

A copy of the Provo Enquirer.
A copy of the Logan Journal.
A copy of the Ogden Standard.
A copy of the American Fork Independent.

A copy of the Swedish Korrespondenten Bikuben.

A copy of the Historical Record.
Date of breaking ground, November 22, 1890, by George Austin.

Latter-day Saints Psalmody, by the Lehi choir.

A copy of "Mastodon March," played on the occasion by the Lehi silver band.

Silver dollar of 1890, by George Q. Cannon.

Salt Lake corporation scrip of January, 1868, No. 3764, by James Chipman.

Five cent nickel by R. J. Whalon, of New York.

Silver dollar by A. O. Smoot.

Twenty-five cent piece of paper money by T. F. Frane.

Copper cent by Robert Lee, of American Fork.

Silver dollar by Major Rose, of Pleasant Grove.

Gold medal, given by the territorial fair in 1890 to the Provo Woolen Mills, by J. J. Cutler.

Silver dollar by F. M. Lyman.

An order for $1 on the presiding bishop's office, also a 10 cent order of the same kind by George C. Lambert.

Silver dollar of 1792, by George Comer.

A $2 Kirtland bill, signed by Joseph Smith, Jr., treasurer, and F. C. Williams, secretary, by Andrew Jenson.

Fifty cents in silver, by George Austin.

A copy of an order for the first car of sugar manufactured by the company, by S. H. Hill, representing J. Cunningham & Co.

Silver dime, by George Kirkham.

Silver dollar, by Mrs. William Langton.

An order for $3 on the Equitable Co-op., by William Langton.

Twenty dollar Confederate note, by L. G. Hardy.

Norwegian half-cent copper, by Ole Ellingson, Jr.

Two silver dimes, by the Lehi Silver Band.

Garfield Bench medal, by B. C. Earl.

English penny, by Frank Taylor.

Japanese coin, by A. C. Granger.

Five cent nickel of 1890, by James Kirkham.

Silver dollar, by Lehi City Corporation.

THE CORNER STONE,
which was of gray stone, about 20 inches square on the top and stood about 2 feet high, was then taken charge of by President George Q. Cannon and Elias Morris. The rope tightened and the stone gradually lowered to its proper place. The treasure box was then placed in position in the top of the stone and laid in cement, Elias Morris wielding the trowel. President George Q. Cannon said—"I take pleasure in announcing that the corner stone of the Utah Sugar Factory has been laid. God bless it." He then mounted, the newly-laid stone and offered prayer, asking the Lord to bless and prosper the enterprise, the land on which it stood, the walls and the corner stone and all who had invested their means and those who had good wishes for its success. At the close of the invocation Elias Morris suggested three cheers for the enterprise and they were heartily given; with two additional tigers.

After a selection by the Lehi silver band,

PRESIDENT WOODRUFF

was called on for a speech. He said: I want you all to unite on the subject of sugar. There is not a question of public improvement which is of more value or has better prospects than sugar. God bless you."

PRESIDENT GEORGE Q. CANNON.

"There is any amount of eloquence here and I was called because I could not talk and take up your time. This is a fruitful subject and a sweet subject. This is the greatest home enterprise ever started in the Territory, and there is no doubt as to its being a success. It has awakened great interest, and never before have our leading men been so united as on this subject, and they will carry it forward to completion. Thorough analyses have been made and its success is assured. All this surrounding region is admirably adapted to beet raising, which is the reason why this locality has been chosen. There is no doubt but what you will all join me in wishing success to this enterprise."

PRESIDENT A. O. SMOOT, of Provo, said in behalf of Utah County: "You no doubt realize the fact that this is a very important day for the Territory of Utah on which we lay the cornerstone and the foundation of an enterprise to supply the inhabitants of Utah with all the sugar they need. Where you now use one spoonful of sugar you will be able to use three spoonfuls on Christmas next year. It has occurred to my mind that in previous years feeble attempts have been made to accomplish this purpose. Twenty-five years ago an attempt to make sugar was made in Salt Lake and $150,000 expended, but without experience and proper knowledge the enterprise was not a success. Nine years ago the territorial legislature appropriated $5,000 for the purpose, and Mr. Stayner has gone ahead and made sugar, but not in sufficient quantities. There are now prospects that we will live to see it produced in plenty. This is our third effort, and as the third time is the charm, we will produce sugar on this occasion."

JOHN BECK,

representing Lehi, began his speech amid cheers and said: "It is with feeling that I stand on the corner stone of the sugar factory to testify to its success. I have studied the subject and the plant is being prepared; the next thing we want is the beets. We are the ones to raise them to make the sugar. We should prepare for the occasion. Sharpen your plows, get your horses fat, get strong beams to your plows so that you can plow deep and raise good beets, so that success will be certain. Sugar is in the elements and we should take to organize them into sugar. I would encourage all of you to give your time to raising sugar beets and let others raise the grain."

EX-MAYOR ARMSTRONG.

"We meet today to celebrate the greatest event that has ever taken place in Utah county, the laying of the corner stone of the Utah sugar factory, in which we should all be interested. Every one called upon has responded and our success is assured, there is no doubt about it. I have visited the sugar plants in California and elsewhere, and I find that sugar can be made equally as well and cheaper in Utah than elsewhere. A vast amount of means are required, however, and if you will look over the foundation now built you can form some idea of its magnitude. The great question will be the beets. We will use 350 tons daily for ninety days, which will require from 3000 to 4000 acres to be planted in beets to keep the plant going. If you will furnish us the beets there will be no doubt about our making sugar out of them. Utah County is shown to be adapted in every way to beet raising, and that is why it has been chosen."

ARTHUR STAYNER.

"I thought my talking was all done. I congratulate the people of Utah on this occasion, and I trust and hope the enterprise will meet the expectations of its friends. What we want now are live beets, not dead ones, and in order to get them we must be alive. They are in the soil; all that is necessary is for you to get them."

L. G. HARDY.

"It is with pleasure that I stand on the corner stone of this building and within six months I expect to stand on the roof. [Cries of 'Here too!']. We have not engaged in this enterprise for fun and we expect you to stand by us. Let American Fork co-operate with Lehi, but whatever American Fork does Lehi will do two better. We want to see a street car line between American Fork and Lehi to carry the workers to and from the factory. We do not expect to make all the sugar used in Utah, but we will make all we can. The establishment of this factory means the expenditure of $20,000 yearly in wages alone and we cannot afford to slight it."

BISHOP GEORGE HALLIDAY.

"If I have lived long enough to see sugar manufactured in Utah, I am proud. We will not be satisfied until we see beautiful white sugar roll down in the sack, cementing us and our industries together. I shall always endeavor to make the enterprise a success as far as my influence goes. If the farmers only show a quarter as much enterprise as the promoters there is no doubt of its success. May we all be united in making it a success."

ALONZO E. HYDE.

"This is no doubt the greatest enterprise ever established in the Rocky Mountain region. The foundation was not laid by talk but by work. It will require much more work to complete it. All must put a shoulder to the wheel and make it a success. We need beets but no dead-beets. We expect to sweeten Utah and to use our influence to sweeten the people."

JAMES CHIPMAN.

"Since I gave the matter attention I am thoroughly satisfied that