HEARINGS BEFORE JUDGE ROLAPP.

Mrs. Georgia Crocker is suing Union Pacific for $25,000 for death of husband.

ELECTION CONTEST ENTERED.

Will be heard Dec. 4—Damage Suit Compromised—Suit for Salt Land—Weddings.

The case of Georgia Crocker against the Union Pacific, suit brought to recover $25,000 damages for the death of plaintiff's husband, is still on in the district court. The prosecution has completed its testimony, which went to show that the plaintiff's husband, Charles Crocker, was employed by the railroad company, and while engaged in the careful discharge of his duty he was riding on one of the box cars when, without warning, the car was struck by an engine, knocking Mr. Crocker to the ground, crushing him, from the effects of which he died. The greater part of the testimony of the prosecution was to the effect that Engineer Lindsay, who was running the engine, was very careless. The defense was occupied at least a couple of days to introduce its testimony in the case. Judgment has been rendered in the district court by Judge Rolapp in favor of the plaintiff in the case of Clara S. Roosevelt against Augustus E. Detmers et al, in the sum of $1,173.35 and $75 costs due on a promissory note. The defendant permitted this case to go by default.

In the case of Wm. Driver vs. R. Emmett, suit brought to determine which is elected to the city council, a hearing has been held in the district court to appear in court Dec. 4, to show cause why petition of plaintiff should not be granted, and he be declared the duly elected councilman from the Fifth ward.

The case of John Wilson against the Union Pacific has been settled by stipulation, the defendant paying to plaintiff the sum of $600. Plaintiff had his feet crushed by a falling rock in a tunnel, where he was employed by the railroad company and he brought suit to recover damages.

In the matter of the estate of Jonathan Sandford, deceased, and the guardianship of Edwin Sandford, hearing has been held in the district court, to quiet title to a certain tract of land containing 128 acres along the east shore of Great Salt Lake has been settled by stipulation between the Inland Salt company and the Great Western Salt & Soda company and the Union Salt company. The land is valuable only to the salt companies, who use it in the making of salt.

The Utah State Journal, in its raid on the slot machines, which so long have been a menace to the community, has succeeded in bringing to light and bear the vigilance of the law and as a result all such machines have been removed from the different saloons and street stores throughout the city. Any now comes Mayor Glensman, editor of the Standard, with an offer of a $50 reward to the parties furnishing information which will lead to the arrest and conviction of all persons permitting minors to play the slot machine in their places of business. In the face of this it is stated by a prominent educator that he has positive information as to the guilt of certain parties, who have permitted high school students to frequent their places of business and indulge in this injurious practice. On account of the prominence of the young men concerned, however, he is not deemed.

As soon as practice was over, the choir was invited to meet in the Society hall. Arriving there the singers were warmly greeted by the president, Sister Staples. The sisters had set a long table, well filled with all kinds of good things. After partaking of the sing-song repast, Bishop Jensen, in a neat little speech presented the choir leader, Charles J. Olsen and the organist, Miss Minnie Somers, with an envelope, each containing a gift of money. Both responded thanking the ladies for their kind appreciation. Several songs and speeches were delivered, making it a very agreeable affair. The choir has a membership of 35, 30 being present.

SUGAR BEETS AND PROSPERITY.
The last consignment of sugar beets was shipped yesterday morning from the Elsinore depot. There have been shipped 240 carloads, with an average capacity of over 25 tons, making a total of 6,000 and 7,000 tons of beets, bringing to this district about $25,000. About $17,000 came from the sugar factory last night to be distributed among the beet growers of this county.

Joseph City organized a beet club with Joseph with Jas. Billings as president. That little burg expects to start in with 150 to 200 acres next season. There is still a chance for Elsinore to come in on this beet-growing proposition. Better late than never.

OXFORD, IDAHO.
OLD FOLKS DAY.
Young and Old Make Merry Torrible Windstorm Weddings—Births.

Special Correspondence.
Oxford, Bannock Co., Idaho, Nov. 15.—Friday, the 13th inst., was "Old Folks Day" here. It was a time of rejoicing for the young people and children, and a time of sorrow for the old people. The young people were in the streets, and the old people were in the homes. The young people were in the streets, and the old people were in the homes.

An appropriate program was rendered at the meetinghouse in the morning, a notable feature being the review of the early history of Oxford by Brother Joseph Young Boyce, who remembered well the commencement of the town in 1864. A very pretty picture was drawn in the comparison of the prosperous, peaceable and growing condition of today with the trials and hardships endured by the sturdy pioneers, when the savage red man made life perilous in this part of the country. William Nelson was the first Bishop, George Lake was the second, William E. Fisher the third and N. E. Lewis the fourth, and present father of the ward.

At the close of the program a sumptuous repast was served and thoroughly enjoyed. Mr. C. C. Shaw, a veteran representative of the "News," was one of the guests. A free dance was given to the children in the afternoon, and the evening was a most successful one. Merry sleigh bells made music through the day, the first time in many years that sleighs have been used in the four part of November.

TERRIFIC WINDSTORM.
The storm has been general throughout this section, the same having commenced with a terrific wind last Wednesday, which was accompanied by heavy snow, tore down fences and outhouses, broke limbs from the trees, and in fact made things look like the historical "Great Snow" of 1816. The farmers feel that the storm is a great blessing to the country.

The academy hall, which was filled to its utmost capacity, had been beautifully decorated by a committee of students. The national and school colors were prominently displayed. The speaker stood at a table in the center of the hall, and delivered an address of welcome. Sudden Death of Frank Newell from Heart Trouble—News Briefs.

Special Correspondence.
Raymond, Alberta, Canada, Nov. 13.—Accompanying this letter, George H. Brimhall sends the "News" a sample of sugar from the Knight Sugar company's factory, now in operation here. The first sack was bought in advance of its production by Mr. George Austin of Utah, for $50. Some time perhaps it will be resacked, and the several sacks labeled "Southeast Sugar," but it will never be a representative of a thing of the past, as the industry here—now in its infancy—has every indication of rapid and constant growth.
