ANNUAL CONFERENCE.

We are authorized to announce that the Annual Conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints will be held at Provo, commencing at 10 o'clock a.m., on Sunday, the 4th of April next. The officers and members of the Church are cordially invited to attend.

"IN PATIENCE POSSESS YE

YOUR SOULS." WHEN picturing to His disciples the tribulations and afflictions of the latter days, the incomparable Nazarene prisons and be brought before dignirents, and brethren and kinsfolks and manner of its accomplishment. friends," and be "hated of all men for His name's sake," gave to them this exhortation: "In your patience possess ye your souls." (Luke xxi, 19.)

That we are living in the times precalled to do the work of warning were not induced to engage in the cause by specious promises, or concealment of the trials and difficulties involved therein. They were forethat have come are lighter than they against us.

likely to be despoiled of their earthly goods. The rights of citizenship are wrested from them. Families, which are their temporal heaven, are scattered and distressed. Wives and children are hunted down as a prey to spies and informers, and insulted as unworthy of respect. Traitors lurk in the circles of the Saints and a man's foes are often they of his own household. Falsehoods against us. The basest creatures under the sun berate us with impunity, and vile and loathsome libertines and debauchees invade our houses and force virtuous women and tender children before courts and inquisitions. Our faith is misrepresented, our motives are misconstrued and our actions are maligned. Our leaders are compelled to remain in concealment or be sacrificed to the malevolence of ungodly and unprincipled officials. The lecher is promoted, the chaste are condemned. The intidel mocks and the "Christian" Pharisee taunts us with our afflictions. The national power which should be exercised to secure equal justice to all and to uphold the civil and religious rights of citizens is either quiescent or turned to the support of our enemies. The legislative, executive and judicial arms of government are all moved by the spirit of oppression and scarcely a voice is raised in our behalf. Now is the time to exercise patience. This is one of the hardest tasks before us. It is difficult to wait. The injustice we have to bear provokes intense indignation. We naturally want to do something. Retaliation impulsively suggests itself. Violence wants to grapple with violence. It would be easier to arise in our might and our union and make a clean sweep of the wretches who assail us. It sometimes seems it would be better to battle at once and die in the struggle than to submit to undeserved ignominy. But these are the emotions of fallen humanity. The voice of wisdom and of Christ cries out, "In your patience possess ye your souls."

The troubles of the present, after all, are but a few. They are small compared with what have been, they are slight compared with those that will be. Among the persecutions to precede the great tribulation to come upon the earth, it is written; "Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you." Also, "Ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake." The mobbings and murderings and burnings and ravishings of Missouri and Illinois exceed everything that has since been endured by the Saints. And the time is to come when he that would kill the servants of the Lord will think he is doing God service. "All nations" are to look upon Zion and say, "let her be is to have semething done to clothe its defiled."

We are suffering but a little. This is a small test to try our faith and develop the hypocrite and the traitor. The Lord will perhaps keep silence for a season that our integrity may be gauged and our confidence in Him be proven. In all this we must exercise patience, forbearcance, meekness and charity. This, however, does not involve cowardice or base surrender to cle by which spite and revenge can be dishonorable demands. There is more wreaked upon one class of the combravery in quiet determination and > trol and openings for plunder. The raid made upon the family of Mayor Armstrong, illustrates the malice and excess indulged in towards "Mormons" selected as objects of official vengeance. His family and all associated with them that violent hands could be laid upon have been forced before the grand jury, to be plied with the prurient questions which are commonly put to enforced witnesses, with the view to fasten upon something that would excuse an indictment against him for polygamy. It was all in vain. There was nothing in it except the malignant desire to enmesh him in the toils of the law. Under such proceedings no "Mormon" family is safe from intrusion and insolent and shameful interrogation, as well as expense, the violent interruption of family affairs and the disturbance of the house> hold peace. But why was Mayor Armstrong picked out as an object of this malevolence? Everybody who knows the facts believes that it was in retaliation for his well-known efforts in aid of the exposure and prosecution of the lecherous frequenters of vile houses, some of whom were officials of the court wherein his overthrow has been attempted. He sought to suppress flagrant immorality, and therefore he must be punished, if possible. Is not this a lovely state of affairs? If it could only be clearly understood by the national authorities, is it to be supposed that it would be sustained? We think not. There are parties here who could present the facts in a way that would bring about a change. Have they the moral courage to do;it? What "Mormons" say in the present intemperate condition of the public mind counts for little. There are decent non-"Mormons" here who deplore the wrongs which innocent people are to Goodwin. suffering, and who could exercise an influence if they would to rectify these evils. We neither expect nor ask any one to do anything in the way of obstructing the fair enforcement of any law. Of course we view the law under which these extreme proceedings are conducted as oppressive, partial and unjust. But we understand that it has to be enforced. What we now desire execution with a little decency. To keep the officers who are engaged in the work within legal bounds. To stop turning prosecution into persecution. To relieve families and citizens who are not accused of crime from the raids of rufflans who have no sense of propriety or regard for private rights. To make the law something higher than a vehi-

And do not the creatures who would be called in question hold a whip-lash in hand, ready to flagellate any official or other person who would have the hardihood to move in the matter.

While the grand jury are in session and should they ever contemplate acting on that important part of their duties which we have cited from the Poland law, they ought to inquire into the alleged doings of deputy marshals in exceeding their authority, in forcing their way into private places without warrant of law, in arresting innocent persons, in treating subpænsed witnesses as though they were criminals, in abusing persons with whom they come in contact when serving papers, in calling people liars and in other ways acting so as to provoke a breach rupt misconduct in office" and ought to be inquired into by the grand jury, according to their sworn agreement. OUR CHICAGO LETTER.

TWO UTAH GENTILE-MEN - REMEDA FOR ANTI-"MORMON" RABIES SUG-GESTED-KATE FIELD FOR GOVER-NOR OF UTAH-JOSEPH SMITH ON POLITICS-UTAH JUDGES, PAST AND PRESENT.

CHICAGO, March 28, 1886.

Editor Deseret News: Two distinguished gentlemen from Utah passed through this city some few days ago, on their way to Washington. Perhaps it would be more correct to say two Gentile-men, lest by classing them with the first an logastice might be done them, and a rank accorded to them which they would not under-stand. Well, these @Gentile-men sostand, Well, these Gentlle-men so-journed a short time, and relieved themselves of a great load about Utah. Chicago can stand any number of these men. The rooms they occupied at the hotel were disinfected, and no danger is apprehended. They carried a supicious-looking toox, which if seen in a sea-board city would occasion alarm to ship-masters. This box contained the most succulent parts of a "fatted Mormon" which are destined to grace the banquet board at Washington City, where Senators Edmunds, Hoar, Cul lom, Logan, and a few minor worthles are to be dined on their favorite dish. Nothing short of a real will satisfy the terrible appetite of a true-blue "Mormon-eater." And the Messrs. Baskin and Goodwin did a wise thing in carrying a choice haunch to the Capital for the delectation of the great men there.

One of these is said to be a news-paper man, the other a politician out of work. Both of these men lost a profitable job by not calling at one of our dime museums. A Utah news-paper man is, above all things, what we want to see. The girl with big feet, the woman with the Governor Murray whiskers, and the man are getting stale, but a Utah scribe of the Gentile-carpet-bag pattern is what we hunger for. And we lost a good one in him who passed here. The other fellow would not be much of a novelty. We have lots of his kind. However he could play second fiddle

THE SITUATION IN UTAH. it is said, is serious. The Mayor of about dirty newspapers, and dirtier preachers, suggests a remedy for the anti-"Mermon's rapies. He thinks that vaccination might help. The vi-rus could be obtained from one of rus could be obtained from one of your meanest deputy marshals, and by adopting Pasteur's method a process of inoculation might be pursued which would prevent or modify the terrible rables which seem to possess newspaper men, officials and missionaries in Utah. Mrs. Logan says she will have her John operated on, now that he is cured of the Fitz Porter monomania. As to the others, nothing will do any good for them but a ban-quet off a real "Mormon" and Messrs. Goodwin and Baskin will supply that. Carter Harrison says every official from Ilinols who goes to Utah must be "vaccinated" before leaving Chicago. So many of our Illinois citizens now in Utah are in such a bad way that if they should return home the consequences might be serious. might be serious.

The great mass of the American people have nothing to do with Joseph Smith, or with his relations to the "Infinite Source," in so far as his religion and conscience were concerned. - And whether God, slept for 1,800 years or for 18,000, it is none of their business. Outside of religion we can investigate Joseph Smith. Happily for the mod-ern student, he has left a political rec-

ADDRESS TO THE PROPLE OF THE UNITED STATES

dated Feb. 7, 1844, Joseph Smith distinctly defines his political position, and the text proves it to be unassailable. He says: "In the United States the people are the government, and their united voice is the only sovereign that should write the color with the colo that should rule; the only power that should be obeyed; and the only gentlemen that should be honored, at home or abroad, on the land and on the sea Vherefore, were I the President of the United States, by the voices of a virtuous people, I would honor the old paths of the venerated fathers of free-; I would walk in the tracks of illustrious patriots, who carried fice. And they are not only author- the ark of the government upon their shoulders with an eye single to the glory of the people; and when that people petitioned to abolish slavery in Slave States, I would use all honorable means to have their prayer granted, and give liberty to the captive, by giving the Southern gentleman a reason-able equivalent for his property, that the whole nation might be free indeed."

These words were spoken 42 years ago, but they will bear reproduction to-day, and they are the best reply which could be given to the silly twaddle of that Utah alleged Justice.
Your Utah Judge says, "We have met to approve the acts of a man who came to this Territory with a conscience and a courage that had been baptized in the blood of the late war." Yes, baptized in the blood of his own countrymen: baptized in the blood of countrymen; baptized in the blood of relatives, friends and fellow-religion-lsts! Aud this is the baptism which is to procure him honor, glory, emolu-ment and salvation. Shame on the cannibalism which glories in its filth! THE JUDGE WHO TRIED ABRAHAM for a marder that was never committed, and who condemned Abraham for put-ting away a second wife. If Abraham had put away "the wife of his youth," and adopted the selection system sanc-tioned by Utah judges, then indeed, it might be said that Abraham was a bad man. The old story about the beggar on horseback riding to perdition is certainly true. Hagar was promoted to an honorable place in a sacred house-hold, but true to the instincts of her class she abused it, and as she had no Utan Judge to back her, she suffered the consequences. It is the same way with our modern judges and governors. gars on horseback. In our city, Judge Drummond went out to sand-bag for whiskey money, but he saw some postage stamps on a mail box, and he appropriated them. St. Louis-Several Persons Perish in the Fiames. Sr. Louis, 3 .- At 8:50 this morning a fire was discovered in the rear por-tion of the Planters House, corner of Fourth and Pine Streets. It was found that the laundry room as well as the drying room of the hotel was in flames and burning flercely. The watchman and night clerk awakened the guests, 134 in number. The greatest excite-ment prevailed, and for a time a panic was expected, but as some of the guests reached the ground floor and found no immediate danger in that portion of the building the ex-citement grew less and some of the guests returned to their rooms to procure such valuables as had been left in their hurry to es-cape. Several trunks were thrown from the third and fourth floors only to be dashed to pleces. One lady ap-peared at a third story window and throwing out her grip, reached for one of the rings of the fire-escape, and landed in short order on the sidewalk. The firemen worked vigorously and at about 5:20 the fire was extinguished, and but for the complete drenching, the main portion of the hotel suffered lit-

On the fourth floor in the north hall they came across the bodies of two women servants, stumbling over them as they made their way through the smoke; they were conveyed to the dining room floor, where a doctor was called, and every effort made to resusand after working over them for half an hour they were pronounced dead. The bodies were clad merely in their night robes, their faces blackened by smoke and the skin on their hands and arms peeled off in places, showing where they ran against obstacles in their efforts to escape.
