GENERAL NEWS.

The Inter-State Commission Named at Last.

THE PRESIDENT'S HEALTH.

The Bids for the Navy Coming in Lively.

BLOODY MURDER—GORGE, ETC.

By Telegraph to the NEWS.]

WASHINGTON.

The Inter-State Commerce Commission.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The President has appointed the following inter-state commerce commissioners:

THOMAS M. COOLEY, of Michigan, for a term of six years; Wm. H. Morrison, of Illinois, for a term of five years; Augustus Schoonmaker, of New York, for a term of four years; Aldace F. Walker, of Vermont, for a term of three years, and Walter L. Bragg, of Alabama, for a term of two years.

The fact that Mr. Cooley's name heads the list does not necessarily indicate that he will be the chairman of the commission, as it must elect its own chairman. Cooley was recently appointed by Judge Gresham receiver of the Wabash Railroad.

ALDACE F. WALKER

is a Vermont Lawyer, about 44 years old, a republican in politics, who studied law with Senator Edmunds. He served as colonel in the Union army, and has since then practiced law at Rutland. In Vermont Senate he has taken a leading part in framing the legislation to solve the railroad problem and has given much study to the question.

AUGUST SCHOONMAKER

is a lawyer of Kingston, New York, and was always a close personal and political friend of Governor Tilden. He succeeded Mr. Fairchild as attorney-general of New York State.

MR. BRAGG

has been a leading democrat in Alabama for some years. In 1881 he was made president of the Alabama State Railroad Commission and served in that position four years, during which time many important questions arising between the railroads and their customers were satisfactorily adjusted.

MR. MORRISON'S

public services are well known.

United States Attorney Robert B. Smith, of Montana, had advised Commissioner Sparks through the Attorney-General, that the supreme court of that territory had reversed the decision of the district court in the case of the United States vs. Williams & Smith, in which the government sued for $112,800 for timber trespass. The lower court decided against the government, but on an appeal prosecuted by the United States Attorney, Judge McLeary overruled the point of law raised, and held that the Government was entitled to recover.

Collections of internal revenue during the first eight months of the fiscal year ending January 30th, 1887, were $74,248,878, being $917,607 less than the collections during the

of the last fiscal year. The receipts for February, 1887, were $80,063 less than the receipts for the same month of 1886.

One of the questions considered at the Cabinet meeting to-day was in regard to the money appropriated at the last session of Congress to indemnify the Chinese subjects for losses sustained during the riots at Rock Springs, Wyoming, in September, 1885. The act provides that the money is to be paid to the Chinese government, by which it is to be distributed. It is probable that the money will be turned over to the Chinese minister as the legal representative of the Chinese government.

Col. Lamont, in conversation to-day in regard to the President's health, showed that the fears recently expressed by Dr. Sowers are not shared by the President's family and his intimate friends.

THE PRESIDENT,

Col. Lamont said, was, to all appearances, in perfect health. He did not think Dr. Sowers was in a position to judge of the matter, as he did no know the President, and what he said was, in the Colonel's opinion, based merely on assertion, that the President was gaining flesh and took no exercise. This was not the case. "As a matter of fact," he continued, "the President weighs less than when he first came to Washington, and really takes as much exercise as most other men. It is true he does not walk about the city, but he frequently walks in the country, and there are other ways in which he gets exercise." The Colonel added that altogether, the President is in good condition, and there is no apprehension in regard to his health.

A Singular Birth.

BRIDGEPORT, March 22. — Mrs. Kretschner, a German lady of this city, gave birth recently to a male infant which has an elephant's head, and in place of a nose, a short trunk. The mouth and lips protrude like those of an elephant. The child weighs about nine pounds and can be fed only with a spoon. The mother visited the circus winter quarters here during the past winter and was terribly frightened by the elephants. The parents succeeded in keeping the matter to themselves until recently, and now very few have been permitted to see the child.

Logan Married.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 22.—John A. Logan, son of the dead senator, and Miss Edith Andrews, daughter of Chauncy M. Andrews, of Youngstown, Ohio, were married at noon to-day at the residence of the bride's father. A number of prominent people attended, and the presents given were very elaborate and costly, among which was a check for $50,000 from the bride's father.

THE NAVY.

Bids Coming Right Along.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Bids were opened at noon to-day, in the office of the Secretary of the Navy for 1,380 tons of steel gun forgings and 4,500 tons of steal armor plate, for the completion of the vessels now under construction by the department. The bids for 1,380 tons of gun steel forgings were as follows: Cambria Iron Company, $851,513; Midvale Steel Company, $1,397,240; Bethlehem Iron Company, $902,280. For steel plate (4,500 tons), there are but two bids as follows: Bethlehem Iron Company, $3,610,707; Cleveland Rolling Mill Company, $4,021,500.

THE PROPOSALS

of the Bethlehem Company were accompanied by a memorandum saying that the price named was based on the condition sent out in the advertisement of August 21st last. The company adds that their bids are for both armor plate and gun forgings and should therefore receive the preference, all things being equal.

Secretary Whitney expressed himself greatly pleased with the result of the bidding for the production in this country of armor and gun shell.

The advertisement issued by the Department contained a provision requiring the contractors to provide a plant, with all adequate to the manufacture of forgings and to deliveries within periods ranging from thirty-three to fifty-four months after the signing of contracts in case of gun steel. In the case of armor plate, the contractor is required to provide within two and a half years a plant capable of forging or rolling 300 tons of finished plate per month, and to deliver all the armor within two years thereafter.

Attached to the proposal made by the Bethlehem Company is an offer to provide a suitable plant within one and a quarter years, instead of two and a half years allowed for the purpose. This company also states, in a foot-note, that required by the department is fully equal to the best plate manufactured in Europe and higher in grade than any made in this country. Their bid proposes to supply such plate, and they are prepared to demonstrate their ability to do so. If plate of lower quality will be acceptable to the department, the company is prepared to furnish it at a lower price than that stated in their bid. All of the bids were accompanied by certified checks of $50,000.

The bid of the Cleveland Rolling Mill Company was handed to the Secretary by the clerk after the other bids had been opened, with the explanation that it had just come to hand through the mails. When the reading of the bids had been completed Secretary Whitney announced that they would be taken under consideration and the awards announced within fifteen days.

A Bloody Murder.

ST. LOUIS, March 22.—One year ago this month one of the bloodiest murders of human beings known was committed near Erie, Kansas. J. W. Sell, a well-to-do farmer and his whole family excepting one son, Willie, a boy 16 years old, were found murdered, their heads being crushed and their throats cut. There has been a great diversity of opinion as to whether Willie Sell committed the murder. On the trial there was no evidence, and the state failed to find any motive for the crime. On the contrary, it was proven that Willie was an exceptionally good boy, and that he and his sister Ida were more than commonly fond of each other. The last night that his father on the night of the murder, had a quarrel with his son Watt, when the latter struck his father with a hatchet. Willie obtained the hatchet from Watt and knocked Watt down. The mother and sister came into the room screaming, and Willie knocked them down. In his frenzy he cut his brother Watt's throat and then declared that if any others came to life he feared they would declare he had killed Watt and so he cut their throats. The recital corresponds to facts ascertained at the trial.

BOY CONFESSED

Attempt to Kill.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 22.—An attempt was made to-night upon the life of representative George P. Bailey, the labor member of east St. Louis, by some person as yet unknown. Mr. Bailey was returning to his boarding house, and was in the act of stepping into his door when the shot was fired. He was one of the pall bearers at Mrs. Neebe's funeral. This is attributed by some as the cause.

The Dakota Gorge.

MANDAN, Dak., March 23.—A good many streets here are full of water but there is no suffering. The water is spreading over a vast extent of country slowly. The gorge is expected to go soon.

BISMARCK, March 22.—The Missouri fell about twelve inches last night and this morning stood at the high water mark of 1881. The railroad managers and passengers were congratulating themselves on the prospects for relief when the water began to rise again and it has risen a foot since this morning. The rise at this point runs over land

SIX MILES IN WIDTH.

This is marvelous when it is considered that all the gorges and the total floods were supposed to have passed. It is almost a miracle and no one seems able to account for the action of the river unless that the warm weather is able to produce a rise. The train from the east was delayed 20 minutes this afternoon by the rise in Apple Creek, three miles east of this point. If the water in the creek rises much more it will be impossible for trains to come to Bismarck, as the water at that point will put out the fires.

There is no longer any doubt of the drowning of the Jackson family at Painted Woods. The family consisted of a father, mother, and two children.

A BISMARCK SPECIAL

to the Pioneer Press says: The water is now stationary. The Northern Pacific transferred in yawls to-day and will transfer by the steamer Helena to-morrow. All passengers delayed here are being fed at the company's expense. Dynamite was unavailingly used on the gorge at Sibley Island to-day. Little Heart River is expected to break, and when it does, the water will back into Mandan in a terrific flood.

Severe Storm.

CHICAGO, March 22. — A storm of snow and sleet east of Pittsburg, paralyzed the telegraph service between Chicago and New York, and there was no communication between the two cities up to 11 a. m.

WILLIAM'S BIRTHDAY.

The Beginning of His 91st Year on Earth.

GRAND DEMONSTRATIONS.

He is in Remarkably Good Health.

FINE AND APPROPRIATE GIFTS.

By Telegraph to the NEWS.]

BERLIN, March 22.—The ninetieth anniversary of Emperor William's birthday was ushered in by the pealing of bells in all the churches and the tower of the Town Hall, and the sounding of the choral. The city is decorated as it never was before. Garlands, flags, laurels, festoons of evergreen banners, bright drapery and brilliant carpets are hung over every conspicuous spot where ornaments can be made to add to the joyous appearance of the town. Conspicuous by the extreme elegance of their decorations are the Royal Academy and the university buildings and the residences of the Crown Prince Frederick William. The monument of is covered with wreaths and flowers. Wherever there is a bust or statue of the Emperor in a shop window or other exposed place it is buried in flowers. The people are all out in holiday attire and the streets are thronged. Early in the day special memorial religious services were held in all the churches.

Children from all the schools in the city went in the processions, accompanied by bands of music, to the church services. The students' procession which passed the palace was a grand affair. They went in carriages, of which there were several hundred in line, and carried of various schools, societies and associations, and were accompanied by many bands playing music.

The long line of carriages was preceded and followed by students on horseback. Passing the palace, the bands played the national anthem, "Preussen Lied" and "Die Wacht am Rhein," the students all singing to the music. The Emperor appeared at the window as the procession was moving past and bowed, remaining there a considerable time. The great crowd in the street gave him an ovation, the multitude cheering itself hoarse and tiring itself out waving hats and handkerchiefs. All the members of the imperial family and their princely guests drove in a procession to the palace and personally tendered their congratulations to

THE EMPEROR.

The procession was cheered by the crowds in the streets. The municipal procession was preceded by heralds and marshals bearing the town banner, the whole body of the evangelical clergy, the chief civil and military authorities, representatives of German science, art and commerce, directors of the gymnasium, and the burgesses and officers. In all there were over 20,000 persons. The procession was accompanied by several bands, which played marches alternately with chorals by trumpeters. The procession went in state from the town hall to attend the commemoration religious service in the church of St. Nicholas. The clergymen were all full-robed, and the officials were in uniforms and regalia. When entered the church, the organ played a prelude. This was followed by "Salvum Fac Regem," and the chanting of the Ambrosian hymn. The festival sermon was preached by Provost Bruchner. At noon the royal salute of 101 guns was fired from Koenigsplatz.

Prince Bismarck and Marshal Von Moltke went to pay their congratulations to the Emperor at 1 o'clock. They were enthusiastically cheered all along the route to and from the palace. The day is being celebrated with similar and equal enthusiasm in all towns of the empire. The rainstorm which set in at 3 o'clock and lasted until 6, had scarcely any effect upon the crowds of enthusiastic Germans who thronged the streets.

THE ILLUMINATIONS

to-night throughout the city are superb. An especially striking feature is a picture 100 yards long and 200 yards wide in front of the Academy of Arts depicting events in the Emperor's life. Prince Bismarck and General Von Moltke say they have received a wonderful ovation for their services, the character of which is unknown. All the secretaries of departments were decorated by the Emperor.

On receiving the household deputation the Emperor said:

"I have reached this age by the grace of God, and if the Lord helps me and wants me to, I may live to see another year."

Emperor William conferred the decoration of the

of the Red Eagle upon ministers Von Putkamer and Lucius Von Boetticher; the Grand Cross of the Hohenzollern family order upon ministers Von Gossler, Von Schalz and Von Schellendorf and General Albedyll; the first cross of the Red Eagle upon General Von Caprivi and Count Nesselrode, and the Star Red Eagle of the second upon Count Herbert Bismarck. General Katz was appointed grand huntsman and Count Pueckler chief cupbearer.

AT THE AFTERNOON RECEPTION

the Emperor, after receiving the congratulations of the royal family and the princely guests, with the empress by his side and surrounded by a full court, formally announced of Prince Henry, second son of Crown Prince Frederick William, to Princess Irene of Hesse. The young couple were afterwards heartily congratulated by all the illustrious company. A family dinner followed at 4 o'clock at the palace of the crown prince. The Emperor and empress were driven from the Imperial Palace to the crown prince's palace in a closed carriage, as rain was falling. They were greeted with uninterrupted cheering along the way.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 22.—The Kaluga regiment, of which Emperor William is an honorary colonel, celebrated the Emperor's birthday with which was followed by a distribution of rewards donated by Emperor William. Afterwards a banquet was given to the officers, at which toasts were drunk to the health of Emperor William and the Czar. In the course of the evening the commander of the regiment sent a telegram of congratulation to Emperor William.

PESTH, March 22.—A banquet was given this evening in honor of Emperor William, at which were present Emperor Francis Joseph, prince of Reuss, the German embassador, Count De Mount Marin of the French legation, Count Pueckler, Dr. De Pojanewski of the German legation, Count Kalnoky, Austrian prime minister and all the Hungarian ministers.

EMPEROR FRANCIS JOSEPH

in cordial tones proposed the health of the Emperor of Germany and the King of Prussia, and the band played the Prussian national anthem.

ATHENS, March 22.—King George to-day sent his chamberlain to the German legation to offer his congratulations upon Emperor William's anniversary. The German residents of this city gave a banquet this evening in honor of the day.

BERLIN, March 23.—To-night Berlin is like a city of fire. The steeples and domes shine

WITH BRILLIANCY.

The electric light is the groundwork of the illumination. Three rows of colored lights radiate from the lofty avenues in the centre of the city where the palaces are situated to the remote streets. From the roofs of houses Bengal fires are everywhere sending forth soft glowing flames. In Leipziger Platz, Unter den Linden and in all the large streets every house contributes to the general effect. Crowns, stars and eagles are in rich profusion and numerous colossal busts of the Emperor surrounded with exotic plants are displayed. The electric light on the square tower of the town hall emits a ruddy glare. On the Brandenberg gate are immense cauldrons from which flames are bursting forth every moment. The at Potsdam station are illuminated with eagles, stars and crowns, and the whole building is encircled with blazing pitch fires. Amid all this light 500,000 persons moved in perfect order.

After dinner the Emperor and Empress and Crown Prince Frederick William and his wife returned to the palace and attended a soiree in the white hall of the royal castle. The hall was divided into two sections, one for the stage and the other for the guests. The two front rows of seats were reserved for the princes of the imperial and royal blood. In front of these were placed three army chairs for the Emperor and Queens of Saxony and Roumania. The Emperor, however, refused to occupy the selected for him and seated himself in the row with other members of royalty. At 9 o'clock the Empress entered the hall on the arm of her grandson, Prince William, walking with the aid of a cane. She looks much older and more feeble than the Emperor. She wore a pale green dress, trimmed with lace, and had diamonds in her hair. When all the guests had assembled the performance began with tableaux vivant representing Charles V. in Augsburg. A duet from the opera of "Tannhauser" followed, which was sung by Herr Niemann and Frau Hofmeister. The quartette from Verdi's "Don Carlos" was rendered by Fraulein Benard and Pattini, Frau Artal and Herr Padilla, after which was presented a scene from "Don Juan."

DURING THE INTERVAL

between the first and second parts of the entertainment, the Emperor walked about and exchanged greetings with his guests, conversing with the Prince of Wales and the Princesses Christian and Irene. Passing between the rows of seats, he shook hands with the ambassadors and their wives, saying a few words to a number of the diplomats. The Grand Duchess Vladimir wore a costume of pink satin with sable trimmings, add a tiara of diamonds and stomacher of emeralds and diamonds. The crown princess was attired in a dress of silver gray material and wore a parure of diamonds and rubies.

After the performance the company adjourned to the supper rooms, of which there were four, the members of royalty occupying one, the diplomats another, and the suites of the two remaining. The Emperor retired to rest before midnight, but the guests remained at the festive board till night became morning.

Among the presents received by the Emperor is a general's sash which the Empress had made for him. It is an exact pattern of the sash worn by Frederick the Great. The Empress insisted upon being the first to congratulate the Emperor. Punctually as the clock struck ten she entered the Emperor's study and presented the sash and other gifts. When the Emperor appeared at the window he wore the sash. The floral presents were numerous.

THE CROWN PRINCESS

painted for the occasion a life-size portrait of Prince William, around which were placed the bouquets presented by members of the family. Special pleasure seemed to be afforded the Emperor by the children of Prince William, who carried their bouquets to their grandfather, followed by three children of Prince Albrecht and the children of the Crown Prince of Sweden. Many floral tributes came from distant parts of Germany and from England. High officials of court presented the Emperor a picture representing a military scene.

At noon a charming ground of terra cotta by Eugene Blout came from Paris entitled, "Grandpapa's Birthday."

International prize medals were given St. Jocobs Oil as the best pain-cure.

DEAFNESS Its causes, and a new and successful Cure at your own home, by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of others. Full particulars sent on application.
