NO WRITTEN ORDER OF BATTLE.

In reply to questions by Capt. Lemly the witness said there had been no written or printed order of battle that on the day before Cienfuegos was reached some special instructions sent to the ships by the Scorpion. This was, he said, order No. 9, relating to signals in case the enemy should be sighted. This order was then read. Questioned further on this point the witness said

I received no written orders and did not know of the existence of any. I reember, however, that the co mmand ing officers were called on board. The witness answered several quespresentations of Yale university's relations to affairs, university football, the performance of an oratorio, a student dramatic performance and a jollification in song by graduates, young and old, constituted the features of this day's program of Yale's bicentennial. The exuberant and spectacular demonstration of last night with all its fatigue seemed not to dampen the enthusiasm of today. The first exercise was in Battel chapel.

The first address was delivered by Cyrus Northrop, LL. D., Yale '57, president of the University of Minnesota, who spoke on the text. "Yale in its Relation to Development of Country." He enumerated the political and educational leaders graduated from the university and briefly sketched their careers. He then said:

"But the real history of a country is not the record of its great men either in war or in peace. It is rather an account of the development and progress of the people and especially so in this country where the people's will can govern and really govern and where the wisest leaders before they speak listen country for the voice of the people. The hope of the country is not in the astuteness and ability of its great men but in the virtue, intelligence and good sense of the great body of the people. A report was current that they had brought arms and ammuni-tion for the defense of Havana and there also was a discussion as to whether they had had time to mount sprinkling of men less known in the flnancial world, spent the greater por-tion of today in Butte, inspecting the mines and receiving visits from prominent men. Mr. Morgan has been at-tending the Episcopal convention in San Francisco, and is on his way to New York, via the Northern Pacific rallway. A large crowd was present when the train reached this city from Anaconda, where Monday was spent and the distinguished financiers and the noted clergymen were given hearty applause as they stepped into carriages and were driven up town for dinner. The special train upon which the party is traveling is a palace on wheels and attracted much attention. Each member of the party paid a visit to the deepest mine in Butte, and all were greatly impressed. It was late in the afternoon when the train departed for the East.

French Chambers Reassemble.

Paris, Oct. 22 .- The chamber of depules reassembled today. The premier, M. Waldeck-Rousseau, refusing to con-cur with the demand of M. Basiy, (socialist) for an immediate discussion of a motion to establish a minimum wage for miners, a day's work of eight hours, and a pension of two francs per day after twenty-five years of work, the motion was rejected by 321 to 254 votes. M. Basiy's motion was intended to test the spirit of the chamber on the question of the miners' demands. M. Waldeck-Rousseau vigorously re-peated that he would not concede the emands referred to. The constituents of M. Basly are chiefly miners belonging to the Pas-de Calais region. The senate also reas-sembled today and after a brief, formal session, adjourned until Friday.

Such Attitude of Mr. Kuger at Boer Council of War at The Hague.

The Leaders Say There is No Doub That Diplomatic Protests Are Inadequate.

New York, Oct. 22 .- The Vienna correspondent of the London Times and the New York Times quotes the Pester Lloyds, which says it learns from The Hague that Mr. Kruger, Dr. Leyds and Messrs, Wessels, Wolmarens and Fischer have held a council of war at Villa Caracasar to consider what answer is to be made by the Boers to the executions in South Africa. There is said to be no doubt among the Boer leaders that diplomatic protests are in-adequate. All present at the meeting except Mr. Kruger, says the report, ad-vised immediate reprisals-that for every Boer prisoner executed a cap-tured British officer be shot. Mr. Kru-ger opposed this plan on the ground that he did not wish to give the campaign the character of a war between savages, although it had already become a war of extermination.

For Independence of Crete.

Copenhage,Oct. 22 .- Negotiations have en re-opened between the four protecting powers with regard to the in-dependence of Crete. King George of Greece had a long conference subject with the czar and King Edward at Fredensborg, and the question is the principal object of his visit to Paris, he will proceed to from which city Vienna to discuss the matter.

During his tour a year ago, Prince George of Greece (high commissioner of Crete), although unable to obtain any support of his proposal for the annexa-tion of the island to Greece, secured the adhesion of the powers to a scheme of independence. But on his return to Crete he found that Russia was not ready to fulfill her promise, and now his father, who is regarded as a more astute diplomatist, has undertaken to pave the way, and, later, Prince George will possibly confer with the four pow ers concerned.

Victims of Skagway Floods.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 22 .- If strong circumstantial evidence counts for anything it is almost certain that Benjamin Carey of Astoria, Oregon, and James Torey of Montana, were victims of the mad torrent which flooded Skagway. It appears that the two men ar-rived at White Horse from down the river Thursday and started to walk to Skagway. C. Person was accompany-ing them. Person stated at Skagway that the trio camped on the summit Thursday night and late Friday morn-ing struck out for Skagway, following the railway track on account of the bad condition of the trail. Person left the two men warming themselves fire and walked into Skagway. When awoke next morning the flood was raging. A search was made but no trace of the men has been found. The damage at Porcupine was far greater than that brought about by the flood in August. The swellen streams went high above the high water mark and destruction amounting to many thou-sands of dollars followed in the wake of the flood Universalist Praise Meeting.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 22 .- The praise meeting of the Universalist general convention was led by Rev. L. Ward Brigham of Rochester, Minn. A busi-ness session followed.

The facts in the case as related by Mrs. Haskell as she tremulously told her story on the witness stand, show that the assault v as a most bruta She said that on Saturday evening last she passed Masters on the street and he insisted on talking to her. She do clared that she did not care to talk with the man and he seized her by the throat and hold her while he used vil language, called her names and threat ened to kill her. Then he held her b the arm and struck her a blow on the face. The marks of the blow were plainly visible to every person in the court

Masters took the stand in his own behalf and brazenly admitted his guilt, but said he struck the lady because his had heard she had been talking about him

To Sergeant Brown, who arrested him, Masters declared he had struck the lady and would do it again. "It is useless for me to comment on this case," said the court. 'A man of your physique who would strike a weman is certainly deserving of severo punishment. Before the man went to fail he tried to arrange among his friends to pay the fine, but it is thought his efforts will be unsuccessful.

city, and prior to their departure they attended the meeting in the Tabernacle and also called upon President Joseph F. Smith. They expressed themselves as being greatly taken with Salt Lake as a city, and stated that they hoped to return here after their visit to the coast, when they would undertake to deliver a series of addresses.

KING LIBEL CASE.

Opens Before Justice Kroeger This Afr ternoon-Judge Johnson Present.

The libel case of J. B. King in Justice Kroeger's court this afternoon was of a very lively nature. It will be remembered the case was set for 1 o'clock today. At that time the defendant appeared in court and asked for a continuance on the grounds that his counsel, Attorneys Rogers and Hiles, wen not in the city. The court denied the motion and ordered King to be in court at 2:30 o'clock and to procure other counsel in the meantime. Judge Jacob Johnson, the complainant, was present at that time and the prosecution was ready to go on with the case. The defendant, contrary to the orders of the court, absented himself from the court room and when he did finally enter made another motion for contin which was denied. Determined to have his way, the accused filed an adidat for a change of venue, but at th but at this writing the court had not passed upon the matter.
