SERIOUS PLIGHT OF A. H. MOYES.

Councilman Suffers Another Physical Collapse and May Not Recover.

DUE TO MENTAL EXCITEMENT.

Brought on by Proceedings Against Councilman Chambers and Associates in District Court.

Ogden, Feb. 28.—Councilman A. H. Moyes, who suffered a collapse several days ago, and against whom an action is pending in the district court in connection with the prosecution of the city councilmen, was again stricken yesterday and is reported to be in a critical condition.

Mr. Moyes had recovered sufficiently to be around on Monday and a part of the day was in attendance in court during the hearing of the action against William Craig. Later his strength failed him and he was assisted home, all the time suffering severely. He is now confined to his bed and according to the statement of the attending physician, the chances for his recovery are extremely slim. Mr. Moyes was injured in a street car accident last fall and since that time he has not been as strong as formerly. He appeared to be deeply affected by the actions brought against the councilmen and sat by the side of Mr. Chambers during the entire trial. When the verdict was announced Mr. Moyes was visibly affected and the same evening suffered his first collapse. In the opinion of the doctor the nervous collapse of Mr. Moyes was brought on through the mental excitement caused by the prosecution of the councilmen.

DEAN PENNIMAN LECTURES

Before Students of the B. Y. University on Researches at Nippur.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Utah Co., Feb. 28.—Dean Penniman of the University of Pennsylvania came down from Salt Lake last evening and stopped long enough to deliver a lecture in the Brigham Young university, taking the 9:12 Rio Grande Western train for the east. The audience was composed almost exclusively of students, and they greatly appreciated the entertaining and instructive talk of the learned educator. Dr. Penniman began his address by calling attention to the opportunity afforded students of enriching their lives by adding to each life the best experiences of other lives, as preserved and handed down in literature and art, and spoke of the functions of a university (not exclusively functions of a university but exercised by it) viz: (1) The preservation of knowledge; (2) the dissemination of knowledge; (3) the increasing of knowledge. He then referred to the excavations carried on under the auspices of the University of Pennsylvania since 1888 in Nippur, the ancient city of "Calneh, in the land of Shinar," referred to the tenth chapter of Genesis.

These excavations had brought to light the history of the people who lived four thousand years before Christ and two thousand years before Abraham. Tablets containing inscriptions, records of the religious and business transactions of those people taken from the excavations, were exhibited. These excavations were undertaken for the purpose of proving the Old Testament; it needed no such work to prove it, but the discoveries made did corroborate many of the records found there. Dr. Penniman referred to the fact that many people had a sort of vague idea that the Old Testament purported to be a history of all the people who lived anciently, and pointed out that this was altogether a misconception. It was only a history of God's chosen people, the Jews, and contained incidental references to other peoples with whom the Jews became associated in their history. The correctness of these references to men and places had been proved by the excavations and archaeological researches made at Nippur and other places.

There are other fishways in a similar condition, not only in Utah county, but in the state, so Mr. Jones states, and he has referred the matter to State Fish and Game Commissioner Sharp.

SCIENTIFIC MISCELLANY.

For a quarter of a century museums and collectors throughout the world have eagerly sought specimens of the meteoric iron from Canon Diablo, in northern Arizona. This iron has become famous from the number and size of the fragments, from the minute diamonds found in some pieces, and from peculiarities of the locality. It now appears from the recent work of Messrs. E. M. Harringer and B. C. Tillyman, that the crater of Canon mountain, or Canon Butte, must have been produced by the collision with the earth of the large meteorite, or possibly small asteroid, which, these fragments represent. The investigations have shown that the formation of the crater and the deposition of the meteoric material has been found 500 feet below the surface of the crater's center, and that sandstone supposed to be in place exists at a depth of less than 1,000 feet. The crater had been previously attributed to volcanic steam explosion.

The extreme temperatures necessary in modern industries have developed a new kind of engineering work in the selection of materials that are adapted for containing vessels and utensils by their resistance to both heat and chemical action. Reviewing the refractory substances available, Marie Auguste Morel, a French engineer, finds carbon in the form of graphite to be especially valuable as it resists almost all temperatures, but it unites chemically with iron and cannot be used in very useful, though it softens in the oxyhydrogen flame and nites with alkalies. More resistant than is alumina, which falls only in the electric furnace, and resists all such corrosive actions as oxide of iron, to which silica yields. Chalk, though very subject to chemical action, with stands heat wonderfully. Magnesia, titanite and iron oxide are other simple natural compounds; but the electric furnace is producing many complex manufactured materials—like carborundum—that are taking their place for practical purposes. In working with great heat the electric furnace offers an enormous advantage, as the intense heating is internal and substances can be acted upon by temperatures that would destroy the crucible.

THE XXTH CENTURY SEWING MACHINE

The highest type of FAMILY SEWING MACHINE—the embodiment of SIMPLICITY and UTILITY—the ACME of CONVENIENCE.

Of its many valuable and unique features, The AUTOMATIC TENSION RELEASER commands notice. It is a veritable boon. ible walls if applied from the outside. Electric light baths will soon displace Turkish baths, in the opinion of H. J. Dowling, the English electrician. They have none of the disadvantages of the latter, but act as a tonic, and lack most of the harmful rays of sunlight. They may be used at pleasure. The combined electric heat and light treatment, applied under medical supervision, is proving of great value in certain diseased conditions, and also promises to become popular.

Two weights suspended from a bar form a London scientific novelty. When one weight is pulled down and released, it vibrates up and down for a little time, when it suddenly stops and the second weight begins to bob up and down. This soon stops, the first then resuming its motion.

HABITATIONS OF THE PUEBLO INDIANS.

The picture shows some of the curious dwellings of the Pueblo Indians at Taos, N. M. They are believed to be the oldest human habitations in America, and the Taos valley is probably the most primitive spot in the country. Over 500 families live in these Taos pueblos, which are constructed of adobe and straw, tier upon tier of rooms, the first floor reached by a ladder. In the town of Taos, which is three miles from the pueblos, K. K. Carson's house is still standing. He is buried in the Taos cemetery.

A Real Doctor's Prescription

FOR THE DISTRESSING COMPLAINTS AND DISEASES OF WOMEN.

What the Most Eminent Medical Authorities Say of the Ingredients

Contained in

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription,

WHICH ARE:

LADY'S SLIPPER (Cypripedium Pubescens)

BLACK COHOSH (Cimicifuga Racemosa)

UNICORN ROOT (Chamaelirium Luteum)

BLUE COHOSH (Cauleophyllum Thalictrifolius)

GOLDEN SEAL (Hydrastis Canadensis)

Lady's Slipper cures cramps, spasms and convulsions, and has a specific action in painful periods, nervous twitchings, chorea and epilepsy. It quiets irritability of the nervous system, and causes the mind to become calm and cheerful. Its effects are most happy in hysteria, melancholia, sleeplessness, nervous headaches, excitability and sensitiveness. It is also a tonic of great power.

Black Cohosh is efficient in overcoming painful or suppressed periods, leucorrhea, ovarian pains, bearing down feelings, and the other diseases of the uterine system; the headaches which accompany them and those of nervous origin. It is employed successfully in the treatment of nervous excitability, St. Vitus's Dance and convulsions. It is an appetizer of particular efficacy, is used in rheumatic and neuralgic troubles, and is a general as well as a uterine tonic.

Unicorn root has distinctive medicinal properties. It imparts tone and vigor to all of the reproductive organs of women, and removes diseased and abnormal conditions. It is of the greatest service in cases of falling or other displacements of the womb, and it unquestionably makes childbirth easy and safe. It is of great benefit in inflammation of the bladder, dyspepsia, nausea and loss of appetite.

Blue Cohosh prepares women for childbirth and makes them more comfortable in mind and body. It prevents miscarriages, causes labor to be easier, shorter and less painful, and diminishes the number of the days of confinement. It stops the nausea and vomiting of pregnancy and can be relied upon to produce good results in painful or suppressed periods, leucorrhea, uterine inflammation, and all the nervous symptoms attending the diseases peculiar to women.

Golden Seal is a valuable tonic which is especially useful in all inflammatory conditions of the mucous membranes exemplified by uterine and vaginal irritations, leucorrhea and bladder troubles. It quickly cures nausea, vomiting, indigestion and dyspepsia, and increases the appetite. It is also a regulator of the functions of the liver and the intestines.

All of these statements can be verified in detail by reference to King's American Dispensatory, Bartholow's, Scudder's and other recent standard works on the medicinal action of the native drugs of North America.

The marvellously curative effects of the special combination of these remedies in one medicine, namely,

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

is testified to by the unanimous praises it has received from many thousands of women, each of whom has been restored to health by it, after suffering from some one or more of the diseases peculiar to her sex. DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION in that it is the ONE MEDICINE FOR WOMEN, the makers of which make confidants of their patients and tell them exactly what they are taking. This Dr. Pierce gladly does, because the remedy has thousands of cures to its credit, and is made by such an intricate process that it cannot be successfully imitated. DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

IS UNIQUE

IS DISTINCTIVE

in that it is made from purely vegetable ingredients, namely, roots gathered in the native woods and which contain the healing principles elaborated by Nature in the earth of the silent forests uncontaminated by civilization's touch. DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

IS EXCEPTIONAL

in that it contains ABSOLUTELY NO ALCOHOL, and is free from all narcotics and other poisonous principles, and hence can be taken by the maiden, and wife, and the elderly matron and spinster with perfect safety and the assurance that it will never establish a drug habit. DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION in that it is a remedy devised by a physician with an experience of over one-third of a century in treating women's diseases, and is NOT A PATENT MEDICINE in any sense of the word. It is, however, a household remedy which cures ninety-eight per cent. of the cases for which it is taken, and is so firmly established in popular favor that the carping criticisms and unwarranted denunciations of those who pose as reformers and show their ignorance by acting as amateur advisers of the sick cannot undermine the people's well founded faith in it.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a non-technical medical book of 1008 pages, profusely illustrated, contains many things of interest to ailing women. All of them should read it. It will be sent free on receipt of stamps to cover mailing—31 cents for cloth and 21 cents for the paper bound volume.

DR. PIERCE'S PLEASANT PELLETS regulate the activities of the liver and bowels safely, painlessly and surely. They are the best laxative known for sick or invalid women.
