

FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

Home missionary meeting this evening.
High Council meeting on Friday evening.
Cheyenne and Laramie are now connected by telephone.

On Saturday night the Salt Lake Dramatic Combination will again present the thrilling play of "Not Guilty." The success of former presentations of the piece has led to the proposed repetition.

Dr. W. A. Hooker returned on Wednesday from a short vacation. He was out to Corinne, hanging. He says he never saw wild duck so plentiful; there were actually millions of them. One hunter there killed 32 with two shots. He fired into them as they were in the water and then as they raised and "chucked," he fired the other barrel, and gathered up the number stated from the flock of the two states.—Evansville Chief.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

First Full Carload.—To-day Mr. S. P. Teasdale shipped to the East the first full carload of dried fruit this season.

High Council.—The members of the High Council are requested to meet in the Council House, on Friday evening, the 27th inst., at 7 o'clock.

Wm. W. Taylor, Clerk.

A Reservoir.—The people of Minersville, Beaver County, are accumulating material for the construction of a reservoir. They are forced to this method of storing water, as the supply is far from adequate during the irrigation season.

Remove It.—Last evening the carcass of a big black dog was lying in a ditch a short distance this side of the U. C. R. R. depot. The man upon the situation of the locality will not improve should it remain until decomposition gets going, take it away, if it not already gone.

A Patriarch.—The late Patriarch John H. Johnson, who died at Johnson, Kane Co., Utah on September 21st, 1882, was the father of 29 children, had 124 grand children and 14 great-grandchildren. One of his daughters, who was born in the Church and named from the Book of Mormon, has had 27 grandchildren born.

Tramps.—Tramps are still very numerous in the southwestern part of the city. A few days since one of that unsavory fraternity called at the residence of Bishop Hickenlooper, asked for food and wanted to enter the house. To the latter part of the programme the Bishop objected, which incensed the tramp, who said, "I have killed better men than you." The boys in the brick-yard adjacent were notified, and drove the fellow off.

Attempted Robbery.—Last night a shot was heard in the vicinity of the Idaho Bakery corner. Officer Thomas and night watchman Geo. Hiltner rushed in the direction from whence the sound proceeded and seized a Chinaman, whom they found with a pistol in hand. He exclaimed, "white man cathee me throat, me shootee him." It was a plain attempt to garrot the "celestial" but he baffled the robber by a shot from his pistol. The Chinaman had money, but the party who assailed him fled the instant the shot was fired.

The Comet.—The comet can now be seen to best advantage shortly after three o'clock in the morning. It is a grand sight which none should miss. Prof. Lewis Swift, director of the Warner Observatory, Rochester New York, states that the comet grazed the sun so closely as to cause great disturbance, so much so that it has divided into no less than eight separate parts, all of which can be distinctly seen with a good telescope. There is only one instance on record where a comet has divided, that one being Biela's comet of 1846, which separated into two parts.

A Blow with a Boulder.—Last night, on Second South Street, on the opposite side from the old post-office premises, four soldiers engaged upon an altercation. A wordy conflict culminated in blows. A sergeant, who appeared to be a shoulder striker, pummeled a private, knocking him twice to the ground. The fellow who was thus summarily prostrated ran to the middle of the street, seized a large boulder and hurled it at the head of his antagonist, barely missing his mark. The missile struck the wood-work of a store front, making a dent which showed that if the sergeant's head had received the benefit of the blow it would never have ached again. The four parties to this military melee were taken in charge by the officers and placed in jail, to remain till called for by the authorities of the post on the hill.

Death of Willard Snow's Widow.—It will be seen by a notice elsewhere that the widow of the late Elder Willard Snow has left this life for another sphere. The husband of the deceased was a member of that band of heroes, known as Zion's Camp. He died far away from home. While on a mission to Scandinavia about thirty years ago he was taken ill at Copenhagen. He left there for Liverpool and died on the passage. His friends on board were very anxious to have his remains conveyed to the English port for which he sailed, but the captain refused to accede to the request and the body of a noble and devoted man was consigned to the deep. His widow who has just gone to join him in the life beyond was in every way worthy of him. She had the reputation of being a true and faithful Latter-day Saint. The funeral discourse will, we understand, be delivered by President Willard Woodruff.

CONCLUSION OF THE INQUEST.

JESSE WALTON AND DR. DISBROW BOTH UNDER ARREST.

At the resumption of the inquest into the murder of Nellie T. Wilder, yesterday afternoon, Jesse Walton, placed on the stand, but in accordance with the instructions of her counsel, refused to answer any questions. After due consideration of the evidence, the jury returned the following verdict:

We, the jury, find that the deceased died at her residence on First East street, Salt Lake City, between 10.30 and 11 p.m., on the 19th of October, A. D. 1892, from the effect of a gunshot fired from Dr. Disbrow's pistol of 38 calibre; while in the hands of Jesse Walton; and we further find, from the evidence presented, that Dr. Disbrow was an accomplice.

JOHN W. ROBERTS, W. HOOVER, JESSE WALTON, JAMES CLINTON, JURORS.

We believe the verdict is generally endorsed. The facts showed the close intimacy between the woman Walton and Dr. Disbrow; that both of the pistols had been given to Walton by Dr. Disbrow; that one of the weapons had been picked up by the latter shortly after the shooting; that he erased his name from it and put in a new cartridge to replace the one which was used to kill the deceased. The latter was known to have a large sum of money on the morning of the day of the murder, while it was not known that $1,500 of the amount had been deposited in Wells, Fargo & Co's. bank. In view of this strong circumstantial chain, it is difficult to see that the jury could have been justified in taking any other course than they have. Dr. Disbrow was placed under arrest last night.

An examination of the case was commenced before Justice Spiers this morning. Jennie Porter, the colored woman; Mr. Lloyd, who was at the Flint house when Jesse Walton reached there after the homicide, and some of the female inmates of that place, were put upon the stand, but nothing new, beyond what was elicited during the inquest was adduced. A recess was taken at 12 o'clock till 2 p.m., when it was to be resumed.

Cow Boy Capers.—About half past eight o'clock last evening a number of boys from 16 to 18 years old, were standing by the plank crossing on the railroad track, near the Fifth Ward school house, when two young men rode up on horseback. One of them passed quietly, but the other pulled up his horse and exclaimed, "I suppose you don't want to give the road?" One of the boys replied: "Yes, we do," there being plenty of room, the lads standing on the edge of the crossing. "I'll see that you do," said the quarrelsome cowboy at the same time drawing a large pistol, leveling it on the group, and using the most profane and blasphemous language. The boys seeing there was danger of the reckless ruffian firing, said nothing. Finally the horsemen rode a short distance and got off their animals. Seeing this one of the boys ran to his home adjacent, got a shotgun and was running back when the cowboys approached again, after having called at a house in the vicinity. The peaceful one made an apology, and while he did so the beligerent fellow beat his horse's neck with his pistol, which he still held in his hand. When they got about half a block away the lad who held the shot gun fired in the air, and the cowboy replied with a shot from his revolver, directed toward the group.

The fellow who had the pistol is supposed to be a young man who has an unenviable reputation as a horse-thief in this vicinity. Both rode grey horses.

The Welcome-Turner Case.—The case of the People, etc., vs. Fred. Welcome for the murder of John Turner, at Park City, was to have been up for a new trial this session. By agreement of the prosecution and defense, however, the trial has been continued until the February term. The reason for this is that there being only 39 jurors on the panel and those whose names are in the box—it appeared doubtful whether a jury could be obtained this session, especially in view of the fact that the prosecution is entitled to fifteen challenges. Had the case proceeded with and all timely blocked on account of failure to obtain a jury, a heavy expense might have been entailed upon Sheriff Turner and the matter been further forward than now. Sheriff Turner purposes to see the matter through, although, according to present appearances, he may have to foot the bill himself. However we do not think it right that he should be left to shoulder the burden incurred in vindicating the law personally. It is a matter of public interest that the murderer should meet with the reward of his dark deed, and some steps should be taken in a public way to meet future expenses in the case in question.

The Ladies Work.—Sisters Eliza R. B. Smith and Zina D. H. Young went to Nephi on Thursday morning, Oct. 19, and met with the Relief Society of that place the same afternoon. Friday morning was the Primary Conference of that Stake and Relief Society in the afternoon, and Y. M. C. A. in the evening. Each of these meetings was addressed by Sisters Eliza and Zina and were very interesting. On Saturday the Stake Conference convened which the Sisters attended, and on Sunday morning they were present at and addressed the Sunday School, which numbered about six hundred and is prospering exceedingly. On Monday morning the Sisters went to Levan and held meeting with the Primary Association in the morning and Relief Society in the afternoon. On Tuesday morning they went to Mona and held conjoint meeting of the Primary Association and Relief Society. President Teasdale and Elder L. A. Bailey accompanied the Sisters in their round of visits and attended all the women's gatherings. Last evening Eliza R. B. Smith returned home and Sister Zina D. H. Young stopped at Provo, where she will remain a few days with her daughter.

Postponed.—The performance to have been given by the Desert Dramatic Club, in the 17th Ward Hall, on Friday, Oct. 27th, 1893, is indefinitely postponed, one of the leading actors having been suddenly called away.

Another Hit.—H. J. Fullmer, author of the popular songs "Wait till the Clouds Roll by" and the reply, "I'll wait till the Clouds Roll by," "When the Moon Beams Brightly o'er the Hill," and other productions, has made another hit in "Brings back my Bonnie to me," a copy of which is before us from the music store of Mr. D. O. Calder.

A Curious Character.—There is a curious character, apparently led by religious fanaticism, in the city just now. He claims to have been on the earth quite a number of times, and on one of his former visits, to have been one of the seventy elders personally called into the ministry by the Savior about 1850 years ago. He asserts that he was divinely called in his present probationary condition, to travel about, preach and do good on general principles, while in Texas some time ago. A part of his programme is to travel fifteen miles a day, except when he works to sustain himself. He does not beg, neither does he accept of voluntary contributions. Yesterday a gentleman offered him half a dollar, which he declined to receive. He is shabbily dressed, and sorely in need of a thorough application of soap and water.

Music for quadrille and brass bands will soon arrive at Calder's. See advt.

CARD.

To the Public and Whomsoever it may Concern:

I have this day sold to the John W. Lowell Wagon Company, of which I am President and principal stockholder, my good will and stock in trade and buildings. I take this occasion to tender my sincere thanks to the public at large for their generous patronage for the seven years I have been in business here, and especially to those warm friends who have taken such an interest in my welfare. But few days have elapsed for years without some new customer saying to me: "I was recommended to come to you by Mr. —, a friend of yours." Kind friends, your friendship, sympathy and assistance will never be forgotten.

Messrs. Justin E. Morse, John Farmer, Martin O. Johnson and Carlin D. Joslyn, who are the other directors and own the balance of the stock of the new company are all young men who have been in my employ from year to year, and are and are pretty well known to the general public. We shall continue the same line of business as heretofore, and I trust that the John W. Lowell Wagon Company will merit and receive a fair share of public patronage.

Yours, very respectfully, JOHN W. LOWELL.
