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon, it is doubtful if the laborers would have turned out at all until evening. As it was, they braved the blazing sun and the warping as phast, and entered into the affair with vigor worthy of a cooler day. The hot afternoon kept many people from coming down town to witness the pageant, which, despite the heat and the absence of craning necks along the curbings, turned out to be one of the best yet. The members of the A. O. U. W. de-serve great credit for entering into the affair so enthusiastically and carrying out their part so well. As for the federated trades, they failed to appear with their floats representing the comof Salt Lake.

The first division of the parade was, as usual, made up of the royal party, and was followed by several new fea-tures presented by the A. O. U. W. The floats were all symbolic of features of the order and of the degree of honor. and elicited much favorable comment. A decorated float came first, carrying the degree team of the A. O. U. W. in sallor costume. They were F. G. Lu-cas, A. A. Avery, Ben Blake, W. G. Workman, C. T. Vail and L. H. Gray.

Following this was a float symboliz ing A. O. U. W. protection. Mrs. Lottie Miller, whose husband died some time ago, appeared, with her two children, in widow's weeds, in the act of re-celving $2,000 insurance from the order. Warren Foster, James Dinwoodey and nted the pres

DISCUSTED WITH MIDWAY.

When evening came, however, there vas à huge jam along the midway. It vas a curious crowd more than an en husiastic one, and a number of the shows were well patronized by people who came out disgusted with what they saw. The fact is that a feeling of disgust for the midway has been growing on the public, and it has just about reached a climax. Ever since the started the newspapers have acorded the enterprise far more generus treatment than it deserved, out of respect to the promoters. So has the public received it openly and has given every chance to provide a clean entertainment. The time has now come however, when many people realize that they have no right along the mia-

There are not more than one or two ows in the collection of tents that any person making claim to respectabil Ity can see. But the bad ones are se merous that the search for the good is far more of a Pinkertonian task than was the voyage of the Argonauts. A chief fault is that there are too many

"Men Only" shows to which women are admitted, and which are shocking and disgusting in the extreme, Colorado Charlie's "Oriental Theater" has from the first admitted only men, and that much can be said in its favor. It is absolutely rotten, how-ever, and should have been annihilated earlier in the week. The inside she of the "Streets of Cairo" is just as bad as Colorado Charlie's production, and women and children flock in to see it. Many citizens declare if the police are going to allow such nau-they seating exhibitions, surely ought to insist on 1 having the spielers announce that it is a show to which no women or children are ad Colorado Charlie does as much, and he did it from the first, before he ever got warning from the police. Bu the truth is, men too, should keep away from it

The biggest fake show on the whole midway, and that is saying a good deal, is Harry Wilbur's "Idols of Art." It has absolutely no merit. Two scrawny females poze in a dozen positions, and that is all. It lasts about five minutes and costs ten cents. People come out looking fooled, and wishing they had

It is pretty, and is in no way suggestive. "Lunette" is also a good show, but the rest are not worth the money, and a dime is a small amount. For people whose appetites are acrid enough to want to see Bosca, perhaps the money will go ungrudgingly. It is a hideous, sickening exhibition, at b and no moral, sane person can possibly In the face of the cheapness and the tawdry tinsel of all these exhibitions. the managers said today that they had had several applications from show struck girls, who wanted to go "on the stage." Two girls, one from Logan, and one from Murray, vesterday made application to Harry Wilbur. They had no experience, were 18 vears old, and "didn't mind wearing tights." Let it be put down to Wilbur's credit that he advised the girls to go back to the farm. George Mosier, "Lunette's" manager, also said that applications farm judge at present sitting on the bench heard four criminal cases this morning. All the defendants pleaded guilty and received sentences ranging from six months in the county jail to two years in the penitentiary.

The first case called was that against Frank H. Fleming charged with receiving stolen goods. Fleming is the man who was accused of stealing the sacks of wood valued at $105 from the warehouse of Henry Cohen & Co., at 422 West North Temple on June 8. The charge against him was changed to receiving stolen goods, and to this charge Fleming pleaded guilty. Prose-cutor Elehnor asked that he be given the minimum sentence, and the court then sentenced him to one year in the state prison.

"Thank you, your honor, I hope that I'll come out a better man," concurred Fleming after his sentence had been pronounced. 'I hope you will," was the court's dry rejoinde

WAS A HOUSEBREAKER.

M. M. Gallagher, charged with housebreaking, was next called on the stand the bar. The information before against Gallagher, who is a slight conumptive looking man, charges him with having, on July 11, entered the store of Fred Royowsky, 123 State street, with intent to steal.

"What is your plea to the charge against you," asked Judge Hall.

"Guilty," whispered Gallagher. "The sentence of this court is that you be confined in the state prison for term of one year." pronounced the Judge

THE MORAL IS- DON'T. Frank Bartelle was next arraigned on a charge of battery. Asked what he had to say in extenution of his act after he had entered a plea of guilty Bartelle said that he saw a man choking Gallagher on July 11, and as the man was a much larger man than Gallagher he interfered. Up on the man's refusal to loosen his hold on Gallagher's throat he had struck him in the face. And that was all he knew about the matter. Both men, he said, were strangers to him. This ap-pearing to be rather gallant behavior than otherwise the court asked the district attorney to throw some light on the case. "Whether or no Bartelle was acquainted with Gallagher I am unable Uncle Sam Sells Above $2.50 - Ajax to state," replied Prosecutor Eichnor, but Gallagher had just made an attempt to steal from Rokowsky's at 123 State street, and Rogowsky had ollared him in the act and was holding on to him when Bartelle interfered and struck Rogowsky repeatedly." Bartelle was sentenced to six months in the county jall.
